

My Dear Wife I received yours of the 15 " inst, a few days ago, and it is such a good, kind, one, that I am really ashamed of the one that I sent you a few days since. This you that I feel inclined to find fault with the next one is muse to make me wish that I had not writer But never mind, if we cound get to scolding nearer together than me do by mail there will be but little hain done longht to have answer ed your letter before this but there is nothing to write about and so I hat it off. My health continues good and that is about all that I can think of that will be likely

Morris Island Nov 28 " 1863.

My Dear Wife I received yours of the 15" inst. a few days ago, and it is such a good, kind, one, that I am really ashamed of the one that I sent you a few days since. This is always the way, if I get a letter from you that I feel inclined find fault with, the next one is sure to make me wish that I had not writen But never mind, if we cannot get to scolding nearer together than we do by mail there will be but little having done I ought to have answered your letter before this but there is nothing to write about. and so I put it off. My health continues good, and that is about all that I can think of that will be likely to interest you much. There is nothing being done here at present except. the work on the buttines. They are building batteries and mount ing mortars, and evidently intend to do something to Gallivais Island. some time. I think they are waiting for more invalad ships, but when they do begin they will hear thunder, as for Sampler, that you mentione in your letter. I do not think that there is any one here that cares wheth en it is taken or not; for it is of no possible noe to us. or any one else. there is not a give on it and it is merely a heap of bricks and mortan which The frining that is going on, and has been kept up for the past few meeks, is merely to drew the attention of the eveny, and to keep them from erecting sand batteries, and mounts ing mortars, in the old place. There is no doubt; but we could take it to interest you much. There is nothing being done here at present except the work on the batteries.

They are building batteries and mount ing mortars, and evidently intend to do something to Sullivan's Island, sometime. I think, they are waiting for more ironclad ships, but when they do begin they will hear thunder.

As for Sumpter, that you mentioned in your letter, I do not think that there is any one here that cares wheth er it is taken or not, for it is of no possible use to us. or any one else. there is not a gun on it, and it ^is merely a heap of bricks and mortar.

The firing that is going on, and which has been kept up for the past few weeks, is merely to draw the attention of the enemy, and to keep them from erecting sand batteries, and mounting mortars, in the old place. There is no doubt, but we could take it any day but it would cost us some voluable lives, and it is not worth a straw to as on to the enemy. I think if the people at the North, who ere so ampions to hear of the blaking of Sampter, were called upon to climb up the side under the fire of all the batteries that the rebels have about here, they would see the case in a different-light

Dec. 6 " I was obliged to put this letter by after getting so for with it. and as I found there was no meil going North. I did not take it who again until now. Your letter of the 22th annied yesterday, It gives me a great deal of comfort to read your letters, when you write in such good spirito, and have no bad news to tell of our little derlings. Jan do not seem to get my letters very regularly, but the mail arrangements, at this place have not hen very good lettely, and to tell the any day. but it would cost us some valuable lives, and it is not worth a straw to us, or to the enemy. I think if the people at the North, who are so anxious to hear of the th taking of Sumpter, were called upon to climb up the side, under the fire of all the batteries that the rebels have about here, they would see the case in a different light

Dec. 6" I was obliged to put this letter by, after getting so far with it, and, as I found there was no mail going North, I did not take it up again until now. Your letter of the 22^d ult. arrived yesterday. It gives me a great deal of comfort, to read your letters, when you write in such good spirits, and have no bad news to tell of our little darlings. You do not seem to get my letters very regularly, but the mail arrangements, at this place have not been very good lately, and to tell the truth I am getting largy about writing again. We are encamped in a very me comfortable blace at present. Therex is no shelter from the cold wind that of blows from the sea and there is no wood to bum and it is very cold and supleasans. But there is a prospect of moving before a great while. This has been the hardest job lever had writing to your but I am expecting another letter from you in a few days and then I will try and dobetter about those hand kucherys. meant pocket hundercheifs I need them very much, and there is no chance to get any here that are good for anything There will close this now I hope to be able to give your a better letter soon Jours truly Leander truth I am getting lazy about writing again. We are encamped in a very uncomfortable place at present. There is no shelter from the cold wind that blows from the sea, and there is no wood to burn and it is very cold and unpleasant. But there is a prospect of moving before a great while. This has been the hardest job I ever had, writing to you but I am expecting another letter from you in a few days and then I will try and do better About those handkerchiefs, - I meant pocket handercheifs I need them very much, and there is no chance to get any here that are good for anything

There I will close this now I hope to be able to give you a better letter soon
Yours truly
Leander