

Hamptstead Apr 16th / 65

My own darling,

I have received two letters from you since I have ~~answered~~ written - the first was a dear loving one and I intended to have answered it before this time but I had written twice within a week and ~~so~~ so I kept putting it off. But there is not much encouragement to write - I can't imagine why you do not get my letters

I have written eight or ten times I should think since you have received any

But I hope you never will get some of them and then you will never know how discouraged and impatient I have been. Oh if I could only learn I have been. Oh if I could only learn to wait! I don't see what possessed me to be so ungrateful when your life and your love was shared to me. But

Transcription:

Hampstead Apr 16th /65

My own darling,

I have received two letters from you since I have ~~answerd~~ written - the first was a dear loving one and I intended to have ~~answerd~~ it before this time but I had written twice within a week and ~~the~~ so I kept putting it off. But there is not much encouragement to write - I can't imagine why you do not get my letters

I have written eight or ten times I should think since you have received any

But I hope you never will get some of them and then you will never know how discouraged and impatient I have been. Oh if I could only learn to wait! I don't see what possessed me to be so ungrateful when your life and your love was spared to me. But it is such an easy matter soon to believe you do not love me. Oh if I could only know all and not have it worse than I expect, I should wish to know it.

You say you are getting discouraged because you do not get my letters. I am afraid you will be more so when you do get them - discouraged with me - and ~~not~~ be displeas'd with me. But you will forgive me because you always have - but you will think less of me

And oh I don't want to lose one might of your good esteem. You don't know how much I prize your last letter but one. I meant to answer it as it deserved to be answer'd but it has been so long - and I have so much else to write that I will not undertake to write that I will not undertake it.

Last night of Myrick told me that a man that would insist the second

Transcription:

it is such an easy matter now to believe you do not love me. Oh if I could only know all and not have it worse than I expect, I should wish to know it.

You say you are getting discouraged because you do not get my letters. I am afraid you will be more so when you do get them - discouraged with me - and not be displeased with me. But you will forgive me because you always have - but you will think less of me

And oh I don't want to lose one might of your good esteem. You don't know how much I prize your last letter but one. I meant to answer it as it deserved to be answerd but it has been so long - and I have so much else to write that I will not undertake it.

Last night old Myrick told me that "a man that would enlist the second time didn't care much about his wife

Of course I know he was not worth minding - but - I could not help thinking that a great many people thought so only they were not sane enough to tell me so. What a fool I am to care what people think - and I should not if every doubt were removed in my own mind I suppose. But you must not think I am unhappy all of the time and that I never am satisfied, they these doubts are only occasional visitors that creep in some times when I am low-spirited - and I am so much of the time of late - or I should say have been. I did not go to church to-day because mother is gone down to Glades and we were expecting Lewis' folks, but I don't think they will come now
but I don't think they will come now it is so late

The news came last night that president Lincoln had been shot in the

Transcription:

time didn't care much about his wife"

Of course, I knew he was not worth minding - but I could not help thinking that a great many people thought so only they were not saucy enough to tell me so. What a fool I am to care what people think - and I should not if every doubt were removed in my own mind I suppose. But you must not think I am unhappy all of the time and that I never am satisfied, they these doubts are only occasional visitors that creep in some times when I am low-spirited - and I am so much of the time of late- or I should say have been. I did not go to church to-day because mother is gone down to Clara's and we were expecting Lewis' folks, but I don't think they will come now it is so late.

The news came last night that president Lincoln had been shot in the theatre. I didnt believe it at first but when they told all the particulars and I was obliged to believe it, I was fairly shocked. But if this is Gods will I suppose it was Gods will that this should be. And although this is an awful thing to think of, I suppose if we admit that the rest is all right - if it is all right that hundreds of thousands of widows and orphans must mourn, it is no more than right that his family shall mourn. And the country will mourn - for what stands between them now and a drunkard as their chief Magistrate? Oh I cant help thinking there was a sad mistake made last fall in the election. No knows but this is a judgement sent upon this country. If the election was carried by fraud as it was said to have been, and if there is a just God, he certainly would punish

Transcription:

theatre. I didnt beleive it at first but when they told all the particulars and I was obliged to beleive it, I was fairly shocked. But if this is God's war I suppose it was God's will that this should be. And although this is an awful thing to think of, I suppose if we admit that the rest is all right - if it is all right that hundreds of thousands of widowes and orphans must mourn, it is not mores than right that his family shall mourn. And the Country will mourn - for what stands between them now and a drunkard as their Chief Magistrate? Oh I can't help thinking there was a sad mistake made last Fall in the election. Who knows but this is a judgement sent upon this Country & If the election was carried by fraud as it was said to have been, and if if there is a just God, he certainly would punish the par people that would permit such a sin [fragment letter ends here]