

6 Plainfield May 11th /62

My dear E

I didn't intend so long a time should elapse before answering your letter but there is several reasons why I haven't, one is, just before receiving yours, I had one from L in which he said he would write again soon, and I have waited somewhat for him, and I recd one last Tuesday, but I suppose you hear from him often, so it will be needless for me to repeat what he writes, I am truly glad to hear he is well, but Oh how true it is "we know not what a day may bring forth,"

<sup>I should have thought</sup> You say you don't know why the title of that book would offend you, so I will tell you, once when I offered it to a person he was quite offended and said he wouldn't have me think he was an infidel, - I thought might be you would take it in the same light, But according to your own

Transcription:

[raised imprint reads: [illegible] "...MILLS"]

E Plainfield May 11th /62

My dear E

I didn't intend so long a time should elapse before answering your letter but there is several reasons why I have'nt, one is, just before receiving yours, I had one from L in which he said he would write again soon, and I have waited some what for him, and I rec'd one last Tuesday, but I suppose you hear from him often, so it will be needless for me to repeat what he writes, I am truly glad to hear he is well, but Oh how true it is "we know not what a day may bring forth,"

You say you do'nt know why <sup>^I should have thought</sup> the title of that book would offend you, so I will tell you, once when I offered it to an person he was quite offended and said he would'nt have me think he was an infidel, _ I thought might be you would take it in the same light, But according to your own

acknowledgment I fear it will do you as little good as it did him.

I am pleased with your frankness in writing, but Oh I am alarmed for the consequence, Don't you already begin to see the consequence of self-indulgence? You have allowed a novel or novels, to take the place of the Book of books and many others that would be very useful, You say you are ignorant of what the Bible teaches Now allow me to ask you if you think that excuse will acquit you in the great day of reckoning? Now my dear I suggest a few words of counsel from one who has traveled over the same path, and knows its snarles and besetments, If you would ever escape this apathy you have got to make a mighty effort, What would be the need of that command or injunction if there was no danger? We are taught by one who spoke as never any other spoke, to strive to enter in, now if we can enter in without striving, such commands are needless

Transcription:

acknowledgment I fear it will do you as little good as it did him.

I am pleased with your frankness in writing, but Oh I am alarmed for the consequence, Do'nt you already begin to see the consequence of self indulgence? You have allowed a novel or novels, to take the place of the Book of books and many others that would be very useful, You say you are ignorant of what the Bible teaches Now allow me to ask you if you think that excuse will acquit you in the great day of reconing? Now my dear E suffer a few words of counsel from one who has traveled over the same path, and knows its snares and besetments, If you would ever escape this apathy you have got to make an mighty effort, What would be the need of that command or injunction if there was no danger? We are taught (by one who spoke as never any other spoke,) to strive to enter in, now if we can enter in without striving, such commands are needless

I will just give you a little of my own experience, not to make myself conspicuous, but to encourage you if possible - I come to a decision that nothing <sup>I could possibly</sup> should hinder me from reading God's word and my love for it has increased, in proportion to my desire to understand it. and I can say truly I have taken a greater interest in reading the Bible than anything else, Ten years ago I commenced anew to read that Book, the three first I read the new Testament through nine times, since then I have read the Bible through once a year, and I can't begin to tell you how much other reading I do.

Now you say you love your seasons of prayer, and here is an object worth praying for, that you may feel an interest in that Book, that you may understand what it teaches, what it requires of you as an individual, and don't give over till you obtain the object sought
"But prayer is the soul's sincere desire

Transcription:

I will just give you a little of my own experience, not to make myself conspicuous, but to encourage you if possible - I came to a decision that nothing <sup>^I could prevent</sup> should hinder me from reading Gods word and my love for it has increased, in proportion to my desire to understand it. and I can say truly I have taken a greater interest in reading the Bible than anything else, Ten years ago I commences anew to read that Book, the three first I read the new Testament through nine times, since then I have read the Bible through once a year, and I cant begin to tell you how much other reading I do.

Now you say you love your season of prayer, and here is an object worth praying for, that you may feel an interest in that Book, that you may understand what it teaches, what it requires of you as an individual, and do'nt give over till you obtain the object sought "But prayer is the souls sincere desire

Unuttered or expressed?"

Yes I do remember you didn't say that you didn't believe Jesus was the son of God, But your question implies a doubt, O I want you to feel that He is the Son & sent of God and that he has saved you now. Yes this is your privilege, you needn't be troubled about the future, and what God designs to do with his creatures, only accept of salvation on the terms which it is offered you in that word, you will find <sup>it</sup> to meet your every want. I would I could make you see what a treasure we have in that blessed word. But may be I have said enough for once so I'll forbear, Hope you will not be as long answering this as I have Hope Margaret has been to see you before this, Go and see Julia often as you can, for you can walk to see her, go once in a while for me Please remember me to all who may enquire for

Write soon

Your unworthy Mother

Transcription:

Unuttered or expressed."

Yes I do remember you didn't say that you didn't believe Jesus was the son of God, But your question implies a doubt, O I want you to feel that He is the Son & sent of God and that he has saved you now, Yes this is your privilege, You need't be troubled about the future, and what God designs to do with his creatures, only accept of salvation on the terms which it is offered you in that word,
You will find ^it to meet your every want.
I would I could make you see what a treasure we have in that blessed word.
But may be I have said enough for once so I'll forbear, Hope you will not be as long answering this as I have Hope Margaret has been to see you before this, Go and see Julia often as you can, for you can walk to see her, go once in a while for me Please remember me to all who may enquire for
Your unworthy Mother
Write soon