A motor home, trailer coach, or recreation vehicle may be driven on the ways of this state when the overall width is greater than 102 inches, provided the excess over 102 inches is solely due to a non-load-carrying appurtenance that extends no more than 6 inches beyond the body of the vehicle. The term “appurtenance” does not include any item that is temporarily affixed to the exterior of the vehicle by the vehicle’s owner for the purpose of transporting the item from one location to another, but does include an awning and its support hardware and other items that are intended to be an integral part of the vehicle and were installed by the motor vehicle manufacturer or dealer.

SB 298-FN, relative to motor vehicle fines. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.
Rep. Susan W. Almy for Ways and Means: This bill and HB 1243 are different attempts to do the same thing: sunset last year's increase in motor vehicle fines. The House passed HB 1243 on to the Senate, which has passed it with one change: the effective date is now the day after the next budget passes, rather than July 1, 2007. The committee agreed with this change and is therefore recommending Inexpedient to Legislate for the second bill, but wishes to remind the House that if the repeal is not repealed again in 2007, the budget will lose $5 million per year in revenues. Vote 19-0.

SPECIAL ORDER
Rep. McRae moved that the House make SB 355-FN, relative to unlawful possession of alcohol by a minor, a Special Order as the first bill after the lunch recess.

REGULAR CALENDAR (CONT’D.)

SB 370-FN, relative to multidisciplinary child protection teams. OUGHT TO PASS.

Matarazzo for Children and Family Law: This bill allows the Department of Children, Youth and Families (DCYF) to enter into agreements and create protocols for multidisciplinary child protection teams in order to minimize the stress on a child being interviewed in an abuse case. SB 382, relative to the guardian ad litem board. OUGHT TO PASS.
Rep. Mary Stuart Gile for Children and Family Law: This bill recodifies the duties and powers of the guardian ad litem board. The board shall be responsible for overseeing the credentialing, activities, and discipline of guardians ad litem who are, or who have been, certified by the board. Vote 13-1.
Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 230, relative to the qualifications and liability of the medical director responsible for utilization review under the managed care law. MAJORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE. MINORITY: OUGHT TO PASS.
Rep. Stella Scaman for the Majority of Commerce: This bill attempts to define further the term medical director as in RSA 420-J regarding the qualifications and responsibilities for utilization review under the managed care law. This bill, while well intentioned is unnecessary. For example, section 1 of this bill requires that the medical director of a managed care insurance company be a licensed physician. In RSA 420-J: 3xxv-a, the law already requires that such medical directors be licensed physicians. This amended bill creates some serious issues and concerns because it does not mesh with the very extensive requirements already contained in current law. Also SB 74, passed last year, further requires and defines internal grievance procedures. Both the committee and subcommittee support the current comprehensive statute for medical review with the standards in current law crafted to incorporate federal and state provisions. Vote 11-6.
Rep. Marshall E. Quandt for the Minority of Commerce: This bill is about parity. The legislation is a result of painstaking efforts to put HMOs on the hook for medical mistakes. This bill does one thing: it ensures that a medical director working for an insurance company must now accept the responsibility for the decisions that they make, i.e. is accountable to insurance companies, plain and simple. HMOs make decisions and determine treatment of patients on a regular basis, but what the hallmark point of this bill is that although a “treating physician” can be held responsible legally; HMOs are essentially immune from state malpractice law, because they are protected by federal statute. The legislative intent is to sanction that a "medical director" of an insurance company is subject or held to the same standard as the treating physician; they must also exercise reasonable care or be held accountable.
On a division vote, 224 members having voted in the affirmative and 86 in the negative, the majority committee report was adopted.

SB 394, establishing the Trust Modernization and Competitiveness Act. OUGH TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT.

Rep. Tara G. Reardon for Commerce: The Trust Modernization and Competitiveness Act addresses the need for trust and trust services across the nation in a rapidly growing sector of the nation’s economy. New Hampshire is uniquely positioned to provide the most attractive legal and financial environment for individuals and families seeking to establish and locate their trusts and investment assets. This act will serve to establish New Hampshire as the best and most attractive legal environment in the nation for trust and trust services, and this environment will attract to our state good-paying jobs for trust and investment management, the legal and accounting professions, and support an infrastructure required to service this growing sector of the nation’s economy. The bill is a product of hours of work by New Hampshire’s foremost trust attorneys, the Banking Department, the Secretary of State and its Securities Regulation Division, the Office of the Attorney General Charitable Trust Division, the New Hampshire Bankers Association, the sponsors of the legislation and the Commerce Committee members. Extreme efforts were made to ensure that the application process includes scrutiny to avoid unregulated securities transactions. The amendment adds the Secretary of State or his designee as a nonvoting member of the Board of Trust Incorporation, so that the Secretary of State will be able to review records necessary to ensure that all requirements for filings with the Corporate Division are satisfied. These efforts were balanced with the need to preserve the privacy required in family trusts and a welcoming climate to advance the economic development goals of this legislation. Vote 20-0.

Amendment (1927h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1. Purpose. The legislature finds that:
   1. The market for trust and trust services across the nation is a rapidly growing sector of the nation’s economy.
   2. New Hampshire is uniquely positioned to provide the most attractive legal and financial environment for individuals and families seeking to establish and locate their trusts and investment assets.

   4. This act shall be known as the Trust Modernization and Competitiveness Act.

Once organized, a nondepository trust company shall maintain a minimum level of capital required by the commissioner to operate in a safe and sound manner based upon his or her examination of the company, provided that the level of capital shall not be less than $500,000.

The amount of the securities or the surety bond shall be determined by the commissioner in an amount that he or she deems appropriate to defray such costs, but in no event shall exceed $1,000,000. In the event of a receivership of a nondepository trust company, the commissioner may, without regard to any priorities, preferences, or adverse claims, reduce the pledged securities or the surety bond to cash and, as soon as practicable, utilize the cash to defray the costs associated with the receivership. The commissioner may specify the types of securities that may be pledged. Any fees associated with holding such securities shall be the responsibility of the nondepository trust company. If the nondepository trust company chooses to purchase a surety bond to satisfy this provision, the surety bond shall be issued by a bonding company, approved by the commissioner, that is authorized to do business in this state and that has a rating in one of the 3 highest grades as determined by a national rating service. The surety bond shall be in a form approved by the commissioner. The nondepository trust company may not obtain a surety bond from any entity in which the trust company has a financial interest. The commissioner may require any trust company to increase its capital funds from time to time as may be necessary to comply with reasonable banking and trust standards, as applicable, not inconsistent with law.

V. Based on the factors in paragraph IV, the commissioner may require any trust company to increase its capital funds from time to time as may be necessary for its safe and sound operation.
VI. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law to the contrary, a nondepository trust company may invest its funds for its own account in any type or character of equity securities or debt securities subject to the limitations provided by this section, which investments shall otherwise comply with the prudent investor standard described in RSA 564-B:9-902.

VII. Subject to paragraphs VIII and IX, the total investment in equity and investment securities of any one issuer, obligor, or maker held by a nondepository trust company for its own account shall not exceed an amount equal to 15 percent of the nondepository trust company’s equity capital. The commissioner may authorize investments in excess of this limitation if the commissioner concludes that the safe and sound operation of a nondepository trust company would not be adversely affected by a proposed investment exceeding this limitation.

VIII. In calculating compliance with the investment limits set forth in paragraph II, a nondepository trust company shall not be required to combine:

(a) The nondepository trust company’s pro rata share of the securities of an issuer in the portfolio of a collective investment vehicle with the nondepository trust company’s pro rata share of the securities of that issuer held by another collective investment vehicle in which the nondepository trust company has invested; or

(b) The nondepository trust company’s own direct investment in the securities of an issuer with the nondepository trust company’s pro rata share of the securities of that issuer held by collective investment vehicles in which the nondepository trust company has invested under the provisions of this section.

(f) Investment securities issued or guaranteed by the North American Development Bank.

X. The commissioner may allow a nondepository trust company to make other investments of its corporate funds not specified in this chapter by rules, orders, or declaratory rulings.

V. The commissioner may revoke any exemption from the provisions of this chapter granted to a family fiduciary services company in the following circumstances:
   (a) An officer or director of the family fiduciary services company makes a false statement under oath on any document required to be filed by this chapter or by any rules or orders of the commissioner;
   (b) The family fiduciary services company fails to submit to an examination by the commissioner as required by law;
   (c) An officer or director of the family fiduciary services company withholds requested information from the commissioner;
   (d) The family fiduciary services company violates any provision of this subdivision or fails to meet any condition on which the exemption is based; or
   (e) The family fiduciary services company refuses to comply with any rule or order of the commissioner.
VI. If the commissioner determines from examination or other credible evidence that a family fiduciary services company has violated any of the requirements of RSA 392:39-a through RSA 392:39-c or fails to meet any condition or limitation on which an exemption from the provisions of this chapter is based, the commissioner may by personal delivery or registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, notify the family fiduciary services company that the family fiduciary services company's exemptions from the provisions of this chapter will be revoked unless the family fiduciary services company corrects the violation or failure or shows cause why any exemptions should not be revoked. The notification shall state grounds for the revocation with reasonable certainty and shall advise of an opportunity for a hearing. The notice shall state the date upon which the revocation shall become effective absent a correction or showing of cause why the exemption should not be revoked, which shall not be before the 30th day after the date the notification is mailed or delivered, except as provided in paragraph VII. The revocation shall take effect for the family fiduciary services company on the date stated in the notice if the family fiduciary services company does not request a hearing in writing before the effective date. After the revocation takes effect, the family fiduciary services company shall be subject to all of the requirements and provisions of this chapter applicable to a nondepository trust company.

VII. If the commissioner determines from examination or other credible evidence that a family fiduciary services company appears to be engaging or attempting to engage in acts intended, designed, or likely to deceive or defraud the public, the commissioner may shorten or eliminate the 30-day notice period specified in paragraph VI, but shall promptly afford a subsequent hearing upon request to rescind the action taken.

VIII. If the family fiduciary services company does not comply with all of the provisions of this chapter or correct any failure to meet any condition or limitation on which an exemption is based within the notice period specified in paragraph VI, the commissioner may institute any action or remedy prescribed by this chapter or any applicable rule.

I. Before transacting business with the general public, a family fiduciary services company shall file a notice on a form prescribed by the commissioner, which shall set forth the name of the family fiduciary services company and an acknowledgment that any exemption granted or otherwise applicable to the family fiduciary services company pursuant to RSA 392:39-a shall cease to apply once the commissioner terminates family fiduciary services company status. The family fiduciary services company shall furnish a copy of the resolution adopted by its board of directors authorizing the family fiduciary services company to commence transacting business with the general public, and shall pay the filing fee, if any, prescribed by rule of the commissioner.

II. The family fiduciary services company may commence transacting business with the general public on the 31st day after the date the commissioner receives the notice, unless the commissioner:
   (a) Establishes an earlier or later date;
   (b) Notifies the family fiduciary services company that the notice raises issues that require additional information or additional time for analysis; or
   (c) Disapproves the termination of family fiduciary services company status.

III. If the commissioner gives a notification described in subparagraph II(b), the family fiduciary services company status may be terminated only on approval by the commissioner.

IV. The commissioner may deny approval of the proposed termination of family fiduciary services company status if the commissioner finds that the family fiduciary services company lacks sufficient resources to undertake the proposed conversion without adversely affecting its safety or soundness or if the commissioner determines that the family fiduciary services company could not within a reasonable period be in compliance with any provision of this chapter from which it previously had been exempted pursuant to RSA 392:39-a. Such determination shall be based on the factors set forth in RSA 392:5, II to the extent applicable.

CHAPTER 564-C
UNIFORM PRINCIPAL AND INCOME ACT
Article 1

564-C:1-102 Definitions. In this chapter:

(3) “Fiduciary” means a personal representative or a trustee. The term includes an executor, administrator, successor personal representative, special administrator and a person performing substantially the same function.

(7) “Mandatory income interest” means the right of an income beneficiary to receive net income that the terms of the trust require the fiduciary to distribute.

(8) “Net income” means the total receipts allocated to income during an accounting period minus the disbursements made from income during the period, plus or minus transfers under this chapter to or from income during the period. During any period in which the trust is being administered as a unitrust, either pursuant to the powers conferred by RSA 564-A:3-c or pursuant to the terms of the will or the trust, “net income” means the unitrust amount, if the unitrust amount is no less than 2 percent and no more than 8 percent of the fair market value of the trust assets whether determined annually or averaged on a multiple year basis.

(14) “Internal Revenue Code” means the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as then amended and in effect.
564-C:1-103 Fiduciary Duties; General Principles.

(a) In allocating receipts and disbursements to or between principal and income, and with respect to any matter within the scope of articles 2 and 3, a fiduciary:

(1) shall administer a trust or estate in accordance with the terms of the trust or the will, even if there is a different provision in this chapter;

(2) may administer a trust or estate by the exercise of a discretionary power of administration given to the fiduciary by the terms of the trust or the will, even if the exercise of the power produces a result different from a result required or permitted by this chapter and no inference that the fiduciary has improperly exercised the discretion arises from the fact that the fiduciary has made an allocation contrary to the provisions of this chapter;

(3) shall administer a trust or estate in accordance with this chapter if the terms of the trust or the will do not contain a different provision or do not give the fiduciary a discretionary power of administration; and

(4) shall add a receipt or charge a disbursement to principal to the extent that the terms of the trust and this chapter do not provide a rule for allocating the receipt or disbursement to or between principal and income.

(b) In exercising the power to adjust under RSA 564-C:1-104(a), the power to convert into a unitrust or reconvert or change the unitrust payout percentage pursuant to RSA 564-A:3-c or a discretionary power of administration regarding a matter within the scope of this chapter, whether granted by the terms of a trust, a will, this chapter or other applicable law, a fiduciary shall administer a trust or estate impartially, based on what is fair and reasonable to all of the beneficiaries, except to the extent that the terms of the trust or the will express an intention that the fiduciary shall or may favor one or more of the beneficiaries. The exercise of discretion by a fiduciary in accordance with this chapter is presumed to be fair and reasonable to all of the beneficiaries.

564-C:1-104 Trustee's Power to Adjust.

(a) A trustee may adjust between principal and income to the extent the trustee considers necessary if the trustee invests and manages trust assets as a prudent investor, the terms of the trust describe the amount that may or must be distributed to a beneficiary by referring to the trust's income, and the trustee determines, after applying the rules in RSA 564-C:1-103(a), that the trustee is unable to comply with RSA 564-C:1-103(b).

(b) In deciding whether and to what extent to exercise the power conferred by subsection (a), a trustee may consider factors to the extent they are relevant to the trust and its beneficiaries, including, but not limited to, the following factors:

(1) the nature, purpose, and expected duration of the trust;

(2) the intent of the settlor;

(3) the identity and circumstances of the beneficiaries;

(4) the needs for liquidity, regularity of income, and preservation and appreciation of capital;

(5) the assets held in the trust; the extent to which they consist of financial assets, interests in closely held enterprises, tangible and intangible personal property, or real property; the extent to which an asset is used by a beneficiary; and whether an asset was purchased by the trustee or received from the settlor;

(6) the net amount allocated to income under the other sections of this chapter and the increase or decrease in the value of the principal assets, which the trustee may estimate as to assets for which market values are not readily available;

(7) whether and to what extent the terms of the trust give the trustee the power to invade principal or accumulate income or prohibit the trustee from invading principal or accumulating income, and the extent to which the trustee has exercised a power from time to time to invade principal or accumulate income;

(8) the actual and anticipated effect of economic conditions on principal and income and effects of inflation and deflation;

(9) the anticipated tax consequences of an adjustment; and

(10) the investment return under current economic conditions from other portfolios meeting similar fiduciary requirements.

(c) A trustee may not make an adjustment between principal and income:

(1) that diminishes the income interest in a trust that requires all of the income to be paid at least annually to a spouse and for which an estate tax or gift tax marital deduction would be allowed, in whole or in part, if the trustee did not have the power to make the adjustment;
(2) that reduces the actuarial value of the income interest in a trust to which a person transfers property with the intent to qualify for a gift tax exclusion;

(3) that changes the amount payable to a beneficiary as a fixed annuity or a fixed fraction of the value of the trust assets;

(4) from any amount that is permanently set aside for charitable purposes under a will or the terms of a trust unless both income and principal are so set aside;

(5) if possessing or exercising the power to make an adjustment causes an individual to be treated as the owner of all or part of the trust for income tax purposes, and the individual would not be treated as the owner if the trustee did not possess the power to make an adjustment;

(6) if possessing or exercising the power to make an adjustment causes all or part of the trust assets to be included for estate tax purposes in the estate of an individual who has the power to remove a trustee or appoint a trustee, or both, and the assets would not be included in the estate of the individual if the trustee did not possess the power to make an adjustment;

(7) if the trustee is a beneficiary of the trust; or

(8) if the trust is being administered as a unitrust pursuant to the trustee’s exercise of the power to convert to a unitrust provided in RSA 564-A:3-c or pursuant to the terms of the will or the terms of the trust.

d) If subsection (c)(5), (6), or (7) applies to a trustee and there is more than one trustee, the other cotrustee (if there is only one) or a majority of the other cotrustees (if there is more than one) to whom the provision does not apply may make the adjustment unless the exercise of the power by the remaining trustee or trustees is not permitted by the terms of the trust.

e) A trustee may release the entire power conferred by subsection (a) or may release only the power to adjust from income to principal or the power to adjust from principal to income if the trustee is uncertain about whether possessing or exercising the power will cause a result described in subsection (c)(1) through (6) or if the trustee determines that possessing or exercising the power will or may deprive the trust of a tax benefit or impose a tax burden not described in subsection (c). The release may be permanent or for a specified period, including a period measured by the life of an individual.

f) Terms of a trust that limit the power of a trustee to make an adjustment between principal and income do not affect the application of this section unless it is clear from the terms of the trust that the terms are intended to deny the trustee the power of adjustment conferred by subsection (a).

g) Nothing in this section or chapter is intended to create or imply a duty to make an adjustment, and a fiduciary is not liable for not considering whether to make an adjustment or for choosing not to make an adjustment.

h) A trustee may give notice of a proposed action regarding a matter governed by this section as provided in this subsection. For purposes of this subsection, a proposed action includes a course of action and a determination not to take action. For purposes of this subsection, the representation rules of Article III of RSA 564-B shall apply.

1) The trustee shall mail notice of the proposed action to all qualified beneficiaries (as defined in RSA 564-B:1-103(12)) who are adults and to those persons who have the rights of a qualified beneficiary with respect to the trust under RSA 564-B:1-110. Notice may be given to any other beneficiary. Notice of the proposed action need not be given to any person who consents in writing to the proposed action. The consent may be executed at any time before or after the proposed action is taken.

2) The notice of proposed action must state that it is given pursuant to this paragraph and must contain the following:

(A) the name and mailing address of the trustee;

(B) the name and telephone number of a person who may be contacted for additional information;

(C) a description of the action proposed to be taken and an explanation of the reasons for the action;

(D) the time within which objections to the proposed action can be made, which must be at least 30 days from the mailing of the notice of proposed action;

(E) the date on or after which the proposed action may be taken or is effective;

(F) a statement that the beneficiary or person who has the rights of the beneficiary may petition for a judicial determination of the proposed action; and

(G) a form on which consent or objection to the proposed action may be indicated.
(3) A beneficiary or a person who has the rights of a qualified beneficiary may object to the proposed action by mailing a written objection to the trustee at the address stated in the notice of proposed action within the time period specified in the notice of proposed action.

(4) If a trustee does not receive a written objection to the proposed action from the beneficiary within the applicable period, the trustee is not liable for the action to a beneficiary if:

(A) notice is mailed to the beneficiary, or a person who may represent and bind the beneficiary under the provisions of Article 3 of RSA 564-B or the person who has the rights of a qualified beneficiary at the address determined by the trustee after reasonable diligence;

(B) the beneficiary receives actual notice; or a person who may represent and bind the beneficiary under the provisions of Article 3 of RSA 564-B or the person who has the rights of a qualified beneficiary

(C) the beneficiary or a person who may represent and bind the beneficiary under the provisions of Article 3 of RSA 564-B or the person who has the rights of a qualified beneficiary to the proposed action either before or after the action is taken; or

(5) If the trustee receives a written objection within the applicable time period, either the trustee, a beneficiary or a person who has the rights of a qualified beneficiary may petition the court to have the proposed action performed as proposed, performed with modifications, or denied. In the proceeding, a beneficiary objecting to the proposed action or a person who has the rights of a qualified beneficiary objecting to the proposed action has the burden of proof as to whether the trustee’s proposed action should not be performed. A beneficiary who has not objected or a person who has the rights of a qualified beneficiary who has not objected is not estopped from opposing the proposed action in the proceeding. If the trustee decides not to implement the proposed action, the trustee shall notify the qualified beneficiaries of the trust who are adults and those persons who have the rights of a qualified beneficiary of the decision not to take the action and the reasons for the decision, and the trustee’s decision not to implement the proposed action does not itself give rise to liability to any current or future beneficiary. A beneficiary or a person who has the rights of a qualified beneficiary may petition the court to have the action performed and has the burden of proof as to whether it should be performed.

(6) Nothing in this subsection limits the right of a trustee or beneficiary to petition the court pursuant to RSA 564-C:1-105 for instructions as to any action, failure to act, or determination not to act regarding a matter governed by this section in the absence of notice as provided in this subsection. In any such proceeding, any beneficiary filing such a petition or objecting to a petition of the trustee has the burden of proof as to any action taken, any failure to act, or determination not to act, by the trustee.

(i) Following the exercise of the power conferred by subsection (a) to adjust from principal to income, the trustee shall consider in the following order:

(1) the amount so adjusted as paid from ordinary income for federal income tax purposes to the extent not allocable to net accounting income;

(2) the amount so adjusted, after calculating the trust’s capital gain net income described in section 1222(9) of the Internal Revenue Code, as paid from net short-term capital gain described in section 1222(5) of the Internal Revenue Code, and then from net long-term capital gain described in section 1222(7) of the Internal Revenue Code; and

(3) any remaining amount so adjusted as coming from the principal of the trust.

564-C:1-105 Judicial Control of Discretionary Power.

(a) The court may not order a fiduciary to change a decision to exercise or not to exercise a discretionary power conferred by this chapter unless it determines that the decision was an abuse of the fiduciary’s discretion. A fiduciary’s decision is not an abuse of discretion merely because the court would have exercised the power in a different manner or would not have exercised the power.

(b) The decisions to which subsection (a) applies include:

(1) a decision under RSA 564-C:1-104(a) as to whether and to what extent an amount should be transferred from principal to income or from income to principal.

(2) A decision regarding the factors that are relevant to the trust and its beneficiaries, the extent to which the factors are relevant, and the weight, if any, to be given to those factors, in deciding whether and to what extent to exercise the discretionary power conferred by RSA 564-C:1-104(a).
(c) If the court determines that a fiduciary has abused the fiduciary’s discretion, the court may place the income and remainder beneficiaries in the positions they would have occupied if the discretion had not been abused as equity requires, according to the following guidelines:

1. to the extent that the abuse of discretion has resulted in no distribution to a beneficiary or in a distribution that is too small, the court may order the fiduciary to distribute from the trust to the beneficiary an amount that the court determines will restore the beneficiary, in whole or in part, to the beneficiary’s appropriate position.

2. to the extent that the abuse of discretion has resulted in a distribution to a beneficiary which is too large, the court may place the beneficiaries, the trust, or both, in whole or in part, in their appropriate positions by ordering the fiduciary to withhold an amount from one or more future distributions to the beneficiary who received the distribution that was too large or ordering that beneficiary to return some or all of the distribution to the trust.

3. to the extent that the court is unable, after applying subsection (c)(1) and (2), to place the beneficiaries, the trust, or both, in the positions they would have occupied if the discretion had not been abused, the court may order the fiduciary to pay an appropriate amount from its own funds to one or more of the beneficiaries or the trust or both.

(d) A fiduciary may petition the court having jurisdiction over a trust or estate for a determination by the court whether a proposed exercise or nonexercise of a discretionarv power conferred by this chapter will result in an abuse of discretion. If the petition describes the proposed exercise or nonexercise of the power and contains sufficient information to inform the beneficiaries of the reasons for the proposal, the facts upon which the fiduciary relies, and an explanation of how the income and remainder beneficiaries will be affected by the proposed exercise or nonexercise of the power, a beneficiary who challenges the proposed exercise or nonexercise has the burden of establishing that it will result in an abuse of discretion.

(e) A fiduciary shall be reimbursed for any and all costs, including without limitation all attorneys’ fees and costs of defense, and all liabilities that the fiduciary may incur in connection with any claim or action relating in any way to the fiduciary’s exercise of its discretion under this chapter, except to the extent that the beneficiary establishes that the fiduciary did not exercise its discretion in good faith and with honest judgment. All attorneys’ fees and costs shall be advanced to the fiduciary as incurred and shall only be collected from the fiduciary after it has been determined that the fiduciary did not exercise its discretion in good faith and with honest judgment.

Decedent’s Estate or Terminating Income Interest

564-C:2-201 Determination and Distribution of Net Income. After a decedent dies, in the case of an estate, or after an income interest in a trust ends, the following rules apply:

1. A fiduciary of an estate or of a terminating income interest shall determine the amount of net income and net principal receipts received from property specifically given to a beneficiary under the rules in articles 3 through 5 which apply to trustees and the rules in subsection (5). The fiduciary shall distribute the net income and net principal receipts to the beneficiary who is to receive the specific property.

2. A fiduciary shall determine the remaining net income of a decedent’s estate or a terminating income interest under the rules in articles 3 through 5 which apply to trustees and by:
   (A) including in net income all income from property used to discharge liabilities;
   (B) paying from income or principal, in the fiduciary’s discretion, fees of attorneys, accountants, and fiduciaries; court costs and other expenses of administration; and interest on death taxes, but the fiduciary may pay those expenses from income of property passing to a trust for which the fiduciary claims an estate tax marital or charitable deduction only to the extent that the payment of those expenses from income will not cause the reduction or loss of the deduction; and
   (C) paying from principal all other disbursements made or incurred in connection with the settlement of a decedent’s estate or the winding up of a terminating income interest, including debts, funeral expenses, disposition of remains, family allowances, and death taxes and related penalties that are apportioned to the estate or terminating income interest by the will, the terms of the trust, or applicable law.

3. A fiduciary shall distribute to a beneficiary who receives a pecuniary amount outright the interest or any other amount provided by the will or the terms of the trust from net income determined under subsection (2) or from principal to the extent that net income is insufficient. If a beneficiary is to receive a pecuniary amount outright and no interest or other amount is provided for by the will or by the terms of the trust then, if the pecuniary amount is not distributed to the beneficiary within one year of the date of death of the testator or the date the income interest ends, the fiduciary shall distribute to the beneficiary interest at the rate prescribed in RSA 336:1, II.

(4) A fiduciary shall distribute the net income remaining after distributions required by subsection (3) in the manner described in RSA 564-C:2-202 to all other beneficiaries, including a beneficiary who receives a pecuniary amount in trust, even if the beneficiary holds an unqualified power to withdraw assets from the trust or other presently exercisable general power of appointment over the trust.

(5) A fiduciary may not reduce principal or income receipts from property described in subsection (1) because of a payment described in RSA 564-C:5-501 or RSA 564-C:5-502 to the extent that the will, the terms of the trust, or applicable law requires the fiduciary to make the payment from assets other than the property or to the extent that the fiduciary recovers or expects to recover the payment from a third party. The net income and principal receipts from the property are determined by including all of the amounts the fiduciary receives or pays with respect to the property, whether those amounts accrued or became due before, on, or after the date of a decedent’s death or an income interest’s terminating event, and by making a reasonable provision for amounts that the fiduciary believes the estate or terminating income interest may become obligated to pay after the property is distributed.

564-C:2-202 Distribution to Residuary and Remainder Beneficiaries.

(a) Each beneficiary described in RSA 564-C:2-201(4) is entitled to receive a portion of the net income equal to the beneficiary’s fractional interest in undistributed principal assets, using values as of the distribution date. If a fiduciary makes more than one distribution of assets to beneficiaries to whom this section applies, each beneficiary, including one who does not receive part of the distribution, is entitled, as of each distribution date, to the net income the fiduciary has received after the date of death or terminating event or earlier distribution date but has not distributed as of the current distribution date.

(b) In determining a beneficiary’s share of net income, the following rules apply:

(1) The beneficiary is entitled to receive a portion of the net income equal to the beneficiary’s fractional interest in the undistributed principal assets immediately before the distribution date, including assets that later may be sold to meet principal obligations.

(2) The beneficiary’s fractional interest in the undistributed principal assets must be calculated without regard to property specifically given to a beneficiary and property required to pay pecuniary amounts not in trust.

(3) The beneficiary’s fractional interest in the undistributed principal assets must be calculated on the basis of the aggregate value of those assets as of the distribution date without reducing the value by any unpaid principal obligation.

(4) The distribution date for purposes of this section may be the date as of which the fiduciary calculates the value of the assets if that date is reasonably near the date on which assets are actually distributed.

(c) If a fiduciary does not distribute all of the collected but undistributed net income to each beneficiary as of a distribution date, the fiduciary shall maintain appropriate records showing the interest of each beneficiary in that net income.

(d) A fiduciary may apply the rules in this section, to the extent that the fiduciary considers it appropriate, to net gain or loss realized after the date of death or terminating event or earlier distribution date from the disposition of a principal asset if this section applies to the income from the asset.

Article 3

Apportionment at Beginning and End Of Income Interest

564-C:3-301 When Right to Income Begins and Ends.

(a) An income beneficiary is entitled to net income from the date on which the income interest begins. An income interest begins on the date specified in the terms of the trust or, if no date is specified, on the date an asset becomes subject to a trust or successive income interest.

(b) An asset becomes subject to a trust:

(1) on the date it is transferred to the trust in the case of an asset that is transferred to a trust during the transferor’s life;

(2) on the date of a testator’s death in the case of an asset that becomes subject to a trust by reason of a will, even if there is an intervening period of administration of the testator’s estate; or
(3) on the date of an individual’s death in the case of an asset that is transferred to a fiduciary by a third party because of the individual’s death.

(c) An asset becomes subject to a successive income interest on the day after the preceding income interest ends, as determined under subsection (d), even if there is an intervening period of administration to wind up the preceding income interest.

(d) An income interest ends on the day before an income beneficiary dies or another terminating event occurs, or on the last day of a period during which there is no beneficiary to whom a trustee may distribute income.

564-C:3-302 Apportionment of Receipts and Disbursements when Decedent Dies or Income Interest Begins.

(a) A trustee shall allocate an income receipt or disbursement other than one to which RSA 564-C:2-201(1) applies to principal if its due date occurs before a decedent dies in the case of an estate or before an income interest begins in the case of a trust or successive income interest.

(b) A trustee shall allocate an income receipt or disbursement to income if its due date occurs on or after the date on which a decedent dies or an income interest begins and it is a periodic due date. An income receipt or disbursement must be treated as accruing from day to day if its due date is not periodic or it has no due date. The portion of the receipt or disbursement accruing before the date on which a decedent dies or an income interest begins must be allocated to principal and the balance must be allocated to income.

(c) An item of income or an obligation is due on the date the payer is required to make a payment. If a payment date is not stated, there is no due date for the purposes of this chapter. Distributions to shareholders or other owners from an entity to which RSA 564-C:4-401 applies are deemed to be due on the date fixed by the entity for determining who is entitled to receive the distribution or, if no date is fixed, on the declaration date for the distribution. A due date is periodic for receipts or disbursements that must be paid at regular intervals under a lease or an obligation to pay interest or if an entity customarily makes distributions at regular intervals.

564-C:3-303 Apportionment when Income Interest Ends.

(a) In this section, “undistributed income” means net income received before the date on which an income interest ends. The term does not include an item of income or expense that is due or accrued or net income that has been added or is required to be added to principal under the terms of the trust.

(b) Except as provided in subsection (c), when a mandatory income interest ends, the trustee shall pay to a mandatory income beneficiary who survives that date, or the estate of a deceased mandatory income beneficiary whose death causes the interest to end, the beneficiary’s share of the undistributed income that is not disposed of under the terms of the trust.

(c) If immediately before the income interest ends the beneficiary described in subsection (b) has an unqualified power to revoke more than 5 percent of the trust, the undistributed income from the portion of the trust that may be revoked must be added to principal.

(d) When a trustee’s obligation to pay a fixed annuity or a fixed fraction of the value of the trust’s assets ends, the trustee shall prorate the final payment if and to the extent required by applicable law to accomplish a purpose of the trust or its settlor relating to income, gift, estate, or other tax requirements.

Article 4
Allocation of Receipts During Administration of Trust
Part 1
Receipts from Entities

564-C:4-401 Character of Receipts.

(a) In this section, “entity” means a corporation, partnership, limited liability company, regulated investment company, real estate investment trust, common trust fund, or any other organization in which a trustee has an interest other than a trust or estate to which RSA 564-C:4-402 applies, a business or activity to which RSA 564-C:4-403 applies, or an asset-backed security to which RSA 564-C:4-415 applies.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this section, a trustee shall allocate to income money received from an entity.

(c) A trustee shall allocate the following receipts from an entity to principal:

(1) property other than money;
(2) money received in one distribution or a series of related distributions in exchange for part or all of a trust’s interest in the entity;
(3) money received in total or partial liquidation of the entity; and
(4) money received from an entity that is a regulated investment company or a real estate investment trust if the money distributed is a capital gain dividend for federal income tax purposes.
(d) For purposes of subsection (c)(3):
   (1) money is received in partial liquidation:
   (A) to the extent that the entity, at or near the time of a distribution, indicates that it is a distribution in partial liquidation; or
   (B) if the total amount of money and property received in a distribution or series of related distributions is greater than 20 percent of the entity’s gross assets, as shown by the entity’s year end financial statements immediately preceding the initial receipt.
(2) money is not received in partial liquidation, nor may it be taken into account under subsection (d)(1)(B), to the extent that it does not exceed the amount of income tax that a trustee or beneficiary must pay on taxable income of the entity that distributes the money.
   (c) A trustee may rely upon a statement made by an entity about the source or character of a distribution if the statement is made by the entity’s board of directors or other person or group of persons authorized to exercise powers to pay money or transfer property comparable to those of a corporation’s board of directors.
564-C:4-402 Distribution from Trust or Estate. A trustee shall allocate to income an amount received as a distribution of income from a trust or an estate in which the trust has an interest other than a purchased interest, and shall allocate to principal an amount received as a distribution of principal from such a trust or estate. If a trustee purchases an interest in a trust that is an investment entity, or a decedent or donor transfers an interest in such a trust to a trustee, RSA 564 C:4 401 or RSA 564-C:4-415 applies to a receipt from the trust.
564-C:4-403 Business and Other Activities Conducted by Trustee.
   (a) If a trustee who conducts a business or other activity determines that it is in the best interest of all the beneficiaries to account separately for the business or activity instead of accounting for it as part of the trust’s general accounting records, the trustee may maintain separate accounting records for its transactions, whether or not its assets are segregated from other trust assets.
   (b) A trustee who accounts separately for a business or other activity may determine the extent to which its net cash receipts must be retained for working capital, the acquisition or replacement of fixed assets, and other reasonably foreseeable needs of the business or activity, and the extent to which the remaining net cash receipts are accounted for as principal or income in the trust’s general accounting records. If a trustee sells assets of the business or other activity, other than in the ordinary course of the business or activity, the trustee shall account for the net amount received as principal in the trust’s general accounting records to the extent the trustee determines that the amount received is no longer required in the conduct of the business.
   (c) Activities for which a trustee may maintain separate accounting records include:
      (1) retail, manufacturing, service, and other traditional business activities;
      (2) farming;
      (3) raising and selling livestock and other animals;
      (4) management of rental properties;
      (5) extraction of minerals and other natural resources;
      (6) timber operations; and
      (7) activities to which RSA 564-C:4-414 applies.
Part 2
Receipts not Normally Apportioned
564-C:4-404 Principal Receipts. A trustee shall allocate to principal:
   (1) To the extent not allocated to income under this chapter, assets received from a transferor during the transferor’s lifetime, a decedent’s estate, a trust with a terminating income interest, or a payor under a contract naming the trust or its trustee as beneficiary;
   (2) Subject to any contrary rules set forth in articles 4 or 5 of this chapter, money or other property received from the sale, exchange, liquidation, or change in form of a principal asset, including realized profit, subject to this article;
   (3) Amounts recovered from third parties to reimburse the trust because of disbursements described in RSA 564-C:5-502(a)(7) or for other reasons to the extent not based on the loss of income;
(4) Proceeds of property taken by eminent domain, but a separate award made for the loss of income with respect to an accounting period during which a current income beneficiary had a mandatory income interest is income;

(5) Net income received in an accounting period during which there is no beneficiary to whom a trustee may or must distribute income; and

(6) Other receipts as provided in part 3.

564-C:4-405 Rental Property. To the extent that a trustee accounts for receipts from rental property pursuant to this section and not as provided in RSA 564 C:4 403, the trustee shall allocate to income an amount received as rent of real or personal property, including an amount received for cancellation or renewal of a lease. An amount received as a refundable deposit, including a security deposit or a deposit that is to be applied as rent for future periods, must be added to principal and held subject to the terms of the lease and is not available for distribution to a beneficiary until the trustee’s contractual obligations have been satisfied with respect to that amount.

564-C:4-406 Obligation to Pay Money.

(a) An amount received as interest, whether determined at a fixed, variable, or floating rate, on an obligation to pay money to the trustee, including an amount received as consideration for prepaying principal, must be allocated to income without any provision for amortization of premium.

(b) An amount received from the sale, redemption, or other disposition of an obligation to pay money to the trustee more than one year after it is purchased or acquired by the trustee, including an obligation whose purchase price or value when it is acquired is less than its value at maturity, must be allocated to principal. If the obligation matures within one year after it is purchased or acquired by the trustee, an amount received in excess of its purchase price or its value when acquired by the trust must be allocated to income.

(c) This section does not apply to an obligation to which RSA 564-C:4-409, 410, 411, 412, 414, or 415 applies.

564-C:4-407 Insurance Policies and Similar Contracts.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (b), a trustee shall allocate to principal the proceeds of a life insurance policy or other contract in which the trust or its trustee is named as beneficiary, including a contract that insures the trust or its trustee against loss for damage to, destruction of, or loss of title to a trust asset. The trustee shall allocate dividends on an insurance policy to income if the premiums on the policy are paid from income, and to principal if the premiums are paid from principal.

(b) A trustee shall allocate to income proceeds of a contract that insures the trustee against loss of occupancy or other use by an income beneficiary, loss of income, or, subject to RSA 564-C:4-403, loss of profits from a business.

(c) This section does not apply to a contract to which RSA 564-C:4-403 applies.

Part 3

564-C:4-408 Insubstantial Allocations Not Required.

(a) If a trustee determines that an allocation between principal and income required by RSA 564-C:4-409, 410, 411, 412, or 415 is insubstantial, the trustee may allocate the entire amount to principal unless one of the circumstances described in RSA 564-C:1-104(c) applies to the allocation. This power may be exercised by a cotrustee in the circumstances described in RSA 564-C:1-104(d) and may be released for the reasons and in the manner described in RSA 564-C:1-104(c).

(b) An allocation is presumed to be insubstantial if:

(1) the amount of the allocation would increase or decrease net income in an accounting period, as determined before the allocation, by less than 10 percent; or

(2) the value of the asset producing the receipt for which the allocation would be made is less than 10 percent of the total value of the trust’s assets at the beginning of the accounting period.

(c) Nothing in this section imposes a duty on the trustee to make an allocation under this section, and the trustee is not liable for failing to make an allocation under this section regardless of whether or not the trustee has made allocations under this section in the past.

564-C:4-409 Deferred Compensation, Annuities, and Similar Payments.

(a) In this section, “payment” means a payment that a trustee may receive over a fixed number of years or during the life of one or more individuals because of services rendered or property transferred to the payer in exchange for future payments. The term includes a payment made in money or property from the payer’s general assets or from a separate fund created by the payer, including a private or commercial annuity, an individual retirement account, and a pension, profit-sharing, stock-bonus, or stock-ownership plan.

(b) To the extent that a payment is characterized as interest or a dividend or a payment made in lieu of interest or a dividend, a trustee shall allocate it to income. The trustee shall allocate to principal the balance of the payment and any other payment received in the same accounting period that is not characterized as interest, a dividend, or an equivalent payment.

(c) If no part of a payment is characterized as interest, a dividend, or an equivalent payment, and all or part of the payment is required to be made, a trustee shall allocate to income 10 percent of the part that is required to be made during the accounting period and the balance to principal. If no part of a payment is required to be made or the payment received is the entire amount to which the trustee is entitled, the trustee shall allocate the entire payment to principal. For purposes of this subsection, a payment is not “required to be made” to the extent that it is made because the trustee exercises a right of withdrawal.

(d) If, to obtain an estate tax marital deduction for a trust, a trustee must allocate more of a payment to income than provided for by this section, the trustee shall allocate to income the additional amount necessary to obtain the marital deduction.

(e) This section does not apply to payments to which RSA 564-C:4-410 applies.

564-C:4-410 Liquidating Asset.

(a) In this section, “liquidating asset” means an asset whose value will diminish or terminate because the asset is expected to produce receipts for a period of limited duration. The term includes a leasehold, patent, copyright, royalty right, and right to receive payments under an arrangement that does not provide for the payment of interest on the unpaid balance. The term does not include a payment subject to RSA 564-C:4-409, resources subject to RSA 564-C:4-411, timber subject to RSA 564-C:4-412, an activity subject to RSA 564-C:4-414, an asset subject to RSA 564-C:4-415, or any asset for which the trustee establishes a reserve for depreciation under RSA 564-C:5-503.

(b) A trustee shall allocate to income 10 percent of the receipts from a liquidating asset and the balance to principal.

564-C:4-411 Minerals, Water, and Other Natural Resources.

(a) To the extent that a trustee accounts for receipts from an interest in minerals or other natural resources pursuant to this section, the trustee shall allocate them as follows:

(1) if received as a nominal bonus, nominal delay rental or nominal annual rent on a lease, a receipt must be allocated to income.

(2) if received from a production payment, a receipt must be allocated to income if and to the extent that the agreement creating the production payment provides a factor for interest or its equivalent. The balance must be allocated to principal.

(3) if an amount received as a royalty, shut-in-well payment, take-or-pay payment, bonus, or delay rental is more than nominal, 90 percent must be allocated to principal and the balance to income.

(4) if an amount is received from a working interest or any other interest not provided for in subsection (1), (2), or (3), 90 percent of the net amount received must be allocated to principal and the balance to income.

(b) An amount received on account of an interest in water that is renewable must be allocated to income. If the water is not renewable, 90 percent of the amount must be allocated to principal and the balance to income.

(c) This chapter applies whether or not a decedent or donor was extracting minerals, water, or other natural resources before the interest became subject to the trust.

(d) If a trust owns an interest in minerals, water, or other natural resources on the effective date of this chapter, the trustee may allocate receipts from the interest as provided in this chapter or in the manner used by the trustee before the effective date of this chapter. If the trust acquires an interest in minerals, water, or other natural resources after the effective date of this chapter, the trustee shall allocate receipts from the interest as provided in this chapter.

564-C:4-412 Timber.

(a) To the extent that a trustee accounts for receipts from the sale of timber and related products pursuant to this section, the trustee shall allocate the net receipts:

(1) to income to the extent that the amount of timber removed from the land does not exceed the rate of growth of the timber during the accounting periods in which a beneficiary has a mandatory income interest;
(2) to principal to the extent that the amount of timber removed from the land exceeds the rate of growth of the timber or the net receipts are from the sale of standing timber;

(3) to or between income and principal if the net receipts are from the lease of timberland or from a contract to cut timber from land owned by a trust, by determining the amount of timber removed from the land under the lease or contract and applying the rules in subsections (a)(1) and (2); or

(4) to principal to the extent that advance payments, bonuses, and other payments are not allocated pursuant to subsections (a)(1), (2), or (3).

(b) In determining net receipts to be allocated pursuant to subsection (a), a trustee shall deduct and transfer to principal a reasonable amount for depletion.

(c) This chapter applies whether or not a decedent or transferor was harvesting timber from the property before it became subject to the trust.

(d) If a trust owns an interest in timber land on the effective date of this chapter, the trustee may allocate net receipts from the sale of timber and related products as provided in this chapter or in the manner used by the trustee before the effective date of this chapter. If the trust acquires an interest in timber land after the effective date of this chapter, the trustee shall allocate net receipts from the sale of timber and related products as provided in this chapter.

564-C:4-413 Property Not Productive of Income.

(a) If a marital deduction is allowed for all or part of a trust whose assets consist substantially of property that does not provide the spouse with sufficient income from or use of the trust assets, and if the amounts that the trustee transfers from principal to income under RSA 564-C:1-104 and distributes to the spouse from principal pursuant to the terms of the trust are insufficient to provide the spouse with the beneficial enjoyment required to obtain the marital deduction, the spouse may require the trustee within a reasonable time from being notified by the spouse to make property productive of income, convert property within a reasonable time or exercise the power conferred by RSA 564-C:1-104(a). The trustee may decide which action or combination of actions set forth above to take without regard to the specific action or actions requested by the spouse, if any.

(b) In cases not governed by subsection (a), proceeds from the sale or other disposition of an asset are principal without regard to the amount of income the asset produces during any accounting period.

564-C:4-414 Derivatives and Options.

(a) In this section, "derivative" means a contract or financial instrument or a combination of contracts and financial instruments which gives a trust the right or obligation to participate in some or all changes in the price of a tangible or intangible asset or group of assets, or changes in a rate, an index of prices or rates, or other market indicator for an asset or a group of assets.

(b) To the extent that a trustee does not account under RSA 564-C:4-403 for transactions in derivatives, the trustee shall allocate to principal receipts from and disbursements made in connection with those transactions.

(c) If a trustee grants an option to buy property from the trust, whether or not the trust owns the property when the option is granted, grants an option that permits another person to sell property to the trust, or acquires an option to buy property for the trust or an option to sell an asset owned by the trust, and the trustee or other owner of the asset is required to deliver the asset if the option is exercised, an amount received for granting the option must be allocated to principal. An amount paid to acquire the option must be paid from principal. A gain or loss realized upon the exercise of an option, including an option granted to a settlor of the trust for services rendered, must be allocated to principal.

564-C:4-415 Asset-Backed Securities.

(a) In this section, "asset-backed security" means an asset whose value is based upon the right it gives the owner to receive distributions from the proceeds of financial assets that provide collateral for the security. The term includes an asset that gives the owner the right to receive from the collateral financial assets only the interest or other current return or only the proceeds other than interest or current return. The term does not include an asset to which RSA 564-C:4-401 or RSA 564 C:4-409 applies.

(b) If a trust receives a payment from interest or other current return and from other proceeds of the collateral financial assets, the trustee shall allocate to income the portion of the payment which the payer identifies as being from interest or other current return and shall allocate the balance of the payment to principal.

(c) If a trust receives one or more payments in exchange for the trust's entire interest in an asset-backed security in one accounting period, the trustee shall allocate the payments to principal. If a payment is one of a series of payments that will result in the liquidation of the trust’s interest in the security over more than one accounting period, the trustee shall allocate 10 percent of the payment to income and the balance to principal.

Article 5

Allocation of Disbursements During Administration of Trust

564-C:5-501 Disbursements from Income. A trustee shall make the following disbursements from income to the extent that they are not disbursements to which RSA 564-C:2-201(2)(B) or (C) applies:

(a) So much of the compensation of the trustee and of any person providing investment advisory or custodial services to the trustee, and expenses for accounting, judicial proceedings, or other matters that involve the income and remainder interests as shall be determined by the trustee.”

(b) All of the other ordinary expenses incurred in connection with the administration, management, or preservation of trust property and the distribution of income, including interest, ordinary repairs, regularly recurring taxes assessed against principal, and expenses of a proceeding or other matter that concerns primarily the income interest; and

(c) Recurring premiums on insurance covering the loss of a principal asset or the loss of income from or use of the asset.

564-C:5-502 Disbursements from Principal.

(a) A trustee shall make the following disbursements from principal:

(1) the remaining 1/2 of the disbursements described in RSA 564-C:5-501(1) and (2) except as otherwise ordered by court;

(2) all of the trustee’s compensation calculated on principal as a fee for acceptance, distribution, or termination, and disbursements made to prepare property for sale;

(3) payments on the principal of a trust debt;

(4) expenses of a proceeding that concerns primarily principal, including a proceeding to construe the trust or to protect the trust or its property;

(5) premiums paid on a policy of insurance not described in RSA 564-C:5-501(4) of which the trust is the owner and beneficiary;

(6) estate, inheritance, and other transfer taxes, including penalties, apportioned to the trust; and

(7) disbursements related to environmental matters, including reclamation, assessing environmental conditions, remedying and removing environmental contamination, monitoring remedial activities and the release of substances, preventing future releases of substances, collecting amounts from persons liable or potentially liable for the costs of those activities, penalties imposed under environmental laws or regulations and other payments made to comply with those laws or regulations, statutory or common law claims by third parties, and defending claims based on environmental matters.

(b) If a principal asset is encumbered with an obligation that requires income from that asset to be paid directly to the creditor, the trustee shall transfer from principal to income an amount equal to the income paid to the creditor in reduction of the principal balance of the obligation.

564-C:5-503 Transfers from Income to Principal for Depreciation.

(a) In this section, “depreciation” means a reduction in value due to wear, tear, decay, corrosion, or gradual obsolescence of a fixed asset having a useful life of more than one year.

(b) A trustee may transfer to principal a reasonable amount of the net cash receipts from a principal asset that is subject to depreciation, but may not transfer any amount for depreciation:

(1) of that portion of real property used or available for use by a beneficiary as a residence or of tangible personal property held or made available for the personal use or enjoyment of a beneficiary;

(2) during the administration of a decedent’s estate; or

(3) under this section if the trustee is accounting under RSA 564-C:4-403 for the business or activity in which the asset is used.

(c) An amount transferred to principal need not be held as a separate fund.

564-C:5-504 Transfers from Income to Reimburse Principal.

(a) If a trustee makes or expects to make a principal disbursement described in this section, the trustee may transfer an appropriate amount from income to principal in one or more accounting periods to reimburse principal or to provide a reserve for future principal disbursements.

(b) Principal disbursements to which subsection (a) applies include the following, but only to the extent that the trustee has not been and does not expect to be reimbursed by a third party:

(1) an amount chargeable to income but paid from principal because it is unusually large, including extraordinary repairs;
(2) a capital improvement to a principal asset, whether in the form of changes to an existing asset or the construction of a new asset, including special assessments;

(3) disbursements made to prepare property for rental, including tenant allowances, leasehold improvements, and broker's commissions;

(4) periodic payments on an obligation secured by a principal asset to the extent that the amount transferred from income to principal for depreciation is less than the periodic payments; and

(5) disbursements described in RSA 564-C:5-502(a)(7).

c) If the asset whose ownership gives rise to the disbursements becomes subject to a successive income interest after an income interest ends, a trustee may continue to transfer amounts from income to principal as provided in subsection (a).

564-C:5-505 Income Taxes.

(a) A tax required to be paid by a trustee based on receipts allocated to income must be paid from income.

(b) A tax required to be paid by a trustee based on receipts allocated to principal must be paid from principal, even if the tax is called an income tax by the taxing authority.

(c) A tax required to be paid by a trustee on the trust's share of an entity's taxable income must be paid proportionately:

1) from income to the extent that receipts from the entity are allocated to income; and

2) from principal to the extent that:

A) receipts from the entity are allocated to principal; and

B) the trust's share of the entity's taxable income exceeds the total receipts described in subsections (c)(1) and (2)(A).

(d) For purposes of this section, receipts allocated to principal or income must be reduced by the amount distributed to a beneficiary from principal or income for which the trust receives a deduction in calculating the tax.

564-C:5-506 Adjustments between Principal and Income Because of Taxes.

(a) A fiduciary may make adjustments between principal and income to offset the shifting of economic interests or tax benefits between income beneficiaries and remainder beneficiaries which arise from:

1) elections and decisions, other than those described in subsection (b), that the fiduciary makes from time to time regarding tax matters;

2) an income tax or any other tax that is imposed upon the fiduciary or a beneficiary as a result of a transaction involving or a distribution from the estate or trust; or

3) the ownership by an estate or trust of an interest in an entity whose taxable income, whether or not distributed, is includable in the taxable income of the estate, trust, or a beneficiary.

(b) If the amount of an estate tax marital deduction or charitable contribution deduction is reduced because a fiduciary deducts an amount paid from principal for income tax purposes instead of deducting it for estate tax purposes, and as a result estate taxes paid from principal are increased and income taxes paid by an estate, trust, or beneficiary are decreased, each estate, trust, or beneficiary that benefits from the decrease in income tax shall reimburse the principal from which the increase in estate tax is paid. The total reimbursement must equal the increase in the estate tax to the extent that the principal used to pay the increase would have qualified for a marital deduction or charitable contribution deduction but for the payment. The proportionate share of the reimbursement for each estate, trust, or beneficiary whose income taxes are reduced must be the same as its proportionate share of the total decrease in income tax. An estate or trust shall reimburse principal from income.

Miscellaneous Provisions

564-C:6-601 Severability Clause. If any provision of this chapter or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or applications of this chapter which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this chapter are severable.

564-C:6-602 Application of Chapter to Trusts and Estates.

(a) The effective date of this chapter shall be January 1, 2007.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, on the effective date of this chapter, the chapter shall apply:

1) to every inter vivos trust created on or after the effective date of this chapter except as otherwise expressly provided in the terms of the trust or in this chapter;
(2) to any inter vivos trust created before the effective date of this chapter upon the election of the trustee to apply this chapter made in writing and delivered to the beneficiaries then entitled to receive income and principal from the trust;

(3) to any estate existing or testamentary trust of a decedent who dies on or after the effective date of this chapter;

(4) to any estate or testamentary trust upon the approval by a court of competent jurisdiction, upon either (A) a petition filed by an interested person or (B) the court on its own motion.

(c) Nothing in this section imposes a duty on the trustee or any other fiduciary to make an election under this section, and the trustee or any other fiduciary is not liable for failing to make an election under this section.

(d) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to affect or change the form of accounting required under the rules of the probate court.

71 Board of Trust Company Incorporation; Membership. Amend RSA 392:1 to read as follows:

392:1 Incorporation Board. The bank commissioner, the state treasurer, or a deputy treasurer, and the attorney general, or a designee from the office of the attorney general, shall constitute a board for the incorporation of trust companies and other corporations of a similar character, shall be known as the board of trust company incorporation, and shall receive no compensation for services on this board. The secretary of state, or designee shall be a nonvoting member of the board for the sole purpose of monitoring filings required to be made with the secretary of state. The deputy bank commissioner shall serve as clerk of the board. Provided, that if on May 31, 1985 there shall be pending any matter before the board as constituted prior to May 31, 1985, the board as so constituted shall remain in existence with respect to such matter and shall retain jurisdiction thereof until final decision shall have been rendered thereon.

61 Effective Date. This act takes effect 60 days after its passage. Amendment adopted.

Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

Rep. Rollo declared a conflict of interest and did not participate.

SB 318-FN, relative to the use of deadly force to protect oneself. MAJORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE. MINORITY: OUGHT TO PASS.

Rep. Stanley E. Stevens for the Majority of Criminal Justice and Public Safety: This bill is almost identical to HB 1354 which was defeated by the House. Current law already covers the duty to retreat. This is the section that the sponsors of HB 1354 conceded was covered by RSA 627:3. Vote 9-5.

Rep. Elbert I. Bicknell for the Minority of Criminal Justice and Public Safety: This bill, as introduced, simply gives back a right that has been eroded if not actually taken away, by a judicial system that has for many years been giving preferential treatment to criminals. This bill simply says that if you are being attacked in your home, your yard and any other place you have a right to be, you do not have to retreat and you do not have to turn your back on the attacker and run for your life, when you have the means to defend yourself, your family or others. In other words, this bill does away with our present law that states the victim must retreat if he or she can do so safely. It is the opinion of the minority of the committee as well as 20 of 24 citizens that testified on this bill, that to retreat upon being attacked instead of defending oneself and family is too unreasonable to ask of any person in that situation.

Rep. Bicknell spoke against and yielded to questions.

Rep. John Flanders moved the previous question.

Adopted.

Rep. Boehm requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

SB 348, prohibiting the taking of arms and ammunition in a declared state of emergency. MAJORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE. MINORITY: OUGHT TO PASS.

Rep. Gene P. Charron for the Majority of Criminal Justice and Public Safety: The committee felt that the events that predicated this bill were extreme examples that happened in New Orleans. New Hampshire gun owners are responsible people. Gun seizure of an entire town would be highly unlikely. No town or city would have the resources to enforce this law. Vote 14-5.

Rep. Elbert I. Bicknell for the Minority of Criminal Justice and Public Safety: According to some on the committee, and possibly in the House itself, there are those that keep insisting what happened in New Orleans could never happen in New Hampshire. The minority simply points out that New Hampshire never before had a flood like what recently occurred in Alstead, but yet it did happen. Is it unreasonable to think that in certain situations, under certain conditions, under certain leaderships, we in New Hampshire will not ever have something as catastrophic an event as happened in New Orleans? As to the confiscation, or seizure of weapons of innocent citizens by members of the Police and Armed services be they from New Orleans or other states, does anyone really think it too, could not happen in New Hampshire under the wrong leadership and right emergency situations? It will not start with a “whole town” losing its rights, it will start as most lost liberties start, piecemeal, slowly, incrementally and one morning we awake without the right to protect ourselves and family, because a “leader” gave the order to start in a given area of town and seize all weapons from all peoples. This bill will not disallow the police to still use warrants from Courts, to still use probable cause to seize on sight of the unlawful use of weapons. By no means does this bill handcuff our police, if in fact they have the authority to seize firearms now, they will under that same authority be able to do what is needed for law and order to prevail in an emergency situation with help from lawfully armed citizens of New Hampshire. This bill is needed, to ensure that what the majority says will never happen, can never happen.
Rep. Bicknell spoke against and yielded to questions.
Rep. Mirski spoke against.
Rep. John Flanders moved the previous question.
Adopted.

Ordered to third reading.

RECONSIDERATION

Reconsideration failed.

REGULAR CALENDAR (CONT’D.)

SB 351-FN, declaring drowning as cruelty to animals. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. Timothy D. O’Connell for Environment and Agriculture: The majority of the committee believes that current laws covering animal cruelty (torture, mutilation and mistreatment) are adequate and feel that the bill as proposed would open possible loopholes weakening rather than strengthening existing law. This statute change would not apply to licensed trappers. Vote 12-3.

Rep. Newton spoke in favor and yielded to questions.
Reps. Bettencourt, O’Connell, Kennedy and Schmidt spoke against.
Rep. John Flanders moved the previous question.
Adopted.
Rep. Nancy Johnson requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

Rep. Major moved that the House adopt HR 24, affirming revenue estimates for fiscal years 2006 and 2007, spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

LAID ON THE TABLE

The House recessed at 12:40 p.m.

RECESS

(Speaker Scamman in the Chair)

The House reconvened at 1:45 p.m.

ENROLLED BILLS REPORT

The Committee on Enrolled Bills has examined and found correctly enrolled House Bills numbered 317, 345, 624, 1135, 1173, 1189, 1227, 1313, 1324, 1356, 1361, 1465, 1487 and 1584, House Joint Resolution number 21 and Senate Bills numbered 207, 328, 332 and 395.

SPECIAL ORDER

SB 355-FN, relative to unlawful possession of alcohol by a minor. REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY. Rep. Mary Stuart Gile for Children and Family Law: The committee recognizes the honorable intent of the bill’s sponsor to protect any person under the age of 21 from possessing or consuming alcoholic beverages. However, many questions and concerns were raised, such as the value of approaches involving prevention versus punishment, parents’ role in teaching their children about responsible use of alcoholic beverages, the potential for overzealous application by authorities, particularly among the 18-21 population and lastly, if current NH law prohibits anyone 21 years and under from drinking alcohol, why do we need this bill? Interim Study seemed the most appropriate decision. Vote 13-1. Rep. Harding spoke in favor. Committee report adopted.

REGULAR CALENDAR (CONT’D.)

SB 388, relative to farm composting and pesticides. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT. Rep. Betty B. Hall for Environment and Agriculture: This bill allows for storage, use of and spreading of commercial fertilizer, lime, wood ash, sawdust, compost and animal manure. It also defines composting as an agricultural activity. Vote 14-1.

CLERK’S NOTE

Amendment (1876h), printed in House Calendar 34, was incorrect as it was not adopted by the committee. Since amendment (1876h) failed in committee, it is not proper procedure to address it as the committee amendment. Therefore, amendment (1966h), found in seat pockets, which was adopted by the committee was addressed.

Amendment (1966h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:
AN ACT relative to farm agricultural composting and pesticides.

Amend RSA 21:34-a, II(b)(7) as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(7) The production and storage of compost and the materials necessary to produce compost, whether such materials originate, in whole or in part, from operations of the farm. This shall not include sludge or biosolids.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill adds composting to the list of defined farm activities and designates compost as a farm product, but excludes sludge and biosolids in the production of compost.

This bill also specifies pesticides for inclusion in state management plans to protect groundwater from pesticide contamination.

Amendment adopted.

Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.
SB 354-FN, requiring security officers of the New Hampshire hospital security force to be fully certified as police officers and including such security officers in group II of the New Hampshire retirement system. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT.

Rep. Nelson S. Allan for Executive Departments and Administration: The New Hampshire Hospital security force is required to be fully certified as police officers by the police standards and training council. The security force will move to group II as they meet the certification requirements. The committee amended the bill to ensure no inadvertent harm would come to the security force during transition. The New Hampshire security force is currently under the Department of Safety. This went into effect in 2004 under the reorganization of various departments. Vote 16-2.

Amend the bill by replacing section 5 with the following:

5 Transitional Provisions. Any persons employed as security officers of the New Hampshire hospital security force on the date this act takes effect and who have not completed the training required by the police standards and training council for certification as full-time police officers shall be scheduled for training at the police academy at the earliest practical time without undue interruption to the security operations at the hospital. No person shall be entitled to join group II of the retirement system without successfully completing all the training and other requirements to be fully certified. Any person employed as a security officer of the security force on the date this act takes effect and who has not successfully completed all the training and requirements for full-time police certification shall be entitled to continue said employment or be transferred to a civilian position at a comparable labor grade at the hospital or the department of safety. All officers hired on or after July 1, 2006, if not already full-time certified, shall successfully complete the police academy within the time specified in RSA 188-F and the rules of the police standards and training council.

Amendment adopted.
On a division vote, 143 members having voted in the affirmative and 144 in the negative, the committee report failed.
Rep. Bergin yielded to questions.

LAID ON THE TABLE
Rep. Soltani moved that SB 354-FN, requiring security officers of the New Hampshire hospital security force to be fully certified as police officers and including such security officers in group II of the New Hampshire retirement system, be laid on the table.

On a division vote, 167 members having voted in the affirmative and 139 in the negative, the motion was adopted.

REGULAR CALENDAR (CONT’D.)

SB 405, relative to the acceptance of certain tax-sheltered funds by the Manchester employees’ contributory retirement system. OUGHT TO PASS.

Rep. Maurice L. Pilotte for Executive Departments and Administration: This bill allows the Manchester employees’ contributory retirement system to accept certain tax-sheltered funds for service buybacks by members. These must be trustee-to-trustee transfers of funds from retirement plans qualified under 401(k), 403(b), or 457 of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. The bill specifically prohibits service buyback if they would violate section 415(n) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. Portability of retirement contributions is essential in today’s work environment. Vote 17-0.

Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 242, prohibiting a person charged with unlawfully killing a decedent from taking from the decedent’s estate. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. Gregory M. Sorg for Judiciary: Although there is presently no statute specifically prohibiting a perpetrator of the intentional or otherwise unlawful killing of another from inheriting from the estate of his victim, the courts, guided by the Supreme Court’s 1963 ruling in Kelly v. State, 105 NH 240, have accomplished this result through their equity powers by charging the slayer as a constructive trustee of the property concerned, in those cases where it is found that he has been unjustly enriched by his wrongful act. The committee concluded that this method of addressing such cases has worked satisfactorily to bring about the social policy objectives of this bill. The committee also concluded that attempting to substitute a statute - no matter how carefully inclusive it may be - for the case-by-case flexibility of present practice, may cause unintended gaps or omissions in the law, and that, in the absence of any disagreement with the result the courts have reached in this area, no statutory remedy is necessary or advisable. Vote 12-5. Committee report adopted.

SB 287-FN, making certain changes to the eminent domain statute. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT.

Rep. Maureen C. Mooney for Judiciary: When an event such as the U.S. Supreme Court’s Kelo decision so threatened and undermined our long-standing, common understanding of what the government can and cannot do through the use of the eminent domain power, we must act to ensure that Kelo-like takings will not take place in New Hampshire. SB 287, as amended by the committee, will do 3 things: 1.) it will define “public use” for the first time in the statutes; 2.) it will replace the term “public purpose” with “public use” in numerous statutes; 3.) it will create a study committee to study topics relative to eminent domain. This bill alters close to 30 RSAs in order to accomplish these 3 objectives. The term “public use,” as found in Part I, Art.12 of the NH Constitution, has never been defined in the NH statutes before. Furthermore, the statutes have continually used the term public “purpose” and deviated from the constitutional term “use.” SB 287 makes clear to all New Hampshire citizens that their property may be taken by eminent domain only for genuine “public use” which is comprehensively defined in a way that both government and private citizens can understand. It restores the original and common understanding that private property cannot be taken by eminent domain for anything other than use for utilities, common carriers, or when the taking is necessary for the possession, occupation and enjoyment of the property by the general public or governmental entities (i.e., not for the private profit of private developers). SB 287 is also a balanced bill. It preserves the ability of public bodies to promote economic development without forcibly taking the property of private citizens for use by other private parties, and it also allows municipalities to use eminent domain to address abandoned structures beyond repair, and public nuisances if they pose a threat to the health and safety of the public at large. Lastly, SB 287 explicitly prohibits using eminent domain in the name of economic development, private commercial enterprise, increasing tax revenues and employment opportunities. Vote 16-0.

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT making certain changes to the eminent domain statute and establishing a committee to study eminent domain issues.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Paragraph; Definition Added; “Public Use.” Amend RSA 162-K:2 by inserting after paragraph IX the following new paragraph:

IX-a. “Public use” means:

(a)(1) The possession, occupation, and enjoyment of real property by the general public or governmental entities;

(2) The acquisition of any interest in real property necessary to the function of a public or private utility or common carrier either through deed of sale or lease;

(3) The acquisition of real property to remove structures beyond repair, public nuisances, structures unfit for human habitation or use, and abandoned property when such structures or property constitute a menace to the health and safety of the public at large; and

(4) Private use that occupies an incidental area within a public use; provided, that no real property shall be condemned solely for the purpose of facilitating such incidental private use.

(b) Except as provided in subparagraphs (a)(2) and (4) of this paragraph, public use shall not include the public benefits resulting from private economic development and private commercial enterprise, including increased tax revenues and increased employment opportunities.

2 Municipal Economic Development; Eminent Domain. Amend RSA 162-K:6, III(b) to read as follows:

(b) Acquire [hand] real property or easements through negotiation or through powers of eminent domain, except that property acquired through powers of eminent domain shall be put to public use, as defined in RSA 162-K:2, IX-a;

3 New Paragraph; Housing Authorities Law; Definition Added. Amend RSA 203:3 by inserting after paragraph XIII the following new paragraph:
XIV. "Public use" means:

(a)(1) The possession, occupation, and enjoyment of real property by the general public or governmental entities;

(2) The acquisition of any interest in real property necessary to the function of a public or private utility or common carrier either through deed of sale or lease;

(3) The acquisition of real property to remove slums, as defined in RSA 203:3, VIII, structures beyond repair, public nuisances, structures unfit for human habitation or use, and abandoned property when such structures or property constitute a menace to the health and safety of the public at large; and

(4) Private use that occupies an incidental area within a public use; provided, that no real property may be condemned solely for the purpose of facilitating such incidental private use.

(b) Except as provided in subparagraphs (a)(2) and (4) of this paragraph, public use shall not include the public benefits resulting from private economic development and private commercial enterprise, including increased tax revenues and increased employment opportunities.

4 New Paragraph; Housing Authorities Law; Eminent Domain. Amend RSA 203:12 by inserting after paragraph 1 the following new paragraph:

I-a. Property acquired through powers of eminent domain shall be put to public use, as defined in RSA 203:3, XIV.

5 Redevelopment Projects. Amend RSA 205:1 to read as follows:

205:1 Finding and Declaration of Necessity. It is hereby found and declared (a) that there exist in many communities within this state blighted areas [(as defined herein) or areas in the process of becoming blighted] for the reasons set forth in RSA 205:2-b; (b) that such areas impair economic values and tax revenues; that such areas cause an increase in and spread of disease and crime and constitute a menace to the health; and safety; morals and welfare of the residents of the state, that these conditions necessitate excessive and disproportionate expenditures of public funds for crime prevention and punishment, public health and safety, fire and accident protection, and other public services and facilities; (c) that the clearance, replanning and preparation for rebuilding of these areas, and the prevention or the reduction of blight and its causes, are public [uses and] purposes for which public money may be spent and private property acquired, consistent with this chapter, and are governmental functions of state concern; (d) that there are also certain areas where the condition of the title, the diverse ownership of the [land] real property to be assembled, the street or lot layouts, or other conditions prevent a proper development of the [land] real property, and that it is in the public interest that such areas, as well as blighted areas, be acquired by eminent domain, consistent with this chapter, and made available for sound and wholesome development in accordance with a redevelopment plan, and that the exercise of the power of eminent domain and the financing of the acquisition and preparation of [land] real property by a public agency for such redevelopment is likewise a public use justifying the use of the powers of eminent domain when exercised consistent with RSA 205:3-b and a public purpose for which public money may be expended and such other powers authorized; (e) that redevelopment activities will stimulate residential construction which is closely correlated with general economic activity; and that such undertakings authorized by this chapter will aid the production of better housing and more desirable neighborhoods and community development at lower costs and will make possible a more stable and larger volume of residential construction, which will assist materially in achieving and maintaining full employment; and (f) that it is in the public interest that advance preparation for such projects and activities be made now, and that the necessity in the public interest for the provisions hereinafter enacted is hereby declared as a matter of legislative determination.

6 Redevelopment Projects; Findings and Declaration of Necessity. Amend RSA 205:1-a to read as follows:

205:1-a Findings and Declaration of Necessity. It is hereby found and declared that (a) certain of the blighted areas [and the areas in the process of becoming blighted, or portions thereof] may, through the means provided herein, be susceptible of conservation or rehabilitation in such manner that the conditions [and evils] of blight may be eliminated, remedied or prevented and, to the extent feasible, the salvable blighted areas should be conserved and rehabilitated through voluntary action and the regulatory process, and (b) all powers conferred in this chapter are for public uses justifying the use of the powers of eminent domain when exercised consistent with RSA 205:3-b and public purposes for which public money may be expended and such other powers exercised, and the necessity in the public interest for these provisions is hereby declared as a matter of legislative determination.
7 Redevelopment Projects; Finding and Declaration of Necessity. Amend RSA 205:1-b to read as follows:

205:1-b Findings and Declaration of Necessity. It is hereby found and declared that there exist in many communities within this state areas of vacant or predominantly vacant [land] real property which are substandard or blighted [or in the process of becoming blighted] for the reasons set forth in RSA 205:2-b; that such areas constitute a serious and growing menace to the safety[,] and health[,] and the communities of the state; that such areas are not being used at all or are being used in an unplanned, haphazard and piecemeal manner; that such areas impair economic values, retard the provision of residential, commercial, industrial, institutional and recreational buildings and other improvements, impair the tax revenues in these communities and threaten the sources of public revenue and the financial stability of these communities, thus preventing the sound growth of these communities and the provision of new places of residence or employment for their citizens; that the development or redevelopment of such areas is necessary to improve economic values, return important tax revenues, and provide additional places of residence or employment; that the development or redevelopment of such areas cannot be achieved by the ordinary operations of private enterprise without the aids herein provided; that the development or redevelopment of such areas are public [uses and] purposes for which public monies may be expended and public uses for which the power of eminent domain and other governmental powers may be exercised, consistent with RSA 205:3-b; that the development or redevelopment of such areas in accordance with an approved redevelopment plan will stimulate the investment of private capital, the construction of residential, commercial, industrial, institutional and recreational buildings and the provision of new sources of employment and will eliminate and prevent the recurrence of the existing substandard and blighted and blighting conditions now existing in such areas; and the necessity in the public interest for these provisions is hereby declared as a matter of legislative determination.

8 Redevelopment Projects; Authority. Amend RSA 205:3 to read as follows:

205:3 Authority. In undertaking such redevelopment projects a housing authority shall have all the rights, powers, privileges and immunities that such authority has under the housing authorities law, RSA 203, and any other provision of law relating to slum clearance and housing projects for persons of low income (including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the power to make and execute contracts, to issue bonds and other obligations and give security therefor, to acquire real property by eminent domain or purchase, and to do any and all things necessary to carry out projects, except that the power to acquire real property by eminent domain shall be limited as set forth in RSA 205:3-a) in the same manner as though all the provisions of law applicable to slum clearance and housing projects were applicable to redevelopment projects undertaken under this chapter; provided that nothing contained in RSA 203:9 and 10 shall be construed as limiting the power of an authority, in the event of a default by a purchaser or lessee of land in a redevelopment plan, to acquire real property and operate it free from the restrictions contained in said sections.

9 New Sections; Redevelopment Projects; Authority to Take Real Property by Eminent Domain Limited. Amend RSA 205 by inserting after section 3 the following new sections:

205:3-a Authority to Take Real Property by Eminent Domain Limited. In undertaking redevelopment projects pursuant to this chapter, a housing authority shall have the power to take real property by eminent domain. The power of eminent domain shall be used only for the purpose of acquiring real property that will be put to public use, as defined in RSA 205:3-b.

205:3-b “Public Use” Defined. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, in this chapter, “public use” means:

I. (a) The possession, occupation, and enjoyment of real property by the general public or governmental entities;

(b) The acquisition of any interest in real property necessary to the function of a public or private utility or common carrier either through deed of sale or lease;

(c) The acquisition of real property to remove structures beyond repair, public nuisances, structures unfit for human habitation or use, and abandoned property when such structures or property constitute a menace to the health and safety of the public at large; and

(d) Private use that occupies an incidental area within a public use; provided, that no real property may be condemned solely for the purpose of facilitating such incidental private use.
II. Except as provided in subparagraphs I(b) and (d) of this paragraph, public use shall not include the public benefits resulting from private economic development and private commercial enterprise, including increased tax revenues and increased employment opportunities.

10 Eminent Domain Procedure Act; Intent of Chapter. Amend RSA 498-A:1 to read as follows: 498-A:1 Intent of Chapter.

I. It is the intent by the enactment of this chapter to provide a complete and exclusive procedure to govern all condemnations of property for public purposes including the review of necessity, public [purposes] uses, and net-public benefit, and the assessment of damages therefor. It is not intended to enlarge or diminish the power of condemnation given by law to any condemnor and it is not intended to enlarge or diminish the rights given by law to any condemnor to challenge the necessity, public [purposes] uses, and net-public benefit for any condemnation.

II. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, no person’s private real property shall be taken pursuant to this chapter unless that real property is to be put to public use, as defined in RSA 498-A:2, VII.

11 New Paragraph; Definition Added; Public Use. Amend RSA 498-A:2 by inserting after paragraph VI the following new paragraph:

I. If a condemnor files a preliminary objection under RSA 498-A:9-a, I(c) concerning necessity, public [purposes] use, or net-public benefit, the board shall transfer that preliminary objection to the superior court of the county in which the property is located. There shall be no filing fee for such transfer.

15 New Section; Eminent Domain Procedure Act; Attorneys Fees. Amend RSA 498-A by inserting after section 26-a the following new section:

The board shall also hear appeals from the department of administrative services relating to such matters involving public works design and construction as have been delegated to the department of administrative services or as were administered prior to July 1, 2005 by the division of public works, department of transportation.

17 Change of Term; “Public Purpose” to “Public Use.” Amend RSA 71-B:5, III to read as follows:

III. To hear and determine all matters relating to the condemnation of property for public [purposes] uses and the assessment of damages therefor as provided in RSA 498-A.

18 Change of Term; “Public Purpose” to “Public Use.” Amend RSA 228:56 to read as follows:

228:56 Acquisition and Necessity. Notwithstanding any provisions of the law to the contrary, the commissioner, as sole agent for the state, and with the approval of the governor and council, is authorized to acquire, by purchase or condemnation, or otherwise, such portion or portions of the rail property of any railroad corporation, including such tracks and ties, rights-of-way, land, buildings, appurtenances and other facilities necessary and required for the operation of railroads, as well as any other property found by the commissioner to be necessary for the operation of a railroad or other transportation purposes, including recreational trails. The authority to acquire such rail properties shall extend to rail properties within, as well as those not within, the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and includes rail properties within the purview of the Regional Rail Reorganization Act of 1973, and any amendments thereto or other pertinent federal legislation. The acquisition of such rail properties and other property by the commissioner shall be for the purpose of the continued and future operation of a railroad or transportation corridor, including recreational trails, which is deemed to be in the public interest and which shall include the authority to sell or lease said properties. The acquisition of such rail properties and other property is declared to be a public [purpose] use and to be reasonably necessary. This action may be taken in concert with another state or states as necessary to insure continued rail service and to insure continuous corridors, including recreational trails.

19 Change of Term; “Public Purpose” to “Public Use.” Amend RSA 228:57 to read as follows:

228:57 Sale or Lease; Purpose. The commissioner as sole agent for the state, with the approval of the governor and council, is authorized to sell, transfer or lease all or any part of the rail properties, and other property acquired under the provisions of this subdivision, to any responsible person, firm or corporation, for continued operation of a railroad, or other public [purpose] use, provided, if necessary, approval for such continued operation, or other public [purpose] use, is granted by the interstate commerce commission of the United States whenever such approval is required. Such sale, transfer or lease shall be for such price, and subject to said further terms and conditions, as in the opinion of the commissioner are necessary and appropriate to effectuate the purposes of this subdivision.

20 Change of Term; “Public Purpose” to “Public Use.” Amend RSA 228:59 to read as follows:

228:59 Condemnation. If the commissioner is unable to acquire the rail properties of any railroad, or any part thereof, by purchase or otherwise, he or she may proceed to condemn all or any such portion of such property. In all such condemnation proceedings, the legislative determination herein made that the acquisition is for a public [purpose] use and is reasonably necessary shall be prima facie evidence thereof. The procedure for any necessary condemnation proceedings shall be as set forth in RSA 498-A.

21 Change of Term; “Public Purpose” to “Public Use.” Amend RSA 228:67 to read as follows:

228:67 Disposition of Acquired or Abandoned Rail Properties. Whenever the commissioner determines that certain acquired or abandoned rail properties owned by the state pursuant to RSA 228:60-a, II; 228:60-a, VI; 228:60-b; or any other means are no longer needed, the commissioner may transfer or sell such rail properties to any other state department or agency, or political subdivision of the state, which will utilize such properties for public [purposes] uses and, if no state department or agency, or political subdivision, wants such properties, the commissioner may sell them, in accordance with RSA 4:40 with the proceeds from the sale deposited into the special fund established in RSA 228:68. Such transfer or sale shall require approval of the long range capital planning and utilization committee and the governor and council.

22 Change of Term; “Public Purpose” to “Public Use.” Amend RSA 230:13, I to read as follows:

I. The governor, with advice of the council, may determine upon hearing whether there is occasion for the laying out or alteration of a class I or class II highway or a highway within the state included in the national system of interstate highways as proposed by the commissioner of transportation, and, if so, shall appoint a commission of 3 persons who may purchase land or other property that is reasonably necessary for the construction, reconstruction, or alteration and who shall lay out the remainder of such highway or alteration. Any such land or property which cannot be acquired by agreement with the owner or owners thereof may be acquired in accordance with RSA 498-A and all issues that are appealed relating to necessity, public [purpose] use, and net public benefit shall be determined in accordance with RSA 230:19. Property rights acquired under the provisions of this section shall be in fee simple or in the form of easements, including property acquired by condemnation proceedings.

23 Change of Term; “Public Purpose” to “Public Use.” Amend RSA 230:14, I to read as follows:

I. The governor, with advice of the council, may appoint a commission of 3 persons who, upon hearing, shall determine whether there is occasion for the laying out or alteration of a class I or class II highway or a highway within the state included in the national system of interstate highways as proposed by the commissioner of transportation and if so, the commission may purchase land or other property that is reasonably necessary for the construction, reconstruction, or alteration and shall lay out the remainder of such highway or alteration. Any such land or property which cannot be acquired by agreement with the owner or owners thereof may be acquired in accordance with RSA 498-A and all issues that are appealed relating to necessity, public [purpose] use, and net public benefit shall be determined in accordance with RSA 230:19. Property rights acquired under the provisions of this section shall be in fee simple or in the form of easements, including property acquired by condemnation proceedings.

24 Change of Term; “Public Purpose” to “Public Use.” Amend RSA 498-A:1 to read as follows:

498-A:1 Intent of Chapter. It is the intent by the enactment of this chapter to provide a complete and exclusive procedure to govern all condemnations of property for public [purposes] uses including the review of necessity, public [purposes] uses, and net-public benefit, and the assessment of damages therefor. It is not intended to enlarge or diminish the power of condemnation given by law to any condemnor and it is not intended to enlarge or diminish the rights given by law to any condemnee to challenge the necessity, public [purposes] uses, and net-public benefit for any condemnation.

25 Change of Term; “Public Purpose” to “Public Use.” Amend RSA 498-A:2, II-III to read as follows:

I. “Condemn” means to take public and private property by authority of law for a public [purpose] use;

II. “Condemnee” means the owner of record of property taken or to be taken, including tenants for life or years, remaindermen, reversioners, and holders of undischarged mortgages of record whose mortgages are dated not earlier than 20 years prior to the date of the filing of declaration of taking, municipalities with respect to unpaid taxes, fees and interest for which the municipality has been granted a lien or other interest in the property under the provisions of RSA 80, and guardians ad litem appointed pursuant to the provisions of this chapter. This definition does not include judgment creditors or other lien holders;

III. “Condemnor” means the entity, including the state of New Hampshire, taking property of another under authority of law for a public [purpose] use;

26 Change of Term; “Public Purpose” to “Public Use.” Amend RSA 498-A:9-a, I(c) to read as follows:

(c) The necessity, public [purposes] uses, and net-public benefit of the taking.

27 Change of Term; “Public Purpose” to “Public Use.” Amend RSA 498-A:9-b, I to read as follows:

I. If a condemnee files a preliminary objection under RSA 498-A:9-a, I(c) concerning necessity, public [purpose] use, or net-public benefit, the board shall transfer that preliminary objection to the superior court of the county in which the property is located. There shall be no filing fee for such transfer.

28 Committee Established. There is established a committee to study eminent domain in New Hampshire and issues related to eminent domain.

29 Membership and Compensation.

I. The members of the committee shall be as follows:

(a) Three members of the house of representatives, appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives.

(b) Three members of the senate, appointed by the president of the senate.

II. Members of the committee shall receive mileage at the legislative rate when attending to the duties of the committee.
30 Duties. The committee shall specifically study:
I. What the criteria should be to establish the proper balance between the probable benefit of an economic development project to a community through the eminent domain process, and the probable harm to the concept of the sanctity of private property?
II. Do state statutes relating to eminent domain need to be consolidated, specifically those contained in RSA 203 and RSA 205?
III. Should we consider the award of enhanced compensation; that is, payment in excess of fair market value, for property taken by eminent domain?
IV. Should the terms “public good” and “incidental area within a public use,” which have increasingly appeared in feasibility studies and court decisions in which the exercise of the power of eminent domain has been considered, be precisely defined by statute?
V. Should the term “blighted,” and derivative and related terms, be explicitly defined by statute in the context of eminent domain when dealing with so-called “urban renewal” and “redevelopment” projects? Should the proposed RSA 498-A:2 language “the acquisition of land to cure a concrete harmful effect of its present use, including the removal of public nuisances or structures that are beyond repair or that are unfit for human habitation or use; or the acquisition of abandoned property” be included when defining “blight”? Should, and if so, how should appraisals and other similar measures be used to determine “blight”?
VI. Does the limited scope of our proposed definition of public use in any way unduly burden communities in greatest need of economic development?
VII. Should a displacing agency pay “replacement costs” to businesses displaced by eminent domain? If so, should the payment consist of an amount equal to the replacement cost of the business?
VIII. Whether natural gas pipelines fall within the category of a public or private utility or common carrier for the purposes of defining public use.
IX. Other issues pertinent to eminent domain in New Hampshire.
31 Chairperson; Quorum. The members of the study committee shall elect a chairperson from among the members. The first meeting of the committee shall be called by the first-named house member. The first meeting of the committee shall be held within 45 days of the effective date of this section. Four members of the committee shall constitute a quorum.
32 Report. The committee shall report its findings and any recommendations for proposed legislation to the speaker of the house of representatives, the president of the senate, the house clerk, the senate clerk, the governor, and the state library on or before November 30, 2007.
33 Effective Date.
I. Sections 28-33 of this act shall take effect upon its passage.
II. The remainder of this act shall take effect January 1, 2007.

AMENDED ANALYSIS
This bill defines the term “public use” for purposes of taking by eminent domain.
This bill also establishes a committee to study issues relative to eminent domain in New Hampshire. Amendment adopted.
Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

MOTION TO SPECIAL ORDER
Rep. Infantine moved that SB 267, relative to the definition of employee and clarifying the criteria for exempting workers from employee status, be made a Special Order for Thursday, May 4, 2006 and spoke in favor.
On a division vote, 119 members having voted in the affirmative and 179 in the negative, the motion failed.

REGULAR CALENDAR (CONT’D.)
SB 267, relative to the definition of employee and clarifying the criteria for exempting workers from employee status. REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY.
Rep. Mary J. Gorman for Labor, Industrial and Rehabilitative Services: The majority of the committee feels interim study would grant further examination of the state’s definition of “independent contractor.” Some factors to be determined include the necessity for the amendment’s voluntary form, the choice of criteria from F – K, and the minimum wage law: definition of employee changed. Vote 12-2.
Committee report adopted.
SB 190-1, establishing a committee to study including workforce housing in zoning ordinances.

MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT. MINORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. Harry S. Gale for the Majority of Municipal and County Government: This bill, as amended by the Senate, directed a study committee to look at enabling a municipality who has adopted a master plan to adopt a mandatory inclusionary zoning provision in the housing section, that included workforce housing and set a percentage for the amount that had to be included in any given residential development. The majority of the committee feels that there may be a shortage of affordable housing in our state. Many misconceptions, misunderstandings, questions and concerns were raised, discussed and debated about the issue of affordable housing versus workforce housing. The majority agreed to amend the bill to promote a wide-ranging study designed to collect the ingredients of the affordable housing needs, including the collection of empirical data and other information, designed to support appropriate legislation, intended to result in wide-spread recognition of affordable housing problems and needs, as well as, possible solutions, including public/private partnerships. Vote 9-6.

Rep. David L. Buhlman for the Minority of Municipal and County Government: This study committee is not needed. To encourage the construction of affordable housing, municipalities now have the authority to revise their zoning to, for example, reduce required minimum lot sizes and reduce the level of impact fees. To supplement these already available tools, one of the 424 legislators could simply introduce a bill, next session that provides municipalities development options similar to that allowed in other states, such as 40b housing in Massachusetts.

Majority Amendment (1710h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT establishing a committee to study affordable housing in New Hampshire.

Amend paragraphs I-III of section 1 of the bill by replacing them with the following:

I. There is established a committee to study affordable housing in New Hampshire.

II. Membership and Compensation.

(a) The members of the committee shall be as follows:

(1) Three members of the senate, appointed by the president of the senate.

(2) Three members of the house of representatives, including one member of the municipal and county government committee, appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives.

(b) Members of the committee shall receive mileage at the legislative rate when attending to the duties of the committee.

III. Duties. The committee shall study adequate affordable housing in New Hampshire and other states, including the use of public and private partnerships. The committee’s objectives shall include, but not be limited to, recommending options to municipalities and the state for increasing the supply of affordable housing. These options may include recommendations that are in a community’s master plan and are related to zoning and planning ordinances and state incentives, such as tax credits to businesses and developers.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes a committee to study affordable housing in New Hampshire. On a division vote, 176 members having voted in the affirmative and 124 in the negative, the majority committee amendment was adopted.

The question now being adoption of the committee report.

Rep. Gale spoke in favor.

Rep. Mirski spoke against and yielded to questions.

Rep. Gale requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

Ordered to third reading.
SB 319, establishing a task force to study county government. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT. MINORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISlate.

Rep. Laurie J. Boyle for the Majority of Municipal and County Government: This is a county task force bill that will undertake a broad study of the current functions of county government; investigate if county functions can be more efficiently accomplished; propose law changes, if necessary; propose changes to the method of selecting county delegates, the standardization of reporting budget procedures and any other issues relating to uniformity in reporting county operations. The amendment increases the membership of the task force to include ten house members appointed by the chair of each delegation, so that there will be adequate members to tackle this monumental task. Another part of the amendment includes the departments of county government, not just current functions. And the last part of the amendment requires that the task force hold at least one public forum in each county for the purpose of gathering information. The majority of the committee feels that this broad study will enlighten all the residents of the state about the current functions of county government. Vote 13-2.

Rep. David L. Buhlman for the Minority of Municipal and County Government: County government is working fine, at least as well as state government, so this study committee is not needed. If there were glaring problems with county government, then at least one of the 424 legislators should be able to submit legislation that directly addresses the perceived problems without spending more time on yet another study committee on this subject.

Majority Amendment (1782h)

Amend paragraph I of section 2 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

I. The members of the task force shall be as follows:

(a) Two members of the senate, appointed by the president of the senate.
(b) Four members of the house of representatives, appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives.
(c) Ten members of the house of representatives, each representing a different county, appointed by the chairpersons of the respective county delegations.
(d) Two county commissioners, appointed by the New Hampshire Association of Counties.
(e) One mayor of a city and one selectmen of a town, appointed by the New Hampshire Municipal Association.
(f) One sheriff, appointed by the New Hampshire Sheriff’s Association.
(g) The commissioner of the department of revenue administration, or designee.
(h) The commissioner of the department of health and human services, or designee.
(i) The commissioner of the department of corrections, or designee.
(j) Two public members, appointed by the governor.

Amend paragraph I of section 3 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

I. Undertake a broad study of the current functions and departments of county government in New Hampshire, including but not limited to a determination of the total cost of operating county government functions, and shall also examine possible new functions of county government.

Amend the bill by replacing section 5 with the following:

5 Chairperson; Meetings; Public Forums. The members of the task force shall elect a chairperson from among the members. The first meeting of the task force shall be called by the first-named senate member. The first meeting of the task force shall be held within 45 days of the effective date of this section. The task force shall hold at least one public forum in each county for the purpose of gathering information relevant to the study.

Majority committee amendment adopted.

Rep. Patten offered floor amendment (2026h).

Floor Amendment (2026h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT establishing a task force to study county government, and relative to prohibiting filing with the registry of deeds a document that includes an individual’s social security number or financial information.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 6 with the following:

7 New Sections; Registers of Deeds; Social Security Numbers and Financial Information. Amend RSA 478 by inserting after section 4-a the following new sections:
478:4-b Records; Social Security Numbers and Financial Information.

I. The preparer of a document shall not include an individual’s social security number, credit card number, or deposit account numbers in a document that is prepared and presented for recording in the office of the register of deeds. This paragraph shall not apply to state or federal tax liens, certified copies of death certificates, and other documents required by law to contain such information that are filed or recorded in the office of the register of deeds. For the purpose of this section, “preparer” shall mean the person who drafts the documents that are recorded with the register of deeds. Preparer shall not include any person who hires, requires, refers, pays, or requests that the documents be drafted or recorded.

II. If a deed or instrument that includes an individual’s social security number, credit card number, or deposit account numbers, was filed with the register of deeds and is available on the Internet, the individual may request that the register of deeds redact such information from the Internet record. The register of deeds shall establish a procedure by which individuals may request that such information be redacted from its files which are available on the Internet. Upon request, the information shall be redacted.

III. The register of deeds shall comply with an individual’s request to redact his or her social security number, credit card number, or deposit account numbers within 5 business days of the receipt of the request, or sooner, if ordered to do so by a court, for good cause shown.

478:4-c Violation; Enforcement. An individual aggrieved by a violation of RSA 478:4-b, I may bring against the preparer:

I. An action to enjoin such violation.

II. An action to recover actual monetary loss from such a violation, or to receive up to $1,000 in damages for each such violation, whichever is greater.

III. Both such actions.

8 Effective Date.

I. Section 7 of this act shall take effect March 1, 2007.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes a task force to study county government. The bill also prohibits, with certain limited exceptions, a person from filing with the registry of deeds a document that includes an individual’s social security number or financial information.

Rep. Patten spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Floor amendment (2026h) adopted.

Majority committee report as amended adopted.

Ordered to third reading.

Rep. Soltani declared a conflict of interest and did not participate.

SB 386, relative to large groundwater withdrawals. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT. MINORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. Judith T. Spang for the Majority of Resources, Recreation and Development: This bill provides an important building block in New Hampshire’s developing groundwater policy. The bill does not change the criteria by which the Department of Environmental Services (DES) will decide on groundwater permits. Rather, it places those procedures in statute that are now just in rules. The bill also improves the process by providing a more efficient path for having concerns reviewed and adjudicated. Vote 13-4.

Rep. Richard T. Cooney for the Minority of Resources, Recreation and Development: Part of our property rights is the right to reasonable use of the groundwater under our property. Reasonable use means the use does not negatively impact any other use of the groundwater. If our use exceeds 57,600 gallons per day, we need a large groundwater permit from the Department of Environmental Services (DES). This permitting process ensures that we not negatively impact other users, or wetlands, ponds, lakes, or any other water resource. In the permitting process, provision is also made for new adjacent users to be accommodated. In addition, the withdrawal can be reduced or eliminated if DES determines that circumstances such as drought conditions require changes. The permit is only for a 10-year period. Some individuals are opposed to these withdrawals when they are made by someone who they feel should not have this right or by someone who is going to use the water for a purpose they do not like. This bill gives these individuals more avenues to drag out the permitting process to an extent, which makes it so onerous, lengthy, and expensive that the right of the property owner is effectively eliminated. This is wrong! In addition, there are three study committees and commissions presently active which plan to provide a comprehensive water management plan for New Hampshire. We should wait for their report. The minority feels that this bill is bad legislation and should be inexpedient.

Majority Amendment (1919h)

Amend the introductory paragraph of RSA 485-C:21,V-c and RSA 485-C:21, V-c, (a)-(d) as inserted by section 5 by replacing them with the following:

V-c. In order to preserve the public trust, no large groundwater withdrawal shall cause an unmitigated impact as determined by the following:

(a) Reducing the withdrawal capacity of a private water supply well of a single residence as a result of the reduction of available water that is directly associated with the withdrawal as determined by the following:

(1) Any reduction in capacity for wells with a capacity less than water well board recommended optimum minimum flow capacity of 4 gallons per minute for 4 hours before the withdrawal;

(2) Any reduction in capacity below 4 gallons per minute for 4 hours, for wells that had a capacity greater than 4 gallons per minute for 4 hours, before the withdrawal; or

(3) A reduction in capacity where the well still has a capacity between 4 gallons and 10 gallons per minute for 4 hours and the user provides information indicating that the reduction in flow has resulted in the inability to meet their water needs;

(b) Reducing the capacity of a public, drinking water supply below the minimum withdrawal rates required per consumer determined by the following:

(1) Minimum daily amounts of drinking water shall be determined per use based on the design flow criteria established for public water supply systems established in rules adopted by the department; or

(2) Where it is verified that such wells were unable to produce the design flow before the withdrawal began, the adverse impact shall be any reduction in the ability to produce water;

(c) Reducing the capacity of a water supply that is used for multiple unit dwelling residence, but that is not a public water supply, that results in the inability to continue established activities or maintain existing water capacity requirements;

(d) Reducing the capacity of a private, non-residential, non-drinking water supply that results in the inability of a commercial, industrial, agricultural, or retail facility to continue established services or production volumes;

Amend RSA 485-C:21,VI(b) as inserted by section 5 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(b) Any party shall have the right to appeal from the decision of the water council to the superior court of the county in which the large groundwater withdrawal is to be made to determine the validity and the reasonableness of the department's action on the permit. The appeal shall be filed within 60 days after the decision of the water council. The appeal shall suspend the decision of the department pending the outcome of a preliminary hearing. The appeal, so far as practicable, shall have precedence over other actions in the same court.

SB 271, relative to the availability of voter checklist information. Inexpedient to Legislate.
Rep. Claudia A. Chase for Election Law: The language of this bill is now covered in an amendment to HB 1238, adopted by the Senate. The committee, by unanimous vote, will recommend that the House concur with the amendment which required that mailing addresses be subject to the Right to Know Law, and therefore, the language of this bill is redundant. Vote 14-0.
Rep. Whalley spoke in favor and yielded to questions.
Committee report adopted.

SB 250, relative to lead paint poisoning prevention. Ought to Pass.
Rep. James F. Powers for Environment and Agriculture: This bill supports the important health task of reducing sources of lead poisoning. It provides some significant improvements to the Health and Human Services Department’s process of enforcing their orders to reduce lead hazards in occupied rental dwellings. It specifies that an order issued by the Commissioner to reduce lead hazard is binding upon any new owner. Under present law, sale or transfer of the property means the whole process has to be started again from the beginning. In addition, the bill provides that either the Attorney General or the Commissioner may bring a civil action in Superior Court to enforce the Commissioner’s orders. At present, this can only be done by the Attorney General’s Office using legal sources currently available in the Health and Human Department. This process will accelerate removal of the hazardous material. Vote 15-0.
Rep. Babson offered floor amendment (2060h).

Floor Amendment (2060h)
Amend RSA 130-A:7, V as inserted by section 4 of the bill by replacing it with the following:
V. Interim controls, as defined in this chapter, may be used as an acceptable alternative to lead hazard abatement only with the prior written approval of the commissioner and for a period not to exceed 2 years. Within that 2-year period the person subject to the order shall either take the steps necessary to eliminate or contain the lead exposure hazards or remove the dwelling or dwelling unit from the rental market.
Rep. Mirski spoke in favor and yielded to questions.
Floor amendment (2060h) adopted.
Committee report as amended adopted.
Ordered to third reading.

SB 24, relative to disposition upon death of patient accounts in nursing homes. Ought to Pass.
Rep. Gregory M. Sorg for Judiciary: There is presently uncertainty among nursing homes as to how small amounts of money in patient accounts and other items of personal property of small value left in the home by deceased patients, particularly Medicaid patients, are to be handled. This bill establishes a simple, inexpensive and uniform procedure for dealing with such personal property in cases where its value does not exceed $2,500.00 and no probate proceedings on the patient’s estate have been filed within 180 days of the patient’s death. It requires in such cases that the nursing home administrator file with the probate court for the county in which the nursing home is located, the patient’s will, if any, and an affidavit, on a standard form to be prescribed by the probate court, attesting to the patient’s death. The court will then see to the proper administration of the patient’s estate and disposition of this property in accordance with the probate code. Vote 18-2.
Rep. Soltani offered floor amendment (1950h)

Amend RSA 151-A:15, I as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:
I. If [30] within 180 days after the date of a testate or intestate patient’s death in any nursing home no petition for probate has [yet] been filed under any section of RSA 553 and the gross value of the personal property remaining at the nursing home belonging to the deceased, including any amount left in a patient account, is no more than $2,500, the nursing home administrator [may] shall file in the probate court in the county where the death certificate of the decedent identifies as the residence of the decedent an affidavit for the purpose of disposing of such deceased patient’s estate. The form of the affidavit, and the rules governing proceedings under this section, shall be provided by the probate court pursuant to RSA 547:33 and RSA 548:8. The nursing home administrator shall not file a death certificate with the probate court, but shall attest to the death in the affidavit. If the nursing home patient died testate and if the nursing home administrator has the will or a copy of the will, the nursing home administrator shall file the will in the probate court in the county where the death certificate of the decedent identifies as the residence of the decedent. The probate court shall waive all filing fees.

SB 103-FN-A-L, establishing a committee to study alternatives for funding the operation and maintenance of state-owned dams and making an appropriation to the state dam maintenance fund.

OUIGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT.

Rep. Judith T. Spang for Resources, Recreation and Development: This bill, as amended, would address a serious problem that the legislature has been unable to solve to date. The fund that pays for maintenance of state-owned dams is inadequate, and a funding mechanism has yet to be enacted. An ongoing source must be found by this commission. In the meantime, this bill would appropriate funds for maintaining the most critical dams. The amendment also calls for a management plan of the new Berlin park, as previously endorsed by the House. Vote 15-1.

Amendment (1882h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT establishing a committee to study alternatives for funding the operation and maintenance of state-owned dams and making an appropriation to the state dam maintenance fund and requiring the department of resources and economic development to submit a management and financial plan to the general court and the public prior to the opening of the Berlin regional ATV park.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 5 with the following:

6 Appropation. The sum of $1,000,000 is hereby appropriated to the department of environmental services dam maintenance fund, established under RSA 482:55, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2007. This sum is in addition to any other funds appropriated to the department of environmental services. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

The plan shall include, but not be limited to:

(a) Existing land uses, including acreage, park boundaries, trails, facilities, recreational areas, and natural areas.
(b) Proposed park land uses, including extent and location of trails by user type, facilities for visitors and park management, non-trail recreational resources, natural areas and their management, and buffer areas.

c) Proposed improvements and estimated phasing schedule, including improvements to be made prior to opening of the park.

d) Provisions for enforcement of OHRV regulations and for emergency response, including memoranda of understanding with state agencies, municipalities, and other groups.

II. In accordance with RSA 215-A:41, II(f), the plan shall be presented at a public hearing advertised in a newspaper of statewide circulation. Prior to this hearing, the plan shall be presented to appropriate legislative committees and to the governor.

III. An annual report shall be presented to the speaker of the house of representatives, the senate president, the house resources, recreation and development committee, the senate environment and wildlife committee, and the governor by January 15 of each year. The report shall include:

(a) Development completed within the park.
(b) Projected development for the coming year.
(c) A financial report on revenues and expenditures for the past year and projections for the next 5 years.
(d) The number of visitors and report of enforcement and emergency activity in the park.
(e) Marketing of the park.

8 Effective Date.
I. Section 6 of this act shall take effect July 1, 2006.

SB 314-FN-L, establishing minimum renewable standards for energy portfolios. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. Roy D. Maxfield for Science, Technology and Energy: The bill establishes standards requiring the use of renewable energy resources by providers of electricity for sale to retail customers in New Hampshire. Our current energy policy supports the voluntary production and retail use of renewable energy. Several states have adopted mandatory renewable energy standards for renewable generation through energy certificates. The money to provide incentives for renewable generation was removed by the Senate. The majority of the committee was not comfortable with cost/benefit models or various classes of renewable energy as they apply to New Hampshire. The committee voted to ITL the bill and defer to HB 1146 that would study these issues before making recommendations. Vote 13-3.

Committee report adopted.
SB 341, extending by one year the advisory-only period for OBD II testing. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT.

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to the applicability of OBD II testing requirements.

3 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

REMARKS

Rep. Bicknell: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, thank you, very much. Ladies and Gentlemen, I just want to stand here before you now and see if I can get through this. I want to say goodbye to you. I stand before you now with a sense of great trepidation and, I might add, a lot of emotion. This is because as of Thursday noon, the 27th of April of this year, I will be resigning my seat from the House of the people’s General Court.

As I stand here now, I recall that first day, some four years ago. I sat where you are now sitting. Then as the Speaker introduced our chaplain, we stood and the chaplain proceeded to ask Almighty God to watch over our deliberations and to grant us the wisdom of Solomon to do what was right for the citizens of New Hampshire. As we stood erect with our hands above our heart, we saluted our flag and I was filled with pride as the beautiful voice of Lisa Itse sang “The National Anthem.” I had tears in my eyes then and a large lump in my throat when it was over, just as I did this morning as I listened to the voice of the young vocalist singing our national anthem. Those same emotions have come over me each and every day that the Speaker has called the House to order over these past four years.

Those feelings, those emotions, all had a beginning back in the year of 1953 when I stood before a young lieutenant in Manchester, New Hampshire as I swore allegiance to the Constitution of the United States of America for the very first time as I was inducted into the armed forces. My friends and colleagues, I remember those moments well and will always. Just as I will remember the handshakes and the hugs and occasional kiss on the cheek from you today.

I stand here now for the last time in the well of this great chamber. I will be leaving New Hampshire to pursue a new path in the journey called life with my advisor, my partner, and my wife, Cindy. We are leaving New Hampshire to live in Arizona and to start a new life or a new adventure, if you will, called retirement. Some of you here have already done that. I have and I’m going to try again in Arizona.
I had always resisted jumping into this political thing, thinking I was not cut out for it. I had always felt I was too outspoken and I’m sure some of you still feel that way. I was too set in my way of thinking. I was too opinionated to ever be able to compromise. In fact, as you all know, “politics is the art of compromise,” but to me compromising always meant losing. However, you, each and every one of you, have taught me the true meaning of compromise.

Throughout my two terms in the House and the various committees that I have been honored to serve on, I have been given many pieces of advice from many of you on both sides of the aisle. You have taught me no one really loses in a compromise. It is usually a win-win situation. You have taught me also, that no one person has all the answers.

Members, such as Chairman Welch, have advised me over the years that “half a loaf is better than no loaf at all.” Others, such as Representative Tholl, Rep. Stevens, have shown me that the first question that a committee member should ask, at least to himself or herself is, “What problem does this bill fix or is it, in fact, adding to the problem that we already have?” In other words, as my Honorable colleague, Representative Bill Knowles would say, “If it ain’t broke, don’t fix it.”

In other words, you, see, members of this august body with patience, determination, and I might add, with some tenacity on your part, you have taught me if one wants a bill to be ITL’d or passed, that a team effort is needed. You have shown me that when we learn to compromise to get that half a loaf rather than risk losing it all, it makes us a better legislator and in turn it makes for a better New Hampshire. Now this is true, this art of compromising, until it comes to one’s integrity. That, ladies and gentlemen, should never be compromised.

During my tenure here, I have become friends with many of you, and that’s what’s going to be so darn hard leaving this hall. I don’t care whether you are Republican, Democrat, Libertarian, Socialist, Conservative, whatever one calls you, whatever you call yourself. Some I don’t know as well as others and that is my personal loss. But I have found that for the most part, the common thread that binds us all in this body is to give our constituents the best that we can. We are not really that far apart in a lot of things. And I’ve got to be honest with you, some things we’re worlds apart. But you know we can come closer than even we realize at this time.

I would like now, as a conservative, a person who is a great believer in our constitutions, to impart a piece of advice back to the members of the House, if I may, Mr. Speaker. I would hope that these words do not offend anyone in this House, but rather give counsel to the members of this great chamber.

I have over the years seen a rift growing between the Executive Branch, the General Court and the Judicial Branch of our government. Let me use the words of one of our Founding Fathers, Thomas Jefferson, when he said, in part: “My construction of the Constitution is that each department is truly independent of the others, and has an equal right to decide for itself what is the meaning of the Constitution in the cases submitted to its action, and especially, where it is to act ultimately and without appeal.” And on another matter, a matter that is dear to me as my own life, I quote from a gentlemen by the name of L. Neil Smith. He advises us, and I’m quoting, “People who object to weapons aren’t abolishing violence, they’re begging for rule by brute force, where the biggest, strongest animals among men were always automatically ‘right.’ Guns ended that, and social democracy is a hollow farce without an armed populace to make it work.” Or in closing, the words of Richard Henry Lee, and I quote again, “To preserve liberty it is essential that the whole body of people always possess arms.” These are some of the words that I would leave with all the members of the New Hampshire General Court to consider. Mr. Speaker, I now end this part of my experiment in life’s journey, as I ask the members of this honorable House to keep this in mind: that good law under a free government should be the desire of us all as you continue to work to keep New Hampshire the freest of all states.

Mr. Speaker, I now bid you all a fond and a grateful farewell. I have learned a lot. You have taught an old dog some new tricks, I know that wherever I go, I shall think back on the memories and friendships that have bonded me to this great chamber and its members. I will miss you all. May God Bless you.

HOUSE JOURNAL No. 16
Thursday, May 4, 2006

The House assembled at 10:00 a.m., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the Speaker.

His Excellency, Governor John H. Lynch, joined the Speaker on the rostrum for the day’s opening ceremonies.

Prayer was offered by House Chaplain, Reverend Jared Rardin, Pastor of the South Congregational Church in Concord.

It’s so easy these days, O God, to become overwhelmed. We labor under the daily burden of heavy headlines and global hardships. The world can be a cynical place, sometimes vitriolic place, for us as much as for those we serve. Help us remember that You have afforded us the opportunity and the power to counteract the negative influences of our day. You have given us the power to bless, to uplift and to set in order that which would otherwise be chaos.

As we deliberate today, on issues ranging from R and D credits to school voucher plans, instill in us not only the power to bless those we serve, but the desire. May our work today be a blessing to all those whom we are privileged to represent from all walks and stations of life, whatever they may be. Heal and uplift any in this legislative body who may be ill or in some kind of distress today. All this we pray in Your Holy Name. Amen.

Reps. Kathleen and Katherine Taylor, members from Dover, led the Pledge of Allegiance.

COMMUNICATION

Honorable W. Douglas Scamman
Speaker of the House

It is with deep regret that I ask the New Hampshire House to accept my resignation effective noon, Thursday, 27 April, 2006.
I have been honored to serve my constituents in this great and dignified House of the people. It has been my honor to be part of some very significant bills that were before us during my four years of service. Some bills made it into law, some did not, but in all cases I believe the people of this state were well represented. I will take with me all that I have learned from my fellow legislators and hope to use it in my new home in Arizona.

Thank you for your leadership and may this House continue in its fight for the betterment of New Hampshire.

Elbert I. Bicknell
Rockingham County, District 1

The Speaker accepted the resignation, with regret.

Rep. O’Neil moved that the Consent Calendar with the relevant amendments as printed in the day’s House Record be adopted.

SB 304, relative to provider payments negotiated by the commissioner of the department of health and human services. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. Mary Jane Wallner for Finance: The committee did not feel the bill was needed at this time. The Department of Health and Human Services has not paid provider rates higher than negotiated and has not created a waiting list in order to lapse funds. Vote 15-0.

SB 374-FN, relative to the state children’s health insurance program. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT.

Rep. Neal M. Kurk for Finance: This bill, as passed by the House, requires the Department of Health and Human Services to expend the funds appropriated for the state children’s health insurance program for that purpose and not to transfer or expend the funds on any other program. The committee amendment clarifies that commitment, adding that (1) for fiscal year 2007, savings from elsewhere in the department and non-lapping funds previously dedicated to S-CHIP must be used to provide coverage in the event that the number of children in the Silver Program and the cost of their coverage exceeds budget estimates, and (2) for fiscal year 2006, up to $100,000 of excess premiums that would normally be returned to the department may be retained by Healthy Kids Corporation, which administers the S-CHIP program, to offset a portion of the cost of higher-than-budgeted numbers of children who were insured for that year. The amendment also makes Healthy Kids the sole source provider of children’s insurance for the rest of the biennium. Vote 19-0.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Purpose. The purpose of this act is to ensure the best and highest utilization of the state children’s health insurance program resources for the benefit of the children of New Hampshire. It is the intent of the general court that every eligible child be given the opportunity to fully utilize the benefits of this program in order to promote the health and well being of our youngest citizens.

2 Department of Health and Human Services; Healthy Kids Silver Program; Fiscal Committee Approval Required for Expenditures Above Budgeted Amounts. Amend 2005, 117:119 to read as follows:

177:119 Department of Health and Human Services; Healthy Kids Silver Program; Cap. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, for the biennium [beginning July 1, 2005 and continuing thereafter] ending June 30, 2007, the department of health and human services shall not increase expenditures in approved budgets for the Healthy Kids Silver Program without prior approval [and additional appropriations from] of the fiscal committee of the general court. If expenditures for the Healthy Kids Silver Program will exceed the department’s current appropriation for the Healthy Kids Silver Program, the commissioner shall recommend that savings found elsewhere in the department be used to offset the amount of any such deficit. The commissioner shall submit to the fiscal committee of the general court and to the finance committees of the house and the senate any such proposed changes, which shall be subject to the prior approval of the fiscal committee of the general court.

3 Healthy Kids Corporation; State Children’s Health Insurance Program; Appropriation. Notwithstanding any other law, the entire amount appropriated in PAU 05-01-02-01-05, class 91, for the biennium ending June 30, 2007 shall be expended for program and administrative costs of the Healthy Kids Silver program. All premiums accrued and collected from families shall be applied to the program costs. This appropriation shall not be transferred or used for any other purpose and shall not lapse.

4 New Paragraph; State Children’s Health Insurance Program. Amend RSA 126-A:5 by inserting after paragraph XIII the following new paragraph:

XIV. (a) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, beginning July 1, 2007, the commissioner shall implement the state children’s health insurance program through a contract, which shall be renewed biennially. The commissioner shall have the authority to adopt rules, pursuant to RSA 541-A, to the extent necessary to facilitate the purposes of this paragraph.
(b) The contract shall include the following information, which the commissioner shall submit to the legislature by March 1 of each odd-numbered year for inclusion in the state's biennial operating budget:

(1) The per-member per-month rate for the health and dental insurance to be paid according to the contract; and
(2) Any other costs associated with the contract that will impact the state operating budget.

(c) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the commissioner, in consultation with the commissioner of administrative services, may implement a self-insured health plan for children who receive health insurance coverage under the state children's health insurance program.

5 Healthy Kids Corporation. Notwithstanding RSA 126-A:5, XIV, as inserted by section 4 of this act, or any other provision of law to the contrary, the commissioner shall use the healthy kids corporation as the sole source provider of administrative and outreach services for the state children's health insurance program and premium billing and collection services for the Medicaid for Employed Adults with Disabilities (MEAD) program until July 1, 2007. As part of the premium reconciliation process, the commissioner may allow the healthy kids corporation to retain up to the sum of $100,000 for fiscal year 2006.

6 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:
I. Requires fiscal committee approval for expenditures above budgeted amounts for the Health Kids Silver Program.
II. Requires the department of health and human services to implement the state children's health insurance program through a contract.
III. Requires use of the healthy kids corporation as the sole provider of administrative and outreach services for the state children's health insurance program and premium billing and collection services for the Medicaid for Employed Adults with Disabilities program until July 1, 2007.

SB 200-FN, establishing the uniform athlete agents act. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT.
Rep. Susan W. Almy for Ways and Means: This bill registers and regulates agents for student athletes. The committee amendment reduces the registration fees to a level amount, approximating the cost of the activity to the state, in order not to deter agents from coming in to New Hampshire. The $25,000 maximum fine for misbehavior stays in place. The effective date is updated to January 1, 2007. Vote 15-0.

Amendment (1977h)
Amend RSA 332-J:8 as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

332-J:8 Fees. An application for registration or renewal of registration shall be accompanied by a fee payable to the secretary of state in the following amount:
I. $100 for an initial application for registration.
II. $100 for an application for registration based upon a certificate of registration or licensure issued by another state.
III. $50 for an application for renewal of registration.
IV. $50 for an application for renewal of registration based upon an application for renewal of registration or licensure submitted in another state.

Amend the bill by replacing section 2 with the following:

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect January 1, 2007.

SB 225-FN-A, relative to horse and dog racing. OUGHT TO PASS.
Rep. John M. Pratt for Ways and Means: Under current law, dog and horse tracks are required to operate live races at their tracks for 100 racing days in a calendar year in order to be able to sell pari-mutuel pools on races held at other tracks (i.e. simulcast racing). This bill reduces that number of live racing days to a minimum of 50 calendar days in a calendar year, in order to allow the tracks to continue simulcasting. Vote 16-0.

SB 295-FN, relative to registration of business entities. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT.
Rep. Priscilla P. Lockwood for Ways and Means: This is a second committee bill, originally in the Commerce Committee that makes a variety of changes to laws relating to the registration and dissolution of certain business entities and raises certain fees making them consistent with other fees. This bill was at the request of the Secretary of State. Vote 18-0.
Amend RSA 304-C:81, I(d) as inserted by section 14 of the bill by replacing it with the following:
(d) Upon receipt for filing of an annual report under RSA 304-C:80, a fee in the amount of $100; for failure or refusal to file an annual report or pay the filing fee on or before April 1 of any year, an additional late filing fee in the amount of [50 per month] $50; and upon receipt for filing of an application for reinstatement pursuant to RSA 304-C:54, a fee of $135; and upon receipt for filing of an application for late reinstatement pursuant to RSA 304-C:54-a, a fee of $500.

SB 363-FN-A-L, prohibiting the department of revenue administration from collecting any communications services tax that is not permissible under federal law; and establishing a commission to study and determine the effect of ceasing the collection of Internet-related communications services tax. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT.

Rep. Susan W. Almy for Ways and Means: Congress is working on how much of our state communication services tax it will forbid, because the communication it taxes is done over the Internet. A major piece of our revenues depend on this tax. Although the federal situation changes frequently, there is a federal deadline in the fall of 2007, so we will need to submit and pass legislation to recognize and mitigate the loss next year. It is likely to require further monitoring after 2007. The committee amendment turns the Senate study committee into an on-going commission with Public Utilities Commission, Revenue Administration, and gubernatorial representation, sunsets this in 5 years, and strips out a remnant of the original bill, which the Commissioner of Revenue Administration and the original sponsor agreed is no longer necessary. Vote 18-0.

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:
AN ACT establishing an oversight commission to study and determine the effect of ceasing the collection of Internet-related communications services tax.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:
1 New Section; Communications Services Tax; Oversight Commission. Amend RSA 82-A by inserting after section 16-a the following new section:
82-A:16-b Oversight Commission.
I. There is established an oversight commission to study and determine the effect of ceasing the collection of Internet-related communications services taxes as required by the Internet Tax Nondiscrimination Act, Public Law 108-435.
II.(a) The members of the oversight commission shall be as follows:
(1) Two members of the senate, appointed by the president of the senate.
(2) Three members of the house, 2 of whom shall be from the ways and means committee and one of whom shall be from the science, technology and energy committee, appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives.
(3) Two representatives of the governor, who shall serve 2-year terms, appointed by the governor.
(4) The commissioner of revenue administration, or designee.
(5) One representative of the public utilities commission, appointed by the chairman of the public utilities commission.
(b) Legislative members of the oversight commission shall receive mileage at the legislative rate when attending to the duties of the oversight commission. The terms of legislative members of the commission shall be coterminous with their terms of office.
III. The oversight commission shall:
(a) Study and determine the effect of ceasing the collection of Internet-related communications services taxes as required by the Internet Tax Nondiscrimination Act, Public Law 108-435.
(b) Monitor and study the activities of the Judiciary Committee of the United States House of Representatives in reference to Public Law 108-435.
(c) Any other matters deemed relevant by the commission.
IV. The members of the oversight commission shall elect a chairperson from among the members. The first meeting of the oversight commission shall be called by the first-named senate member. The first meeting of the oversight commission shall be held within 45 days of the effective date of this section. Five members of the oversight commission shall constitute a quorum.
V. The oversight commission shall report its findings and any recommendations for proposed legislation to the president of the senate, the speaker of the house of representatives, the senate clerk, the house clerk, the governor, and the state library annually on or before November 1.
2 Repeal. RSA 82-A:16-b, relative to an oversight commission, is repealed.
3 Effective Date.
   I. Section 2 of this act shall take effect November 1, 2011.
   II. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes an oversight commission to study and determine the effect of ceasing the collection of Internet-related communications services tax.

SB 384-FN-A-L, establishing a temporary one-time exemption from the real estate transfer tax for certain transfer of family farm or open space land. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.
Rep. Kevin L. Camm for Ways and Means: This bill would establish a one time transfer of “current use” real estate into an LLC or other entity without paying the real estate transfer tax. Large landowners testified in favor of this proposal so that they may protect their personal assets in the event of a lawsuit that results from an injury sustained upon their property. While the committee acknowledges that the state benefits tremendously from public use of private lands as well as the current use program, we felt this measure would not afford the protection envisioned by the sponsors and landowners. The Attorney General’s office testified that immunity already exists to landowners that open their property to the public. There is also additional state coverage for designated snowmobile trails on private property. No testimony was received that described any evidence of a bona-fide problem with the current system. The majority of the committee felt that any landowner who wants to transfer their “current use” property to an LLC or other entity to protect other family assets, should do so at the same expense as anyone else. Hopefully, a policy change will be developed to expand our system of immunity for all landowners and make a proposal such as this unnecessary. Vote 20-1.

SB 397-FN-A, establishing a temporary energy tax credit against the business enterprise tax. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.
Rep. Kevin L. Camm for Ways and Means: This bill would establish an energy tax credit against the business profits tax. This credit would be up to $500 per business and would cost the state approximately $18,000,000. The sponsor testified that the purpose of the bill was to return some of the surplus back to the entities that paid it. While we commend the initiative, we now know the surplus is minimal and shrinking daily. The sponsor agreed and suggested that we use this bill to evaluate a possible reduction in the business taxes. We rejected that for the same reasons. The committee determined that the best avenue for that endeavor would be a new bill in the next session. Vote 19-0.

REGULAR CALENDAR

SB 22, authorizing Holden College to confer degrees and exempting certain teachers from additional certification requirements imposed by the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001. MAJORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE. MINORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT.
Rep. Timothy E. Easson for the Majority of Education: The sponsor asked that this bill be defeated. There were some proposed non-germane amendments that were given hearings, but they were all defeated by the committee. Thus, we are left with the original bill the sponsor wished to be defeated. Vote 11-2.
Rep. Emma L. Rous for the Minority of Education: By supporting the minority amendment the New Hampshire House sends a message to Washington that No Child Left Behind is an unfunded mandate that violates the Tenth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution by assuming powers that belong to the states. While NCLB’s goal of raising achievement is admirable and New Hampshire has done an excellent job of implementing the program, it is the duty of state legislatures to press for reforms in an educationally and constitutionally flawed program before it comes up for reauthorization in 2007. Reps. Rous and Kurk spoke against.

1 On a division vote, 156 members having voted in the affirmative, and 171 in the negative, the majority committee report failed.
2 Rep. Kurk moved Ought to Pass and offered floor amendment (2176h).
Floor Amendment (2176h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:
AN ACT relative to the election of teachers and relative to certain teacher certification requirements.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

I. Statement of Purpose. The legislature supports the goals and objectives of the federal No Child Left Behind Act and supports continued dialogue to improve the Act for reauthorization in 2007 but finds that:

I. The Act currently provides insufficient flexibility for the state to improve its students academic achievement as required by the Act.

II. The Act mandates services and programs that, under its terms, should be funded by the federal government but the federal government has not provided the full measure of such funding.

III. The Act mandates a costly sequence of intervention services without fully providing for corresponding federal funding.

IV. The Act mandates participation by placing punitive financial consequences on states refusing to participate, in violation of the Tenth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States, diverts funds from existing programs, and fails to fund the program at the level promised and required.

V. Any waivers granted by the Secretary of the United States Department of Education with respect to the provisions of the Act should be uniform, transparent, deliberate, and prompt, such that any exceptions to federal rules granted to one state should be available equally to all states where similar circumstances exist.

2 Teachers; Election and Exemption. RSA 189:39 is repealed and reenacted to read as follows: 189:39 Election and Exemption. Superintendents shall nominate and school boards shall elect all teachers employed in schools in their school administrative unit, providing such teachers hold a valid educational credential issued by the state board of education.

3 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill redesignates the provision on how teachers are chosen.
Reps. Kurk and Rous spoke in favor.
Reps. Carter, Stiles and Lary spoke against.

LAID ON THE TABLE

Rep. O’Neil moved that SB 22, authorizing Holden College to confer degrees and exempting certain teachers from additional certification requirements imposed by the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001, be laid on the table.

REGULAR CALENDAR (CONT’D.)

SB 262, establishing the position of an administrator of women offenders and family services within the department of corrections, and establishing an interagency coordinating council on women offenders, and making an appropriation therefor. OUGHT TO PASS.

Rep. Robert L. Wheeler for Finance: The committee recognized the value of the policy to establish the position of an administrator of women offenders and family services. Since this policy had received favor from both the Senate and the House and since the appropriation will be covered by departmental transfer, and no additional dollars will be required, the committee supports the bill wholeheartedly. Vote 19-0.

Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 306-FN-A, establishing a quality early learning opportunity initiative and making an appropriation therefor. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT.

Rep. Kenneth H. Gould for Finance: With the amendment, this bill appropriates just $1. We are endorsing and keeping alive efforts to support low-income parents with their childcare and early learning expenses. It is hoped that a better appropriation will come later. The House and Senate both recognize the importance of quality early learning initiatives. Vote 16-3.

Amendment (1871h)

Amend the bill by replacing section 3 with the following:

3 Appropriation. The sum of $1 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2007 is hereby appropriated to the department of health and human services for the purposes of section 2 of this act. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated. Amendment adopted.

The question now being adoption of the committee report.

Reps. Newton and Ward spoke against.

Rep. Mirski requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

SB 308-FN-A, making an appropriation for school building aid. OUGHT TO PASS.
Rep. Linda T. Foster for Finance: Unfortunately, the consequences of SB 38 that changed the eligibility requirements for certain school districts and increased school budget aid by approximately $1,000,000, were not included in the current budget. The committee believes that the state should honor its commitment and not shift the cash flow burden. Vote 17-3.
Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

Rep. Hughes spoke against and yielded to questions.
Rep. Ingram spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

 SB 339, changing certain job titles and responsibilities in the department of transportation. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT.

Rep. Kenneth L. Weyler for Finance: The original bill involved adding new positions to the Department of Transportation (DOT) and the Department of Revenue Administration (DRA). Those sections were removed so that the established classification system could be employed first. The remaining section dealt with the hiring of financial consultants by DOT. The committee was convinced that with the oldest automation system in the state, the DOT financial system needed an overhaul. If we create new positions they will not be in place to help us with the next budget. Consultants can be put to work more expeditiously. The committee amendment removed restricting the consultants to three, and also capped the expenditure at the end of this biennium. Vote 17-0.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Department of Transportation; Consultants. The department of transportation may hire financial consultants, who shall be paid from highway funds already appropriated to the department but not otherwise expended, a total amount not to exceed $210,000. The consultants shall work with the department on such matters as may be recommended by the commissioner of the department of transportation, or the commissioner’s designee.

2 Repeal. Section 1 of this act, relative to consultants hired by the department of transportation, is repealed.

3 Effective Date.
   I. Section 2 of this act shall take effect on July 1, 2007.
   II. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill permits the department of transportation to hire consultants and to pay them from the highway fund.

Amendment adopted.
Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

The House recessed at 11:55 a.m.
The House reconvened at 1:35 p.m.

REGULAR CALENDAR (CONT’D.)

SB 367-FN, imposing a penalty on Medicaid providers who receive overpayments of state Medicaid funds. INEXPEDITED TO LEGISLATE.
Rep. Sharon L. Nordgren for Finance: This bill was first considered by the Senate Health and Human Services Committee and they recommended an ITL motion. It was overturned on the Senate floor, and then sent to Senate Finance where it was amended. The bill was amended again on the floor of the Senate and passed. The bill was then sent to House Ways and Means and vacated to the Finance Committee. The Department of Health and Human Services was unaware of the final amendment in the Senate and in fact would have preferred their own amendment. It was decided by the Finance Committee that the issue should be further refined and addressed in the next session. Vote 14-1.
Committee report adopted.

SB 373-FN-A, relative to a public health response to arbovirus. INEXPEDITED TO LEGISLATE.
Rep. Neal M. Kurk for Finance: This bill largely duplicates the mosquito control program contained in HB 1464, which the House already passed and is, therefore, unnecessary. Should the Senate feel that specific elements of this bill are essential, they can be raised in a committee of conference on HB 1464. Vote 13-2.
Committee report adopted.

SB 387, relative to energy efficiency loans and guarantees by the business finance authority. OUGHT TO PASS.
Rep. Bernard L. Benn for Finance: This bill authorizes the Business Finance Authority (BFA) to guarantee loans to business and agricultural entities for projects that improve energy efficiency. The agency currently has this authority, but this bill makes the legislative intent to foster energy savings explicit. Vote 17-0.
Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SPECIAL ORDER
Rep. Kurk moved that SB 399-FN, relative to the powers of state government in the event of an incident or outbreak of communicable disease, be made a Special Order to the end of today’s calendar. On a division vote, 223 members having voted in the affirmative and 79 in the negative, the motion was adopted.

WITHOUT OBJECTION
Without objection, the Chair ordered SB 364-FN-A, relative to funding of the fish and game search and rescue fund and making an appropriation therefor, to be taken out of calendar order.

SPECIAL ORDER
SB 364-FN-A, relative to funding of the fish and game search and rescue fund and making an appropriation therefor. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT.
Rep. Frederick W. King for Finance: The committee supports general funds for the search and rescue activities of the Fish and Game Department. The committee is concerned about the availability of funding in Fiscal Year 2006. Vote 16-2.

Amendment (1658h)
Amend RSA 206:42, II as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

II. The state treasurer shall deposit annually from the general fund into the special search and rescue fund an amount equal to the moneys collected pursuant to paragraph I during any fiscal year up to and including a total of $1 annually. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for such amount out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

14 Rate Increase; Federal Funds. The department of health and human services shall provide a one-time one percent increase in rates paid to certain health and human services providers in fiscal year 2006 who do not receive the increase contained in section 13 of this act, but only to the extent the increase can be funded entirely from federal funds.

The amounts appropriated in this section shall be distributed by the commissioner at his or her discretion. The commissioner may distribute these funds to providers who also receive the rate increase provided for in section 13 of this act. The commissioner shall seek to distribute funds in a manner which shall provide the highest level of relief to providers most affected by the increased cost of utilities, heating, and mileage, and shall report to the fiscal committee of the general court within 60 days of the effective date of this act on the distribution of said funds. Floor Amendment (2198h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to funding of the fish and game search and rescue fund and making an appropriation therefor; repealing an appropriation for the fuel assistance program; making appropriations to certain departments for anticipated energy shortfalls; and authorizing the fish and game department to acquire property rights to Big Brook Bog Dam in Pittsburg.

Amend the bill by inserting after section 15 the following and renumbering the original section 16 to read as 17:

16 New Paragraph; Property Rights Acquisition Authorized. Amend RSA 482:48 by inserting after paragraph V the following new paragraph:

VI. For a consideration of $1, the fish and game department is authorized to accept conveyance from the property owners of all water and property rights necessary to repair, maintain, and operate Big Brook Bog Dam in the town of Pittsburg, known as number 194.14, for the purpose of improving and controlling the water rights for the benefit of the state. The property rights the fish and game department is authorized to acquire for the benefit of the state shall be exempt from taxation as long as the properties are held by the state. The rights to be acquired shall include the right to maintain Big Brook Bog Dam in its historic configuration as it existed prior to February 1, 2003, or any other configuration beneficial to the state. The fish and game department may transfer rights in Big Brook Bog Dam under RSA 482:51 to the department for purposes of repair and maintenance.

The bill also makes certain supplemental appropriations to certain departments for anticipated energy expense shortfalls in state-owned buildings, and to the department of health and human services for reimbursing certain health care providers for the increased cost of utilities, heating, and mileage.

HB 1273, relative to the disposition and retention of municipal records and legalizing the September 13, 2005 special meeting of the town of Brookline. (Amendment printed SJ 05/04/06)
Rep. Patten moved that the House concur and spoke in favor.
Adopted.

REGULAR CALENDAR (CONT’D.)

SB 400-FN, relative to highway welcome signs. OUGHT TO PASS.

Rep. Kenneth L. Weyler for Finance: The state motto of “Live Free or Die” has important historical roots. It is easily understood and popularly accepted. This bill would add it to our welcome signs. This bill came to the Finance Committee due to an expenditure to add the state motto to the highway signs at our state-line points of entry. There are 11 large signs and 36 small ones where a new piece will be added. The Department of Transportation (DOT) sign crew has stated that fabrication and installation will take two years when incorporated into the present work schedule. Recently a donor came forward to offer to pay for the approximately $5,800 per year for this project. This would mean no additional cost to the state. Vote 11-6.

Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 238, relative to assistance to members of the general court provided by the legislative budget assistant. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. Betsy McKinney for Legislative Administration: The majority of the committee felt this bill is unnecessary. There has been no problem in the past for members and seems to stem from a one-time problem in the Senate. The majority of the members felt the Senate problem would not recur and the potential of abuse by some members of the House or Senate overrides the need to insure that the Legislative Budget Assistant “may” respond to a member’s request. Vote 5-4.

Rep. Vaillancourt spoke against.

On a division vote, 169 members having voted in the affirmative and 132 in the negative, the committee report was adopted.

SB 232-FN-A, making a capital appropriation to the department of health and human services for a dental facility in the town of Tamworth. REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY.

Rep. Thomas L. Bucu for Public Works and Highways: This bill attempts to address a dire need for oral health care for low to moderate income people in the northern three counties of the state. The bill authorizes a capital appropriation and authorizes the state to issue bonds in the amount of $400,000 to equip a dental clinic in the Town of Tamworth under the umbrella of the Tri-County Community Action Program. An amendment was proposed that attempted to address some of the questions as to who would operate the clinic, who would be treated and in what priority. The committee still had many questions and the amendment was defeated. The committee believes that a better course of action is to refer the bill to interim study to give us time to resolve the many unanswered questions. Vote 14-0.

Committee report adopted.

SB 107-FN, relative to the tax on tobacco products other than cigarettes. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. Peyton B. Hinkle for Ways and Means: This bill would tax loose tobacco products (smokeless tobacco) at the rate of 48 cents per ounce rather than the present tax of 19 percent of the wholesale price. There were a number of reservations shared by the majority of the committee. While the change in tax method might result in an increase in revenue for now, this might not last since these products have shown a ten year history of price increases keeping pace with inflation. Thus, a percentage tax on the price would generate increased revenues in the future. Seventy percent of the market consists of premium products that sell for a higher price and generate more revenue under a percentage tax method. Going to a weight-based tax would increase the tax on the low-end products, resulting in more of a tax burden for people of modest means. Going to a weight-based tax would also create more work for the wholesaler, who would have to calculate the tax due for each of the many different weight based products, rather than a simple tax on sales dollars. It would be especially burdensome for wholesalers who also serve surrounding states, which are all on a percentage basis. They would have to have two separate accounting methods. Forty two other states tax these products the way we presently do. The Department of Revenue Administration (DRA) indicated the bill would have an indeterminable impact on revenues. Some members concluded, if it ain’t broke, don’t fix it. Vote 11-7.

Committee report adopted.

SB 131-FN, establishing a school choice certificate program. MAJORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE. MINORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT.

Rep. Christine C. Hamm for the Majority of Ways and Means: Calling it “a recipe for chaos,” the commissioner of the Department of Revenue Administration testified that this bill, with tax credits granted within different fiscal periods on a first-come, first-served basis, would be impossible to administer. In questioning, the committee learned that the bill would cost the state even more than the proposed $1 million/biennium in business tax credits and that the bill guaranteed that once students get vouchers, they can continue to receive them annually until they graduate or reach age 21. A further inconsistency is that while the bill would make the state financially responsible for the staff required to administer the program, it does not fund that expense. Given these shortcomings, an amendment was offered which attempted to strip the bill of its fiscal responsibilities. This was defeated by a bipartisan majority for any one of a number of reasons: 1) that the amendment, in fact, failed to relieve the state of responsibility for funding the administrative staff, 2) that it continued the state’s responsibility to reimburse expenses for the legislative members of the board, 3) that the state could be liable for legal challenges to Article 28A and other constitutional issues, 4) that the Senate could reinstate the funding in a committee of conference, 5) that it expanded government by broadening its reach into an area which even the prime sponsor agreed could be achieved through private endowment or contributions, and 6) that by stripping the tax credits from this bill, the remaining shell is a state-sponsored structure open to state funding for school voucher programs, including non-public programs, a practice which the House has consistently rejected, most recently on March 9. Vote 11-10.

Rep. Shawn N. Jasper for the Minority of Ways and Means: The policy contained in the bill was passed by the House. The bill was sent to Ways and Means to deal with the issue of the tax credits. The bill also contained a two dollar appropriation for the biennium, which at the request of the Finance Committee, the amendment would remove. The tax credit contained within the original bill would have been impossible to administer by the Department of Revenue and is also removed in the amendment. The minority believes that the majority overstepped its authority by recommending the killing of the policy contained within the bill. With the amendment, the bill contains no state financial support, but does provide a vehicle to accept funding for school choice. While it is true that any group of people could come together to form a non-profit corporation such as the one we propose, this amendment assures that it will become a reality and we believe by having its members appointed by the Speaker of the House, the Senate President and the Governor, it will have far more credibility than a corporation formed by a self-appointed group of individuals.

Reps. Jasper and Hunt spoke against.
Reps. Vaillancourt, Parker, Shaw and Hamm spoke in favor.
Rep. W. Packy Campbell requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

SB 376-FN-A, relative to revenues dedicated to the education trust fund. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT.

Rep. Shawn N. Jasper for Ways and Means: The bill, as introduced, would have essentially taken all of the monies which are now earmarked to go into the Education Trust Fund and directed them into the General Fund. Then only the lottery revenue (about $75 million per year) would have gone into the trust fund. In this biennium the monies which went into the trust fully funded our commitment to education funding. There was a real problem with estimating how much money actually goes into the trust from the Business Enterprise Tax (BET) and the Business Profit Tax (BPT) each month. The exact amount deposited each month into the trust from the other revenue sources is predictable. The total amount of the trust is not known until the final business taxes are filed in October, after the fiscal year is closed. The amendment fixes this accounting problem by using historical average percentage of the combined business taxes. The percentage is calculated by using the combined audited amount in prior years that is sent to the trust fund. This fixes a major problem of predicting the current amount that is actually deposited into the trust fund in real time without removing any of the various revenues that presently go into the fund. The committee feels that it is appropriate to continue to fund the trust at the same level as in the past. Vote 15-3.

Amendment (1791h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following: AN ACT relative to business tax revenues dedicated to the education trust fund.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Business Profits Tax; Distribution. RSA 77-A:20-a is repealed and reenacted to read as follows: 77-A:20-a Distribution of Funds. Thirty eight percent of the combined revenues produced by the business profits tax under this chapter and the business enterprise tax under RSA 77-E shall be deposited in the education trust fund established under RSA 198:39.

2 Business Enterprise Tax; Distribution of Funds. RSA 77-E:14 is repealed and reenacted to read as follows: 77-E:14 Distribution of Funds. Thirty eight percent of the combined revenues produced by the business enterprise tax under this chapter and the business profits tax under RSA 77-A shall be deposited in the education trust fund established under RSA 198:39.

3 Effective Date. This act shall take effect July 1, 2006.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill changes the amount of business tax revenues which are required to be deposited in the education trust fund. Amendment adopted.

Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 380-FN-A, establishing a research and development credit against business taxes. MAJORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE. MINORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT. Rep. Benjamin E. Parker for the Majority of Ways and Means: This bill provides for up to $1,000,000 in annual tax credits against the business profits or enterprise tax for qualified manufacturing research and development expenditures. The majority of the committee recommends inexpedient to legislate because: (1) the business tax climate in New Hampshire is already among the best in the country, (2) New Hampshire’s unemployment rate is below 3.6 percent and is among the lowest in the country, (3) the economic drivers behind the type of manufacturing jobs New Hampshire is losing are well beyond the remedies proposed by this bill and (4) while states have used R&D tax credits to draw a specific company, these tax credits have not been shown generally to create significantly more jobs or business activity in the states that have adopted them. The committee majority believes that New Hampshire tax policy should be forward-looking and focus on promoting innovation and not on competing for contract manufacturing jobs of commoditized products. To this end, the General Court in 2003 approved increasing the net operating loss carry forward from $250,000 to $1,000,000 and extending the carry forward period from five years to ten years. Rather than credits, this NOL provision better serves start-up research and development companies who typically do not earn a profit for several years. Further, states that have R&D credits typically have either or both a sales tax and income tax. Eight of the nine states without an income tax do not offer R&D credits. While businesses have never met a tax credit they didn’t like, New Hampshire has adopted a policy of a simple business tax structure where taxes are the same for all businesses. Our prior experience with the R&D credit proved unsuccessful and was terminated. Proponents of this bill could not show that lost manufacturing jobs could have been saved as a result of an R&D tax credit. Most of the lost manufacturing jobs were for the assembly of high-tech products that today are treated like any other commodity and go to the area with the lowest wage cost. It’s unlikely that any tax credit will be able to cover this wage cost differential. The committee majority believes that the foundations of New Hampshire’s economy are changing and that the state’s increasing business prosperity, job growth and low unemployment confirm that current tax policy is favorable to business and the development of new products and ideas. In contrast to statements about high-tech job loss, it is reported by AEA that for 2004 the most recent year data is available, New Hampshire added 2,400 high tech jobs. The state’s 6.8 percent increase in high-tech jobs was the highest percentage increase in the nation. Indeed, testimony received this past summer by the Ad-Hoc Committee on Business Tax Credits from executives of start-up companies confirmed that research and development companies chose New Hampshire because of its favorable business climate and tax policies. The committee majority believes the R&D tax credit would be an unwarranted loss of revenue. Vote 15-4.

Rep. Peyton B. Hinkle for the Minority of Ways and Means: This bill is for pro-economic development, job growth and family income. New Hampshire has lost about 30,000 good-paying manufacturing jobs so far in this decade. The state once led the nation in the concentration of high-tech jobs, but has now slipped to tenth place. R&D and manufacturing are inextricably linked together — one supports the other. The purpose of this bill is to preserve whatever R&D is left in the state and protects against further outsourcing to countries like India and China, as well as attracts new start-up and other high-tech companies. It provides DRED, which supports the bill, with another tool for promoting New Hampshire as a desirable place to locate businesses. It allows a tax credit equal to 15 percent of qualified R&D expenditures as defined in the U.S. Internal Revenue code. It protects overall business tax revenues by further limiting the credit to 5 percent of a company’s total business tax. It is further capped at $1,000,000 per year for all taxpayers. An amendment, which was available but not considered by the committee, would have phased in the credit over a three year period, thus providing the ability to control the exposure of business tax revenues while monitoring the ability of the legislation to hold and/or attract R&D business. The bill was given high priority support by the Business & Industry Association and the N. H. High Tech Council. Forty other states offer some form of R&D credit. This bill provides the germ of a new vision for New Hampshire as a state with an emerging broad-based high-tech sector.

Reps. Hinkle and Crane spoke against and yielded to questions.

Reps. Parker, Pratt and Major spoke in favor.

Rep. Hinkle requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

HOUSE ADDRESS 1

REPORT OF THE JOINT COMMITTEE ON ADDRESS FOR THE REMOVAL OF SUPERIOR COURT JUSTICE KENNETH R. MCHugh

HA 1, an address for the removal of Kenneth R. McHugh, superior court justice, from office.
OUGHT NOT TO PASS.

Rep. Cynthia J. Dokmo for the Joint Committee on Address: This address sought the removal of Superior Court Justice Kenneth McHugh for a 1999 decision he issued dismissing a petition seeking to invalidate a 1989 divorce decree. The cause for removal alleged that Justice McHugh violated his oath of office, as well as the United States and New Hampshire constitutions, by refusing to honor a 1998 order issued by a Connecticut court invalidating the 1966 divorce of the private proponent of this address, James MacFarlane. Mr. MacFarlane argued to Justice McHugh that his New Hampshire divorce from his second wife was therefore invalid because he was not legally divorced from his first wife when he married and subsequently divorced his second wife. After hearing from the sponsor, Mr. MacFarlane, members of the public, and Justice McHugh, the committee learned that Mr. MacFarlane had unsuccessfully appealed the issues presented in the address to the New Hampshire Supreme Court, Connecticut courts, and federal courts, as well as to the New Hampshire Judicial Conduct Committee. The committee also learned that Mr. MacFarlane had not informed the Connecticut courts of either his subsequent marriage or divorce or of the New Hampshire litigation that had occurred nearly ten years earlier regarding his second marriage. Despite the confusing factual background involved in the underlying matter, the committee came to the inescapable conclusion that Mr. MacFarlane had obtained the Connecticut order, without disclosing important facts to that court, solely to recover the monetary judgment awarded to his second wife by New Hampshire courts nearly ten years earlier. The committee strongly believed that these circumstances did not warrant a bill of address and concluded that the address failed to state a reasonable basis for removal, even if the factual bases stated in the address were accurate. While the committee understands the sponsor’s concern for judicial accountability, it firmly believed that the serious nature of an address should not be used as a means by which aggrieved litigants can express their disagreement or dissatisfaction with a single ruling in an isolated case, particularly where significant legal and factual questions exist as to the validity of the litigant’s claims. The committee also believed that legislative sponsors should attempt to verify and corroborate the claims of a private proponent of an address to ensure that this serious procedure is not subject to abuse by litigious and recalcitrant individuals. Based on its review of the factual and legal history of the matter before Justice McHugh, the committee found no basis for his removal and unanimously voted not to recommend the bill of address.

The committee has voted unanimously not to recommend the address for the removal of Superior Court Justice Kenneth R. McHugh. Part II, Article 73 of the New Hampshire Constitution provides:

The tenure that all commissioned officers shall have by law in their offices shall be expressed in their respective commissions, and all judicial officers duly appointed, commissioned and sworn, shall hold their offices during good behavior except those for whom a different provision is made in this constitution. The governor with consent of the council may remove any commissioned officer for reasonable cause upon the address of both houses of the legislature, provided nevertheless that the cause for removal shall be stated fully and substantially in the address and shall not be a cause which is a sufficient ground for impeachment, and provided further that no officer shall be so removed unless he shall have had an opportunity to be heard in his defense by a joint committee of both houses of the legislature.

The committee does not believe that HA 1 meets the criteria established in the constitution. The conduct described by the 4 items listed in HA 1 does not rise to the level of conduct that requires removal and, therefore, the members do not believe that HA 1 states a reasonable cause for removal.

The committee began by examining Part II, Article 73 with the understanding that the provision was included in our original constitution and amended in 1966 to provide specific due process requirements for the respondent. The committee held an organizational meeting to review and slightly revise the special rules of procedure that had been previously adopted for the purposes of the last bill of address considered by the General Court in 1999. The committee believes that the bill of address is a serious legislative procedure to be used with great care and only in circumstances where there exists a reasonable cause for removal. The committee discussed and formally adopted the Special Rules of Procedure, which include the specific constitutional requirements that the bill of address:

a) state a reasonable cause for removal;

b) be fully and substantially stated; and

c) not be a cause which is sufficient ground for impeachment.

Pursuant to these rules, the committee anticipated holding two hearings to provide the sponsors of the bill, the public, and Justice McHugh with opportunities to testify and present evidence concerning the causes for removal stated in HA 1. Justice McHugh attended the initial hearing held on April 10, 2006. After listening to the testimony of the sponsor, the individual advocating the address, and the public, Justice McHugh asked the committee for an immediate opportunity to respond. He waived his right, under the rules, to present his defense only after receipt of the transcripts of the testimony and further waived his right to allow his designees to present a defense on his behalf. The committee assented to the respondent’s request and Justice McHugh presented his response. At the conclusion of the testimony, the committee carefully considered all of the testimony and documents presented to them during the one-day hearing.

The committee unanimously believes that the causes for removal stated in HA 1, as well as the evidence submitted in support of the address, simply do not state a reasonable cause for removal. Although the committee believes that the bill of address is an important legislative tool that ensures a certain level of judicial accountability, members expressed concern that this procedure could be abused, particularly where the stated causes for removal are not fully and substantially stated, are not sufficiently verified, or are not adequately investigated by a sponsor. For these reasons, the committee holds the opinion that an address should not be used as a vehicle to express dissatisfaction or disagreement with a legal ruling in a single, isolated matter. Based on the testimony submitted to the committee, it appeared that HA 1 was premised on this very motivation, without regard to the appellate rights afforded and fully exercised in this matter or the tenuous factual and legal claims articulated by a private proponent of the address. For these reasons, the committee unanimously voted not to recommend the address for the removal of Superior Court Justice Kenneth R. McHugh.

BILL REMOVED FROM CONSENT CALENDAR

SB 371-FN, relative to the continuation of certain wetlands fees. ought to pass with amendment.

Rep. Kevin L. Camm for Ways and Means: Wetland application fees are due to rollback from $0.10 per square foot to $0.06 per square foot effective July 1, 2006. This bill would maintain the current wetland application fees for four more years at the current level. The committee amendment proposes to maintain the current fees for two more years. The amendment would also require the department to report to the legislature on the status of a variety of permits that they issue. This will provide the next legislature with the information necessary to determine if the fee is too high or too low. Vote 18-0.

Amendment (1905h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Extension of Fee for Excavating and Dredging Permits. Amend 2003, 224:8, I to read as follows:

I. Section 3 of this act shall take effect July 1, [2006] 2008.

2 Report Required. The wetlands bureau, department of environmental services shall make quarterly reports, beginning on September 1, 2006, and thereafter on December 1, 2006, March 1, 2007, June 1, 2007, September 1, 2007, December 1, 2007, March 1, 2008, and June 1, 2008 to the speaker of the house of representatives, the president of the senate, the house and senate finance committees, the house and senate ways and means committees, and the appropriate policy committees relative to the permitting process. The report shall include the following categories: Minimum impact, minor impact, major impact, and shoreline structures. In each such category, the report shall include:

I. Number of applications received.
II. Associated fees.
III. Applications waiting for review.
IV. Average number of days required to issue permits.

3 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill extends the current fee for an excavating and dredging permit until July 1, 2008.

This bill requires the wetlands bureau, department of environmental services to make a quarterly report on the permitting process.

SB 399-FN, relative to the powers of state government in the event of a pandemic. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT.

Rep. Neal M. Kurk for Finance: This bill authorizes the Commissioner of Health and Human Services, with the approval of the governor, to ration certain drugs and medical equipment, and to close public places during an incident or outbreak of a communicable disease. The Finance Committee amendment restricts the use of such power to an epidemic or pandemic, rather than the less definite and broader communicable disease, and makes clear that any order issued would go into effect before, rather than after, a court challenge. The cost of the bill is indeterminable. Vote 17-2.

Amendment (1904h)
Amend RSA 141-C:16-a, I as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

I. The commissioner, with the written approval of the governor, may close, direct, and compel the evacuation [of or decontamination of any facility where there is reasonable cause to believe that there is a danger to the public health. The commissioner may also decontaminate, or cause to be decontaminated, or destroy any material of which there is reasonable cause to believe may present imminent danger to the public health] and decontamination of any building located within the state that is accessible to the public, such as businesses, primary and secondary schools, and universities, regardless of whether publicly or privately owned, when there is reasonable cause to believe the building may present an imminent danger to the public health due to an incident or outbreak of communicable disease that threatens to become epidemic or pandemic. The commissioner may also cause any material located within or on the grounds of such building to be decontaminated or destroyed when there is reasonable cause to believe that the material may present imminent danger to the public health. Destruction of any material under this chapter shall be considered a taking of private property and shall be subject to the compensation provisions of RSA 4:46.

Amend RSA 141-C:16-a, III as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

III. The owner of any building or portion of a building that is ordered closed in accordance with this section may request a hearing in the superior court to contest that order. The superior court shall schedule and hold a hearing and issue a decision within 5 working days of the court's receipt of the request for a hearing. At the hearing, the burden of proof shall be on the commissioner to prove by a preponderance of the evidence that closure of the building is reasonably necessary to protect the health of the public. Such order shall be effective immediately, and shall remain in effect in accordance with this section unless the superior court issues a decision directing otherwise.

Amend RSA 141-C:16-b as inserted by section 2 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

141-C:16-b Cancellation of Events. The commissioner, with the written approval of the governor, may order the cancellation of public gatherings and events within the state, or in specific geographic areas of the state, as is deemed necessary to prevent the spread of disease; provided, that under no circumstances shall the constitutional rights of assembly be abrogated in any emergency situation. Any person who is aggrieved by orders made by the commissioner and approved by the governor pursuant to this section may request a hearing in the superior court to contest that order. Hearings held under this section shall conform to the provisions of RSA 141-C:16-a, III. Such order shall be effective immediately, and shall remain in effect in accordance with this section unless the superior court issues a decision directing otherwise.

Amend RSA 141-C:17-b as inserted by section 3 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

141-C:17-b Custody; Rationing. If there is a statewide or regional shortage or threatened shortage of any anti-toxins, serums, vaccines, immunizing agents, antibiotics, and other pharmaceutical agents, or mechanical equipment such as ventilators, the commissioner, with the written approval of the governor, may control, restrict, and ration the use, sale, dispensing, distribution, or transportation of such agents as necessary to best protect the health, safety, and welfare of the people of this state. In making rationing or other supply and distribution decisions, the commissioner may determine the preference and priority for distribution of such agents, such as giving preference to health care providers and emergency response personnel. The commissioner, with the written approval of the governor, shall have the discretion to take custody of all supplies of specific anti-toxins, serums, vaccines, immunizing agents, antibiotics, and other pharmaceutical agents, or mechanical equipment such as ventilators, existing within the state to ensure that such agents are distributed and utilized appropriately. Any person who is aggrieved by a decision made by the commissioner and approved by the governor with respect to the restriction or rationing of the use, sale, dispensing, distribution, or transportation of such agents, and mechanical equipment such as ventilators may request a hearing in the superior court to contest that order. Hearings held under this section shall conform to the provisions of RSA 141-C:16-a, III. Multiple requests for hearings under this section may be consolidated into one hearing if the underlying facts are similar, the court deems such consolidation to be appropriate, and the court determines that such consolidation will adequately satisfy the due process rights of the persons who requested a hearing. Such decisions made by the commissioner and approved by the governor pursuant to this section shall be effective immediately and shall remain in effect in accordance with this section unless the superior court issues a decision directing otherwise.

Amend RSA 141-C:17-c as inserted by section 3 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

141-C:17-c Certain Cost Required. In the event of an outbreak of communicable disease that threatens to become epidemic or pandemic, the commissioner shall pay to the owner the Medicaid rate of any items to be acquired by the department pursuant to RSA 141-C:17-b, at the rate as it was the day prior to the outbreak of the communicable disease that threatens to become epidemic or pandemic. Amend RSA 141-C:24, I as inserted by section 4 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

I. There is hereby established an ethics committee to offer advice to the commissioner relative to the ethical issues that may be identified in the course of planning for, and responding to, outbreaks of communicable disease that threaten to become epidemic or pandemic.

Amend subparagraph III(j) of section 3 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(j) A member of a fire department, appointed by the Professional Firefighters of New Hampshire.

Amendment adopted.

Rep. Kurk offered floor amendment (2111h).

Floor Amendment (2111h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to the powers of state government in the event of an incident or outbreak of communicable disease and prohibiting New Hampshire from participating in a national identification card system.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 4 with the following:

5 Prohibition Against Participation in National Identification System. The general court finds that the public policy established by Congress in the Real ID Act of 2005, Public Law 109-13, is contrary and repugnant to Articles 1 through 10 of the New Hampshire constitution as well as Amendments 4 though 10 of the Constitution for the United States of America. Therefore, the state of New Hampshire shall not participate in a national identification card system; nor shall the department of safety amend the procedures for applying for a driver's license under RSA 263 or an identification card under RSA 260:21.

6 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

This bill also prohibits New Hampshire from participating in a national identification card system. Floor amendment (2111h) adopted.

Rep. Rosenwald offered floor amendment (2184h).

Floor Amendment (2184h)

Amend RSA 141-C:17-b as inserted by section 3 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

or transportation of such agents as necessary to best protect the health, safety, and welfare of the people of this state. In making rationing or other supply and distribution decisions, the commissioner may determine the preference and priority for distribution of such agents, such as giving preference to health care providers and emergency response personnel. The commissioner, with the written approval of the governor, shall have the discretion to take custody of all supplies of specific anti-toxins, serums, vaccines, immunizing agents, antibiotics, and other pharmaceutical agents, or mechanical equipment such as ventilators, existing within the state to ensure that such agents are distributed and utilized appropriately. UNANIMOUS CONSENT

REMARKS

Rep. Bettencourt: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Honorable members of the General Court, I again have the unwelcome duty to rise before you this afternoon on a sad note. On Tuesday, May 2, 2006, the town of Salem and the state of New Hampshire lost another of its best and brightest citizens. We lost another of our heroes. Marine Lance Corporal Robert Moscillo, a 2003 graduate of Salem High School, died early Tuesday when the Humvee he was riding in struck a land mine and killed him. Robert Moscillo was 21 years old. Robert Moscillo was the son of Frank and Donna Moscillo. He will be remembered as an athletic, spiritual young man who was considering a career in the church after his service in the Marines. He earned the nickname “Rob the Job” for his physical toughness, mental discipline, and his unwavering sense of duty to his family and his country. His family remembered that just as Robert Moscillo always kept an eye out and sought to protect his family, he joined the Marines because he also felt as though he was protecting his country. He joined the Marines because he wanted to make his family proud. In addition to his sister, his parents, and his two younger brothers, Robert Moscillo has made us all proud. As you can imagine this is a very difficult time for the Moscillo family, the Salem community, and indeed, all of New Hampshire. May we always be eternally grateful for the sacrifice of Robert Moscillo and all of New Hampshire’s heroes who have given the last full measure of devotion to keep us safe and free. This afternoon I could not be more honored and feel more privileged to be a life-long resident of Salem, New Hampshire. Sadly, this is the second hero from Salem who has lost his life in Iraq, but through this tremendous sadness of those losses is a tremendous pride to see the quality and caliber of an individual that our community and our state has produced. May we say of Lance Corporal Moscillo, and all of the men and women of honor and courage who fight to keep us safe across the world, in the words of President Ronald Reagan, “We will always remember, we will always be proud, we will always be prepared so we may always be free.” May God bless Marine Lance Corporal Robert Moscillo and all of New Hampshire’s fallen heroes. Mr. Speaker, I would respectfully request a moment of silence.

Rep. Weyler moved that the House adjourn.
Adopted.
The House assembled at 10:00 a.m., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the Speaker.

His Excellency, Governor John H. Lynch, joined the Speaker on the rostrum for the day's opening ceremonies.

Prayer was offered by House Chaplain, Reverend Jared Rardin, Pastor of the South Congregational Church in Concord.

God of unfailing energy and infinite patience, Comforter of the afflicted and Afflicter of the comfortable, stiller of storms and Rocker of boats, we pause at the beginning of this day to be reminded both who we are and whose we are. Give us a sense of wonder in the minutia of the everyday. Let us never grow weary of the small, good things of our lives. Yet, let us neither tire of thinking bigger or dreaming beyond what we are. O God, in our work today, help us to strike a balance between digging in our heels and extending our hands. Let there be healthy tugging today, not in a spirit of war, but in a spirit of creative conversation. Let something new and promising happen today, and, if it be Your will, grant us the privilege of being its vessels.

We pray this morning for the healing of those in our midst who are hurting or ill today. And we offer up our concerns for all in harms way; men and women in the armed services, civilians of other tongues and traditions whose children need their care; people who are overrun by poverty and refugees who have nowhere left to run. All this we pray in Your Holy Name. Amen.

Rep. Beverly T. Rodeschin, member from Newport, led the Pledge of Allegiance.

REMARKS

Rep. Thomas: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Members of the House, not often do we get a chance to publicly acknowledge our citizens who very quietly work to make our state a better place. I would have said ordinary, but these folks are anything but ordinary, they are extraordinary. I am speaking of the citizen members and the legislative members of the Right-to-Know Oversight Commission. As a brief history, House Bill 606 of 2003 established a study committee to bring RSA 91-A into the modern age of ever-changing technologies. Because of the complexity of the issue and to avoid legislative down time, House Bill 41 was introduced changing the study committee to a five year oversight commission. The committee and subsequent commission met every other Friday for over two and one-half years. Even when the legislature went into recess that first year, the then committee met as an ad hoc group. The commission members, except for the legislative members, met their responsibilities on their own time and on their own dime. At that time their efforts were ridiculed, and many times criticized in the press. As a result of the first year and a half of work, House Bill 626 was introduced which brought forth the changes to RSA 91-A recommended by the commission. The House Judiciary Committee under the leadership of Rep. Cynthia Dokmo, and the commission worked together to further improve and refine the bill. The bill passed the House on a roll call vote of 266 to 41. After a brief look at the bill in the Senate, it was tabled. The Commission members, however, are still continuing their tasks. Because of this commitment by the hardworking members of the Right-to-Know Oversight Commission, I am compelled to publicly acknowledge these folks as I feel that they will not be otherwise. And these folks are: Attorney John Lassey Jr., the committee vice-chair; Attorney Peter Smith of Durham; Kristin Spath of the Attorney General’s office; Mary Schwarzer of the Attorney General’s office; Harry Haytayan, former Representative; Attorney Stephen Judge; James Pitts, the Bow Town Manager; Eileen Bolander; Daniel Harkinson; Peter Croteau of Administrative Services; Carol Holden of the Association of Counties and the Hillsborough County Commissioner; Dennis Pope, New Hampshire School Administrators Association; Thomas Reed of the Rockingham County Attorney’s Office; Ronald Rodgers; Brian Burford, the Archivist for the state; Robert Blaisdell of the Demers Group and Cordell Johnson of the Municipal Association, who did an incredible amount of research; Rep. Harriet Cady; Rep. James Twombly; Rep. James Garrity; Rep. Jack Dowd; Rep. Peter Espiefs; Sen. Jack Barnes and the House Judiciary Committee. Thank you, very much.

RECESS MOTION

Rep. O’Neil moved that the House stand in recess for the purpose of introduction of bills, enrolled bill amendments, enrolled bill reports, receiving Senate messages and forming Committee of Conferences only. Adopted.

The House recessed at 4:50 p.m.

Committee of Conference on SB 403, relative to verification of identity when a person registers or attempts to vote.

Recommendation:

That the Senate recede from its position of nonconcurrency with the House amendment, and

That the House recede from its position in adopting its amendment to the bill, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the Senate, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Paragraphs; Determining Qualifications of Applicant; Identity; Verification. Amend RSA 654:12 by inserting after paragraph II the following new paragraphs:

III. To prove the qualifications set forth in paragraphs I and II, an applicant for registration as a voter must prove his or her identity to establish that the evidence used to prove age, citizenship, and domicile relate to the applicant. A person who has in his or her immediate possession a photo identification approved for use by paragraph II must present that identification when applying for registration. A person who does not have an approved photo identification with him or her may establish identity through any reasonable means, including, but not limited to: photo identification not approved by paragraph II, but determined to be legitimate by the supervisors of the checklist or clerk, verification of the person’s identity by another person registered as a voter and known to the supervisor or clerk, or completion of the affidavit to be completed by a challenged voter. Residents of a nursing home or similar facility may prove their identity through verification of identity by the administrator of the facility or by his or her designee. For the purposes of this section, the application of a person whose identity has been verified by an official of a nursing home or similar facility shall be treated in the same manner as the application of a person who proved his or her identity with a photo identification.

IV. Any person who is applying for registration as a voter and who is currently registered to vote in a different town or ward in New Hampshire shall complete the voter registration form provided for in RSA 654:7. If the election official receiving the application confirms through the centralized voter registration database required by RSA 654:45 that the applicant is currently registered to vote in New Hampshire, the applicant shall prove identity and domicile, but shall not be required to prove his or her age or citizenship.

V.(a) The election official approving the application for registration as voter of a person who does not present an approved form of photo identification as proof of identity when registering, shall mark the voter registration form to indicate that no photo identification was presented. The person entering the voter information into the centralized voter registration database shall determine if the person is listed in the system as having been previously registered in the town or ward reported by the applicant on the voter registration form. If the person is a new registrant who has not been previously registered anywhere in New Hampshire or if the centralized voter registration database does not confirm a previous registration claimed on the voter registration form, the election official shall cause the record created in the centralized voter registration database to indicate that the person is a new applicant in New Hampshire and that no photo identification was presented. When municipalities enter information on people who register on election day into the centralized voter registration database, to the extent practical applicants who are registering for the first time in New Hampshire and who also register without presenting an approved photo identification shall be entered first.

(b) The secretary of state shall cause a letter of identity verification to be mailed by first class mail to each voter identified at a state general election as a first-time election day registrant in New Hampshire who also did not verify his or her identity with an approved photo identification. The letter shall be mailed within 90 days after the general election. The secretary of state shall mark the envelope with instructions to the United States Post Office not to forward the letter and to provide address correction information. The letter shall notify the person that a person who was unable to present photo identification registered or registered and voted using his or her name and address and instruct the person to contact the attorney general immediately if he or she did not register and vote.

(c) The secretary of state shall cause any letters mailed pursuant to subparagraph (b) that are returned as undeliverable by the United States Post Office to be referred to the attorney general. Upon receipt of notice from a person who receives a letter of identity verification that the person did not register and vote, or upon receipt of a referral from the secretary of state, the attorney general shall cause an investigation to be made to determine whether fraudulent registration or voting occurred.

2 Obtaining a Ballot; Verification of Age. Amend RSA 659:13 to read as follows:

659:13 Obtaining a Ballot. A person desiring to vote shall, before being admitted to the enclosed space within the guardrail, announce his or her name to one of the ballot clerks who shall thereupon repeat the name; and, if the name is found on the checklist by the ballot clerk, the ballot clerk shall put a checkmark beside it and again repeat the name. The ballot clerk shall state the address listed on the checklist for the voter, and ask if the address is correct; if the address on the checklist is not correct, the ballot clerk shall correct the address in red on the paper checklist and the supervisors of the checklist shall cause the centralized voter registration database to reflect the correction. The voter, if still qualified to vote in the town or ward and unless challenged as provided for in RSA 659:27-33, shall then be allowed to enter the space enclosed by the guardrail. After the voter enters the enclosed space, the ballot clerk shall give the voter one of each ballot to be voted on in that election which shall be folded as it was upon receipt from the secretary of state.

3 Effective Date. This act shall take effect September 1, 2006.

Conferees: Sens. Green, Dist. 6; Barnes, Dist. 17; Gatsas, Dist. 16
Conferees: Reps. Whalley, Belk. 5; Drisko, Hills. 5; Boehm, Hills. 27; O’Neil, Rock. 15

DEBATE ON HOUSE RESOLUTION 25

Debate on the motion to adopt HR 25

Rep. Chaplin: Thank you Mr. Speaker. Honored colleagues, I rise in support of Rep. Russ Albert's House Resolution 25. Rep. Albert is an honored Marine Corps veteran. As a member of Delta Company's 2nd Battalion, 5th Marine Regiment, in September 1950, Rep. Albert participated in the assault company to seize the sea wall at Inch'on, Korea and several days later, he was a member of the assault company to overcome an attack by six North Korean tanks for the entrance into the city of Seoul. These were actions in which Rep. Albert was one of only 26 survivors. All the officers and most of the NCOs lost their lives. For this, Rep. Albert received three Bronze Star medals for bravery and two Purple Hearts for wounds and was placed on the permanent disabilities retirement rolls of the United States Marine Corps. He speaks, then, from experience.

In January 1952, I met 2nd Lieutenant Jack Babson in the morgue of the United States Naval Shipyard in Brooklyn, New York for the purpose of being an escort officer to his internment in the town cemetery of Contoocook, New Hampshire. When the train's baggage car door opened in Contoocook, there was an honor guard of the town's veterans from World War II. In spite of two days of heavy snow and bitter winds, and the Presidents' birthday holiday, the entire town visited the gravesite ceremony of 2nd Lieutenant John Lowe Babson, V, 12th descendent of Thomas Babson, 2nd Lieutenant, United States Marine Corps Reserve in Korea who was killed on the 26th of October, 1952. As Thomas E. Babson said, "His predecessors would have been proud of the great sacrifices he made for his country."

Mr. Speaker, and fellow representatives, I invite and encourage each of you to protect the promise by the people of the United States to return all men and women who died in the service of their country to their next of kin for final and proper disposal. By pressing the green button, you will help to keep this promise. I'll take no questions.

Rep. Roberts: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Good morning, fellow representatives. What I'm going to say is not easy and I may get emotional, but I will not apologize. It will only take about 30 seconds of your time and I hope everyone listens well.

I am an American service member. As an American service member, I do not have to support your opinions. I do not have to support your religious beliefs, your moral convictions, or even your way of life. As an American service member, I don't even have to be an American citizen with the rights and privilege of citizenship. However, as an American service member, I would, without hesitation, risk my life to ensure that your rights and your way of life are fully protected. And for that I ask very little in return. All I ask is if I am called upon to make the ultimate sacrifice, a decision I hopefully will make with honor and dignity, is that you treat my death and my family's loss with the same honor and dignity. All I ask is that before I am placed in my final resting place and dirt covers my casket, is that this great nation of ours guarantees my family a few, final, private moments. As an American service member, I should never be viewed as a political pawn. Please respect my sacrifice. Please respect my family's loss. There are countless ways for people to exercise their first amendment rights, but I can think of no justification whatsoever, that would give even my closest friends, let alone strangers, the right to tarnish my family's last moments with me. Now, today when you vote, your vote could determine if my children return to visit me or shun me because they only remembered the negative actions of strangers at my funeral.

Rep. Marjorie Smith: Would you believe that my husband served in Vietnam and we were, I was, subject to a lot of hate, but would this cover me if someone took umbrage with a vote that I made and there are many who have in this House who are of a certain persuasion and they wanted to protest my funeral? Would I be protected?

Rep. Roberts: I don't think you would be protected under the way the House resolution is written, but I feel that any funeral of any individual of this great country is a private moment that should be respected with their family and their closest friends. It should not be the subject of anybody's "first amendment rights" at that particular time.
Rep. Almy: I’m sorry. I wanted to be able to divide this once I saw it. Apparently, I am unable to divide this. I agree entirely with the first three paragraphs. I agree that the exercise of a person’s right to voice his or her objection to involvement of the United States in war must be balanced against other persons’ rights to personal safety during a funeral, burial, memorial service or funeral procession, if a person has served in a war or anywhere else. I do not approve at all of what is going on with this particular group that is protesting at funerals. But I have no idea what is in (United States) House Resolution 5037 that we are being asked to tell the Senate to pass as well. This is a first amendment issue so it does take careful balancing and it takes due deliberation. We have not been able to do that in this House and are depending on the US House of Representatives for their due deliberation which probably didn’t happen. So I feel compelled to speak against this bill. I would rather just speak against that paragraph and the paragraph that urges the Senate to adopt whatever the United States House did. I would like us to consider legislation next year and try to figure out what we do about it. Thank you, very much.

Rep. Twombly: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The brave New Hampshire men and women of our nation’s armed forces who have made the ultimate sacrifice in the defense of our freedom deserve better than what they could be faced with. People can have different feelings about the military conflicts our nation is involved in, but desecrating the memory of the dead and trying to inflict more pain on their loved ones who are already suffering, which has been practiced in other states, is a deplorable way to try to express those feelings. Families have rights, too. Families have the right to mourn the loss of their loved one in peace. If protesters want to share their opinions, they can do so at a respectful distance. Protesting today has become an art form from the vast vocal minority. I once read that a mother asked President Bush, “Why did my son have to die in Iraq?” Another mother asked President Kennedy, “Why did my son have to die in Vietnam?” Another mother asked President Truman, “Why did my son have to die in Korea?” Another mother asked President Roosevelt, “Why did my son have to die at Iwo Jim?” Another mother asked President Wilson, “Why did my son have to die on the battlefields of France?” Another mother asked President Lincoln, “Why did my son have to die at Gettysburg?” Another mother asked President Washington, “Why did my son have to die near Valley Forge?” The answer to all of these is similar. So that others may have life and dwell in peace, happiness and freedom. If you don’t and won’t stand behind our troops, please feel free to stand in front of theirs.

Rep. Tupper: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Honorable Representative, I have one concern about this. If the House of Representatives passed HR 25, and in the last paragraph we are being asked to consider it for legislation in the 2007 session, why are we debating this or why are we having this introduced today?

Rep. Twombly: Well, from a timeliness point of view, we still have our young kids coming back in body bags, boxes, caskets, New Hampshire boys, and young men and women and I think if whoever this group is that started to do these protests shows up in New Hampshire, we want to have something on the books. And I think we need to introduce legislation next term that will put some teeth into this.

Rep. Tupper. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, and thank you, Representative. The other question that I have is on the, let’s see, one, two, three, fourth paragraph, it talks about prohibiting demonstrations at national cemeteries. If a person in military service is being interred not in a national cemetery, would this bill cover them?

Rep. Twombly: Probably not. I’m only thinking of, trying to get something on the books where it could be refined later on. There’s no penalty at this point. It could be done, and what do you do? There’s nothing to say. There isn’t any penalty involved with any protester who might be within a distance, let’s say, of 500 feet, whatever is written in law. So, I think what we want to try and do is get this; at least, a resolution is a voice, an opinion and get that at least on the books now and refine it better later.

Protest

Pursuant to Part 2, Article 24 of the New Hampshire Constitution, the following protest was presented to be entered in the Permanent Journal.

HB 656, as approved by the House, unlawfully and in violation of the provision of our constitution delegates the authority to make decisions concerning life and death of ill citizens to unknown "facilities," through enactment of "policies." This bill is an abrogation of our constitutional duty to ensure that the life of the citizens are properly protected. This bill elevates private policies to the level of duly enacted laws by this legislature, exposing the most vulnerable among us to untimely death.

Those who need the protection of the law the most are placed at the mercy of unelected and unaccountable entities which may be chartered for profit. This bill extends unprecedented degree of immunity where there should be none. This bill also attempts to confuse, beguile and mislead, through rewriting the common meaning of words and phrases. The bill redefines euthanasia, and by far, this bill is the most shameful act of this legislative session.

The House should not grant an immunized license to kill innocent lives.

ADJOURNMENT FROM THE EARLY SESSION

Rep. O'Neil moved that the House now adjourn from the early session, that the business of the late session be in order at the present time and when the House adjourns today it be to meet Wednesday, June 28, 2006 at 10:00 a.m.

LATE SESSION

REMARKS

Rep. Graham: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Thank you, my colleagues. It is late and I will be even briefer than I had planned on, but, "freedom is not free." These words adorn the Korean Memorial in Washington, DC and over the last three centuries hundreds of thousands of our citizens have given of themselves in order to ensure that we can meet in places such as this. It is, therefore, entirely fitting that this true citizen's legislature take a few moments at the conclusion of its work to ponder the meaning of this coming weekend. I'm speaking about Memorial Day and its significance. Memorial Day is not just the start of summer. It's not just the day to sell clothes or furniture or cars. It is the day for us to reflect on the truism of the statement that "freedom is not free." I would like to ask each of you in this hall and all of you who are listening to join me this weekend in your local community to participate in a Memorial Day ceremony of some type. If you're not having one, please join me next Wednesday, May 30th, at the Boscawen cemetery at 11:00 a.m. and we will remember those who have gone forward. But in remembering, I would like us to pay special respects to our own citizens who have fallen in the ongoing global war on terrorism.

PFC Nicholas Cournoyer, USA, of Gilmanton; Lance Cpl. Robert Moscillo, USMC, of Salem; PFC George Roehl, Jr., USA, of Manchester; PFC Matthew Bertolino, USMC, of Hampstead; CPO Dan Healy, USN, of Exeter; Cpl. Timothy Gibson, USMC, of Merrimack; Lance Corporal Adam Brooks, USMC, of Manchester; Specialist Alan Burgess, Army National Guard, of Landaff; Specialist Jeremy Regnier, USA, of Littleton; MSG Richard Ferguson, USA, of Conway; SGT Randy Rosenberg, USA, of Berlin; SFC Robert Rooney, Army National Guard, of Nashua; SGT William Tracy, Jr., USA, of Webster and SGT Angelo Lozada, Jr., USA, of Nashua.

If I have either mispronounced or missed a name, I sincerely apologize.

And while we are all standing, I would like to ask that we take a moment of reverence in silence to honor their devotion to duty and to our country.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

REMARKS

Rep. Sheila Francoeur: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Honorable members of the House. Yes, those rumors that you have heard are true. I am not running again. And I thank you all who have come up to me and asked, "Are those rumors really true?" It was not an easy decision to make because being a part of this legislative body has been an honor for me, as well as an education. But, for me, ten years is enough.

I still remember the first Organization Day, walking over from Storrs, coming up the path to the State House, looking up at the dome glittering in the sunlight, and wondering, "What the heck have I gotten myself into?" How quickly I found out.
It was a privilege for me to be here under Speaker Sytek, who for me will always be the epitome of style and grace and leadership as she presided over this House. She assigned me to the Commerce Committee, my first choice. You know, they say that you can always remember your first Chairman. And I can tell you, I will always remember the honorable member from Rindge. During orientation I tell new members how important committee work is. That is where you develop the skills, learn the process, compromise and hopefully, create good legislation. I served as Clerk and Vice Chair on Commerce and during that time I learned a great deal from my Chairman. He was a good mentor and I thank him for that.

Next, I was privileged to serve on the leadership team of Speaker Chandler as Majority Whip and I learned how to count votes. Whenever I have been at NCSL or any function that legislators from other states are at, they never failed to ask me, “How can you count the votes in a body as large as this?” My response was always, “Very carefully.” I would always tell Speaker Chandler, “Don’t worry, we have the votes.” His reply was, “What are the numbers?” I learned to count very carefully.

My two years as Majority Whip, followed by two years as Speaker Pro Tem, allowed me to work with many committees and I got to know many of you. I hope that I had the opportunity to help you with your issues. But I always kept my seat on Commerce.

So, Mr. Speaker, when you asked me to chair the Commerce Committee, I was surprised, but I was honored and I thank you for giving me that opportunity.

When I first ran for this House, I was a little concerned because I did not have a cause or a passion. Nothing for any particular issue. I thought all politicians had to have a cause or an issue. I watched the honorable member from Weare and wished I had his passion for privacy issues. I share his concern, but not his passion. But after all this time, I finally realized that I do have a passion and it’s for the process. Now, that’s not as exciting as getting up here and giving a “Give me liberty, or give me death” speech. But without the process, I can tell you we will not have the liberty. Process involves many facets, knowing the rules, following tradition, debating the issues, disagreeing but being respectful. It doesn’t make any difference whether we have an “R” or a “D” after our names. We are all here for the same purpose. To represent the citizens of New Hampshire and we should be ever mindful of the process that allows us to do that.

When I finally take the legislative plate off my car, I will be left with many memories of the wonderful friends I have met here, and how much I enjoyed knowing and working with you all. I will be forever grateful to my constituents for allowing me to represent them here for these five terms. It has been an honor and a privilege and I thank you.

REMARKS

Rep. Richard Cooney: That’s hard to follow but this is my first and last time to use Unanimous Consent because I, too, am not running for re-election. It’s time for me to move on to other things. It’s been my honor and privilege to serve the people of my district and the people of New Hampshire for the last ten years. I have learned a lot here. One of the things I learned is it’s a tough job to be a representative and you work hard. And I want to thank you for what you do. I will appreciate it in the future. I want to leave you with these words, “Like the old grandfather clock, old politicians never die, they just don’t run anymore.” Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

RECESS

(Speaker Scamman in the Chair)

Rep. O’Neil moved that the House adjourn.

Adopted.
The House assembled at 10:00 a.m., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the Speaker.

His Excellency, Governor John H. Lynch, joined the Speaker on the rostrum for the day’s opening ceremonies.

Prayer was offered by House Chaplain, Reverend Jared Rardin, Pastor of the South Congregational Church in Concord.

God of infinite patience, mercy and wisdom whose heart is always open and whose vision never relents. Still for just a moment our busy thoughts and our rushing lives that undermine the din of technological advances and pressing speech, we may again listen for Your still, small voice which has spoke from the beginning of time and speaks still.

Make of us superb listeners today, O God. Teach us to listen for what is true and not merely what sounds pleasing; what is just and not merely convenient; what is grand and not simply petty. Teach us to listen to our colleagues with fresh patience and intention. Tune our hearing to the dictates of Your heart and the desires of Your mind. In our listening during this session and during our lives, let there be enough Holy silence and sufficient pause that every now and then our breath would be taken away by the sound of You.

We give You thanks, on this day in particular, for one another’s presence and participation during this long, warm session, whether in times of agreement or discord. We give You thanks for the commitment of time and energy of all who serve this House of Representatives and in particular Speaker Scamman, whose service to this legislative body comes to a close after today. We also give thanks for those representatives who will not be returning next session. We recognize and give thanks for the privilege we have of living in a state and a nation where freedom is honored, responsibility encouraged and where the open exchange of differing ideas makes us stronger, not weaker. Finally, we offer You this day our prayers for those whose personal presence with us today is not possible because of illness or hospitalization: Robert Chabot, Bruce Hunter, Ed Putnam and Clair Snyder, and all those in our hearts we have not yet named out loud but whose names we repeat within our spirits. May the heat and humidity of today prompt clarity and brevity, and may we return safely at the end of the day to our homes and our families in Your name. Amen.

Rep. Sheila T. Francoeur, member from Hampton, led the Pledge of Allegiance.

The National Anthem was sung by Diane E. Cammarata, a student from Fall Mountain Regional High School.

Memorializing State Representative Lee G. Slocum of Amherst

WHEREAS we have learned with great sorrow of the death of our friend and colleague Lee G. Slocum of Amherst, who was in his second term as a member of the House of Representatives serving the citizens of Hillsborough County District 6, the towns of Amherst and Milford; and WHEREAS, Lee G. Slocum served with diligence and distinction during one term as a member of the Labor Committee and two terms on the Science, Technology and Energy Committee, earning the deep respect of his colleagues for the passion of his convictions and his careful and organized thought processes which enabled him to offer innovative ideas and alternative solutions to problems; and, WHEREAS, Lee G. Slocum served his community in a myriad of ways, including six years of service on the Souhegan Cooperative School Board and as a Scoutmaster and committee chairman of Troop 613 of Amherst, Boy Scouts of America; and WHEREAS, Lee G. Slocum was a man of diversified interests, including motorcycling and jogging, who enjoyed fishing with his grandson and the easy company of friends and family; and WHEREAS, Lee G. Slocum was a man who related well to people and often used his dry sense of humor to make a point or support his position, a consummate gentleman, a man of conscience and commitment who held himself to high ethical standards, often remarking that he must always speak the truth to his colleagues; now, therefore, be it
RESOLVED, by the New Hampshire House of Representatives in Regular Session convened, that Lee G. Slocum be granted the highest praise and accolades for his dedicated service to his community and his state; and be it further RESOLVED, that expressions of heartfelt sympathy be extended to his family and that a suitable copy of this Resolution be prepared for presentation to them. Offered by the House of Representatives. Unanimously endorsed by a rising moment of silent prayer.

MEMORIAL REMARKS

Rep. Mirski: Thank you, Mr. Speaker and Honorable members of the House. It’s really an honor to have a chance to share some thoughts about Lee with you. I was sitting in the Congregational Church in Mount Vernon, in the back, and I hadn’t intended to say anything. There was a beautiful service for Lee. But I couldn’t help myself. So I did, when there was an opportunity, just get up, and I wanted to let his family know how much he loved this institution and what the institution felt about him. I was just asked to share a couple of those thoughts with you this morning. When I read the report of his death in the paper, what jumped out at me was something I didn’t know about Lee which was that he was an Eagle Scout. Now, that wouldn’t surprise anybody here. The tragedy was that he was killed on his way home from an Eagle Scout ceremony in his own town where they were obviously honoring some young boys who achieved that distinction in the Scout troop. That in itself says an awful lot about Lee. While he was from Pennsylvania, his wife told me that New Hampshire was really the place that he loved. Now, we have our characteristics of our state. I guess everyone thinks of our love of liberty, our interest in efficient government, low taxes, little government, and of course, a huge penchant for volunteerism. These were actually, if you listened to the Memorial Resolution, these were aspects that were very much a part of Lee’s personality. So, when he moved here he fit right here because it was his interest to enhance personal freedom, make government efficient, and encourage public service. I think that most of us first got to know him through letters to the editor. I remember when we were looking for people to serve in the House. I guess that was about six years ago, his name was suggested. That’s how I came to know him, mostly through letters to the local papers. I was surprised when I met him that he wasn’t a lot taller, because he was so forceful and so dedicated to the things he believed in. Here we know him probably most through his interest in school reform and while people who want school reform are often characterized as being anti-union, that wasn’t Lee at all. The reason he wanted school reform was because he believed strongly that schools ought to promote individual self-worth and individual potential. Anything that stood in the way of that for a child was an anathema. It was the enemy of Lee Slocum. So, if you had a system that was preventing a child from advancing somehow and developing their own personal abilities, you were going to find a very forceful enemy in our honorable friend.

Looking through legislation that was passed over several years, you will find his fingerprints all over anything having to do with school reform - choice, vouchers, charter schools, name it, he was everywhere. We also knew that he had a background in physics and software development and he served on the House Science, Technology and Energy Committee. He was also a very active participant on a listserve which the Republican Alliance has, and like most lists there was often a lot of conversation about bills and what the substance is, and all that sort of thing. I was relating to the folks at the church, you know you say the word “Reggie” (Regional Greenhouse and Gas Issue), and everybody wanted to head for the doors. Well, we would ask Lee to intervene on our behalf and tell us something about what these issues were. He was a guy who could make the incomprehensible comprehensible. We found him an unbelievable resource in helping to frame our own arguments on issues that were of importance to us. The representative from Rochester posted on our list a little debate going on in this room having to do with mercury reduction. This, of course, is a very serious business for a lot of people here, but Lee thought that the standards had become so severe that it made eating fish absurd. In his remarks to the House, he encouraged us all to eat fish because it was good for us.

Volunteering, this is one of the things I learned at the church that morning. Two folks stood up and they gave a couple of little vignettes. One woman, who I think had some medical difficulty and was spending a lot of time at the hospital, discovered that Lee volunteered to mow their lawn.
So he drove a half hour to the house, got his machine out and went at it. She said that because he was such a perfectionist, he mowed the lawn at half speed to make sure it was going to be perfect. And the other one, this is the one that really gets me, because I play a musical instrument. Once upon a time I was asked to play for a daycare center as a part of a group, and I got the worst case of stage fright I've ever had. It was kind of a bizarre experience. This little story kind of appealed to me. It turns out that Lee loved to sing in the choir and he was a tenor. As the choir master said, "The tenor sings 'up here.'" One Christmas they didn't have a bassist to sing in the "Messiah." So, Lee decided that he could do it. And she said, "My God, he did a credible job, he did a very good job!" I couldn't imagine that! But volunteerism, stepping up to the plate, was something we all admired in him.

Finally, for my own personal point of view, given his love of liberty, his commitment to public service and volunteerism, I was thinking, you know we would all have been proud to have Lee represent us in Philadelphia 230 years ago this month at the preparation of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. New Hampshire would have been very proud to have him serve eleven years later when the Constitution was written. He was that kind of a man and that's how I will remember him. Thank you.

GOVERNOR'S VETO MESSAGE ON HB 345

To the Honorable Members of the General Court:

By the authority vested in me as Governor of New Hampshire, pursuant to Part II, Article 44 of the Constitution of New Hampshire, on May 5, 2006, I vetoed House Bill 345, an act requiring photo identification to obtain a ballot.

The right to vote is a fundamental right and is the bedrock of our democracy. Our responsibility as elected officials is to protect every citizen’s constitutional right to vote and to ensure that any proposed changes to our voting system do not create unnecessary barriers to voting. We should be encouraging people to vote, not discouraging them.

New Hampshire has a long and proud tradition of conducting well-run and clean elections. On April 5, 2006, the Department of Justice issued a report on its investigation of alleged voter fraud during the November 2004 general election. That investigation was completed by trained investigators and state officials with expertise in election law from the Attorney General’s Office and the Secretary of State’s Office. The report concluded: “The results of our investigation reflect that there are very few instances of wrongful voting in New Hampshire, the overwhelming majority of which involve people who had a right to vote somewhere in New Hampshire. New Hampshire’s local election officials are the front line of defense against voter fraud and our investigations support the conclusion that most local officials do an excellent job.”

This report affirms that New Hampshire’s elections are well run and already have the necessary safeguards in place to prevent wrongful voting.

Part I, Article 11 of the New Hampshire Constitution guarantees that all qualified voters have an equal right to vote in any election. I am concerned that House Bill 345 will prohibit eligible voters from receiving a ballot on election day and place significant burdens on election officials, resulting in delays for all voters.

In the absence of any evidence of a voter fraud problem in New Hampshire, where New Hampshire law already provides adequate safeguards to protect the integrity of elections, and given that House Bill 345 will create new and unnecessary barriers impinging on the right to vote, I am vetoing this bill.

Respectfully submitted,
John H. Lynch, Governor

The question being, notwithstanding the Governor’s veto, shall HB 345, requiring photo identification to obtain a ballot, become law?
Rep. Kennedy, Crane, Sorg, and Brassard spoke in favor.
Rep. Splaine spoke against.
Pursuant to the New Hampshire Constitution, Part II, Article 44, a roll call, requiring a two-thirds vote of the House for approval, was taken.

GOVERNOR’S VETO MESSAGE ON HB 1566

To the Honorable Members of the General Court:

By the authority vested in me as Governor of New Hampshire, pursuant to Part II, Article 44 of the Constitution of New Hampshire, on May 23, 2006, I vetoed HB 1566, an act relative to the definitions of resident for motor vehicle law purposes and domicile for voting purposes and relative to vehicle registration and driver’s license requirements.

We need to encourage all New Hampshire citizens to vote and to participate fully in our democracy. We also need to ensure that our election laws do not unfairly burden those voters that have recently established a domicile in New Hampshire and are qualified to vote in this state.

I cannot support HB 1566 because this bill would make it more difficult for our younger voters and our newest residents to exercise their constitutional right to vote. Whether intended or not by its sponsor, HB 1566 would prohibit otherwise qualified citizens from registering to vote on election day in New Hampshire if they had registered a motor vehicle in another state, or possessed a driver’s license issued by another state. I cannot support a bill that will disenfranchise New Hampshire voters through amendments to motor vehicle registration laws. This bill is also likely to create confusion and new difficulties for senior voters who own second homes in other states and may maintain motor vehicles in other states.

Our election laws clearly establish that voters must be domiciled in New Hampshire in order to vote in this state, and that all New Hampshire residents must comply with motor vehicle registration and licensing requirements. This bill is unnecessary, and I will continue to ensure that any changes to our election laws do not operate to place undue barriers on any citizen’s constitutional right to vote.

Respectfully submitted,
John H. Lynch, Governor

The question being, notwithstanding the Governor’s veto, shall HB 1566, relative to the definitions of resident for motor vehicle law purposes and domicile for voting purposes and relative to vehicle registration and driver’s license requirements, become law? Reps. O’Neil and Mirski spoke in favor.
Rep. Clemens spoke against.
Pursuant to the New Hampshire Constitution, Part II, Article 44, a roll call, requiring a two-thirds vote of the House for approval, was taken.

REMARKS

Rep. Mary Cooney: There is a little boy, not quite a year and a half old, who will only know his father through stories and pictures his mother. Uncle Dan, grandparents and other relatives will tell him. Little Dakin won the hearts of everyone at the funeral service for his father, Army Captain Douglas DiCenzo. He wandered around the large crowd interacting with all who had come to honor his father who had been killed in Baghdad, along with his friend, PFC Robert Blair of Ocala, Florida, when their Humvee was hit by an Improvised Explosive Device on May 25th. Doug was with the First Armored Division, Second Brigade.

Doug grew up in Plymouth with his younger brother, Dan, and graduated fifth in his class from Plymouth Regional High School in 1995. Everyone who had kids in the Plymouth schools knew or knew of Doug. He was a leader and a role model even as a teenager, especially to his younger brother Dan. He was captain of the wrestling team and captain of the 1994 NH championship Plymouth football team, winning the Dana Bourassa Award as top wrestler three years in a row and the National Football Foundation’s Scholar-Athlete Award for the State of New Hampshire.

He was also the class president and a stellar student. He received a coveted appointment to the United States Military Academy at West Point, graduating from there in 1999. He asked for the Airborne and Ranger Training at Fort Benning, GA. It was here where he met his future wife, Nicole Knox. They were married in 2000 and moved to Fort Wainwright near Fairbanks, Alaska where Doug had been assigned. After Captain training in Georgia, they moved to Heidelberg, Germany where he joined the Fifth Army headquarter staff. He later took command of Charlie Company, First Armored Division and headed to Kuwait and then Iraq. His mother, Cathy Crane, said this was what Doug wanted and he believed in serving his country. The high points of Doug’s service were working with children and building facilities for the Iraqi people. Doug was glad he was going where his skill and training would be put to use.

Doug’s stepfather, Mark Burzynski, described him as kid who worked hard to achieve his success; he was not necessarily the naturally gifted athlete or student, but he was a natural leader. Doug’s football coach, Chuck Lenahan, described “Dougy,” as he was known, as a born leader. “It’s hard to get your peers to look up to you and follow you. Whatever Dougy said or did, that’s what everyone assumed should be done.”

Jake Miller, Doug’s roommate from West Point, wrote a letter which was read at the service and gave a wonderful testimonial and description of Doug’s character. He described Doug’s passion, tenacity and competitive spirit. In the summer of 1997, Doug went out to Oregon to visit Jake and his family. They all headed to a lake for the weekend. Always in the mood for competition, they decided to play the game of inner tube war. This involved riding tubes being towed behind a speed boat. The game was to see who could hang on the longest as the boat driver tried to shake them off, as well as trying to knock each other off. Jake thought he had won when he kicked Doug’s tube on a turn and saw it flip upside down as the boat continued on without its rider. Jake, the inner-tube victor, his father and brother were all laughing until they stared in disbelief as they saw the tube flip over at the next turn with Doug emerging, still hanging on to the tube. This event is a metaphor for the way Doug lived his life; passionate in his love for his family and being a soldier; persevering in the face of defeat and in the pursuit of excellence, leadership, and honor. Tragically for his wife, Nicole, his family, friends, for the town of Plymouth, and especially, for a little guy named Dak, Doug DiCenzo, at 30 years old, lost his life doing the job his country asked of him. A life he chose. We will always honor him for his service and his sacrifice.

REMARKS

Rep. Naro: Mr. Speaker and Honorable members of this House, thank you for the opportunity to remember and honor one of Plymouth’s best and brightest, US Army Captain Douglas DiCenzo. Three weeks ago, more than 1,000 friends, military, and dignitaries joined the family of Captain DiCenzo for a memorial service overlooking the mountain views and football field of Plymouth Regional High School. There were many powerful tributes given that day and I believe one especially captured the essence of Doug. Doug the man, the soldier and the hero. This letter was written by Doug’s West Point roommate and close friend, US Army Captain Jake Miller and read by Jake’s parents, as he is presently serving in Iraq. I was deeply moved by his heartfelt tribute and would like to share a few excerpts from Jake’s letter with you today. He wrote:

“To Doug,

It is hard to quantify a man’s impact on the world or to explain how very special someone is when limited by the constraints of ink and paper. I suppose I could write volumes about how much it meant to me as a friend and the positive impact you had on everybody around you, but I lack the literary grace to truly and accurately convey what I really feel. That said, please let me attempt to give you just an inkling of what an amazing person you were and what a gift your life was to the rest of us. To Doug’s family and friends, passionate, hardworking, optimistic and loving, these are the four adjectives that begin best to describe the amazing person Doug DiCenzo was to me.

I met Doug when we arrived at West Point in the summer of 1995. Immediately, Doug struck me as motivated. His motivation far exceeded that of our peers. After spending just a few moments with Doug, it was obvious that his motivation was routed in his passion. Doug was a passionate person in everything he did. During our first year at West Point, Doug was passionate about being the best cadet he could be. He worked tirelessly to excel physically, academically, and most importantly to Doug, militarily. I figure anybody else would burn out living such a passionate life and always working so hard. Maybe Doug would have burnt out, if it weren’t for a third trait he always displayed. Optimism. Doug was the most optimistic person I have ever met. He was the kind of guy that would go looking for a cloud just so he could gaze at its silver lining. Anytime something went wrong, Doug would dismiss it as the only negative and focus his energy on what was going right.

As we grew and matured as cadets, Doug’s new passion was to become the very best infantry officer he could be. On May 30, 1999, the day after he graduated from West Point, Doug and I drove out the Washington gate, took a picture of the Academy in our rear view mirror, and began our lives as officers in the United States Army. By this point, Doug has internalized the old infantry adage, “Follow me,” and was ready to begin leading soldiers. It was while Doug was in the Infantry Officer Basic Corp, that I really started to see how loving he was as well. Doug called me one day and told me he had met a girl. The excitement in his voice was amazing and he was so anxious for me to meet Nicole. We made plans and all got together in Birmingham, Alabama, where I finally had the chance to meet this girl Doug was so smitten with. What a perfect match they were and it was no surprise that they were soon engaged and planning their wedding. Doug, who was always smiling, smiled even bigger when he was with Nicole. Every time I saw them together, he was smiling like he was on his first date with the girl of his dreams. A few years down the road, Doug’s heart found a way to love even more, as Nicole gave birth to their beautiful boy, Dakin.

Deploying to Kuwait, and eventually to Iraq was bittersweet for Doug. Doug did not want to be away from Nicole and Dak for a minute more than he had to. At the same time, he was proud to command his company as they moved forward and welcomed the opportunity to make an impact on the world. In an e-mail shortly after he arrived in Baghdad, Doug told me where he was located and where his company worked. He went on to talk about being in Iraq as opposed to Kuwait. This is what he said, “It is good to be here and the fourth infantry division commanding general talked to us today. He thinks we will stay through the seating of the government. I hope he is right. Our task force has lost three soldiers already and we need some time to make an impact on this area. How was your R & R leave? I can’t wait to see Nic and Dak. Nic sent some great pictures of him finger painting the other day.” It rocked. Doug was passionate about being a soldier and making a difference in his unit and Iraq. Doug was passionate about being a husband and a father, and could not wait to finish his duty here in Iraq so he could be with his loving wife and beautiful son again. Nicole, never forget how much Doug loves you. He was passionate about you and you made him a better man than he already was. Dakin, know your Daddy loves you with all his heart, he was a wonderful man and an example for all of us to live by. Please learn from his memory. He believed in what he was doing. When we were cadets at school, he would yell out the New Hampshire motto, “Live Free or Die.”

He was passionate about our freedom. He was willing to work hard to ensure our continued freedom. He was optimistic that his effort would help secure our freedom and he was loving enough that he would sacrifice his life so we can live free. Doug still lives with us in our hearts and in our memories.”

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Rep. Ober moved that the remarks of Rep. Bergeron be printed in the Permanent Journal. Without objection, the Chair ordered the remarks be printed.

REMARKS

Rep. Bergeron: Mr. Speaker, Honorable members and honored guests. On June 4th on a road outside of Baghdad, Army Specialist Daniel Gionet from the 4th Infantry Division died in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom. Daniel was 23 years old. In the horrors of war when a soldier is wounded, he looks to his God and to the medics. Specialist Daniel Gionet was a medic. Daniel Gionet was the soldier other soldiers looked to and Daniel was there for them. During the services at St. Patrick’s Church, the priest shared with the mourners, Daniel’s last moments.

After the explosive device destroyed the tank in which he was riding, Daniel ignored his own wounds and treated his wounded comrades. When other medics reached the scene, Daniel insisted that they first treat the badly wounded Lieutenant. “Don’t deal with me,” demanded Daniel. “Help the Lieutenant. He is in greater danger than me.” Daniel then died of his wounds. Greater love has no man then he lay down his life for his friend.

This was Daniel’s second tour of duty. He joined the Army shortly after graduating from Pelham High School. He served in Afghanistan as a cook, but he wanted to do more. In May of 2004, he re-enlisted. “I can’t just be a cook,” he told a friend. “I want to help people.” Five months later, he was a medic. With Daniel it was never about him. It was about others. Daniel Gionet was a young man you wanted to be around. The patriotic young man with the big smile, with the big hug, and the positive attitude. He was the one you wanted to be on your team, not because he was a star, but because he gave 110% and never quit. In a eulogy, his baseball coach noted that because he played behind one of the best catchers in the Pelham High School’s history, Daniel started only ten innings during his varsity career.

Yet, his selfless attitude earned him the Athlete of the Year Award because he represented the best of Pelham on and off the field. With Daniel it was never about him, it was about others.

Last November, Daniel married Katrina. They had their life planned out. They planned a more formal ceremony when he returned home. When writing to his family, he went out of his way to reassure them. He played down the danger. “I’m safe, Mom. I’m in a camp where nothing penetrates.” With Daniel it was never about him, it was about others.

All of us hope to leave a legacy to those we love and leave behind. Nature normally expects the legacy to be from the old to the young. Daniel left a legacy to his wife, his family and his community that we can all envy. In an era when “hero” is so overused, Daniels’ wife, Daniel’s parents, Daniel’s grandparents, Daniel’s brother and sister can truly say, “My husband, my son, my grandson, my brother actually was the genuine article – a real American hero. For what is a hero other than someone who inspires others by words and deeds, and when the chips are down is willing to put it all on the line for his family, for his country and for those around him? That is the legacy of Daniel Gionet. With Daniel it was never about him, it was about others. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Thank you to the delegation of 27 to be here to support me. Thank you.

REMARKS

Rep. O’Neil: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. For someone who has prided himself in being a man of few words, there certainly have been many words written and spoken about Doug Scamman. In the days since he announced his retirement from public service, The Union Leader wrote, “Scamman is a public servant first, a politician second. New Hampshire needs more like him.” Over on the seacoast, where we both live, Fosters Daily Democrat wrote, “He lent a common sense, honest approach to state government.” Truer words were never written and I couldn’t put it much better. Regardless on what side of the aisle you sit and regardless of whether you agree with Doug on any issue, one thing is for certain. He has treated everyone as his equal. He has been a guardian of the legislative process for the people of this state, a bipartisan consensus builder among his peers and a man who stood by every word he spoke.

It has been a pleasure and an honor to have worked with my friend, Doug Scamman, over the past two years. I think if you had to look up the words for “citizen legislator” in the encyclopedia you might find a picture of Doug Scamman. One editorial referred to him as a “throwback” to the old days when relationships mattered more than partisanship. Well, his values and methods may be old fashioned to some, but no one can argue the results of what he has accomplished in the last two years. I thank you, Mr. Speaker, for the opportunity to have served with you as the Majority Leader. I wish you and Stella well as you sit back and enjoy your children and grandchildren, something that I hope to experience, also. Doug, you’ve spoken often of being proud of the fact that you have been able to follow in the footsteps of your father in these halls, but I can also tell you that your staff and the House Majority office have been proud to have followed in your footsteps these last two years. Doug and Stella, thank you both for what you have done for this legislature, for me personally and thank you for what you have done for the people of the State of New Hampshire.

REMARKS

Rep. Craig: Mr. Speaker, I had signed up to speak before because this is my last day here, and then I took my name off because Dave Nixon first told me a long time ago, when I first got here, “Learn your lessons and make friends.” And the first lesson I learned is you don’t create hot air on a “coats off” day.

But I do want to join Rep. O’Neil in expressing my gratitude and admiration for what you have done for the State of New Hampshire. Let me just say that two years ago when I didn’t know you, I went to the source that I knew who did know you, and that was my father who served with your father here and at other places. What he said to me was that “He might smell like a cow” [He said that. You’ve got to know my father] “but you can trust him and he’s an honorable man and I’ll be shocked if the two of you don’t get along.” I think, except for the cow part, my father was absolutely right.

Again, I think I speak for most Democrats when I say; we express our sincere gratitude for all that you have done for the state, for the State House and for everyone in here.

I have one last bit of business, if I may. Rep. Lefebvre, when he was up here before, he forgot that he wanted to give his First Sergeant stripes to the Sergeant-at-Arms, so he asked me, rather than coming down here again, to present them to her.

Speaker Scamman: Since this is my last day, I thought that I would make a few remarks, too. It’s going to be a little bit of history. It’s going to be a lot of things in the same category that have already been talked about but a little bit different approach, naturally. I just want to say this – I certainly have fond memories of being here at the State House as a youngster following the footsteps of my dad as he conducted business, first as a legislator and then as a Speaker. Little did I know that one day I would return, along with my wife Stella, to follow in his footsteps for the next five decades, first as a legislator and, eventually, as Speaker of the House.
The Scamman name has certainly come full circle in this chamber, and now it is time for us to bid farewell to the State House to spend quality time with our children and grandchildren. Perhaps one day there will be yet another Scamman who will follow in our footsteps and they may be sitting right up there. And we hope that some day one of them will be elected to serve in the legislature at the State House.

Times were certainly different back when my father served. There were no computers in this building. Electronic voting was a thing of the future. In fact, it didn't come in until either my fourth or fifth term, I think it was my fourth term we had it. We used to sit here through those verbal roll calls. Blackberries were just a fruit. You certainly didn't have to worry about a cell phone going off in the middle of a committee meeting. And, everyone built strong personal friendships through gatherings at both the old Highway and the old Eagle Hotel. Just as a side bar, one of my most prized photographs I have at home is a picture of two young bucks sitting over in the Eagle Hotel, sitting around the couches, talking with quite a few legislators. One of them was Doug Scamman, the other was Bob Johnson. He still sits in this House and I certainly appreciate that Bob gave me that photo several years ago.

But one thing has not changed since those days and hopefully they never will. That is the importance of protecting this process by which we do business for the people who send us here. I strongly believe, as my father believed before me, that it is the "process" that makes this legislative body work so well. I hope that the Scamman legacy that is left behind is one of protecting this process. The strength of this legislative body lies in the committee structure and the brain power that resides with all of you, the most representative body in the United States. The committee structure is, without question, the most important element to a successful legislative session. We have proven it over the past two years through the creation of many good, public policies and in many areas, including laws to protect private property rights, laws to protect our children, and laws to boost our economy and create jobs, and certainly many to protect the environment.

As many of you know, I decided to return to the legislature two years ago because I felt strongly that we needed to address two very important issues: the education funding problem and fixing a budget that many experts projected was headed toward a $300 million dollar deficit. Together, we were successful in both areas, but we didn't do it by accident. We allowed the committees to do their work. The body, as a whole, built a foundation of knowledge on the pending subject matters. This, and a lot of hard work, resulted in well-thought-out solutions. I feel very strongly that we should always protect the work done by both chambers of this legislature. The House and joint rules disallowing non-germane amendments to be added to legislation by committees of conference are essential if we are to have open government, if we are to insure open government and protect the work done by this body. Creating successful legislation is achieved by letting the committees do their work and then by debating and voting on the issue on this floor and that floor - not by circumventing the entire process through the tactic of non-germane amendments. The important work done by our committees and the interest of the people we serve need to be protected, now and in the future. Our constituents have a right to demand open government. Open government does not happen when an amendment is added in the committee of conference that was not in either the House or Senate version of that bill.

Throughout my many years of service in these hallowed halls, I have always shown a great interest in working on the budget. I believe that we, as legislators, must serve as watchdogs for the taxpayers of this state when it comes to the budget and spending their dollars. We also need to ensure that the services people need to have delivered - because government exists, because people fall through the cracks of the family, of religion, or the economics of society - we have to make sure that whatever is needed is budgeted also. The budget process should begin, and it did this time, with the Finance Committee, who reviews requests from the department heads along with the Governor's proposal. Following due diligence, House Bill 1 is then created by the House Finance Committee.

It makes good budgetary sense to first take a close look at what monies are available. We did that. Norm Major and the Ways and Means Committee certainly did a good job doing that. Then, set realistic goals and allow the process to lead you to a balanced budget that allows us to live within our means and also to deliver what services have to be delivered. It's a lot of work. The Finance Committee did a lot of work to make that budget the way it was and I want to thank them. Just as we all must do in our personal lives, once again, I urge you to always keep the process open. I can't say enough about Fred King. He made sure that that process was always open. I really want to make mention of it because he came to us from the Senate. Fred, thank you very much.
Keep the people informed and let them know in which direction you are headed. Rely on your department heads. They’re the ones that know their budgets, they know their departments. They’ll tell you what they can afford to live without and what they absolutely have to have. They have the knowledge to help you to arrive at your budget goal. Aim to see what you would fund with the estimated revenue. In this past budget, we spent fewer general fund dollars than in the previous biennium. We did it by first using the available revenue and we then prioritized the reductions from there. At the same time, we can be prioritizing what goes back into the budget, if necessary, and what people may deem is necessary.

In closing, I would like to personally thank my leadership team who worked so hard over the past two years to help us reach our goals. Mike O’Neil, there’s nothing I can say about him except that he understands subject matter, he understands the process. He made sure that we kept going forward and he was of great assistance to making sure that we met our goals of doing what we set out to do and making sure we met the goal of getting it done in a reasonable time. Ken Weyler did a great job when I wasn’t in the Chair. He was up there, he said, “You did me a great favor, I was in the Chair 18% of the time.” These engineers, you’ve got to be careful about them, they keep track of everything. I do appreciate his support and loyalty. Pam Price, what a wonderful job she did, just a second-term legislator, as the Whip, she’s well organized, well structured, she’d let us know when we were supposed to be doing things and I think she was one of the essential parts of why this legislature was so productive in the last two years. We brought in Mary Griffin towards the end of the first session. She was working like heck for us and was doing so much work, we felt she deserved a title and the recognition of what she did and she never stopped. Thank you, Mary. We brought Fran Wendelboe in towards the end of the session because we thought we needed some help on the health and human services issues within our front office. One of the things that did was allow Mike and myself to talk more and I think that helped us a lot in the last two months of the first session. I also would like to thank minority leadership, under the guidance of Jim Craig, whose dad, as he mentioned earlier, once served alongside my father. He was Minority Leader when my father was Speaker. I want to thank all of the Democrats in the House for their loyalty of serving, and doing what they think is right. I think that we as Republicans went forward and overcame you, when you weren’t doing the right thing.

I thank all the State House and LOB legislative staff for their hard work. Certainly the LOB staff works with your people in your committees, they work for you personally when you have some personal things to do. They did a great job, they do a great job and I am proud to have had that type of service for you. You certainly needed it as you went forward and executed all the work that you did in the last two years. I want to thank the Clerk’s staff. The Clerk, as we all know, was out for a while, the Assistant Clerk, and all the members of the Clerk’s staff did a great job. I want to thank the Sergeant-at-Arms staff. The Sergeant-at-Arms staff did a great job and we all appreciate it. I want to thank all of them for their loyalty, their hard work. I want to thank especially the staff in my office. My Chief of Staff, Dick Amidon, he has been with me all the six years in office that I was in this position. He’s very loyal, his skills of dealing with all the staff are amazing and I didn’t worry about that. I wish him well as he goes forward. I want to thank Sandy Guinan. She keeps Dick and me straight, and a lot of other people. She’s a tremendous asset to this legislature and I know she’s probably cringing as she sits upstairs hearing this because she doesn’t like publicity. But, she is a blessing to us in our office and to the whole legislature. Lucy, who is out because she had an operation on her knee, has been there all through the two years, is very loyal. Teresa we brought in, there is a young lady who can work. She does more work than one can imagine. The four legislative aides who served with us through this process did a great job. Jim and Paul are still working with us. Erin left us and went to work on the other side of the legislature and Lynn Merrill did a great job when she was here in the first session.

I want to thank my committee chairs and vice chairs. They have done a great job in working within the structure of the committee process. We could not have had as many successes without your leadership in committee.

Lastly, and most importantly, I would like to thank my wife, Stella, for her undying support, not only over the past two years but throughout my many decades of public service. Her ability to lead a household, raise a family, run a business, even while serving her time in the legislature, has been amazing. Thank you. You can see she’s pretty patient, she stands up there a long time. I certainly could not have accomplished what I have without Stella at my side.
The road I have traveled certainly has not been without a few bumps along the way, but, I have no regrets in the way I chose to run this body. All in all, from the day I first followed my father through these hallowed halls to this moment in time, I have been fortunate, very fortunate, to have made many good friends on both sides of the aisle that have helped me to accomplish many, many things. I can only hope that as I leave this chamber and return to private life that people will say, there goes Doug Scamman - honest, hard-working man, who believed in the process, and who worked hard to make New Hampshire a better place to work, live and raise a family. God bless you all and God bless the State of New Hampshire.

2006 SPECIAL SESSION
HOUSE JOURNAL NO. 1
Tuesday, September 26, 2006

The House assembled at 1:00 p.m., the hour and date set in the Call for Special Session of the House by the Secretary of State, and was called to order by the Speaker.

Prayer was offered by House Chaplain, Reverend Jared A. Rardin, Pastor of the South Congregational Church in Concord.

O God of changing seasons and of eternal newness, be with us this day as we gather in special session today. Or rather, let us be with You - Open to Your stirrings, receptive to Your priorities, and faithful to that which will serve all whom we are privileged to represent in these hallowed halls. Give to us a willing spirit to work well together and to function not only out of our very best selves, but to appreciate all that is good in one another.

Receive our prayers this day for those we know who are ill or hospitalized or in a time of need in their lives; be also with all who grieve, all who struggle, and all who must wrestle mightily just to stay alive. All this we pray in Your holy name. Amen.

Rep. Claudette R. Jean, member from Nashua, led the Pledge of Allegiance.

The National Anthem was sung by all those present.

WHEREAS, the next general election is scheduled to be held on November 7, 2006 and prior to such time the General Court is not scheduled to be in session to enact a statute for the preparation of general election ballots that satisfy the constitutional strictures of the Supreme Court;

WHEREAS, under Part I, Article 11 of the New Hampshire constitution, "[e]very inhabitant of the state, having the proper qualification, has an equal right to be elected into office,...," and under Part II, Article 22, the House of Representatives shall be the judge of the elections of its members and under Part II, Article 35, the Senate shall be the judge of the election of its members;

WHEREAS, the form of ballots for the elections in this state should be as specified by the people of the State acting through its elected members of the General Court and not as specified by, or as proposed to a trial court by, litigants in a private lawsuit;

WHEREAS, delay in the performance by the General Court of its obligation to specify the form of ballots for the general election in November may result in thousands of dollars in unforeseen and unbudgeted additional costs to municipalities;

WHEREAS, delay may also cause no acceptable form of a ballot to exist in the period following the September 12, 2006 primary elections and the state and municipalities to fail to meet one or more of the following statutory deadlines:

October 6, 2006: last day for secretary of state to deliver federal overseas ballots to clerks. RSA 657:10
October 6, 2006: last day for city council to set polling hours for general election. RSA 659:4
October 24, 2006: last day for selectman to post warrant for general election. RSA 658:1
October 24, 2006: last day for supervisors to prepare and post checklist for additional polling place. RSA 658:12
October 28, 2006: last day for town clerks/supervisors to accept voter registration applications. RSA 659:12; RSA 654:8, II
October 31, 2006: last day for Secretary of State to deliver general election ballots to clerks. RSA 656:20
November 7, 2006: state general election. RSA 653:7; 654:7-a, 7-b.
WHEREAS, delay may further cause all elections to proceed under a non-statutory, judicially imposed scheme that will be subject to further challenge under state and federal laws and constitutional mandates;

WHEREAS, immediate legislative action is required to correct these problems to ensure that the State’s general election in November, 2006 and its general elections thereafter are conducted in a manner that is in a constitutional and fair manner proposed by its elected representatives.

NOW THEREFORE, we, the undersigned, believe that the welfare of the state requires a special session of the General Court for the immediate enactment of laws specifying the form of general election ballots and therefore, pursuant to RSA 16 petition for the calling of a special session of the General Court:

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

COMMUNICATION
June 27, 2006
Hon. W. Douglas Scamman, Jr.
Speaker of the House
Third Floor, State House
107 North Main Street
Concord, NH 03301

Dear Mr. Speaker:
I am writing to inform you that on Thursday, June 29, 2006 at 5 p.m. I will be resigning from the office of State Representative. It has been an honor to serve under your leadership in this legislative body representing the residents of Ward 4 Manchester for the past two years.
Sincerely,
Caitlin A. Daniuk
State Representative, Hills. 11

The Speaker accepted the resignation, with regret.

ADOPTION OF RULES
Reps. O’Neil and Craig moved that the House adopt the rules of the 2006 Special Session.

New Hampshire House of Representatives
PROPOSED RULES OF THE SPECIAL SESSION
September 26, 2006

DUTIES OF THE SPEAKER
1. The Speaker shall take the chair at precisely the hour specified in the Call for the Special Session and shall immediately call the members to order.
2. The Speaker shall preserve decorum and order, may speak on points of order in preference to other members, and shall decide questions of order. The decision of the Speaker on a question of order shall be conclusive unless the decision is immediately appealed to the House. The House shall decide the appeal by a majority vote of those members present and voting.
3. The Speaker shall appoint all committees unless otherwise directed by the House.
4. The Speaker shall not be called on to vote unless the vote would be decisive. If the vote is tied after the Speaker has voted, the question shall be lost.
5. The Speaker shall sign all bills after passage or enrollment. All warrants, subpoenas and other processes issued by order of the House shall be signed by the Speaker and attested to by the Clerk.
6. The Speaker or chairman of the committee of the whole House shall have the power to order the gallery cleared in cases of any disturbance or disorderly conduct.
7. The Speaker shall have power to substitute any member to perform the duties of the Chair. If absent, the Speaker shall designate a member to perform the duties of the Chair unless otherwise ordered by the House.

DECORUM AND DEBATE
8. When the House is called to order, members shall take their seats and shall activate their voting stations immediately. When they leave their seats for any reason they shall deactivate their stations.
9. In all cases not provided for by the Constitution or Special Session Rules, Mason’s Manual of Legislative Procedure, 2000 Edition, shall be the parliamentary guide.
10. When any member is about to speak in debate, make a motion, or deliver any matter to the House, the member shall rise from his or her seat and respectfully address the Speaker, declaring the purpose for which the member rises to speak.
11. In all cases the member rising first shall speak first. When two or more members rise at the same time, the Speaker shall name the person to speak. When many members choose to speak, they may file their names with the Clerk, who shall supply the list to the Speaker. The Speaker shall name the order in which the members shall speak.

12. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question without permission from the House. No member shall speak more than once until every member choosing to speak has spoken.

13. While the Speaker is putting a question or addressing the House, no one shall walk out of or across the House. While a member is speaking, no one shall pass between that member and the other members of the House, nor shall anyone engage in private conversation.

14. If any member transgresses the rules of the House, the Speaker shall, or any member may, call the member to order. The member called to order shall immediately sit down and the question of order shall be distinctly stated by the Speaker.

15. In all instances, every member shall act in conformance with the duly adopted New Hampshire General Court Ethics Guidelines and opinions of the Legislative Ethics Committee.

16. (a) The following persons shall be admitted within the door of the Representatives’ chamber while the House is in session: House members and officers, the Governor, Council members, Senate members, the Secretary of State, the Treasurer, and the Senate Clerks.

(b) No other person shall be admitted within the door of the Representatives’ chamber or anteroom while the House is in session, except with the permission of the Speaker.

17. Before any petition is received and read, the substance of the petition shall be in concise form, and the name of the person presenting it shall be recorded on the petition. The Speaker shall state the substance of the petition.

18. After a motion is stated by the Speaker, it shall be in possession of the House, but may be withdrawn at any time before an amendment.

19. (a) When any question is under debate, precedence of motions shall be as follows:

(1) to adjourn;
(2) to lay on the table;
(3) for the previous question;
(4) to postpone to a certain day;
(5) to commit;
(6) to amend;
(7) to postpone indefinitely.

Motions to adjourn, to lay on the table, for the previous question, and to take from the table shall be decided without debate. A motion to postpone to a certain day shall be debatable both as to time and subject matter.

(b) When a question is postponed indefinitely, it shall not be acted on during the same session, unless two-thirds of those members present and voting vote in favor thereof.

(c) No new motion shall be admitted under color of amendment as a substitute for the motion under debate.

20. (a) The Speaker shall put the previous question in the following form: “Shall debate now be limited?” and all debate on the main question shall be suspended until the previous question has been decided. After the adoption of the previous question, the sense of the House shall forthwith be taken on pending amendments, in their regular order, and then on the main question.

(b) All incidental questions of order arising after a motion of the previous question and related to the subjects affected by the order of the previous question shall be decided without debate.

(c) If the previous question is decided in the negative, it shall not again be in order for the particular question under consideration until after adjournment, but the main question shall be left before the House and disposed of as though the previous question had not been put.

21. There shall be three forms of deciding the question: voice vote, division vote, roll call vote. No member shall vote in any case when the member was not present when the question was put.

(a) The question put by voice vote shall be: “All those in favor of the question say ‘aye,’” and after the affirmative vote is expressed, “Those of a contrary opinion say ‘no.’”

(b) A division vote shall be taken if the Speaker doubts the voice vote or if a member calls for a division vote. When a division of the House is taken, the Speaker may appoint a teller for each seating division of the House, who shall report to the Chair the state of the vote.
(c) A roll call shall be taken when a member moves for a roll call vote and that motion is seconded by 10 other members. The member requesting the roll call vote and the 10 members who second the motion shall notify the clerk in writing or shall rise from their seats or otherwise be recognized by the Speaker.

(d) When a division or a roll call is taken, the Speaker shall put the question and open the voting stations for not more than 30 seconds. Each member present at his or her voting station shall press either the YES (Green) or NO (Red) button unless excused by the House for a special reason. After closing the vote, the Speaker shall rise and state the decision of the House.

22. In case of a tie vote, the question shall be lost.

23. No member shall leave his or her seat while the voting machine is in use and until the Speaker announces the result of the vote.

24. No vote shall be reconsidered unless the motion for reconsideration is made by a member who voted with the prevailing side while the bill is in the possession of the House.

(a) A motion for reconsideration shall be in order only until the time the House stands in final recess on the day the vote was taken.

(b) When notice of reconsideration is received by the House, the Clerk of the House shall hold the bill or resolution relative to which such notice has been served until the expiration of the time within which such notice is effective.

25. When the reading of a paper or a document is objected to by a member, the question shall be determined by a vote of the House without debate.

26. All members shall attend to their duties in the House and no one shall be absent from the service of the House unless the member has leave, or is sick and unable to attend.

BILLS

27. Enactment of laws, as provided in the Petition which resulted in the Call for the Special Session, shall be by bill. No bill shall be introduced into the House the subject matter of which is not included in the final paragraph of the Petition which resulted in the Call for the Special Session.

28.(a) The Office of Legislative Services shall identify LSRs in language which makes clear the intent of the bill. LSRs, with the name(s) of the sponsor(s), shall be published by the Office of Legislative Services. The Speaker of the House shall adjudicate any disagreement concerning the publication of LSRs that may arise between bill sponsors and the Office of Legislative Services.

(b) The Office of Legislative Services shall not accept a request to draft any bill or resolution the subject matter of which is not included in the final paragraph of the Petition which resulted in the Call for the Special Session.

(c) The Office of Legislative Services shall not accept a request to draft any bill which is the same, or essentially the same, as any other drafting request already accepted. If duplicate or similar legislation is requested, the Director of Legislative Services shall notify the sponsors of each filing request and mediate an agreement for the filing of a single bill. Filing requests resulting from legislative committee work shall take precedence over all other duplicate or similar filings. The name of the House member whose LSR request is denied due to duplication may be substituted on request for that of the original sponsor if the original sponsor withdraws the drafting request prior to the sign-off deadline.

(d) All bills to be introduced in the House shall be delivered or caused to be delivered to the Office of Legislative Services by the member presenting them. The Office of Legislative Services shall prepare those bills in proper form and shall present them to the member(s) for signature. Legislative Services shall give precedence in drafting legislation to any measure which carries a fiscal note.

(e) All bills shall be endorsed with the name and the district of the legislator presenting them. All legislation shall be numbered serially. Each bill shall be marked on the first page “House Bill.”

(f) No LSR number shall be assigned and no House bill shall be drafted unless the LSR or bill has a House sponsor. No more than 5 House members shall be allowed to sponsor any bill or floor amendment. No more than 5 Senate members shall be allowed to co-sponsor legislation originating in the House.

(g) If a drafting request for a bill filed with the Office of Legislative Services requires a fiscal note as provided in RSA 14:44-47, the substance or a draft of the proposal may be provided to the Legislative Budget Assistant for preparation of the required fiscal note without the specific consent of the sponsor of the proposal.

(h) For the purposes of these rules, money bills are those that either appropriate money or affect state revenues, whether new or existing.
29. Every request by a member of the House for drafting a bill which complies with these rules shall be accepted by the Office of Legislative Services for processing. Each request shall be accompanied by sufficient information necessary for drafting.

30.(a) If the primary sponsor signs the legislation in time for introduction, but one or more co-sponsors fails to sign, the legislation shall be introduced in the names of those sponsors who have signed. If the primary sponsor fails to sign the legislation in time for introduction, a co-sponsor may become the primary sponsor. If the primary sponsor fails to sign, and no co-sponsor wishes to become the primary sponsor, the legislation may not be introduced.

(b) An LSR may be withdrawn at any time prior to its introduction with the consent of all of its sponsors. Any sponsor may request that his or her name be deleted as a sponsor of the bill prior to its introduction.

31. Every bill shall have three separate readings in the House prior to its passage. The first and second readings shall be by title only which may be accomplished by a single motion. No bill after it has been read a second time shall have a third reading until after adjournment from the early session. The time assigned for the third reading of bills shall be in the late session unless otherwise ordered by the House. The orders of the day for the reading of bills shall hold for every succeeding day until disposed.

32. After each bill has been numbered, the Clerk shall procure a sufficient number of copies for distribution.

33.(a) No amendment shall be made until the second reading of a bill. All amendments to bills shall be prepared by the Office of Legislative Services, with the name of the member and the district represented by the member or the name of the policy committee proposing the amendment.

(b) No amendment shall be added to any bill, which is not germane to the subject matter of the legislative document as introduced.

(c) When a bill comes before the House, the body shall first consider a positive motion. The Speaker shall not permit a negative motion to be substituted until the House has properly disposed of a positive motion.

34. No standing rule of the House Special Session shall be suspended unless two-thirds of the members present vote in favor thereof. A motion to suspend the rules is debatable.

35. No rule shall be rescinded unless two days notice of a motion has been given and two-thirds of House members present vote therefor.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE HOUSE

36. The House may resolve itself into a committee of the whole at any time on the motion of a member made for that purpose. In forming a committee of the whole House, the Speaker shall leave the chair, and a chairman to preside in committee shall be appointed by the Speaker.

37. When a bill is committed to a committee of the whole House, the entire bill shall first be read by the Clerk, and then again read and debated by clauses, leaving the preamble of the bill to be considered last. The body of the bill or resolution shall not be defaced or interlined, but all amendments, noting the page and line, shall be duly entered by the Clerk on a separate paper, as they are agreed to by the committee and so reported to the House. After reporting, the bill shall again be subject to debate and amendment by clauses before a question to pass it to a third reading is taken.

38. The rules of proceeding in the House shall be observed in the committee of the whole House, as far as they may be applicable, except the rule limiting the time of speaking.

ORDER OF BUSINESS

39.(a) The order of business in the early session shall be as follows:

1. Prayer by the Chaplain and pledge of allegiance;
2. Call of the Roll;
3. Leaves of absence if received before the start of the legislative day;
4. Introduction of guests;
5. Adoption of Rules;
6. Introduction, first and second reading and consideration of bills;
7. Messages from the Senate, the Governor and the Secretary of State;
8. Resolutions, motions and notices;
9. Adjournment from the early session.

(b) The order of business in the late session shall be as follows:

1. Third reading of bills;
2. Resolutions and motions;
3. Personal privilege.
4. Adjournment.

(c) The order of business listed in this rule shall be adhered to unless otherwise ordered by a majority of those members of the House present and voting.
(d) Leaves of absence may be granted by the House at any time.

40. If the Special Session continues for more than one legislative day, the unfinished business in which the House was engaged at the last preceding adjournment, if called for by any member, shall have preference over all other business except the general order of the day; and nor motion, or any other business except the general order of the day, shall be received without special leave of the House, until the former is disposed.

OFFICERS AND PERSONNEL

41. The elected and appointed non-member officers and personnel of the House shall be under the direction of the Speaker, who shall define their duties not fixed by statute or otherwise ordered by the House.

42. No officer or employee of the House during the Special Session or any adjournment thereof shall purchase or contract to purchase, pay or promise to pay any sum of money on behalf of the House or issue any requisition or manifest without securing the approval in writing of the Speaker of the House or designee.

43. The Speaker may appoint an individual trained and experienced in security matters or law enforcement work, who, under the supervision and direction of the Speaker, shall prevent the deliberations of the House from being disrupted or interfered with by any person or persons not members thereof.

44. No employee or attaché of the House Sergeant-at-Arms shall, directly or indirectly, be personally involved with or attempt to influence the passage or consideration of any measure whatsoever. If any such employee or attaché becomes involved with any such measure, it shall be grounds for summary dismissal.

MISCELLANEOUS

45. No person, including members of the House, except law enforcement officers while actively engaged in carrying out their duties as such, shall carry or have in possession any deadly weapon as defined in RSA 625:11, V while in the House Chamber, anterooms, cloakrooms, or any portion of the State House adjacent to any of the above. Any person in violation of this rule shall be subject to ejection from any such premises on the order of the Speaker and disciplinary action or arrest or both by action of the House. Nothing in this rule shall indicate that the security officer appointed by the House has the right to stop and search a member of the House on the premises of the House. With the exception of devices for the hearing impaired, no member shall operate audible electronic transmitting devices and/or receiving devices nor shall any member operate a video camera or a camera utilizing flash bulbs on the floor of the House, while the House is in Special Session. Rep. Pepino offered floor amendment (2410h).

Floor Amendment (2410h)

Amend House Rule 27 to read as follows:

27. Enactment of laws, the subject matter of which is included in the final paragraph of the Petition which resulted in the Call for the Special Session, shall be by bill. No bill or resolution shall be introduced into the House the subject matter of which is not included in the final paragraph of the Petition which resulted in the Call for the Special Session, except for constitutional amendment concurrent resolutions the subject matter of which is adequate education or education funding.

Amend House Rule 28(b) to read as follows:

(b) The Office of Legislatives Services shall not accept a request to draft any bill or resolution the subject matter of which is not included in the final paragraph of the Petition which resulted in the Call for the Special Session, except for constitutional amendment concurrent resolutions the subject matter of which is adequate education or education funding.

Rep. DiFruscia spoke against.
Rep. David Campbell inquired if floor amendment (2410h) was germane. The Speaker ruled the amendment was germane.
Rep. Pepino requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

and floor amendment (2410h) failed.
Rep. Coburn offered floor amendment (2414h).

Floor Amendment (2414h)
Amend the House Rules of the 2006 special session to read as follows:

DUTIES OF THE SPEAKER
1. The Speaker shall take the chair at precisely the hour specified in the Call for the Special Session and shall immediately call the members to order.
2. The Speaker shall preserve decorum and order, may speak on points of order in preference to other members, and shall decide questions of order. The decision of the Speaker on a question of order shall be conclusive unless the decision is immediately appealed to the House. The House shall decide the appeal by a majority vote of those members present and voting.
3. The Speaker shall appoint all committees unless otherwise directed by the House.
4. The Speaker shall not be called on to vote unless the vote would be decisive. If the vote is tied after the Speaker has voted, the question shall be lost.
5. The Speaker shall sign all bills after passage or enrollment. All warrants, subpoenas and other processes issued by order of the House shall be signed by the Speaker and attested to by the Clerk.
6. The Speaker or chairman of the committee of the whole House shall have the power to order the gallery cleared in cases of any disturbance or disorderly conduct.
7. The Speaker shall have power to substitute any member to perform the duties of the Chair. If absent, the Speaker shall designate a member to perform the duties of the Chair unless otherwise ordered by the House.

DECORUM AND DEBATE
8. When the House is called to order, members shall take their seats and shall activate their voting stations immediately. When they leave their seats for any reason they shall deactivate their stations.
10. When any member is about to speak in debate, make a motion, or deliver any matter to the House, the member shall rise from his or her seat and respectfully address the Speaker, declaring the purpose for which the member rises to speak.
11. In all cases the member rising first shall speak first. When two or more members rise at the same time, the Speaker shall name the person to speak. When many members choose to speak, they may file their names with the Clerk, who shall supply the list to the Speaker. The Speaker shall name the order in which the members shall speak.
12. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question without permission from the House. No member shall speak more than once until every member choosing to speak has spoken.
13. While the Speaker is putting a question or addressing the House, no one shall walk out of or across the House. While a member is speaking, no one shall pass between that member and the other members of the House, nor shall anyone engage in private conversation.
14. If any member transgresses the rules of the House, the Speaker shall, or any member may, call the member to order. The member called to order shall immediately sit down and the question of order shall be distinctly stated by the Speaker.
15. In all instances, every member shall act in conformance with the duly adopted New Hampshire General Court Ethics Guidelines and opinions of the Legislative Ethics Committee.
16. (a) The following persons shall be admitted within the door of the Representatives’ chamber while the House is in session: House members and officers, the Governor, Council members, Senate members, the Secretary of State, the Treasurer, and the Senate Clerks.
(b) No other person shall be admitted within the door of the Representatives’ chamber or anteroom while the House is in session, except with the permission of the Speaker.
17. Before any petition is received and read, the substance of the petition shall be in concise form, and the name of the person presenting it shall be recorded on the petition. The Speaker shall state the substance of the petition.
18. After a motion is stated by the Speaker, it shall be in possession of the House, but may be withdrawn at any time before an amendment.
19. (a) When any question is under debate, precedence of motions shall be as follows:
   (1) to adjourn;
   (2) to lay on the table;
   (3) for the previous question;
   (4) to postpone to a certain day;
   (5) to commit;
   (6) to amend;
   (7) to postpone indefinitely.
Motions to adjourn, to lay on the table, for the previous question, and to take from the table shall be decided without debate. A motion to postpone to a certain day shall be debatable both as to time and subject matter.
   (b) When a question is postponed indefinitely, it shall not be acted on during the same session, unless two-thirds of those members present and voting vote in favor thereof.
   (c) No new motion shall be admitted under color of amendment as a substitute for the motion under debate.
20. (a) The Speaker shall put the previous question in the following form: “Shall debate now be limited?” and all debate on the main question shall be suspended until the previous question has been decided. After the adoption of the previous question, the sense of the House shall forthwith be taken on pending amendments, in their regular order, and then on the main question.
(b) All incidental questions of order arising after a motion of the previous question and related to the subjects affected by the order of the previous question shall be decided without debate.
(c) If the previous question is decided in the negative, it shall not again be in order for the particular question under consideration until after adjournment, but the main question shall be left before the House and disposed of as though the previous question had not been put.
21. There shall be three forms of deciding the question: voice vote, division vote, roll call vote.
No member shall vote in any case when the member was not present when the question was put.
   (a) The question put by voice vote shall be: “All those in favor of the question say ‘aye,’” and after the affirmative vote is expressed, “Those of a contrary opinion say ‘no.’”
   (b) A division vote shall be taken if the Speaker doubts the voice vote or if a member calls for a division vote. When a division of the House is taken, the Speaker may appoint a teller for each seating division of the House, who shall report to the Chair the state of the vote.
   (c) A roll call shall be taken when a member moves for a roll call vote and that motion is seconded by 10 other members. The member requesting the roll call vote and the 10 members who second the motion shall notify the clerk in writing or shall rise from their seats or otherwise be recognized by the Speaker.
   (d) When a division or a roll call is taken, the Speaker shall put the question and open the voting stations for not more than 30 seconds. Each member present at his or her voting station shall press either the YES (Green) or NO (Red) button unless excused by the House for a special reason. After closing the vote, the Speaker shall rise and state the decision of the House.
22. In case of a tie vote, the question shall be lost.

23. No member shall leave his or her seat while the voting machine is in use and until the Speaker announces the result of the vote.

24. No vote shall be reconsidered unless the motion for reconsideration is made by a member who voted with the prevailing side while the bill is in the possession of the House.
   (a) A motion for reconsideration shall be in order only until the time the House stands in final recess on the day the vote was taken.
   (b) When notice of reconsideration is received by the House, the Clerk of the House shall hold the bill or resolution relative to which such notice has been served until the expiration of the time within which such notice is effective.

25. When the reading of a paper or a document is objected to by a member, the question shall be determined by a vote of the House without debate.

26. All members shall attend to their duties in the House and no one shall be absent from the service of the House unless the member has leave, or is sick and unable to attend.

BILLS

27. No bill shall be introduced into the House the subject matter of which is not election ballots, education funding, or taxes.

28. (a) The Office of Legislative Services shall identify LSRs in language which makes clear the intent of the bill. LSRs, with the name(s) of the sponsor(s), shall be published by the Office of Legislative Services. The Speaker of the House shall adjudicate any disagreement concerning the publication of LSRs that may arise between bill sponsors and the Office of Legislative Services.

(b) The Office of Legislative Services shall not accept a request to draft any bill or resolution the subject matter of which is not election ballots, education funding, or taxes.

(c) The Office of Legislative Services shall not accept a request to draft any bill which is the same, or essentially the same, as any other drafting request already accepted. If duplicate or similar legislation is requested, the Director of Legislative Services shall notify the sponsors of each filing request and mediate an agreement for the filing of a single bill. Filing requests resulting from legislative committee work shall take precedence over all other duplicate or similar filings. The name of the House member whose LSR request is denied due to duplication may be substituted on request for that of the original sponsor if the original sponsor withdraws the drafting request prior to the sign-off deadline.

(d) All bills to be introduced in the House shall be delivered or caused to be delivered to the Office of Legislative Services by the member presenting them. The Office of Legislative Services shall prepare those bills in proper form and shall present them to the member(s) for signature. Legislative Services shall give precedence in drafting legislation to any measure which carries a fiscal note.

(e) All bills shall be endorsed with the name and the district of the legislator presenting them. All legislation shall be numbered serially. Each bill shall be marked on the first page “House Bill.”

(f) No LSR number shall be assigned and no House bill shall be drafted unless the LSR or bill has a House sponsor. No more than 5 House members shall be allowed to sponsor any bill or floor amendment. No more than 5 Senate members shall be allowed to co-sponsor legislation originating in the House.

(g) If a drafting request for a bill filed with the Office of Legislative Services requires a fiscal note as provided in RSA 14:44-47, the substance or a draft of the proposal may be provided to the Legislative Budget Assistant for preparation of the required fiscal note without the specific consent of the sponsor of the proposal.

(h) For the purposes of these rules, money bills are those that either appropriate money or affect state revenues, whether new or existing.

29. Every request by a member of the House for drafting a bill which complies with these rules shall be accepted by the Office of Legislative Services for processing. Each request shall be accompanied by sufficient information necessary for drafting.

30. (a) If the primary sponsor signs the legislation in time for introduction, but one or more co-sponsors fail to sign, the legislation shall be introduced in the names of those sponsors who have signed. If the primary sponsor fails to sign the legislation in time for introduction, a co-sponsor may become the primary sponsor. If the primary sponsor fails to sign, and no co-sponsor wishes to become the primary sponsor, the legislation may not be introduced.

(b) An LSR may be withdrawn at any time prior to its introduction with the consent of all of its sponsors. Any sponsor may request that his or her name be deleted as a sponsor of the bill prior to its introduction.
31. Every bill shall have three separate readings in the House prior to its passage. The first and second readings shall be by title only which may be accomplished by a single motion. No bill after it has been read a second time shall have a third reading until after adjournment from the early session. The time assigned for the third reading of bills shall be in the late session unless otherwise ordered by the House. The orders of the day for the reading of bills shall hold for every succeeding day until disposed.

32. After each bill has been numbered, the Clerk shall procure a sufficient number of copies for distribution.

33.(a) No amendment shall be made until the second reading of a bill. All amendments to bills shall be prepared by the Office of Legislative Services, with the name of the member and the district represented by the member or the name of the policy committee proposing the amendment.

(b) No amendment shall be added to any bill, which is not germane to the subject matter of the legislative document as introduced.

(c) When a bill comes before the House, the body shall first consider a positive motion. The Speaker shall not permit a negative motion to be substituted until the House has properly disposed of a positive motion.

34. No standing rule of the House Special Session shall be suspended unless two-thirds of the members present vote in favor thereof. A motion to suspend the rules is debatable.

35. No rule shall be rescinded unless two days notice of a motion has been given and two-thirds of House members present vote therefor.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE HOUSE

36. The House may resolve itself into a committee of the whole at any time on the motion of a member made for that purpose. In forming a committee of the whole House, the Speaker shall leave the chair, and a chairman to preside in committee shall be appointed by the Speaker.

37. When a bill is committed to a committee of the whole House, the entire bill shall first be read by the Clerk, and then again read and debated by clauses, leaving the preamble of the bill to be considered last. The body of the bill or resolution shall not be defaced or interlined, but all amendments, noting the page and line, shall be duly entered by the Clerk on a separate paper, as they are agreed to by the committee and so reported to the House. After reporting, the bill shall again be subject to debate and amendment by clauses before a question to pass it to a third reading is taken.

38. The rules of proceeding in the House shall be observed in the committee of the whole House, as far as they may be applicable, except the rule limiting the time of speaking.

ORDER OF BUSINESS

39.(a) The order of business in the early session shall be as follows:

1. Prayer by the Chaplain and pledge of allegiance;
2. Call of the Roll;
3. Leaves of absence if received before the start of the legislative day;
4. Introduction of guests;
5. Adoption of Rules;
6. Introduction, first and second reading and consideration of bills;
7. Resolutions, motions and notices;
8. Adjournment from the early session.

(b) The order of business in the late session shall be as follows:

1. Third reading of bills;
2. Resolutions and motions;
3. Personal privilege.
4. Adjournment.

(c) The order of business listed in this rule shall be adhered to unless otherwise ordered by a majority of those members of the House present and voting.

(d) Leaves of absence may be granted by the House at any time.

40. If the Special Session continues for more than one legislative day, the unfinished business in which the House was engaged at the last preceding adjournment, if called for by any member, shall have preference over all other business except the general order of the day; and no motion, or any other business except the general order of the day, shall be received without special leave of the House, until the former is disposed.
OFFICERS AND PERSONNEL

41. The elected and appointed non-member officers and personnel of the House shall be under the direction of the Speaker, who shall define their duties not fixed by statute or otherwise ordered by the House.

42. No officer or employee of the House during the Special Session or any adjournment thereof shall purchase or contract to purchase, pay or promise to pay any sum of money on behalf of the House or issue any requisition or manifest without securing the approval in writing of the Speaker of the House or designee.

43. The Speaker may appoint an individual trained and experienced in security matters or law enforcement work, who, under the supervision and direction of the Speaker, shall prevent the deliberations of the House from being disrupted or interfered with by any person or persons not members thereof.

44. No employee or attaché of the House Sergeant-at-Arms shall, directly or indirectly, be personally involved with or attempt to influence the passage or consideration of any measure whatsoever. If any such employee or attaché becomes involved with any such measure, it shall be grounds for summary dismissal.

MISCELLANEOUS

45. No person, including members of the House, except law enforcement officers while actively engaged in carrying out their duties as such, shall carry or have in possession any deadly weapon as defined in RSA 625:11, V while in the House Chamber, anterooms, cloakrooms, or any portion of the State House adjacent to any of the above. Any person in violation of this rule shall be subject to ejection from any such premises on the order of the Speaker and disciplinary action or arrest or both by action of the House. Nothing in this rule shall indicate that the security officer appointed by the House has the right to stop and search a member of the House on the premises of the House. With the exception of devices for the hearing impaired, no member shall operate audible electronic transmitting devices and/or receiving devices nor shall any member operate a video camera or a camera utilizing flash bulbs on the floor of the House, while the House is in Special Session.

SENATE MESSAGE

Mr. Speaker:
The Senate, pursuant to a call from the Secretary of State, has assembled and is now ready to proceed with the business of the special session.

SENATE MESSAGE

Mr. Speaker:
The Senate has passed the Special Session Bill with the following title, in the passage of which it asks the concurrence of the House of Representatives.

Special Session SB1, relative to preparation of 2006 state general election ballots.

RESOLUTION

Rep. O’Neil offered the following: RESOLVED that in accordance with the list in the possession of the Clerk, Senate Bill 1 shall be by this resolution read a first and second time by the therein listed title. Adopted.

INTRODUCTION OF SENATE BILL

First, second reading

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL

SB 1, relative to preparation of 2006 state general election ballots.

MOTION TO LAY ON THE TABLE

Rep. Vaillancourt moved that SB 1, relative to preparation of 2006 state general election ballots, be laid on the table.

Motion failed.

Floor Amendment (2421h)

Amend the bill by inserting after the enacting clause the following and renumbering the original sections 1-3 to read as 2-4, respectively:

I. Purpose. All power of government is derived from the people, Article 1, Part First of the Constitution of New Hampshire, Bill of Rights. The people have given to the legislative branch of their government only, in Article 29, Part First, the sole power of suspending the laws. Therefore, it is the legislative intent of this bill for the general court to restate and reassert its constitutional authority with regard to state elections.

Amend paragraph II of section 2 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

II. In preparing ballots for the 2006 state general election for any town or ward where there is more than one candidate in a party column for any office, the names of the candidates for that office in the party column shall be listed according to the surnames of the candidates. The names of the candidates shall be printed with the given name first. The secretary of state shall hold a public drawing in the secretary of state’s office to pick randomly one letter of the alphabet for that election year. The candidates shall be listed alphabetically according to their surnames within each party column. The letter picked for that election year shall be treated as the first letter of the alphabet, and alphabetization shall follow from that letter forward to the letter immediately preceding the letter picked. For example, if the letter “t” is picked, alphabetization shall proceed from “t” to “z,” and then from “a” to “s.” Should more than one candidate’s surname begin with the same letter, the first letter in the surnames which is different shall be the letter to determine placement of the names on the ballot.

Amend the bill by replacing section 4 with the following:

4 Effective Date.
II. Section 3 of this act shall take effect December 31, 2006.
II. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

(Rep. Francoeur in the Chair)

Rep. Vaillancourt spoke against and yielded to questions.
Rep. Whalley yielded to questions.
Rep. Hess spoke in favor and yielded to questions.
Rep. David Campbell moved floor amendment (2421h) be divided and spoke to the motion. The Speaker ruled that the amendment was divisible and so ordered.

The question now being adoption of Section I (lines 1-8) of floor amendment (2421h). Rep. Balboni spoke in favor.
Rep. Soltani requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.
