Priscilla Preston is Queen of 1940 Carnival

Wildcat Skiers Defeat Five College Teams at Annual Winter Carnival

The largest winter carnival in nineteen years, sponsored by the Outing Club, was held here February 1st, 2nd and 3rd. Miss Priscilla Preston, a sophomore and a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority, was chosen as queen and was crowned on a mammoth throne of snow and ice beside the ice-covered swimming pool. Betty Ridlon, Alpha Chi Omega; Frances McCrillis, Chi Omega; Eleanor Critcherson, Chi Omega; and Evelyn Gillett, Alpha Xi Delta were chosen as the queen's court.

For the second year Phi Mu Delta fraternity was awarded first prize in the snow sculpturing contest for their "Three Men in a Tub," while Chi Omega's "Little Miss Muffet" took first place among the sorority entries.

The carnival festivities were opened by a basketball game between the all-star "Carnivorous Co-eds", of the women's physical education department and a team composed of varsity football players. Despite a 6 point lead piled up early in the game, the men, hammered by unfamiliar women's rules, went down to a 19-17 defeat.

Before the coronation, Ernest Nawe, Paul Harrington, and Ruth Hill, professional skaters from Boston, entertained the crowd of students and guests with stunt and figure skating on the brightly light rink. Donald Turner, Nashua drum major, twirled his baton while skating.

The "Parade of Nursery Rhymes," a pageant enacted by students portraying Mother Goose characters, followed the presentation of the snow sculpturing awards. The final event of the evening was the midnight show at the Franklin theatre, where students hurled three small cabbages and six and a half bushels of peanuts and popcorn.

New Hampshire placed first in the ski events, defeating teams from Dartmouth, Maine, Middlebury, Vermont, and M.I.T. The league leading Boston College hockey team defeated the Wildcats by a score of 6-1.

At the Carnival Ball, held in the Women's Gym the evening of February second, music was furnished by the well-known orchestra led by Tony Pastor.

NOTICE

If the anonymous artist who mailed the editor his or her conception of a Carnival Queen will make himself or herself known to the editor he will receive the latter's thanks for an excellent bit of artistry as well as praise for the quality of the sketch.

In the WILDCAT there are dandy Heart-shaped boxes full of candy. Some are red and some are white, Send one to your heart's delight. Our cards are swell, They're nice and witty. The ten cent ones are really pretty. Now don't you skip these little dandies, Or our choice of wholesome candies. If you do you'll be in line, For another Valentine.

Former Students Marry Secretly in Lexington

Pearl S. Pierce, '39, and George E. Terris, '38, were secretly married in Lexington, Mass., on September 6, 1939. While on campus both Mr. and Mrs. Terris were prominent in many campus activities. Among other things, Mrs. Terris belong to the Glee Club, Gamma Kappa, Gilbert and Sullivan Society, Outing Club, International Relations Club, and Christian Work. Her husband was a member of Theta Chi, edited the 1938 Granite, and was active in the Outing Club. At present they are living at 15 Marshall Street, Nashua, New Hampshire.

Engelhardt Speaks on College Spirit

President Engelhardt spoke on appreciation of benefits and the maintenance of college spirit at the University convocation held in the Field House Thursday afternoon, February 8. Mr. Bjornar Bergethon of the music department directed the band and led the school in singing college songs. The men's and women's glee clubs sang selections which were very well received. Richard Nelson, president of the Student Council, made several announcements before introducing President Engelhardt.

First expressing a hope that convocations may be more frequent in the future, Mr. Engelhardt went on to recommend that every student attend at least one of the lectures of Vocations Days. He then gave some interesting figures about the comparison (Continued on page 4)

Annual Vocation Days Events Start Tuesday

Slight Enrollment Drop Shown by Registration

According to figures issued from the registrar's office Tuesday night, there are 1862 students in school this semester in comparison with the 1915 students that were here at the corresponding time last semester. Of this number there are six new students who have been admitted.

According to colleges they are as follows: 181 in the agricultural college, 48 in the two-year agriculture course, 1195 in the liberal arts college, 363 in the college of technology, and 75 graduate students. Of these 1267 are men and 595 women.

Professional Men and Women Advise Students In Choosing Vocations

by Faith Williams

This is the time of the year when ambitious students start wondering about applying for jobs, and the frantic inquiries begin about how to write the all-important letter of application. But this year, unforeseen help is coming to them, not out of the heavenly blue, but in the person of Dr. Joseph Bird, personnel director at the Babson Institute of Wellesley, Massachusetts, who is going to give some valuable tips on the gentle art of writing a letter of application. The lecture will be at the Gymnasium, Tuesday at 1:30. Just preceding him is Mr. Paul Boynton, employment manager of the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, speaking on the "Technique of Interviewing." Between the two of them, they ought to be able to clear up a lot of difficulties, and prevent a lot of shaking knees this summer.

Wednesday, at 1:30 in the gym, Dr. J. C. Wright, assistant commissioner (Continued on page 4)

DONALD A. LAWSON

Science Societies To Present Films

The films, "Steel, Man's Servant" (in Technicolor) and "Cool Heads," will be shown under the auspices of Mu Chapter of Alpha Chi Sigma and the Graduate Science Society. The pictures will be at the Franklin Theatre, February 15, 1940 at 1 P.M. sharp.

The first film is the story of the manufacture of steel in color and was taken in the works of the U. S. Steel Company.

The second deals with efficient cooling of modern automobile engines and is from the DuPont Company.

The whole show will last about one hour. All are invited. No admission charge.

Pan-Hellenic Sponsors Annual Sorority Dance

The annual Pan-Hellenic dance for sorority girls will be held on Thursday night, February 29, at the Women's Gym. The various committees have been chosen and plans are rapidly materializing to make this dance one of the big social events of the year. It has not been decided yet whether this dance will be semi-formal as in past years, as the idea of a Sadie Hawkins dance is being considered.

N. H. Club Notice

All members of the N. H. Club, which includes all those undergraduates who have earned a varsity letter, are reminded of the basketball game tonight, at which time they will be expected to sit in a body at the game. It is hoped that every wearer of the N.H. not on the basketball team will avail himself of this opportunity to help get the club's activities started. A special section of seats has been set aside for the members. At the conclusion of the game a picture of the group will be taken for the Granite. Members will please meet in the Phys. Ed. classroom on the second floor of the physical education department, at 7:20. Please be prompt.

Priscilla Taylor Succeeds Buchanan as Editor; Win Leavitt, Business Manager

The staff of "The New Hampshire" held its annual banquet in the new cafeteria annex last Tuesday evening when the new board was introduced to the reporters and faculty guests present. Creeley S. Buchanan, outgoing editor, acted as toastmaster for the affair, and introduced the new editor, Priscilla Taylor. Also present were the other newly-elected officers: Sumner Fellman, associate editor; Winston Leavitt, business manager; and Albert Sharps and Richard Cook, managing editors.

Retiring Business Manager

ROBERT LEWIS

Miss Taylor, the first woman editor since 1919, had been senior news editor. She is a member of Theta Upsilon sorority, and also serves the Granite as feature editor.

Mr. Fellman is a member of Phi Alpha fraternity, Junior Class executive committee, debating team and Sphinx; he is also sports editor of the Granite and was on the Soph Hop committee and the track squad last year. His former position on the newspaper was that of managing editor. Messrs. Sharps and Cook were promoted from their news editors' positions.

The new business manager is a member of Phi Mu Delta fraternity, ASME, and tennis team manager. Mr. Leavitt was formerly circulation manager and succeeds Robert Lewis.

Faculty members and other guests present included Dr. Towle, Professor Johnson, Dean Alexander, Professor Hobby, Professor Kalijarvi, Mr. Crissey, Mr. H. B. Stevens, and Mr. Martin Delbrouck. Gold keys were awarded by the financial advisor, Professor Johnson, to C. E. Buchanan, Donald Lawson, Robert Lewis and Richard Hay, the retiring seniors.

Speaker of the evening was Mr. George Quimby of the Manchester Union. Mr. Quimby spoke of his experience in covering several hazardous assignments and mentioned the risks and inconveniences involved in a reporter's career.

Alumni Will Meet For Classes Here

The alumni of U.N.H. will have the opportunity to renew their student days on February 22, when a special program of classes and activities will be presented for them.

Classes will open at 10 o'clock in the morning and will be conducted by four of the university's veteran teachers.

The first lecture will be presented by William Yale, assistant professor of history, who will discuss "This Bewildering European War," while "The Role Played by Chemistry in Modern Living," will be described by Professor Iddles, head of the chemistry department.

The first class of the afternoon will be directed by Professor Harold H. Scudder, who will speak on "Democracy in American Thought." Dr. Thorsten V. Kalijarvi, professor of government, will ask "Where Are We?" in his 3:30 class.

New Appointments and Staff Changes Approved by Board

New Instructors Come From Yale and Illinois; Scudder is Acting Dean

President Engelhardt has announced a number of appointments and resignations in the university faculty and staff, which were approved by the board of trustees in their January meeting.

From Yale university, Howard R. Jones will come to New Hampshire as assistant professor of education, and Dr. David O. Walter, from the University of Illinois, will be assistant professor of government. Other appointments include Samuel A. Stone as instructor in mathematics, Irene L. Gadbois, assistant in English and Robert Scott, assistant in physical education and athletics.

Appointments in the extension service are C. Lyman Callahan, a graduate assistant in horticulture in the experiment station; Myles Standish, Coos county assistant forestry agent; Ralph B. Littlefield, agricultural agent for Carroll county; Winifred Carlisle, home demonstration agent in Coos county; Irene E. Jewett, assistant Grafton county club agent; and Clara H. Dean, home demonstration agent at large.

Miss Williamson to Talk on Paisley Shawls at Library

Miss Daisy Deane Williamson, of the University Extension Service, who will give a talk in the gallery Monday evening, February nineteenth at 8 P.M., has on exhibit in the library her collection of "Shawls of Many Nations." The exhibition will be open through February 26.

Miss Williamson's interest in shawls was aroused when she was exposed to the influence of an old Paisley shawl, which hung on her wall. As she tried to find out the history of the shawl, she found that information was definitely limited. Paisley shawls, she found, had their origin shortly after a French military expedition to Egypt in 1795. The soldiers brought home the shawls, and in Paisley, Scotland, looms were set up to imitate them.

From her interest in this one shawl, Miss Williamson's desire for information and specimens widened, until now her collection includes pieces from the United States, and 17 foreign countries. Her most valuable piece is an India patch work, the forerunner of the Paisley, which is worth over $1000. Other shawls in her collection include India cashmeres, Scottish plaids, Shetland hand-knitted, and the once popular "Widows Shawl."

When she was abroad last year, Miss Williamson added scarves from Norway, Sweden, Poland, Czechoslovakia, and several other countries to her rapidly growing collection. Many pieces have been given to Miss Williamson, the latest being a brown Manta from Bolivia, and an Araucanian Indian poncho from Chile. Miss Williamson has had many requests for information concerning shawls, some letters coming from as far west as Montana.

REGISTRATION, ETC.

The annual battle of faculty vs. students is under way and drawing to a close, with the faculty in the lead as usual. For some reason or other, this year seems to be much worse than heretofore. In fact there has been much more dissension between the two factions on the matter of exams and registration this year than before.

First of all (and the faculty as such are not to blame for the situation) the exam schedule was one of the most horrible nightmares any of us have gone through since we ate the last Welsh Rarebit at 11:30 P.M. Four exams in two days was a common occurrence instead of a rarity. Certainly some adjustment should be made before June's exams come around. This would be an excellent project for the much discussed but as yet not too productive student curricula committee.

Secondly, the registration period was complicated a little more (we thought that impossible after last September's madhouse) and while early registration may have simplified things for the faculty, administration and registrar's office, it did anything but that for the student; and after all for whom is the school run, the students or the staff? For two years The New Hampshire (and the rest of the students in general) have been yowling for easier registration but are certainly not getting it.

The chief cause of strife between the faculty and student body, while not caused directly by the above situations is, nevertheless, given added impetus by the awkwardness of registration. The wholesale flunking of seniors in required major courses is a matter not to be passed over lightly. Neither is the wholesale rejection of petitions of seniors. Maybe the rule forbidding extra credits above 18 is a worthwhile endeavor, but it is certainly raising Cain with the seniors who have hopes of graduating in June.

Frankly, we question the value of such organizations as the Dean's Advisory Council and the Student Committee on Curricula and even the advisory system as it is set up at present if none of them are able to effect some sort of an amicable adjustment of differences between the faculty and students. Or are these committees just another bunch of rubber stamps? We'll leave that decision up to the student body.

VOCATION DAYS

Once more Vocation Days occupy the minds of the students on the campus. Since the beginning of these days three years ago, they have grown to be one of the most worthwhile features of the vocational guidance extended by the university.

Many seniors arrive at the threshold of graduation with no more idea of their future than when they were seniors in high school, perhaps less. For them the situation is little short of tragic. In many cases it is too late to do much about it. They can attend the lectures next week and learn the opportunities in the various fields of endeavor, perhaps finding their own future outlined for them.

But it is the sophomores and juniors who should be most diligent in their attendance at the lectures. They still have plenty of time to plan their future and search for the field for which they will be best fitted. The university goes to considerable expense and trouble to secure for the students the best men and women possible in their fields. If the students fail to take advantage of the opportunity it is their loss. But the wise student, the one who really wants to get ahead and embark on a successful career in his or her chosen profession or vocation will take advantage of this series and probably will benefit by it. But as usual, Joe College and the rest of "the boys" will spend the time asleep or playing cribbage, and they are the ones who will be up against it upon their graduation.

THE END

This issue formally ends the affiliation of the senior class with The New Hampshire. As has been said before in this column, the board appreciates the cooperation of the student body and courtesy with which our efforts have been received. Henceforth, a new editor will be in charge. It is our hope and request that she be given the same cooperation as was extended to us. Please remember that this is your paper, and the staff tries to do its best to reflect student opinion and spirit. Your assistance in achieving that end is solicited.

Sullivan Anniversary

The history department of the University and the Woman's Club are giving a radio program from Portsmouth tomorrow morning at 8:30 in memory of General John Sullivan's two-hundredth anniversary.

The program is as follows: "My Days Have Been So Wondrous Free," by Francis Hopkinson, sung by Mrs. Edward Cowen, and accompanied by Mrs. G. A. Deveneau; Mrs. Charles Coulter will talk on "The Sullivan Family"; Professor Harry W. Smith will talk on "The Military Life of General Sullivan"; and Mr. O. V. Henderson will talk on "General John Sullivan: The Statesman."

Garden Club

The Garden Club held a board meeting Monday night at Mrs. George White's to discuss plans for the National Council of Garden Clubs meeting in Portsmouth next June. The next meeting of the Garden Club will be at the Community House, Monday, February 12 at 7:30. J. R. Heppler, associate professor of horticulture, will talk on "Vegetables" and will show natural colored slides.

Three members of the Durham Garden Club attended the New York Judging School, January 16-19. They were Thomas Marsden, Mrs. John Tonkin, and Mrs. Louis Minichiello.

Folk Club

Folk Club will meet Tuesday, February 13, at 1:30 at the Commons for a complimentary bridge-luncheon. The arrangements are in charge of Mrs. Harold Leavitt, Mrs. Carl Martin, and committee.

Admittance will be by membership cards.

Woman's Club

The Woman's Club is holding its monthly meeting this afternoon at the Community House. The features of the program are the talk on "My Alaskan Trip" by Mrs. Harry Smith and music by the music department. Mrs. Edward Cowen will sing "Short'nin' Bread" and "Mammy's Song" and Mrs. G. A. Deveneau will accompany her and play two selections from "In the Bottoms Suite" by Nathaniel Dett.

Hostesses are Mesdames Church, George Ham, Arthur Teeri, Arthur Stewart, A. W. Johnson, Raymond Magrath, C. O. Rawlings, and Miss Olds.

Fine Arts Department

The Fine Arts department of the Woman's Club held a meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. George McGregor. Mrs. Harlan Bisbee gave a review on "Four Faces of Siva" by Robert Casey.

The Durham Men's Club will hold its monthly supper February 15 in the Community House. Mr. W. H. Hartwell is chairman.

Granite Notice

Candid camera fiends! Here is the chance you have been wishing for to pay for those pictures you have taken and would like to take. How? The Granite offers you an opportunity. Yes, the Granite is sponsoring a photography contest, and is giving $10.00 in cash prizes. Everyone is eligible—whether you are prize winner from 'way back or whether you never before had the thrill of adjusting the lens and flicking the shutter. All you have to do is to go around campus clicking your little camera, drop your worthy pictures in the little box in the lobby of Ballard Hall, and then keep your fingers crossed until you find that you are the lucky one to receive the much needed cash.

Of course, money is not the only reward. For those of you who have a sense of pride or who desire to do something really worthwhile during your college career, there will be ample recognition in the public announcement of the winners. So you may be sure that your skill and effort will be appreciated.

Any pictures you take in the near future or which have been taken in the last few years may be submitted. This is an opportunity you really can't afford to miss. Soooo—everybody hurry, hurry, and deposit your pictures in the box in the Ballard lobby. The following rules must be followed:

All prints submitted must be the property of person entering the print in the contest. All prints must be of glossy finish suitable for reproduction. The subject matter must be something connected with the campus or campus activities. All prints submitted become the property of the Granite and will not be returned. Any number of entries may be submitted. Print names very lightly in pencil on the back of each print submitted. All prints must be submitted by midnight February 21, 1940. The following prizes will be given:

- 1st Prize ..... $5.00
- 2nd Prize ..... $3.00
- 3rd Prize ..... $2.00

The music department of the Woman's Club will hold their guest night February 19. Kentucky mountain ballads will feature the program.

SPORTS SECTION

Maybe it was due to the gala carnival spirit, but the Swaseymen certainly did come through with a well-played basketball game when they downed the Northeastern quintet, 53-37. Frankly, we were at first a bit dubious as to the outcome of the game; but after the first ten minutes it was pretty evident that the result was in the bag. Displaying a fast-breaking and bewildering attack, our boys won going away. The whole squad seemed to be hitting the hoop with a consistency that left little to be wished for. Hal Monica, while scoring very seldom, played a smart game in holding Northeastern's high-scoring Pajonis to two points.

The hoopsters may have had a little bad luck so far this season, but if they continue to play as they did against the Huskies, they should do rather well with the rest of their schedule.

The only University team that seems to win and win consistently, is the rifle team. Last season they dropped their first match in three years; but this season they are back in the groove again. They have shot and won two matches so far this year; and the way things look now they should go through the remainder of their season without a defeat.

Coach Sweet's varsity and freshman track squads invaded Jumboland (Medford) and the varsity dropped a close meet to a well-balanced Tufts aggregation. The freshmen came through with an easy win over the Tufts freshmen team. Paced by Haas and Lowry, the 'Cats took first place in nearly every event. Larry Stewart of the varsity team, made a new New England broad jump record. With a little more luck and a little more practice, Coach Sweet's charges will come through with a few more wins.

LENS AND SHUTTER

The Lens and Shutter club is sponsoring a picture taking contest for all members of the University camera club. Featuring University subjects, the contest will close February 26. Each contestant may enter as many pictures as he cares to, thus increasing his chances of winning a prize.

Mr. Albert Furman of the Mathematics department will lead the members of the Club in a discussion of enlarging at their next regular meeting Monday night.

Connecticut Five to Meet Wildcats

Swaseymen in Best Shape To Avenge Previous Loss To Nutmeggers at Storrs

When the New Hampshire basketball team meets the invading University of Connecticut quintet on the Lewis Field House court tonight it will be playing what Coach Henry Swasey calls the "best team I've seen in action this season." In an early season game with the Nutmeggers in Storrs, the Wildcats suffered the worst defeat of the season, dropping a 66-36 decision to the tall lads from southern New England.

The local hoop forces displayed their top form of the current season when they handed the visiting Northeastern five a 54-37 trouncing last Saturday afternoon as a feature event of the annual winter carnival. The junior forward combination of Adams and Cryans was "hot," pouring 29 points through the hoop. Harold Monica was brilliant on defense, holding the highly-touted Pajonis to one basket.

As a warm-up for this big game the varsity team played a scrappy bunch of alumni. The unusual shooting ability of the grads was almost too much for Swasey's boys but with a last minute spurt the Wildcats managed to squeeze by.

In spite of the lay-off caused by the examination period the basketeers are in the best condition of the year and are planning to give the Connecticut team a real battle.

FOOTBALL NOTICE

There will be a short, but very important meeting of all men who plan to play football next fall in the lecture room at the Field House on Monday, February 12 at 5 o'clock. Anyone interested, whether a member of the freshman or varsity squads or not, is urged to attend, as plans for spring practice will be discussed and arrangements for use of equipment during the spring session will be made.

(Signed) George Sauer,
 Football Coach.

Rifle Team Elects Goertz as Captain

Members of the U.N.H. rifle team elected Tom Goertz captain of the squad at a meeting last Wednesday. Goertz, a member of S.A.E. fraternity, was the high scorer of the team last season and should equal his record this year. In his freshman year, Goertz won the coveted R.O.T.C. marksmanship medal given to the highest scoring freshman.

Captain-elect Goertz and the team are girding for a stiff schedule of both regular and postal matches. Some time this week the team will fire the first position of the annual First Corps Area postal match and send their scores in to the Boston headquarters for the area. R.O.T.C. and National Guard units throughout New England will participate in the competition.

Rifle Captain

THOMAS GOERTZ

This afternoon the team fires a postal match with the University of Maine. Next Friday the Northeastern rifle team comes to the Durham range for a two-position match. A strong M.I.T. squad will provide plenty of competition on their home range when they play host to the New Hampshire riflemen on Saturday, February 17. The Engineers have managed to defeat the Wildcat marksmen in the recent encounters of the two teams, and the Blue and White team will be eager for revenge next week.

Reverend Hagen Speaks To Student Group

The Student Affiliate members of the Community Church will hold a reception for all protestant members at the Community House next Tuesday at 7:30 P.M.

Affiliate membership is made up of university students who belong to some protestant church at home, and who present a letter from their own pastor. This affiliation entitles the student to every privilege of church membership except a vote in the church meeting.

The Reverend Emerson G. Hagen will speak to the group on "The History of the Community Church and the Student Affiliate Membership." Refreshments will be served.

Wildcat Ski Team Will Compete at Dartmouth Today

Blood Names Clark, Seymour to Bolster New Hampshire Victory Bid

Two new names will appear in the New Hampshire ski team lineup as it competes with the best collegiate skiers in New England at the Dartmouth carnival this week-end, it was announced by Coach Ed Blood yesterday as the Wildcat snowbirds left by bus for Hanover. Bob Clark and Win Seymour were named to strengthen the Wildcat cause in spite of the sensational victory scored by the local lads on the home course last Saturday.

Both of these boys saw action on the ski team last winter, so are experienced competition performers. Clark won a giant slalom race held on Cannon mountain several weeks ago which attracted some of the best skiers in this part of the country. Besides the slalom, he will be representing the Blue and White in the downhill and jumping.

Win Seymour will be entered in the 12-mile cross-country grind which will afford him and the rest of the competitors in this event a good chance to view the hinterland around Hanover.

Coach Blood warned of over-confidence in his prediction as to the outcome of this greatly-publicized meet. "We got the breaks last week," he said, "and were on our own territory, but now the Dartmouth team, which placed not far behind us will be at home. McGill whose team was not entered here last week will be at this meet and always presents a strong team."

Besides Clark and Seymour, six other skiers who did well in the New Hampshire six-college meet will be participating. Roger Peabody is entered in the slalom and downhill; Ray Whitcher, last year's captain, in the downhill, slalom, jumping, combined, and cross-country; Bill Keough in the jump, combined, and cross-country; Ray Ellis in the downhill, slalom and jump; Paul Townsend in the cross-country, combined, and jump; and Dick Snowman in the jump, combined and cross-country.

Co-eds Triumph in Inter-sex Contest

On Thursday last, a rip-snorting, wild, fast basketball game was held between the "Carnivorous Co-eds" and the "Beef Trusts", with the girls triumphing to the tune of 19-17. The game was hard-fought and speedy throughout, and was played under women's rules, which was the cause of much rough-housing and amusement, as the boys were so unfamiliar with the said rules. However the gentlemen cooperated quite well and no casualties were reported as a result of the contest. Freda Gardner, stellar center-forward on the co-ed team was high scorer with seven points and Captain Jones led the losers, tallying 9 points.

The lineups for the game were as follows:

Coeds	Beef Trust
Jan Gagnon	Burt Mitchell
Kay Ahern	Jack Hanlon
Ann Carlisle	Dick Gordon
Dot Minor	Rip Jones (Capt.)
Freda Gardner	Ario Piretti
Daphne Hurlburt	Tom Johnson
Louise Griffin	Ed Burt
Eleanor McNulty (Capt.)	"Shortie" Bulger

NOTICE

Rabbi Epstein of Portsmouth will lead a discussion on Purim and its significance at Ballard hall, Room 103 at 4:00 o'clock Sunday, February 11. All Jewish students are invited. Refreshments will be served.

for vocational education from Washington, D. C., will disclose some of the hitherto non-existent vocations which new American industries are opening up.

At 1:30 on Thursday in the gym, Mr. John Q. Cannon, principal examiner of the U.S. Civil Service Commission at Washington will talk about "Opportunities Under Civil Service," and at 3:30 Mr. Holcombe J. Brown, consulting engineer from Boston will speak about the "Adjustment of the Graduate from College to Permanent Employment." All these lectures are required for seniors, juniors, sophomores.

Besides these features of opportunity week, the home economics majors have several special speakers—all for themselves. On Tuesday in Murkland auditorium at 3:30, Miss Frances Stern, director of the food clinic of the Boston Dispensary, will give some tips on "Opportunities in Dietetics and Institutional Management." Wednesday at Murkland auditorium at 2:30, Mr. E. A. O'Rorke, director of executive placements, R. H. Macy and Co., New York City, will talk on "Opportunities in Retailing and Merchandising," and at 3:30 in the gymnasium Miss M. Jeannette Berger, assistant employment manager from Lever Brothers of Cambridge Mass., will show some of the "Opportunities for Women in Business." Thursday, in Murkland 14 at 2:30, Mr. Edward J. Vinnicombe, Jr., who is resident manager of the Hotel Puritan, Boston, will tell of "Opportunities in Hotel Administration." These lectures are all required of the home economists.

Required of sociology majors is Mr. Alfred J. Winter's lecture "Opportunities in Social Work." Mr. Winter is director of social service, Children's Village, Dobbs Ferry, N. Y. His lecture will be held in Murkland 14 at 2:30, Wednesday.

General Business majors will attend the lectures "Opportunities in Banking" by Mr. E. Ross Carver, executive vice-president of the Indian Head National Bank, Nashua, N. H., at Murkland 304, Wednesday at 3:30; "The Value of Accounting in Business Training" by Mr. J. Harold Stewart from Stewart, Watts, Bullong of Boston, held in James 301 at 3:30 on Tuesday; "Opportunities in Retailing and Merchandising" by Mr. E. A. O'Rorke in Murkland auditorium at 2:30 on Wednesday; "Opportunities in Personnel Administration" by Mr. Herbert W. Moses, industrial relations manager of Boston Edison Co., which will be held at 2:30 in Pettee 102; and Mr. Harold E. Pim's lecture "Opportunities in Sales," at the gymnasium at 2:30, Thursday. Mr. Pim is manager of International Business Machine Corp., Boston.

Technology students will be interested in "Opportunities in Personnel Administration," given at Pettee 102, Wednesday at 2:30; "Opportunities in Engineering" by Mr. R. A. Deller, technical employment manager, Bell Telephone Laboratories, New York City, at Murkland auditorium, 3:30 on Wednesday; and "Opportunities in Sales" at the gym, 2:30 on Thursday. "Opportunities in Teaching" by Dr. Clare N. Pettit, superintendent of schools, Berlin, N. H., at Murkland auditorium at 2:30, Thursday, will be required of all those interested in teaching.

Mr. Harvey Varney, extension economist, of Burlington, Vermont, will talk on "Opportunities in Agriculture" in James 301, Wednesday at 2:30.

"Opportunities for Women in Business" held in the gym at 3:30 on Wednesday is required of all upper-class women students.

For those interested in professional writing, or English majors, Mr. William Haskell, assistant to the president of the New York Herald Tribune will speak on "Opportunities in Jour-

Newman Club

The next meeting of the Newman Club will be held in the Commons Trophy room, Monday evening at 7:30. The guest speaker will be the Right Reverend Monsignor Richard J. Quinlan, D.D., LL.D., Supervisor of schools for the Archdiocese of Boston. Monsignor Quinlan is also the chaplain of the New England Province of The New Club Federation.

A cordial invitation is extended to all faculty members and students. Lunch will be served.

Explorer Lectures

Donald B. MacMillan, the famous Arctic explorer, will give an illustrated lecture in Exeter's Academy Chapel on Sunday, February 11, at 6:45 P.M. The lecture is free to the public. "Beyond the Arctic Circle" is to be the subject.

Mr. MacMillan will illustrate his lecture with natural color motion pictures taken during his last summer's trip to the Arctic. In the Far North he hunted the musk-ox and the walrus, traveled by dog team, and studied glacier movements.

German Club

The German Club will meet next Thursday evening, February 15, at 7:30 P.M. in Ballard hall. A special feature of the meeting will be singing by Louise Edson. Refreshments will be served, as usual.

Rec Dances

There will be no "Rec" dancing on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week due to "Vocation Days" program, which will necessitate the setting up of chairs in the gym. However regular "Rec" will be held on Monday evening of the same week.

Faculty Notice

There will be no faculty recreation in the Women's gymnasium on Tuesday, February 13 because chairs will be set up for the Vocation Days lectures.

tive numbers of departures and registrations in this year and last. While the marking system has not changed, the freshman average has risen from 74 to 75. Although pleased by the decreasing number of students leaving during the first term, President Engelhardt regretted that many of those leaving left because of financial difficulties. He suggested that it would be a great help to the University in securing more funds if everyone receiving aid from either the University or individuals showed an appreciative attitude. Moreover, such an attitude increases the spirit of the college, an ideal only reached by individual achievement and unified enthusiasm.

His lecture will be in Murkland 304 at 3:30 on Tuesday.

"Opportunities in Hotel Administration" by Mr. Edward Vinnicombe, Jr., will be required for all those majoring in Hotel Administration. The lecture will be held in Murkland 14, Thursday at 2:30.

NEW APPOINTMENTS

Arnold E. Hanson, from Madison, Wisconsin vocational school will be on campus next year, making a survey of industrial educational opportunities in the state.

Professor Harold H. Scudder, head of the English department, will be acting dean of the liberal arts college in the absence of Dean Edward Y. Blewett. In the absence of Dr. Slobin, Dr. George W. White will act as dean of the graduate school, and Dr. George N. Bauer will be acting head of the mathematics department.

Among resignations accepted by the trustees were those of Clair W. Swonger, assistant professor of economics; Alan G. MacLeod, assistant extension economist in marketing and assistant to the agricultural experiment station director; and Dr. Morris S. Cover, instructor in poultry husbandry and assistant poultry pathologist in the agricultural experiment station. Mr. Swonger, with the economics department since 1927, leaves the university to accept a research position with the New England Milk Producers association. Mr. MacLeod, who has held his position since 1936, will join the New England Research Council on Marketing and Food Supply as executive secretary. Mr. Cover, who came to the campus two years ago, has accepted a position of instructor of anatomy and physiology at Kansas State Agricultural college.

Other resignations accepted include those of Henry E. Roberts, agricultural agent in Carrol county; Eleanor S. Williamson, home demonstration agent in Coos county; and Miriam F. Parmenter, home demonstration agent in Cheshire county.

ALUMNI COLLEGE

Luncheon will be at the Commons, where President Fred Engelhardt will describe the university of ten years hence. The student male quartet will be heard during the luncheon.

A presentation of "What A Life," by Mask and Dagger will be a highlight of the day. Basketball games of the interscholastic tournament will take place also, completing the program of the alumni college.
