American Traveler and Writer Talks to Women at Convo

Cornelia Stratton Parker Emphasizes Eternal Aims of Education and Health

Mrs. Cornelia Stratton Parker, noted American writer and traveler, addressed the women's convocation held in Murkland auditorium Wednesday afternoon. Her speech, entitled "No Matter What," stressed the eternal varieties that are constant in times of war as well as in times of peace. Education and both physical and psychological health were the two essential goals. Mrs. Parker emphasized the moral obligation to be as intelligent as possible in order to maintain democracy. She also advocated active membership in the League of Women Voters for all women of all parties interested in increasing their political wisdom.

Madeline Papachristos presided at a short business meeting after the program. Marie Donahue was appointed chairman of the social committee for the coming year. The other members were chosen by ballot as follows: senior, Helen Colby; junior, Betty Ridlon; sophomore, Alice Munroe; and freshman, Marcia Robinson.

Mrs. Parker is the author of the travel books, "Ports and Happy Places" and "More Ports, More Happy Places." Besides making contributions to several nationally known magazines, she has written "An American Idyll," "Working With the Working Woman," and "Wanderers Circle." Mrs. Parker is a graduate of the Universities of California and Washington and the New School of Social Research, New York City.

Prof. Thorsten Kalijarvi Addresses Nashua Voters

Professor Thorsten V. Kalijarvi, head of the government department, will speak on October 8 at the first of a series of meetings sponsored by the Nashua Business and Professional Women's Clubs. The general extension service of the University is co-operating in this program which is designed to inform each voter about his government and his duties to it. Professor Kalijarvi, speaking on the "Responsibilities of the Voter" will give a brief analysis of state and federal constitutions, the functions of the executive, legislative and judicial branches of government, and methods of election.

Other talks will be given by David O. Walter, assistant professor of government, on October 14 and 21, on "Parties and Their Organization" and "The Mechanics of Voting." On October 28, Lashley G. Harvey, assistant professor of government, will tell of "Some of the More Important Political Issues Confronting Voters at the Coming Election."

Frosh Swing Into the Battle for Hottest Music on Campus

Wednesday night about seven-thirty (quiet time in the dorms) an angry upperclassman stomped from his lair in West Hall and invaded East with strong inclinations toward assault and battery boiling in his brain. He headed straight down the hall toward Ray Doyle's sanctum. But before he arrived, every ounce of anticipated mayhem melted before a blast of the hottest swing music ever to issue from any group of modern musical instruments. He had intended to quell by power methods the singular disturbance that sounded like a loudly-blasting radio. Instead he slowed his stride and gradually allowed a sweet smile of pleasure to gush forth from his innards.

The cause of this miraculous transformation of Joe Upperclassman's temper was a remarkably synchronized band of freshman musicians led by pi-

Cheer Leaders Plan Big Pre-Game Rally Tonight

Tonight is the big night when the students of the Blue and White will gather to cheer the team on to victory against Bates on Saturday. This will be one of the biggest rallies ever staged. To add to the fun, the freshmen will be attired in their oldest clothes as hobos. At seven-thirty sharp they will assemble to march through the town from Fairchild carrying red flares. The procession will boast of two bands, the regular university band and an extra added attraction—a clown band. Not only that—there will be hayracks and even fire horses if they can be borrowed. The student body will be well supplied with tin cans.

After marching through town, students will gather in front of De-Meritt hall. Stan Low and his high-stepping band of cheer leaders will lead the students in cheers for the Blue and White. The team and the coaches will speak about the game and Stan Low will do his rhythmical shag. The rally will close about nine o'clock with the singing of school songs. It will be followed by "vic" dances at the various fraternity houses.

Newman Club Gives Reports in Boston

A delegation from the New Hampshire Newman Club attended the Federation meeting at Boston College of all the New England Newman clubs. Tom Bagley, president; Jean Morrison, recording secretary; Kay Sullivan, and Bob Mullen, publicity chairman, made the trip last Sunday, September 29 with Rev. J. Desmond O'Connor, the club chaplain. At the conference, reports were given by chairmen of the Publications, Ritual, Publicity, Social Service, Catholic Action, Charity, Alumni Club, Social and Drama committees.

Announcement was made of two big Newman club dances to be held in Boston soon. The first is the Tech Fall Acquaintance dance, Friday, October 11, dancing from 9 to 2, at the Walker Memorial Building, Cambridge. The second is at the Hotel Continental, Friday, October 25. All members will be welcome at both dances.

Father O'Connor extended an invitation to the Federation to help U.N.H. celebrate its 75th anniversary on the 16th and 17th of November, the time set aside for the University of New Hampshire Newman Club to celebrate.

Also addressing the Federation were Rt. Rev. Monseignor Quinlan, Federation Chaplain; Father Floyd, R. I. State Chaplain; Rt. Rev. Monseignor Teech, Boston, Father Lenord, B. C. Catholic Action distinct from the work of priests, was defined as, "help and participation of the lay in the work of the hierarchy."

anist Lou Barnett of Hetzel. After holding their first real rehearsal since they picked each other up a week ago, the "Kampus Kittens" are raring to disprove the rampant rumor that an alleged girls' freshman orchestra is the hottest thing on campus. And it is said that they are to have the chance to tear into this disproval very soon.

As the schedule now stands, the girls will play for freshman "Night Club" next Sunday. The following Sunday the boys will shake the windows of Commons in a mighty, challenging jam session. Then on the night of October 20, 1940, a great fiasco of music will take place, with the Kittens ranged in the dining hall in battle array opposite the alleged Amazon Swingsters. It is thought that something good will come from this.

Radio Club Plans Year's Activities

Library of Broadcasting Material; Lectures and Tours Will be Featured

The radio club, Mike and Dial, held its first meeting of the year on Thursday afternoon in Murkland. This gathering was for last year's members only as plans for the coming year were formulated.

Activities start with the compiling of a mailing list, a new system in the club. Ideas and information about every phase of radio work will be exchanged with radio clubs in colleges in this area. Contact has already been made with Syracuse University which has one of the finest of such clubs.

A library is to be started containing magazines, pamphlets and books, which will be supplied by the University Library, to aid the members in finding material on broadcasting.

Special effort will be made to teach the members about program directing whether they will continue with it as anything more than a hobby or not. All the various departments will be taken up — script writing, technical work, sound effects, and similar projects. Aside from actual work in producing the programs, lectures will be given by experts in the field and tours will be made to surrounding radio stations in Boston, Portsmouth and Manchester.

This year the club will contain about fifty members in all. An audition will be given to prospective members to determine their ability. Freshmen will not be admitted until second semester.

Petroleum Expert Lectures at James

The chemistry department is privileged to present next Tuesday evening the country's foremost authority on petroleum and its products, Dr. Gustav Egloff, director of research of the Universal Oil Products Company of Chicago, in a lecture on "Motor Fuels of the Present and Future." Dr. Egloff has made a study not only of petroleum chemistry and the modern technical developments in the field, but also the economics of oil here and abroad, not that this subject is of paramount importance.

Dr. Egloff has written over 400 articles and holds 250 patents from American and foreign governments, as well as holding the position of councilor-at-large in the American Chemical Society.

Dr. Egloff will discuss in his talk how economic conditions have forced research into synthetic gasolines to such an extent that Germany now produces 36 per cent of its gasoline requirements synthetically. He will review the history of the progress in the industry that has today made available gasolines of 100 octane rating where 60 was common not so very long ago. These higher octane-rating gasolines have given automobile owners many more miles per gallon, as well as making their engines considerably more efficient.

Dr. Egloff will also discuss the new methods of "cracking" to produce gasolines at a lower cost, and will review in general the present research in petroleum, and the problems arising today which will lead to tomorrow's research. The lecture, although technical, is not too highly so, and all tech students are advised to attend what promises to be a highly authoritative

Fraternity Council Plans Conference

The Interfraternity Council recently completed plans laid down last spring for a New England Fraternity Conference to be held on this campus the week-end of October 25th.

Each of the thirteen fraternities represented on this campus will invite delegates of their respective chapters in other New England colleges to attend the conference, dance, and banquet. The purpose as emphasized in the plans is to create and promote a closer bond of friendship and cooperative spirit, not only among the fraternities on our campus but also with the chapters in other schools.

The Interfraternity Council feels that the Conference will furnish not only the fraternity group on campus, but also the non-fraternity group and unpledged freshmen, a straight-forward and impartial view of various sides of the fraternity question. This is indeed an opportunity to listen, question, and to discuss every phase of this vital question with eminent fraternity authorities.

Homecoming Day Program Arranged

The annual Homecoming Day program will begin Friday, October 11, when a dinner will be held for the president and board of directors of the Alumni Association and the class secretaries. The Blue Key will also hold its annual Stunt Night, over which the newly-elected mayor will preside.

On Saturday, there will be registration for the returning alumni members from 9 to 1:30 at the Faculty Club. For the first time, a buffet luncheon will be served at the Field House from 12:15 to 1:30. The University of Maine - U.N.H. football game will start at 2:00 P.M. and a cross country race between these universities will begin at 2:30.

After the game, memorial services will be held for the late Coach Cowell in the Field House. Reverend Hagen will give the invocation, and Mr. Ernest Bell, class of '29 and a member of Mr. Cowell's first team in 1915, will deliver the eulogy. Mr. Fred Robinson, class of '27, and president of the Alumni Association, will preside. The ceremony will be concluded by the playing of taps by the university bugler.

At 8:00 P.M., the Student Council will sponsor its annual informal alumni dance.

New Instructor of Speech and Debating Joins U.N.H. Faculty

Mr. Ray Keesey, the new instructor of public speech and debating, comes to the University of New Hampshire from Ohio State where he held an instructor's position while working for his Ph.D. degree.

Mr. Keesey was born in Cadiz, Ohio which, incidentally, is the home town of Clark Gable. After attending high school at Ashland, Kentucky, he entered Ohio University at Athens, Ohio, where he majored in speech and figured prominently in various undergraduate activities, being a member of Tau Kappa Alpha, the Wesley Players, the varsity debating club and the varsity oratory club. In 1937, Mr. Keesey represented his state, Ohio, in the National Oratory Contest held in Chicago.

In the year following his graduation, he obtained his M. A. degree at Ohio

Warn Against "Nuts On the Wheel of Progress"; Cocky Crockett Confident

Quietly and with utmost secrecy, deep in hidden corners of fraternities and dormitories, under shaded lights in the wee hours, with hushed voices and nervous glances — Durham's own fifth column has been operating for some time. Now at last the political melting pot has come to a boil, and soon the soft soap — the lye, that is — and the hot air will issue forth and envelop Durham in a storm of windy promises, slanderous epithets, two-edged jokes, and downright hokey. Roosevelt and Willkie will take a back seat while our little village will stage its own mad imbroglio for the amazement of the freshmen and amusement of the pseudosophisticates of the upper classes.

First to toss his battered fedora into the ring was that dashing personality, Theta Chi's Crockett. His challenge was instantly snapped up by Al Lucier and Ed Richardson, whose bombast and abortive attempts to alliteration are given here. The proclamation of Mr. Richardson follows:

"The Barracks have finally announced their candidate for the hilarious, mud-slinging, riotous mayoralty campaign. So roll your pant legs high and seek elevated ground, for there is a volcano steaming from the hallowed Barracks that Ed Richardson is going to grace the campus with a stunning campaign. Remember the hurricane of 1938? Well, this colossal human dynamo, this irresistible force is going to sweep the campus cleaner than a fly in a pat of butter at the Commons. To these psychopathic inconsequential nonentities who will be "nuts" in the wheels of progress — Beware!

Durham, the land of sirloin sirens, cadaverous catastrophic crib notes, rum rancid rooms, dainty dauntless dates, and grammar gagging grinds, doesn't want an inauspicious culprit and tycoon at its head. It is pleading for progress, leadership and the best man — Richardson.

A second on dessert is the limit in Hudon's Hash House, a 100 is the limit in Psychology 11, a 99,999 yard touchdown is the limit in football, a kiss and a slap in the face is the limit with a freshman date, but with Richardson, the sky's the limit.

Adroit, authentic, clever, foolproof, and genuine is the man that the Barracks discovered in a dusty corner grinding on a "Whizz Bang."

For further information about this scintillating personality, this dilettante

State, while, at the same time, teaching in Athens High school.

Mr. Keesey next held the position of instructor of English and debate in the high school at Dover, Ohio. Last year and during this summer, he worked for his Ph.D. degree at Ohio University in Columbus, Ohio, simultaneously holding a teaching position in the university.

In regard to his new work at the University of New Hampshire, which is really getting under way this week with varsity and freshman meetings for those interested in debate, Mr. Keesey says: "Of all different phases of speech training, debating, in my opinion, is one of the most valuable activities in which students may engage for effective training in oral expression and presentation of their ideas."

In Corpore Sano

The ancient Greeks, whose civilization has had few peers, placed a good deal of importance upon the physical in their educational system. A fine lithe body, they felt, was the only true complement to a keen intelligent mind; and while they worshipped first Minerva, they erected many statues to Hercules. Modern education is swinging around to this view. We are beginning to realize how much we are limited in our pursuit of the mental by the physical, by our need for sleep, exercise and food. And we are beginning to realize the appalling waste of thousands of dollars and years of study when a student steps out into life well-equipped mentally but with a broken body. Yet we wonder if the required physical education are proving of any value in this respect.

Take the women's phys. ed. department for example. Its objectives—and we quote from the Catalogue — "To encourage wholesome recreational activities; to establish fundamental health habits; to maintain a balance between mental and physical development" are admirable, but too often it seems to lose sight of this purpose.

There are too few, too small classes in the carry-over sports which should prove of most value to the student after college. Classes could be scheduled at eight in the morning and at four in the afternoon as well as at the more popular ten o'clock hour. If much of the theory, which is vital only to the majors in the department were eliminated, these extra hours of teaching would not place too great a burden upon the professors in the department.

We would like to see the written examinations as well as numerical final grades taken out of the courses. Since the ideal is to provide exercise for everyone and to give a brief release from "book-learning," this academic work has no place in an unacademic subject. Credit could be given simply on a basis of cuts.

Naturally the majors in the department would have to follow a more detailed curriculum, but majors in other fields take stiffer courses than students enrolling in the baby courses.

Shouldn't our physical education courses for women be better correlated with their needs since all of them are absolutely required to take it for three years in order to graduate?

Fine Arts Center Sponsors Exhibit

The current exhibit at the fine arts center in the library which opened this week and is continuing through Oct. 18, features an exhibit of sculpture by leading contemporary artists.

Known as limited-edition sculpture, the works are duplicate originals and not reproductions. That is, these duplicates have been cast from the original molds. Most of the works are in marble, granite, and limestone, but also included in the exhibit are a number of wood duplications, carved mechanically from the originals.

The duplicates, which are termed as means to "socialize the arts" are presented by the university's fine arts committee through the cooperation of the Robinson Galleries of New York.

Among contemporaries whose work is included in the showing are William Zorach, Maurice Glickman, Franc Epping, Anita Weschler, John B. Flanagan, Warren Wheelock and Oronzio Maldarelli.

Smith Hall is having a "vic" party tonight after the football rally. The "rec" room will be open for those who wish to play ping-pong. The following have charge of the affair: Betty Jo Weaver, social chairman; Eunice Nichols, room arrangement; Frances Colman, chairman of the refreshment committee; and Louise Griffin, invitations.

W. A. A. Sponsors Stag Dance Sat.

The Women's Athletic Association is sponsoring a stag dance this Saturday night in the Commons. The orchestra will be Jack Mitchell, well known local band. By this being a stag dance it will give the new students an excellent chance to get better acquainted with the older students. Couples will be welcome of course but just stags will be just as welcome. W. A. A. annually sponsors a dance and it is hoped by the board that this year's dance will be better than ever before.

Glines is Elected Lacrosse Captain

Last Wednesday the varsity lacrosse squad met and selected Herbert Glines as captain for the coming 1941 lacrosse season.

A veteran of three years of lacrosse, one as a freshman, and the past two as a varsity man, Herb has done much toward keeping the New Hampshire club among the top teams in the east.

Besides lacrosse, Glines has been active on the gridiron, playing in the line for the past three football seasons.

Included in his many other campus activities are his memberships in Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity and the NH Club.

Portland Alumni Resolutions

Editor's Note: The following resolutions were sent us from the Portland Branch of the Alumni Association. Since we are only too eager to bind the alumni group to the University we are glad to publish them here.

Extracts from the Minutes of a Meeting of Portland Branch of the University of New Hampshire
June 8, 1940

1. It was unanimously voted that the alumni of the University of New Hampshire be polled through the Alumni magazine as to their wishes in the matter of subscribing to the support of a separate alumni secretary rather than to continue to support the fund.

2. It was unanimously voted to go on record as requesting that the field house at Lewis Fields be named the William H. Cowell field house.

3. It was unanimously voted to send Edward Dewey Graham as delegate to the general alumni meeting, June 15, at Durham, New Hampshire.

4. It was unanimously voted to contribute the sum of $50 annually toward the support of a separate alumni secretary, if and when that office is established separately from the administration.

5. It was unanimously voted to go on record as favoring that all news and happenings at alumni meetings be published in the Alumni magazine.

6. It was unanimously voted that a copy of these resolutions be furnished to the editor of "The New Hampshire" for publication, that they be published in the "Alumnus" and that a copy be furnished the president of each alumni group of the University of New Hampshire.

SENIORS

Mr. Gerald N. Perkins of the General Electric Company, Schenectady, New York, will be on campus Friday and Saturday, October 11 and 12 to talk to members of the Senior Class who are interested in possible employment with that concern. Mr. Perkins will speak to the students in the general business curriculum on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Morrill Hall and to the the mechanical and electrical engineering students on Saturday morning at 8 o'clock in DeMeritt hall. Other students who are interested in possibilities with this concern are cordially invited to attend either of the talks by Mr. Perkins. Arrangements for interviews other than at the time of the talks may be made through the Bureau of Appointments.

NOTICE

Plant Science Club will hold its first meeting of the year on Tuesday, October 8, 1940 in the agronomy lecture room 205, Nesmith hall. A. F. Yeager will speak on "Progress in Plant Breeding" and J. R. Hepler on "The Herb Project in 1940."

Invitations to Dads' Day to be held October 19, are being sent to the fathers of all students. Will those students who by some error failed to write their father's name on their registration cards and those who might like to have some other relative invited leave these names in the President's office?

TO THE EDITOR

The Blue Key, in sponsoring the purchase of Butch V to replace Butch IV is acting contrary to the sentiment of at least part of the student body.

Isn't a mascot intended to be the bearer of good luck and a sort of "generator" of enthusiasm? It seems to me that the presence of a mascot so prone to die off as were Butches III and IV is more of a bad omen than a good one. And I think the wildcat's display at football games has resulted in actually dampening enthusiasm. At least, I vividly remember the discomfort of the spectators at the game last year on seeing the "handling" of Butch IV which, if it was not cruelty was certainly not pleasant to watch.

The well-intentioned persistence of Blue Key in attempting to keep a mascot not susceptible to domestication seems to many of us, in view of the net results, very unwise.

A Student.

Tomorrow afternoon the Wildcats are out to claw the Bobcats. It has been two years since these two teams met. At that time the Sauer-coached team came out on top by a score of 22-6. This season however the Bates team is reputed to be really hot, and judging from their victory over the Springfield college last week, the reports are undoubtedly true. Coach Sauer is sure that if his charges play the same type of heads-up ball that they displayed last week, they will give a good account of themselves — win or lose.

The freshman football team is rapidly rounding into shape and should be really set for their first game on Oct. 19th when they meet the crack outfit from Exeter. The Kittens will be declared underdogs for this encounter as they will be facing a team that has played many games together. However under the excellent tutelage of Coach DuRie the Kittens will be ready to show the prep boys a few old and new tricks.

Congratulations to Herb Glines on his election as Captain of the 1941 varsity lacrosse team. For the past three years Herb has been an outstanding defense man on first the freshman, and then the varsity team; he should hit his peak this year and if he does the Wildcat stickmen should have another banner season.

Wanted: An opponent for the East Hall softball team. A game between the Commuters and the aforementioned East Hall team was cancelled — a substitute team is now wanted to fill the vacancy. All applicants please apply to Chick Justice of the Intramural department.

Women's Athletic Board Meets for Fall Session

The New Hampshire Board of the National Section on Women's Athletics held its fall meeting on Tuesday evening, October 1, at the Eagle Hotel in Concord. The representatives present included Miss Bateman of Keene State Teachers' College, chairman; Miss Hodgdon of Plymouth State Teachers' College, Mrs. Boutwell of Concord High School, Miss Hayden of Laconia High School, Miss Wattie of Pittsfield High School and Miss Evans of the University of New Hampshire.

Plans were made for a meeting to be held during the State Teachers' Convention that will meet in Rochester, October 17 and 18, and for a basketball coaching school to be held in Concord on November 2.

Grid Team Meets Bates in Opening Home Game

Sweetmen Develop Rapidly for Bates

Midget Varsity Squad to Face Strenuous Schedule With Sweet Hopeful

Encouraging words uttered by the Wildcat cross-country mentor, Coach Paul Sweet, have resulted in an upward surge of the university's track hopes. Numerically the smallest unit of its kind in this school's history, the varsity squad has accomplished more than Coach Sweet expected during the last week. The able instructor labels the size of the squad as almost "disgraceful." He wants a jump in the squad's man-power so that it will eventually total 50 instead of the present fifteen.

Coach Sweet defends his earnest statements by declaring, "In this unreliable world, American youth may be enlisted in the armies. You can bet your life that a cross-country runner will never be exhausted after an unexpected march."

Mr. Sweet continued his explanation of the university's midget track team by saying that there are students who fail to enter the cross-country kingdom because they feel that perhaps they aren't capable of registering a first-team assignment. However, he contends that he places the new recruits in sections of their own condition and ability. In this way the runner not only acquires valuable recreation but he also develops stronger muscles.

Coach Sweet's principle objective is to coach a great number of boys, not a few. He is extremely satisfied with the boys' work and expects to see them improve more.

Activity in the freshman camp is also at a high fever. The forty-five "Kittens" have grown considerably and although they are inexperienced, their improvement has been noticeable during the past week. Mr. Sweet has a definite aim of enrolling 100 runners in his freshman cross-country world.

New Hampshire's varsity opens its schedule on October 8 at Bates; followed by Maine at Durham on Oct. 12; Rhode Island at Kingston, Oct. 18; Harvard and Dartmouth at Cambridge, Oct. 25; Colby at Durham, November 1; and the New England at Boston, Nov. 11.

Fall Diamond Boys Continue Practice

With a squad of about twenty-five enthusiastic candidates, the embryonic 1941 baseball squad is working out daily under the critical eye of Coach Henry C. Swasey.

Many of the boys who failed to make last year's team make up the autumn roster. Swasey hopes to uncover some material in these drills, and by the looks of things he seems to have come up with several coming stars.

Coach Swasey is emphasizing batting and other general fundamentals as many of the candidates are freshmen. A short game climaxes each practice.

If a catcher and shortstop can be found to equal Jack Hersey's and Tootie Plante's ability then UNH will be headed for the flag.

Those who reported are: Crockett, Dupell, Rowe J., DeMartino, Sughrue, Blais, Callazy, Charron, Flint, Clark, Turcotte, Thayer, McLaughlin, McDermott Bogrett, Camfield, Draper,

Gould Changed to Guard Re-enforcing the Line; Game Begins at 2:00 P.M.

With his entire squad in excellent shape after last week's game, Coach Sauer is looking forward with much anticipation to tomorrow's encounter with the Bates Bobcats.

After another week of practice, the Wildcat mentor is satisfied that he had the best starting lineup on the field last Saturday, and is content to string along with them, for the time being at least.

One major change was made, in that Ed Gould, formerly a center, was to be henceforth, a guard. Coach Sauer is sure that before the season is over Gould will be a standout in the guard slot. Bob Neal, a 6 ft. 1 inch, 190 lb. sophomore will move up to the No. 2 center spot — behind starter Ed Burt.

Sophomores Don Begin, and Win McDonald, whose work in last week's game soundly pleased Coach Sauer, are sure to see much service tomorrow afternoon against the Bobcats.

Last Saturday against the American International College of Springfield, Mass., the Bates team was victorious 20-14; with fullback Mike Buccigross scoring three touchdowns and converting two points after for all of Bates' points. This 180 pound tail back carried the ball three-quarters of the time during the game, as well as doing the majority of the kicking. It would seem that if the Wildcats are going to lick the Bobcats, they'll first have to shackle Buccigross.

Lewis Field is all prepared for the opening home game of the season. Bleachers have been erected and everything is in readiness for a large crowd.

Game time is 2:00 P.M.

Campus Calamity: Louie Announces Loss of Badge

Louie has lost his badge.

Has anyone seen a gold shield about two inches by three inches in size, bearing on its back a pin and clasp, and on its front the great seal of the State of New Hampshire plus the words, "Chief of Police, Durham, N.H.?"

In a recent exclusive interview, officer Louis Bourgoin, the Durham force, reluctantly made public the loss of his dearest possession, a gold police badge given to him sixteen years by a committee representing the class of 1924. Officer Bourgoin thinks that the precious medallion dropped from the breast of his blue coat in the street between the Commons' and Hetzel Hall, and humbly requests that the finder return it to him at his office in the Shops building.

"How to Choose a Slide Rule"

by DON HEROLD

Choosing a Slide Rule is a lot like getting married, because you are going to have it for a long, long time. That's why you just must read this masterful book by that old slide rule slider, Don Herold. It is written in simple, salty language and profusely illustrated by the master himself. It takes the mystery out of slide rules for all time.

"How to Choose a Slide Rule" is free—if you get yours before the first edition runs out. See your campus K & E dealer at once.

MAYORALTY

of Spanish athletes, this notorious individual, this paragon of repartees, consult your local dealers or the north wing of Congreve." Ed. note—Better stick to your dealer.

And now the lugubrious oratory of Mr. Lucier:

"Scoop to "The New Hampshire": You probably all have read in the Tuesday edition of "The New Hampshire," one of my illustrious opponents for the mayorship of Durham was the first to throw his hat in the ring. Allow me to quote — "First Hat in Mayoralty Ring: Crockett Throws It." Seeing that I base my campaign on clean, wholesome ethics, I cannot help but agree that Crockett certainly does throw it. Never in my life have I read so much bull, disguised in so many beautiful liquid adjectives. He spoke of a blitzkreig; I will show all my opponents the true meaning of the word, and that includes you, Mr. Richardson. I am not promising to keep you out of war or to save you all from conscription and Red Cross work; because there are too many people at the present day trying to befuddle the enlightened voters of our great country. But if the war does come, you need not worry—it will come anyhow. I have a place for all my friends, where there are no wars or conscription; it is truly God's country. Sprocket Crockett claims that he is to be backed by the Political Power and Enlightenment Corp. of All Heel and Heaven, Too — I can really assure you that Durham will become truly a hell on earth. Illustrious citizens of Durham, you all know that heaven and hell cannot be in the same place at the same time; I will give you a real heaven. We have all had seventh heaven, so, I, as candidate, will give you the eighth heaven. Citizens, you have your choice, you all can go to heaven with Lucier; or, to hell with my opponents Sprocket Crockett and Rancid Rube Richardson."

Signed, Al Lucier.

Mr. Crockett's latest blast reads as follows:

"Citizens of this vivacious village, are you hounded by rheumatism, astigmatism, plagiarism, or Bolshevism; do you have anemia, asepticemia, amaldemia; is your existence exhausted by bronchitis, arthritis, gingivitis, or falling hair? If you are allergic to these, or any other dread disease, friends, your modus operandi has fallen into disrepair. But don't despair! Your ills can be cured, your matriculation assured, your prosperity procured by casting the caucus to Crockett. Mister Crockett reports that no rock is to be left unrolled, no boulder unbowed in amasing a massive machine of mental might and, above all, unmitigated moral magnificence.

Candidate Crockett is a man of infinite sagacity, capacity, and veracity, a scholar of unlimited mirth, worth and cerebral girth. Being the seventh native son of a seventh native son, he is completely capable of manipulating municipal matters with mathematical meticulousness. Where mayoral predecessors have disillusioned, Crockett will illusion; where they have disgusted, Crockett will gust; what they have unscrewed, Crockett will reassemble; and what they have mislaid, Crockett will find.

Citizens, there is but one choice, one character, one candidate, worthy of your consideration. Crockett will conquer."

Dr. Wilder New Physician At University Infirmary

Dr. William D. Wilder, the new head of Hood House who fills the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. Andrew Oberlander, has been on campus just a month. Dr. Wilder was born near Northampton, Mass., and attended Springfield public schools. After graduating from Tufts Medical school in 1933, he spent four years as psychiatrist, clinical director, and chief medical officer with the U. S. Public Health Service.

Dr. and Mrs. Wilder are living on Mill Road this year. They have a ten months' old son, William Wilder, Jr. Dr. Wilder proudly announces that William, Jr. has five teeth and is cutting two more. The University physician enjoys photography and plays some golf, although medicine takes up most of his time. The doctor will have time to indulge in his hobbies only if

U.N.H. students fail to keep their usual Hood House winter quota.

GUARANTEED FOR LIFE

by Parker's Blue Diamond

What's the use of being a quick-thinker if your pen won't work when your brain does?

A college professor found that this gets many a student down. So he invented a brand-new way of filling pens—a way that makes more room for ink INSIDE by dispensing with the customary rubber ink sac.

Parker spent 5 years to engineer this revolutionary principle to perfection—this sacless "One-Hand" Filler—the Parker Vacuumatic—the largest selling pen in the world today.

A pen that holds nearly twice as much ink as our old style, and shows days ahead if it's running low, so it won't run dry. Whose lubricated 14 K Gold Point—non-brittle, extra resilient—is tipped with Osmiridium so smooth and hard and dense that it won't wear scratchy as long as you live!

And its crowning glory is that streamlined Pearl and Jet style—laminated, Ring upon Ring, as shimmering as velvet—wholly smart, original and exclusive—winner of the Pen Beauty contest.

Go and see it and try it—don't make the mistake of writing "the hard way" throughout your college course and life's career.
