Hampton Quartet Sings in New Hampshire Hall

Hall, Hamilton, Byrd, Thomas Present Recital At Student Convocation

Swinging rhythmically into a series of mellow spirituals, the Hampton Institute Quartet scored their second annual success before the student body in convocation, Thursday afternoon. Their selections were introduced by Mr. White, director of placement at Hampton, who told his listeners about the work being carried on by the Institute not only in Virginia but throughout the entire nation.

"Many people think negroes a negative force in the world," he said, "But many more believe that they have added a great deal to American culture, especially with their music. . . . To quote one of our poets, 'Negroes have sung their race from wood and stone to Christ.'" Mr. White went on to tell of the founding of Hampton Institute in 1868, how placement of graduates has not fallen below 93 per cent during the last ten economically poor years, and what H. I. alumni have been doing to keep at a high standard the traditions of their Alma Mater.

An observation in Mr. White's talk, of special interest to us, was the fact that the new president of Hampton Institute, who will be inaugurated on November 26, is the father of Mal MacLane, UNH '42.

The Quartet is made up of Messrs. Hall, 1st tenor; Hamilton, 2nd tenor; Thomas, baritone; and Byrd, bass. The group watched ROTC drill awhile, then retired to Ballard where Bob James was their host. They sang at Bowdoin Wednesday and took the 5:30 train yesterday for Holderness, where they will fill another engagement in their fall tour of the east.

Nicholas Slonimsky Authority on Music Lectures at Convo

Russian-Born Composer, Conductor and Essayist Plans Own Compositions

A talk on modern music, in a modern building (New Hampshire Hall), to a very modern orchestral accompaniment, (the not-so-musical saws and drills and much hammering), was given by Nicholas Slonimsky, well known Russian-born composer, conductor, critic and essayist, at women's convocation, before a large audience Wednesday at four o'clock.

Slonimsky's talk centered on the theme that modern composers are born experimenters and the various methods they employ in producing effects. Among some of these effects are the ones an American composer uses by playing tone clusters with his fists and forearms. It's alright if you don't have to look at the pianist. Another very startling effect is the composition "Automobile Accident" for percussion instruments only in which two glass plates on a wash bowl with a hammer suspended in mid-air ready to crash over them, is used.

On the subject of modern musicians having a great sense of humor (they have to) Slonimsky played the amusing "Funeral March for a Canary" and "Funeral March for a Great Aunt" of Turywhitts. This was followed by Eric Satie's "Twilight at Noon in the Evening" and "Morning Twilight at Noon," the story of a gentleman who holds his cerebellum in his hand.

Modern composers also favor pictorial subjects, perhaps the most famous example being Moussorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition," from which the speaker played the "Ballet of the Unhatched Chickens in Their Egg Shells."

Slonimsky wound up his interesting talk playing his own compositions, "Typographical Errors" and "Bi-tonal March," from his piano suite.

Senior Skulls Sponsor Dance at Hotel Sheraton

The N.H. - Tufts game on November 9th will be climaxed by the Senior Skulls dance in the main ballroom of the beautiful Hotel Sheraton on the Bay State Road, Boston.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by one of the well-known Boston bands - Claire Carpenter - a nine-piece orchestra with a well-liked girl vocalist.

As the special train is not leaving for Durham until 1:00 A.M., plenty of time is available for an evening's dancing and fun making.

Change of Dates

The dates of Mask and Dagger's fall production of Eugene O'Neil's "Ah, Wilderness!" have been changed to December 4 and 5.

Rushing Rules

Fraternity rushing will start next Wednesday at 8:00 a.m. and will continue until December 4. Open house will be observed by all fraternities next Sunday. Freshmen are urged to take advantage of this excellent opportunity to see the various houses. This is not a rushing date.

Open house hours are from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m. Supper dates will be on Tuesday and Thursday nights from 4:30 to 8:00 p.m. There will be no supper dates on Thanksgiving Day, November 28. Fraternity men may call at the dormitories from 8:00 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.

Wilson Brunel, president of the Interfraternity Council, has asked "The New Hampshire" to reprint the following rules to insure a fairer rushing period. We are glad to comply.

1. Fraternity Rushing

a. Pre-rushing Period. From September 16 to November 13, fraternity men may not entertain prospective pledges in a fraternity house or visit them in their rooms or engage in other rushing activities as defined by the Interfraternity Council, except as indicated in the next paragraph.

b. Open House. On Sunday, November 10, between the hours of 2:00 p.m. and 5:00 p.m. fraternities will hold open house to which freshman men and transfers are welcome.

c. Fraternity Rushing Period. From Wednesday, November 13, until 8:30 p.m. on Wednesday, December 4. The entertainment of prospective pledges in a fraternity house shall be allowed from 4 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday evenings during this period with the exception of Thanksgiving Day.

During the period from November 13 to December 4, fraternity men may visit prospective pledges in their rooms from 8 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.

There shall be a silent period from 8:30 p.m. on Wednesday, December 4, to 5 p.m. on Thursday, December 5.

d. Fraternity Rushing after December 5. After 5 p.m. on Thursday, December 5, the entertainment of prospective pledges in fraternity houses shall not be allowed until February 10, 1941. No bids shall be given nor shall any person be pledged during this period.

e. Other Rushing Regulations. No fraternity shall hold a rushing party or banquet as defined by the Interfraternity Council.

f. Financial Statement. Each fraternity in conjunction with its faculty advisor shall prepare an accurate financial statement of fraternity expenses which shall be available to prospective pledges of that fraternity.

2. Code of Ethics for the Guidance of Fraternity Men

a. It is expected of a fraternity that its entertainment program will be so arranged as to permit a reasonable opportunity for any freshman to be entertained at other fraternity houses in which he may be interested.

b. It is expected of a fraternity man that he will seek to carry out the letter and the spirit of this agreement.

3. Quota Restrictions

The number of men pledged by any fraternity shall be limited by a quota plan determined by the Fraternity Advisers' Association of the University of New Hampshire.

4. Bidding and Pledging

a. Before Thursday, December 5, at any time during the rushing period (November 13 - December 4), a fraternity may extend bids to prospective pledges on regulation cards signed by the president. The total number of bids sent out before Thursday, December 5, shall not exceed the established quota of that fraternity. Each fraternity through its president shall submit a list of men receiving invitations to the dean of men not later than 12 noon on Thursday, December 5.

b. On Thursday, December 5, between the hours of 3 p.m. and 5 p.m. any man who has received an invitation from a fraternity shall be given an opportunity to accept it by signing

Student Election Notice

Instead of the four-day schedule announced in the last issue of "The New Hampshire," Student Council has decided to conduct the elections for student officers in two days. Therefore, freshmen and sophomores will elect on Monday, November 11, and juniors and seniors will have their elections on Tuesday, November 12. The polls under T Hall arch will be open from 8 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. and from 1:15 p.m. to 2 p.m. on both days. Members of the three upper classes will also choose a man and a woman student for "Most Representative of the Blue and White" at the same time.

New Radio Studio Appears at T Hall in Old Gymnasium

New Studio Improves Facilities for Students With Desire to Broadcast

The construction program of the remodeling of the top floor of Thompson Hall is changing what was once the women's physical education gymnasium into one of the most modern and largest soundproof studios in the state. Radio, speech and music will be consolidated into a single unit with offices in the new area.

The radio studio will make possible two broadcasts daily for students interested in announcing and technical work. The recently formed radio club has already a number of half-hour programs which the students have planned, directed and broadcast independently.

The general radio programs of the University heard daily over WHEB, featuring agriculture and homemaking, news, music and dramatization, are made possible by the new remote control facilities which transmit the sound to Portsmouth.

Speech Clinic

The speech clinic, located across the hall from the radio studio, is closely related to this first theme. Here is located recording apparatus, where speech instructors will record student's voices and help teach them the proper technique of speech, as part of their college curriculum. Work in speech was started a year ago, under the supervision of the English department. During the early part of their freshman year, students are required to have recordings made of their voices. Students with poor speech are assisted by speech instructors for improvement and later in the year other recordings are cut to show to the students their advancement. This recording program is based on the theory that "people can know their speech faults only when they actually hear them." Public speaking and debating courses will also take place in the speech laboratory.

Close cooperation will be shown between the radio department and the speech clinic. Radio will have a chance to test their voices on the recorder and they will receive assistance by the speech directors.

A third step in the reconstruction program is a small auditorium for musical organizations. Here the band, orchestra, and glee clubs may practice. Built-in orchestra tiers will stand at one end, and special wiring from this point to the radio studio will allow the musical groups to broadcast from their own rooms.

Up to this time the three departments were spread across the campus. The university conducted programs

String Quartet Provides Enjoyable Evening; Displays Rare Abilities

by Richard Dent

Wednesday evening in New Hampshire Hall, the Roth Quartet presented an ideal concert of string quartet music.

Mozart's String Quartet in D major was the initial piece of the program. As one would expect in a quartet such as the Roth group with wide experience, the technical ability of each of the four members was faultless. But more than technique manifested itself as the Mozart selection progressed. The performers understood the music that they were playing. It is a combination of these two elements that produce the best rendition possible of a musical composition.

The Schumann String Quartet in A minor continued the concert in the same strain of excellence. It was richer in emotional phrasing than the first Mozart Quartet. The Presto of this composition was particularly notable with its sharp and keen sense of proportion and subtle emphasis.

The Andantino of Debussy began a series of three pieces in the last division of the concert. All the finesse in an artist is needed to produce a satisfactory result from the delicacies in this music. The Quartet exhibited more than enough finesse and when the instruments were silent one found it necessary to think that the sound just heard was exquisite and perfect. Valse Parisienne by Szanto was second in the series. Whimsical, gay, yet sad at times the Valse was fully as enjoyable as the Andantino. A Rondo by Boccherini concluded the series and the program. It seemed not as fine as the first two numbers.

One encore was played but all the audience wished for more.

It is too bad that all programs can not be put together or played so well as the one Wednesday night was. Neither too long nor too brief, the selection and execution of compositions supplied the apex of entertainment and insinuated no trace of boredom.

Campus Entertains Religious Groups

Protestant, Catholic and Jewish Groups Schedule Conferences, Speeches

Religious organizations' conferences will be held on Saturday and Sunday, November 16 and 17. These conferences will center around the Sunday evening meeting to be held at New Hampshire Hall. This meeting will be open to the campus to hear speakers representing Catholic, Jewish and Protestant groups.

The Student Christian Movement conference is in charge of Donald Osborn, president of the Student Christian Movement on campus; Mary Ann Wheeler, chairman of the Inter-Race Committee; Edward Stannard, chairman of Inter-Faith Committee; Virginia Woodward, and Russell Beal of the Sophomore Cabinet.

This conference will entertain delegates from eastern New England colleges and is in cooperation with the New England Student Christian Movement.

A committee of Jewish students on the campus are inviting Jewish delegates from eastern New England colleges for a similar conference. Maurice Epstein is chairman. Registrar is Robert Becker; Publicity and Program Committee: Frances Golod, Phyllis Ulin, and George Ekmann; Committee on Housing: Norman Birenbaum and Pearl Lippmann.

The committee for the Newman Club conferences appeared in a previous issue of "The New Hampshire."

Vote for the Best Man

Now that the important presidential election is out of the way and over five hundred thousand American voters have cast their ballots and buried all party strife, we can turn our attention to the no less important campus elections to be run off Monday and Tuesday. At this time the three upper classes will choose the Most Representative of the Blue and White, highest honor give by the student body to a senior man and woman, and all classes will elect their officers.

Over and over again we hear the contention that class officers don't amount to much. But it is an old truism that officials in a democracy are only as capable as the people who elect them. If you class president is to become one of La Fontaine's flies harrying the coach up the hill and concerned only with his own importance, it is only because you do not set him to work.

In choosing these officers which will represent you to the University officials, on Student Council, to the people of the state and to all the visitors which come to our campus, it would be well to think the choice over carefully. Fraternity and dormitory affiliations, popularity, and personality are poor criteria for voting for a candidate. You want the best executive in your group, a person who can get things done.

Student Council has taken every precaution to insure a fair election, and The New Hampshire has cooperated in printing the list of candidates. The system of nomination by petition instead of indiscriminate yelling at a class meeting, the use of a check list, the careful, impartial tabulation of votes—all are unique in campus political set-ups.

It remains for the student voters, as for voters in any democracy to exercise their franchise with care and wisdom. And, most important of all, to take the trouble to exercise it.

East Hall Stages Big Dance Tonight

Hairless Joe and Lonesome Polecat will wander through the Trophy room when East Hall stages its dance tonight at 7:30 p.m.

The dance will be an Abner Hawkins dance with the boys chasing the girls. All East Hall will turn out for this event tonight to dance to the music of Glenn Miller, Charlie Barnett, Artie Shaw and all the best bands on records. This will be a gala affair with prizes awarded for the best fellow's and girl's costumes. Everyone will wear any weird get-up they can find because with refreshments of Kickapoo Joy-Juice and Preserved Turnip cookies, no one can tell what may happen. Only East Hall men will be allowed and the admission will be 20c per couple. We will have chaperones. They are Mr. and Mrs. Crissy and Mr. and Mrs. Dougal. A great time for all.

Congreve North News

On Tuesday night a notorious mob on Congreve North's third floor succumbed to an overwhelming surge of community spirit, and decided to express good fellowship by sleeping side-by-side in the corridor. Some of the girls, having heard that Roosevelt was winning the election, wanted to get in practice at being refugees. Others, the third-termists are nothing but outdoor girls at heart, and just delight in that good ol' "camping atmosphere." At any rate, 10:45 found a neat row of bedding stretching from east to west on the third floor corridor and a handful of sleepy girls about to join hands and sing "Blessed Be the Tie That Binds." But alas, our beloved house-mother arrived on the scene and with all the authority of a Roman general, ordered us to break up camp. Each portage of bedding into bedroom was succeeded by an outburst of laughter behind a closed door and a subsequent "straightening of the face" before the next attack. Once more we returned to the boring routine of segregate civilization. Oh well, it was a good idea, anyway.

TO THE EDITOR

To "A Disgusted Student" and others similarly afflicted:

One of the most enjoyable aspects of college life is the informal and friendly relationship that may exist between the professor and the student. We, as students, have an opportunity to meet people whose association adds interest, pleasant social contacts, and meaning through our college years and in years to come. I don't think a stone should be left unturned in all efforts to increase this stimulating experience.

Akin to this enlightening association with people who have gained intellectual recognition of a superior type is the association with artists. To know and work with the very artists who live in this vicinity is a privilege indeed.

The members of the University symphony orchestra are very fortunate in having among their ranks musicians of a professional caliber. It would be superfluous to elaborate upon the innumerable points of musicianship an orchestra man might gain through an association with experts. Also, in my opinion, the feeling of community spirit that visiting musicians inspire is a valuable one.

It seems to me that "A Disgusted Student" is trying his utmost to destroy informal student-faculty relations; the friendly spirit toward the University that pervades the surrounding towns; and any indications that might lead to the raising of musical standards in the orchestra. It would seem that he thinks the University symphony orchestra was organized to afford students a little competitive game to see who could win the concertmaster's chair first. His objective is to win prominence and acclaim in the eyes of his competing fellow-musicians and God help the quality of the combined efforts of all—that is secondary.

This student cannot bear to see the professor and distinguished townspeople having fun with the students. Would he feel better if they paid a tuition fee and made out a roll-card? He would evidently feel better if, between classes we tucked away our faculty in a box and only opened the lid to allow them to chaperone our teas and dances.

No that the holy seat of the concertmaster is held by a professional musician, Mr. Disgusted Student wants to know what there is to work for now? Did it ever occur to him that we are working for the general good of the orchestra as a whole, not for individual honors? If he insists upon individualizing it, could he not work for an attainment of musical skill comparable with that of the competent musician now holding the coveted seat? After all, the orchestra is as good as its worst member. The presence of a former Boston symphony orchestra player in our own orchestra should provoke inspiration and pride rather than jealousy.

My advice is this: In the next rehearsal, exclude those expert musicians objected to by Mr. D. S. and place him in the concertmaster's chair. Then—just let him listen!

New Course Assures Hennessy of Permanent Backstage Crew

by Herb Blais

Latest news from the Mask and Dagger front naturally concerns the usual slant on the coming production of Eugene O'Neil's "Ah, Wilderness!", but there is much more beneath the well-worn ballyhoo and grind of daily rehearsals than simple reportage might indicate. Only a small section of said understuff may be served at a time, however, for obvious reasons of suspense, which is a vital element of publicity, and the present release only tells of the technical basis for student fall play production, i.e., its raison d'être.

Announced only now in mid-term by Professor Hennessy, a new course in conjunction with play production, English 5, is this year offered to students of all upper classes. Stagecraft, it is called, and it is elective only "by special permission," which means that students will be chosen for it on the basis of their individual abilities as judged by faculty director Hennessy. One-half to one point credit will be allowed for successful completion of this course, which is concerned with the technical side of play production in contrast to oral interpretation of an author's work.

Students chosen for Stagecraft are offered an excellent opportunity to apply in practice the theoretical knowledge acquired in more formal courses. Enrollees will be able to learn scenic design and construction, stage lighting and mechanical effects, costuming, the techniques of stage prop acquisition and control, and general stage management.

Students allowed to take this course will be chosen very soon from an allegedly large group of applicants; technical assistants to Mr. Hennessy have already been named from the faculty. They include, among others: George R. Thomas, architecture; Leon W. Hitchcock, electrical engineering; and Lyman J. Batchelder, mechanical engineering (wood shop). Other faculty assistants and the complete stage crew for "Ah, Wilderness!" will be announced later.

Blue Circle Elections

THE WILDCAT

by Myron Rosen

After six hectic games, and with the season three-quarters over, the unpredictable Sauer men, harassed by injuries, mud, and points after touch-down, emerge all even with the board at three contests in each column. In our opinion they have an excellent chance to push their average back on the right side tomorrow at Medford, and although the Tufts elephant has not been exactly docile this season, he ought to be tamed by, say, two touch-downs. All indications point toward the Wildcats' resuming their winning ways; the few students who will stay in Durham tomorrow ought to hear the T Hall bell about 4:45—the first time it has rung for an away game.

Last Wednesday afternoon Coach Sauer expressed doubt that Stacey Clark and Ed Bove would start, since both will be nursing injured knees. The starting backfield will be made up of Begin, MacDonald, Davis, and Judd, while Sakoian will probably start in Bove's slot. In the Jumbo team, reports indicate Rutter, Harrison and West are the men to watch.

We've never tried going out on a limb with other games, so we'll try it to see what it feels like to have said limb cut out from under us. So, as John Kieran says, with a meta-physical mutter, here goes: Penn over Harvard; Holy Cross over Mississippi; Army over Brown; Princeton to claw the Indians; Wisconsin to beat Columbia; Bowdoin to slap Maine; and Minnesota and Michigan in a two touchdown deadlock. And for the little surprise of the week, Fordham over Purdue.

Annual High School Basketball Tourney Headed by Justice

Fifty-two Schools Apply For Tourney Admission; Point System Is Revised

The University Athletic department announced this week that 52 New Hampshire high schools have declared their intentions of competing for invitations to the annual schoolboy basketball tournament held here February 27 and 28, and March 1.

This year Chick Justice will serve as supervisor of the tournament, replacing Carl Lundholm. Justice, assistant football coach, has been active in overseeing the intramural program.

The New Hampshire Association of Headmasters and University Officials, have revised the point system under which each game won on the home court will give a team five points and each game won away will be rated six points. Class A will include schools of over 200 boys; Class B, 51 to 200; and Class C, 50 or less.

The selection committee, consisting of representatives from the headmasters' association and the university will meet on February 22, to determine final standing and select the schools which will compete in the tournament.

Class A — Nashua, Keene, Berlin, Portsmouth, Concord, Laconia, Spaulding of Rochester, Stevens of Claremont, Franklin.

Class B — Pinkerton of Derry, Lebanon, Plymouth, Littleton, Towle of Newport, Somersworth, Kennett of Conway, Penacook, Lancaster, Newmarket, Tilton-Northfield, Groveton, Peterborough, Meredith, Gorham, Goffstown, Woodbury of Salem, Conant of East Jaffrey, Hillsboro, Pittsfield, Bristol, Hampton, W. Lebanon, Charlestown.

Class C — Lisbon, Andover, Ashland, Stratford, Wilton, Alton, Simonds of Warner, Walpole, Whitefield, Epping, Henniker, Marlboro, Weare, Dow of Franconia, Lincoln, Coe-Northwood, Antrim, Troy, Hancock.

Kittens Top Dover for First Victory

Chalking up their first victory of the season, the New Hampshire Kittens crushed the powerful Dover harriers Wednesday afternoon, 22-39.

The Kittens showed fine form and good team running in the race. 'Boo' Morcom of the Kittens took the lead in the last half mile and held the lead, trailed by Cummings of Dover. Al Openshaw of New Hampshire, showing his best form of the season, finished third and the next three places were almost a dead heat with Al Brown, Joe Pushee, and Coker finishing closely bunched. Only three Dover men finished in the first ten. The winning time was 13:46.

The summary: Morcom (NH); Cummings (D); Openshaw (NH); Meserve (D); A. Brown (NH); Pushee (NH); Coker (NH); Jennison (D); Miville (NH); Townsend (NH); Tuttle (D); King (NH); Perry-Smith (NH); Murphy (D); Hinchey (NH).

Jayvees Prepared for Tufts Battle

The greatly weakened Jayvee football squad faces the Tufts jayvees Saturday morning at 11:30 at Tufts Oval. Hal Rood's boys are facing the junior Jumbos without the services of George Page, Fred Carr, and Kiberd. Page and Carr have moved up to the varsity and Kiberd has been sidelined for the season with a leg injury.

Al Lucier, regular end on last year's team has reported to Coach Rood and it is expected that he will see plenty of action.

Coach Rod was greatly pleased with the showing that his boys put on against New Hampton "and if they play the way they did against the New Hamptonites, we should win."

In view of tomorrow's battle, the Jayvee skipper has juggled the starting backfield, somewhat. Bill Call will hold down the fullback slot; Bob Preston, quarterback; and Charlie Hager and Howell Atwell, halfbacks.

The probable starting lineup has O'Malley, lg; Hendrick, lt; Johnson, rg; Peyou, center; Mullen or Lowe, rt; Lucier, re; Preston, qb; Hager, rrb; Atwell, lhb; Call, fb.

Soft soap has cleaned many a man.

Defiant Wildcats Set for Win Over Jumbos

One Heavy Scrimmage This Week on Defense; Bove, Clark Not Starting

Following a week of light practice with only one heavy contact session, the New Hampshire Wildcats will meet the Tufts' Jumbos tomorrow afternoon at the Tufts Oval. This will be one of the toughest games this season for the Wildcats, since they want revenge for last year's 13-6 defeat, and this will be their Homecoming Day.

Tufts will be at full strength with the return of Edward Richardson, who was injured in the Williams game. Coach Lew Manly has had the varsity in heavy practice sessions with the second team. The Jumbos are sparked by the 187 pound left halfback Harrison, who is a real triple-threat and was highly praised for his play against Northeastern. Tufts has one of its best teams in years. They have won over Bowdoin 16-0, Middlebury 38-6, and Northeastern 12-2. The only games they have dropped were to Brown 26-6, Williams 22-20, and to the surprising Bates team 12-7. Their lineup will probably be as follows: ends, Marly and Hosner; tackles, Hannebury and Rowell; guards, Mernick and Loret; center, Bournazos; quarterback, Rutter; left halfback, Harrison; right halfback, West; and fullback, Patterson.

The Wildcats are almost at full strength with Stacey Clark and Ed Bove the only regulars out of the lineup. The varsity had their first and only hard scrimmage of the week against the Kittens, tightening their defense against the Tufts plays. Coach Sauer has acknowledged the fact that he has two new plays to use against Tufts. The probable line-up: ends, Lampson and Mackel; tackles, Flaherty and Sakoian; guards, Martin and Gould; center, Burt; quarterback, Begin; left halfback, MacDonald; right halfback, Davis; fullback, Judd.

Football Rally Tonight; Coach Sauer Will Speak

Everyone will meet for a rally on Friday night at seven o'clock in front of the Commons and will march with the band up to the back of the New Hampshire Hall. We will gather around a bonfire and listen to Coach Sauer who will be on hand to give us a pep talk. The cheer leaders and leaderettes will provide us with a skit for extra entertainment. We hope to see a large crowd of loyal New Hampshire-ites there to give the team a good send-off for the Tufts tussle.

Theatre Will Show Birth of A Nation

"The Birth of a Nation," originally appearing in 1915 under the production of D. W. Griffith will be shown Monday and Tuesday, November 11 and 12 at the Franklin Theatre. This once silent film has been synchronized with music and sound effects, lacking only a speaking accompaniment. This movie is one of the two presented in connection with the exhibit "Highlights of the American Film Industry" on display at the Hamilton Smith Library. The emphasis of the exhibit is on the growth of new techniques in the film industry through diagrams, an explanatory text, photographs of early equipment, studios, and sets, and stills from important movies.

Students Featured in March of Time

The next issue of the March of Time, popular documentary film, will feature several campus students. The subject of the film is the draft and selection service act. Part of the film will be taken at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, where university students will be shown in various sequences illustrating different aspects of the conscription act.

Last Wednesday the following students appeared before the cameras: Robert Austin, Herbert Adams, Max Gowen, Louis Croyans, Charles Judd, Russell Byles, Kenneth McCloud, Charles Costigan, Blair Watson, and Richard Gordon.

On Thursday, sixteen students who had registered here at the university for the draft were used. They will be shown leaving the station for camp and training. There will also be a dialogue between two of the students, one supporting the conscription bill and the other opposing it.

The film will be released in three weeks, and it is expected that this issue will prove to be quite a hit when it shows in Durham.

The local company of Scabbard and Blade, national honorary military society, announced today its list of pledges from the junior class of the Reserve Officers Training Course. Annual Red Cross Drive Hits Campus

Planning a concerted and concentrated drive in which every individual student will be asked to take part, Ray Doyle, in capacity of general chairman, tonight announced the opening date of the annual Red Cross plea for financial aid to carry on its worldwide activities in alleviating human suffering. Every fraternity, sorority, and dormitory, and the commuters' group will form units in a closely knit organization which it is hoped will gather the largest fund ever to be built up at the university to represent the student body's subscription to the cause of mercy. Representative committees appointed by each unit to assist the general chairman will be announced in the next issue of "The New Hampshire."

The official opening gun of the eight-day campaign is set to be fired at 4:15, next Wednesday, November 13th, at which time a guest speaker from the national Red Cross headquarters will address the various committees and independent campus workers in Murkland, room 14. Explanation to the students of the increasing worth of and need for the Red Cross and its value not only to the community and the nation but to all mankind is thought unnecessary, and the local campaign will concentrate upon reminding every individual student of these facts and his consequent duty to support the fund.

Armistice Program Next Monday Noon

All classes and laboratories will be dismissed at 11:30 A.M. on Monday, November 11, in order to permit all the members of the university to gather at Memorial Field for the Armistice Day exercises. If inclement weather prevents the outdoor exercises, T Hall bell will be tolled at 11:30 A.M. for one minute.
