Gala Program Arranged For Big Sportsfest

Tribute Will be Paid To Wearers of NH; Jim Britt Main Speaker

All the excitement and color connected with football rallies comes to Durham tonight as faculty, students and guests gather at New Hampshire Hall to pay tribute to all wearers of the NH. The evening's program will begin with a gala parade led by the cheerleaders and band, who will start from the Commons at 7:30 and march through the town and end up at New Hampshire Hall.

At the Hall after a few short, peppy cheers, and several songs, coaches of the various sports will be called upon to give a few words of greeting, as will a representative of the Women's Physical Education department. These will be followed by brief talks by Athletic Director Carl Lundholm, 'Smoky' Kelleher, prominent basketball official, and guest coaches.

Doris Dart Urges U. S. Aid to Allies

Isolation is not possible in this day of airplanes, Miss J. Doris Dart, Assistant Librarian and Cataloguer, stated at Women's Convocation at 4 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon. She spoke for the Committee for the Defense of America by Aiding the Allies. If Greenland, Canada, or the West Indies were in Hitler's hands, the United States would be in a grave situation. The United States has a navy in the Pacific to protect our interests there, but we have been depending on the British navy in the Atlantic. The United States would not be able to build a navy for the Atlantic until 1946. Up to that time we are dependent upon the British navy. Such was the substance of the speech given by Miss Dart.

Preceding Miss Dart's speech, Barbara Burns, President of Women's Student Government, presented the newly proposed changes in the women's rules. These changes included a modification of the smoking rule and changing the time at which women are required to be in after frat house dances from 12:05 to 12 midnight so that the striking of "T" Hall clock will make it easier for them to be in on time. Another proposal was that the house directors have a list of the girls who have week-end permission to visit friends, so that they need not go to the Dean of Women's office to get hostess slips. Another matter which was stressed was that of cheating which has become a serious problem here.

Veteran Actors Carry Burden In Latest Dramatic Production

by Tom O'Donnell

Despite the fact that many newcomers are to make their first appearance for Mask and Dagger in "The Old Homestead," the veterans of the group will be seen in the key parts. These tried and true performers have done excellent work in the past, and the main burden of carrying the play will rest on their very capable shoulders.

Justine Pillsbury has the important role of the mother. The part involves many different moods which must be interpreted with a great deal of skill. However, "Jackie" is quite up to the task, as anyone who has seen her perform can testify. She has previously been seen in "Berkeley Square," "What a Life," "Tovarich," and "Kind Lady," but this role promises to be the best of her characterizations.

Speaker Warns of Dark Future

U. S. Convoys, Speed-up In Production Urged by Gibson and Eichelberger

by Leslie Rockwell

"America must deliver the goods or Britain, and in the end, the United States and the whole world, will become a slave of Germany," warned Ex-Senator Gibson of Vermont and Clark Eichelberger of the "Committee to defend America by aiding the Allies" before a near-capacity audience in New Hampshire Hall last evening.

"If England falls," said Senator Gibson, "the Axis will have from six to eight times the ship building facilities of the United States and this country will never be able to best the Germans in sea power again." Any hostile power with the control of the sea and army of the size and efficiency of

Library Exhibits New Trends in Emotional Art

"Emotional Design in Modern Painting," an exhibition demonstrating the relationship between elementary patterns and the impressions created by a painting, opened last Saturday at the libe.

By diagrams and color reproductions, the responses which specific forms awaken are illustrated. According to supplementary data with the exhibit, "a horizontal line, subconsciously associated with all flat, quiet surfaces or with people and animals asleep, stirs a feeling of calm and repose. A vertical line suggests stability; a slanting line, movement; and a curved line, grace."

Paintings by Courbet, van Gogh, Renois, Picasso, and other modern European and American artists are included in the exhibition which comes from the Museum of Modern Art in New York. It will be on display through May 15.

introduction to campus play followers. Already this year he has been in two productions, a small but effective part in "Ah, Wilderness" and the Soviet Commissar in "Tovarich," in which he gained the major acting honors of the play. In this drama he has the lead, the part of Josh Whitcomb, a New Hampshire farmer who visits the big city in search of his son.

Jack Wentzell has served Mask and Dagger in two capacities, acting and technical. He had parts in "Our Town," and "Ah, Wilderness," and was the technician for "Tovarich."

Dottie Briggs, recently elected secretary of the society, has been acting since high school days in Dover, and gave an excellent account of herself in several previous offerings here. In "The Old Homestead," her ability will be displayed in her interpretation of a gossipy New Hampshire native.

Lambda Chi Alpha N. E. Conference Here Tomorrow

Regional Schedule Upset To Place Decennial Among 75th Anniversary Events

Instead of waiting until 1946 for their decennial New England conference here, the local Alpha Xi chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha early last month petitioned national headquarters to hold the 1941 conclave at the University of New Hampshire. Such a change in a 30-year-old schedule was a difficult one to request, but finally the big conference became an integral part of our 75th anniversary calendar.

Two representatives each from Maine, Colby, B. U., Mass. State, M. I. T., Rhode Island, Brown, Worcester Polytech and Clark College will come to Durham tomorrow morning.

Prize Play in Student Writer

In a recent interview, Dr. Carroll S. Towle announced that a new feature of the Student Writer this year would be the printing of the winning play in the university one-act play contest. Although Elwyn Dearborn and Richard Dent tied for first prize in the contest, Elwyn's play, "Faces to the Sun," will undoubtedly be the one selected for publication since Richard Dent, the winner last year of a national poetry prize, will have a good deal of his other work included in the Writer.

Goes to Press 22nd

As in past years, an abundance of material has been submitted to the Writer. The members of the faculty committee and student board have had a difficult time in making their selections, but most of the final decisions have now been completed. The Writer will go to press on May 22. This date is later than usual because of the difficulty involved in assembling the University Anthology, which will be offered for sale along with the Writer. Students who order the two publications before they are placed on sale will be offered reduced prices, $2.15 rather than $4.00.

The Student Writer will include this year several interesting pieces dealing with different aspects of college life and several reflecting the influence

Faculty and Staff Members Feted

Twenty-nine veterans of 25 or more years of service with the university were feted by their fellow faculty and staff members last Monday night at the Commons. Frederick W. Taylor, director of the commercial departments of the College of Agriculture, was spokesman for the veteran group. Director Taylor came to the university 38 years ago.

An address was given in honor of the group by Roy D. Hunter of Claremont, president of the board of trustees. A special faculty double quartet furnished music under the direction of Charles Tritt.

Faculty and staff members who have given their services to the university for over a quarter of a century are as follows: Frederick W. Taylor, Samuel Jones, Thomas J. Laton, Albert D. Littlehale, C. Floyd Jackson, Mrs. Marcia N. Sanders, I. S. Magoon, Walter C. O'Kane, Leon W. Hitchcock, Beatrice M. Richmond, Todd O. Smith, Elizabeth E. Mehaffey, Ruby Lowe, Dr. Alfred E. Richards, W. Ross Wilson, Harold H. Scudder, Fred Daniels, Oren V. Henderson, Eric T. Huddleston, Howard N. Wells, George Ham, Lyman J. Batchelder, James Macfarlane, Albert Mitchell, Ernest G. Ritzman, Mary L. At a meeting of Mortar Board Wednesday afternoon, Marjorie Moore was elected president of the honorary society for the coming year. Penelope Richards is the newly elected vice-president. Penny is president of Alpha Chi Omega, and has been very active in musical organizations on campus.

The secretary is Carolyn Napier, a member of Alpha Xi Delta, Blue Circle and active as a Big Sister. Katherine Sullivan, treasurer, is a member of Pi Lambda Sigma and has been outstanding in Pan Hellenic and Mask and Dagger productions. Teresa Foley, the new editor-historian, is a member of the Association of Day Students and Women's Student Government.

Retiring officers are: President, Eleanor Hillier; Vice-president, Marie Donahue; Secretary, Marjorie Callahan; Treasurer, Elizabeth Kinsman; and Editor-Historian, Lois Draper.

Registration Procedure Remains the Same

At a hearing held recently on registration procedure, it was decided to continue the system established at the beginning of the current semester, with a few minor changes. Next year as the marks are recorded the failures will be posted, in order to help students in arranging their programs for the following semester. The last day of registration will be used to adjust changes which students find it necessary to make in their schedules.

The failing marks will not be posted this spring during the preliminary registration period, since students will have time during the summer months, or next fall, to make any necessary changes.

It is also hoped that next year the examination schedule may be arranged so that more examinations will come near the end of the period.

Alpha Kappa Delta Takes Outing to Mendum's Pond

Members of AKD, New Hampshire Chapter of the National Sociology honor fraternity held an outing at Mendum's Pond Wednesday afternoon.

Arrangements for the outing were completed at the last meeting of the organization which also included a novel panel discussion upon the failings of the course in sociology here at the university. Professor Charles Coulter and Mr. Edgar McVoy took the faculty side of the debate while members of AKD assumed the students' point of view.

The group has decided to invite Dr. Malinowski, eminent sociologist who is on the faculty at Yale to this campus later this month. His visit will be in line with the 75th anniversary.

Popular Student Leader Strikes at Petty Campus Jealousies, Low Morale

"It's the principles upon which the organization is built that are important, not its members or its officers" Thus spoke Ray Doyle, newly-elected President of the Student Council, men's governing body, at the council's annual convocation on Thursday.

Striking the keynote of the convo, president Doyle in an inspired speech which closed the program made clear the right and wrong attitudes toward holding office in a student organization and emphasized what he termed a lack of morale in the student body. "Important to any college is the continued interest of its alumni," he said. "And how can we expect our alumni to return if we allow seniors to graduate with low morale, lack of spirit?"

Doyle also spoke on the "petty jealousies" and tainted rivalry between clubs on campus. "It's high time we swept away these undercurrents of meanness," he said. "More than ever we need unity, we need to become a united university. . . One of the jobs of Student Council is to help preserve the morale and unity of the student body, and to this end I pledge my whole-hearted support."

College Teachers Meet Here Today

The New England Association of College Teachers of Education is holding its annual spring meeting on campus today, as part of the university's 75th anniversary program. The principal subject to be discussed by the delegates is state certification for teachers. Karl W. Bigelow, director of the Commission on Teacher Education of the American Council on Education, and Alonzo G. Grace, commissioner of education for Connecticut, will be the speakers.

Commissioners of education from Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Connecticut will be special guests at the conference, which will be attended by representatives from fifteen New England colleges.

Time to Get Going

The new members of Student Council and Women's Student Government who were officially introduced to the student body at yesterday's convocation look as though they mean business. As the new Council president said, it is time for the lackadaisical New Hampshire undergraduate body to discard its traditional lethargic attitude and really "get on the ball". With the world in its present condition there is no room anywhere for the person who is going to sit back and let the other do something about it, especially among a supposedly educated and thinking group such as we have on campus.

Chosen by the students, these two governing bodies are composed of those who are capable of doing a splendid job. To realize their ambition of having a banner year for the University the Student Council and Women's Student Government must have the interest and support of the students in evidence at all times.

We're Different

Results released this week by the registrar's office show that as usual the non-fraternity scholastic average for the first semester was higher than that of the fraternity members. Recently we received a notice from a national foundation which had made a survey in several leading institutions and had found that without exception in the universities investigated, the fraternities outclassed by far the non-fraternity men.

Can it be that New Hampshire is the exception in this respect and if so what is the explanation? Is it true as recently pointed out in the Manchester Union Anniversary supplement that fraternities here are involved in more social life than on almost any other campus in the country? Perhaps our fraternities attract those who are more interested in extra-curricula activities while the scholarly type chooses to remain independent.

Perhaps it is impossible to explain this situation but an investigation would prove interesting.

Redbook Magazine Contest

The faculty members and student board will be deeply interested in the response made to stories appearing in The Writer as an aid to them in choosing the New Hampshire entry in the Annual Redbook Magazine Contest. Selection will be made from eight or ten of the stories appearing in the new Writer. A prize of $500 will be awarded to the winner of this contest, while $250 will be awarded to the magazine in which the story is first printed. It will then be reprinted in Redbook Magazine.

No news has been received as yet in regard to the four national contests in which New Hampshire students are competing.

N. E. CONFERENCE

Festivities will begin at noon with luncheon at the house, after which Captain Burnell V. Bryant, frater in facultate, will address the combined gathering on general organizational topics.

Saturday afternoon four panel discussions are scheduled to hum at once: (1.) The Fraternity's Place in National Defense, (2.) Educational Policies, (3.) Training Younger Frat Men for Executive Positions, and (4.) Pledging Ceremony Policies. Resolutions will be drawn up at the conclusion of each panel discussion, and the afternoon will be climaxed with a conclave for the drawing up of the most pertinent and important resolutions to be sent to national headquarters for consideration at the next national convention.

Supper at Mendum's Pond will be followed by a dance for delegates and brothers at Commons Trophy Room.

TO THE EDITOR

To make unfounded accusations is always easy and usually results in a sensationalism peculiarly gratifying to a certain type of journalist; to take the trouble to verify the facts behind such charges is rather too tedious a process to satisfy his desire for "an explosive expose of campus conditions" in every issue.

But when the situation to which he calls attention is described as "ugly", and an advisor is accused of excessively dominating a group of campus leaders, the facts should have been investigated beforehand, even if the explosion had to be delayed for a day or two.

The members of Mortar Board do not feel compelled to justify any action that was taken during the election of their new members, but since the author of the recent editorial entitled, Exceptions to the Rule, showed himself totally unprejudiced by any knowledge of the facts, those facts, in fairness to all concerned, should be clearly set forth.

Qualifications for election to Mortar Board are a reasonably high scholastic average, participation in a number of outside activities, and leadership ability. The new members of Mortar Board were elected by the student members of Mortar Board only. Mortar Board has three advisers who separately approved the list of candidates, and in the case of our recent election, all the advisers were ready to approve any unanimous choice for membership in this honor society. The advisers at no time do more than merely suggest girls for membership in Mortar Board.

It is very unfortunate that such unfounded and irresponsible charges should have been advanced, particularly as Mortar Board in making selections was careful to lay aside all personal prejudice, and to elect those who it is most certain are representative of the very highest type of campus leadership.

Frosh Stickmen Trip Andover

Continuing to show their impressive offensive attack and defensive strength, the freshman lacrosse team walked over Andover Wednesday afternoon 7-2 at Lewis Fields.

Andover started the action in the fracas when Gault scored a surprise goal when only fifty seconds had ticked away. It was twelve minutes before the Kittens finally evened up the score, Kolinsky shoving in the equalizer. Niles gave New Hampshire the lead by scoring thirty seconds before the quarter ended.

The Kittens sewed up the game in the second with two markers by Garrison, and another by Niles. DuRie started substituting freely after the half and used thirty-two men in the whole game. Tom Niles added two more goals in the third quarter before leaving the game.

This victory was the second for the freshmen and should prove to be an indication of a successful season ahead. Tomorrow afternoon, the Kittens go over to Philips-Exeter Academy, which has one of the best lacrosse teams in the country. This will probably be the toughest game of the season for New Hampshire.

The new $30,000 henhouses at the University of Connecticut are steam-heated and termite-proof, with electric lights, hot and cold running water and automatic fountains.

New Hampshire Wins Third Game; Edges Out Northeastern

Frosh Baseballers Beat Exeter, 7-6

Jervis Pitches Nine Hit Games as Adams Gets Three Hits; New Hampton Next

The Freshman baseball team traveled to Exeter Wednesday afternoon to battle with Exeter Academy on the diamond and after the last ball had been pitched the Rood-tutored boys added their second victory of the season on their 1941 record. With Fred Jervis on the mound the Frosh defeated Exeter's diamond men, 7-6. This was the second win for Jervis, the other win coming at the expense of Andover Academy in the first game, 10-7.

The Kittens were unable to score any runs in the first three innings but Exeter also failed to rally anything during this interval. Then the New Hampshire players went to town and practically won the game in the fourth canto when they pushed five big runs across the plate. The Exeter team, however, affected a counter-attack in the last half of the fourth to register two runs and make the score 5-2.

The New Hampshire team didn't score any runs in the fifth but Exeter scored two more runs to come within one run of tying the Durham team.

At the end of the seventh inning the score was still 5-4 and it was now evident that the final score would probably be quite close. In the first of the eighth the Roodmen tallied one run to increase their lead to two runs. New Hampshire scored another run in the last inning but the Exeter boys rallied to net two more runs but fell

Lundholm Announces New Field House Gate Policy

In order to facilitate the collection of admissions to athletic contests on Lewis Fields, particularly on days when more than one contest is scheduled, it is necessary to close the entrance to Lewis Field by way of the railroad underpass. Inasmuch as there is not an admission charge for varsity track meets and lacrosse games, when a varsity baseball game is played on the same day as the latter two events it is difficult to control admissions unless all spectators enter through the admission arrangement at the entrance to the Field House.

Managers and members of athletic teams and students who wish to use tennis courts are requested to present their athletic tickets for admissions to the Field House on days when varsity baseball games are scheduled.

The full cooperation of students and faculty will be very much appreciated.

short by one run. Thus the final score was 7-6.

Red Adams, Burby, and Dupont hit doubles for New Hampshire. During the game Red Adams, who was playing in left field, got three safeties to lead his teammates while Burby hit safely twice. Rhuland, Dupont, Malloy and Korzeniewski got a hit a piece to make up the nine hits that the Kittens got.

Jervis pitched a good game, allowing nine hits. His control was very good, but his team made a total of nine errors.

The Frosh play their next game Tuesday here at Durham when New Hampton comes to town.

Sheik Karelis Shuts Out Huskies on Four Hits, 2-0; Play Conn. Twice Today

Scattering four hits throughout nine innings, Sheik Karelis turned in another exhibition of superb hurling in white-washing the Northeastern Huskies 2-0 Tuesday afternoon at Brackett Field. At only two instances was Karelis in any danger in the whole engagement. Roland Boucher started the game in center field in place of Lou Cryans who was called home due to the death of his brother.

The game was a hurling duel throughout as Rice of Northeastern was also very stingy with the hits giving up only five. For four innings the horsecollars dominated the scoreboard but the fifth frame saw the Swaseymen break the ice. Sparky Adams opened the chapter by spanking a single to left center and Phil Richards swung late on the second pitch and tripled far down the right field line to score the first sacker. Khederian, the Husky third sacker saved another run when he went behind third to get Sughrue's grounder and throw him out by a step.

In the sixth the Durhamites scored the last run of the afternoon. Sheik proved himself as a real hitter by lashing a double to left center. He was moved along to third on a beautiful bunt by Boucher. Pajonas threw one to the stand in an attempt to get Thayer and Karelis tagged up with the last tally of the matinee.

Meanwhile Karelis was at his peak allowing only four bingles including Pajonas' triple and fanning ten men.

This is the week-end that decides whether UNH spring sports teams have one of the greatest years in history, or whether they'll simmer down to another mediocre season. All indications seem to say that the teams have the stuff. Varsity and freshman lacrosse, varsity baseball, and freshman track all have perfect seasons so far. All the other teams have excellent records too, and we hope they keep it up. This Saturday sees all teams active except the frosh baseball team. The double-header this afternoon is something new in baseball here. Coach Swasey doesn't remember any other twin-bill since he came here twenty years ago. Swasey will be satisfied with one victory this afternoon, because he figures that a six and two record should be good enough to clinch the title this year.

Tom Niles is proving to be the sparkplug for the Kitten lacrosse team these days. He didn't come out for the team until after they had had about two weeks of practice, but he turned out to be a natural. In the first two games he has scored eight goals. Joe Garrison is also proving to be a promising attack man with five goals to his credit. Johnny DuRie has discovered a first-rate goalie in "Bish" Cattabriga, and Will Hastings and Lenny Wolfe give him a lot of support around the net. Space does not allow the mention of all the other fellows who have contributed to the swell record of the team, even though they deserve it, but we certainly hope they keep up the good work.

The varsity track team will meet Northeastern tomorrow afternoon in quest of its first win of the campaign. The trackmen have had tough luck in their first two starts, but this time they are all set to go to town. The team should show a great deal of improvement next year when the stars of this year's frosh team are combined with the experienced men of the varsity. The weakness in the weight events will be corrected, because it is in this department that the yearlings are the strongest. The varsity is already powerful in its running events and these will be counted on heavily to bring a victory.

Don't forget the Interscholastic tomorrow! With seventy schools competing, it should certainly be worth a trip to Lewis Field to see the pick of the athletes from seven states, over eight hundred strong, compete simultaneously in dashes, long distance runs, and all the field events. The twenty-ninth annual interscholastic meet will be the biggest and best ever held!

Political Scientists Convene Tomorrow

Meetings, presentation of papers, addresses, and round-table discussions: this is what will take place on campus tomorrow when the annual meeting of the Connecticut Valley Political Science Association will be held here. The conference will bring together renowned scholars from Harvard, Dartmouth, Vermont, Middlebury, Mt. Holyoke and many other colleges and universities in New England, for the purpose of discussing governmental affairs and public opinion, and exchanging different methods of teaching Political Science.

The two speakers of the day will be Wayne D. Heydecker, Regional Representative of the Council of State Governments and Henry F. Long, Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation in Massachusetts. After each has presented his paper, there will be a round-table discussion in which everybody will be able to participate.

Governor and Mrs. Blood will be guests of the Association and will attend the 4:00 tea.

Student Geologist Makes Discovery

By Bob Crosbie

Ventifacts—strange faceted stones which to geologists are almost infallible proof of desert conditions, were recently discovered in Exeter by Israel Chorney, a senior in the geology department. The find was made on a field trip when the seniors were in the immediate vicinity studying local bed-rock outcroppings.

The group stopped at a gravel pit in Exeter where Chorney noticed a rock which was marked by flat angular sides rather than the usual rounded glacial form. Chorney hurried with the stone over to Professor Meyers who proved on closer examination that the stones were originally deposited probably in the Pleistocene Age. Several other stones were picked up and all showed evidence of the sand abrasion and high winds which predominated in the period which followed.

Ventifacts have been found on Cape Cod and in Connecticut but this is the first report of their being found in New Hampshire. Out of this discovery may develop an entirely new interpretation of the conditions which existed in the Southern New Hampshire area during post-glacial time.

Engelhardt Speaks

President Fred Engelhardt will be the speaker at the regular Sunday Evening Fellowship, May 11, which will be held in the Durham Community House at 6:30. ## Campus Notes

German Club

There will be a meeting of the German club on Thursday, May 15, at 7:30 P. M. The members will gather at Ballard Hall; weather permitting the meeting will be held outside.

Outing Club

Margaret Preble and Stan Low will run the last Outing Club of the year May 24 and 25 to the Jackson Cabin. This outing will end a year of ski week-ends, mountain climbing expeditions, and a variety of other activities.

The trip this week-end has been called off because of the fire hazard.

There will be an important meeting for all Blue Circles Monday night. At this time new members will be elected.

Holy Communion

There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion in the Community Church on Sunday, May 11, at 8:30 A. M. The Reverend Junius J. Martin will be the celebrant.

All seniors who are confirmed communicants are especially invited to participate in this service. Following the service there will be a communion breakfast in Commons.

Skulls Songfest

Senior Skulls would like all groups who intend to participate in the Songfest to give the list of songs and approximate participation to Ed Burt, president and head of this year's Songfest. From the comments going around campus, there seems to be considerably more interest in the contest this year (maybe we'll even put the glee club to shame!)

Songfest Committee.

CONVO

Doyle was preceded on the rostrum by Matt Flaherty, former president of the council and master of ceremonies at the convocation. Flaherty gave a resume of the council's activities this year, emphasizing recent faculty-council conferences on cuts and the dark subject of cheating during exams. He asked, as did Doyle after him, for the support of the entire student body in the council's work and aims.

To open the program, Flaherty introduced Fred Bowles, retiring president of Sphinx Society, who outlined the history and purpose of the club, then proceeded with the "tapping" ceremony. The following members, each representing his fraternity, were accepted into Sphinx: Jim Brady, Theta Kap; Bill Call, SAE; Fred Saunders, Lambda Chi; Carl Carlson, Theta Chi; Win MacDonald, Kappa Sig; Roger Marshall, ATO; Roland Boucher, Phi Mu Delta; Bill Rosen, Phi Alpha; Bill Mitchell, Alpha Gamma Rho; Wendell Webster, Phi Delta; George Herrick, TKE; and Roger Trachy, Pi Kappa Alpha.

Eleanor Hillier then introduced Marjorie Moore, her successor to the presidency of Mortar Board, and the following campus leaders ascended the stage steps as new members: Eleanor Mauricette, Theresa Foley, Barbara Burns, Louise Edson, Carolyn Napier, Penelope Richards, Leona Dumont, and Kay Sullivan.

DARK FUTURE

the Germans could effect a successful invasion. If actual invasion were not attempted, the Germans could control our economic life through outside pressure and we would have no choice but to fall in line. Resistance would be hopeless.

"If we have to convoy American ships with American Naval vessels through belligerent zones to get supplies to England, we must do it," declared Mr. Eichelberger. "If Britain is defeated, we can no longer defend ourselves from eventual Nazi penetration." America must gear itself to a twenty-four hour a day production basis. We must utilize every inch of factory space and use every resource at our command to keep an increasing flow of supplies, planes, guns, and tanks going to Britain; and we must see that they are not sent to the bottom of the ocean. "There are two kinds of peace philosophies," stated Mr. Eichelberger, — "one which believes in the use of socialized force, and the other which preaches against the use of force, no matter what the circumstances." One leads to international order; the other results in international slavery. It was the desire of nations to have "peace at any price" that has led to the catastrophe that has engulfed the world today.

SPORTSFEST

Highlight of the evening will be the main address by Jim Britt, noted sports commentator from the Yankee Network. Jim will leave Boston directly after his evening's broadcast in order to be on hand for the event. His job has brought him into contact with all the greats and near-greats of the athletic world, which should make his speech interesting and informative to sports enthusiasts.

Yauritz to Speak

Climaxing the evening's entertainment will be Captain Francisco Yauritz, of Buenos Aires—"Ambassador of Good Will." He has done much to further Pan-American relations through a tour of this section, having recently appeared before groups in Manchester, Boston, Providence and other prominent cities.

The entire program has been arranged and sponsored by the Newman Club, and designed for the purpose of doing honor to those men and women who have earned their letters in athletic contests here at the University.

ett, Frederick Draper, Roger Dumont, Arthur Graham, Albert Greenwood, Raymond Hastings, W. Kenneth Miller, Charles Untiet, and Chester Wheeler.

Horace Sawyer Martin, Jr., held the stand for a humorous few minutes as president of Blue Key, Senior Men's Honorary Society. As retiring president, he pointed to the rapid rise of the club in campus leadership since 1922. And here are the new Blue Keyers: Roger Judkins, Ray Doyle, Bob Austin, Fred Bowles, Stacey Clark, Bill Cone, Dick Cook, Don Crafts, Bill Feeney, Dick Gordon, Hal Hall, Paul Nugent, Hal Monica, Bill Rudd, and Dick Sughrue.

Madeline Pappachristos formally tendered the leadership reins of Women's Student Government to Barbara Burns, who spoke with simplicity and charm on the aims of "Stoogie," and then received these newly-elected members into the organization: Mary L. (George) Hancock (vice-president), Freshman Winifred Curtis (Secretary), and 1st Junior, Louise Griffin (Treasurer). 1st Senior Eleanor Mauricette, 2nd Senior Dot Page, 2nd Junior Dorothy Kimball, 3rd Junior Marjorie Chalmers, President of Scott Hall Rita Pierce, President of Smith Hall Dot Minor, and Commuters' Representative Theresa Foley.
