Horse Show Opens Monday with Many Riders Entered

Judges Mr. and Mrs. J. Loring Brooks Donate Saddle Horse Trophy

On Monday afternoon an annual event which is fast becoming much more than a campus affair will take place when the Horse Show opens at 1:00 with riders participating from not only Durham but many other New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Vermont, and Maine towns.

The latest report received from the show's co-sponsors, the Outing Club and the Animal Husbandry Department, shows that entries include the Hoper Riding School, Rye; T Ledge Stables, South Portland, Maine; the Morgan Horse Stables, West Newbury, Mass.; the Back Acres Riding Club, Bedford; Lawrence Ackerman, Frank Carroll, Marilyn Cavanaugh, and Glenn Elkins Jones—all of Dover; and others from Eliot, Maine; Gloucester, Mass.; and Pittsfield.

Student Interest High

Student interest is running high this year with not only undergraduate men and women riders entering the events but an ambitious group of co-eds have signed up for the cow milking contest as well. The milkmaids-to-be include Pat Jordan, Alice Cowgill, Ethel Steigman, Connie Constable, Dottie Keefe, and Jan Eckstrom. If there are any other girls who would like to enter this event they are asked to contact Lily Carlson, Congreve Hall, before Monday.

A number of last year's winners in the U.N.H. student horsemanship event are to again participate this year. One of these stars will be Ruth Dickson on "Sadwin", the same horse she won the Vermont 100 Mile Ride on this summer. Herb Williams, Ginger Brown, and Brownlee McKee are also riding.

Judges Award Trophy

Judges Mr. and Mrs. J. Loring Brooks Jr. of Springfield, Mass., have donated a trophy of the famous American saddle horse, "King's Genius," for the saddle horse class of 15-2 and over. The Brooks have judged many of the leading horse shows of the East, including the Canadian Royal Exposition in Toronto. They have been exhibitors of some of the outstanding three and five gaited saddle horses in this section of the country.

Rita O'Connor, Bonnie Gongwer, Patricia Hallett, and Mimi Morrison of Stoneleigh Junior College are coming from Rye Beach for the Intercollegiate Riding Competition event.

An Hours Interview with A Cop Or What's Good for A Hot Foot

by John Colocousis

Chief Louis Bourgoin has added two men to his police force. The new cops are Emile Samaha and Vernon Lewis which raises the number of student deputies to nine.

One common observation of their first week at work is that Main Street can get plenty hot when the sun starts beating down. I questioned Ed Richardson about their duties and it seems that the only trouble with the whole business is that they can't find any ice to stand on. But all joking aside, I got some very interesting answers.

First of all, you've probably realized that over half the boys chosen as deputies are students in the advanced R.O.T.C. This proves further the value of this training when you consider that the boys were chosen for their ability in leadership. Now Ed tells me that next year he'll probably be in the army and that he feels that this training he is getting from his police work

College Band Under Eckman, Known as College Inn Orch.

New Band to Hold First Engagement at Sphinx Dance October 18

Taking up where Jack Mitchell left off last June, Bernie Eckman has re-organized the campus orchestra. With but five men left from last year's band, Eckman has had to build from the ground up.

The Band this year will be known as "The College Inn Orchestra." This name is not a new one to this campus; one of the former groups on campus went under this name, and now it has been decided to bring the name back into use. The name itself has been in use since the early 1900's, originating at about the same time as the famed Dartmouth Barbary Coast Orchestra.

Different Style

The style of this year's band will be somewhat different from that of last season. The band will feature music of the solid side as well as in a smooth vein. Taking over Mitchell's job of baton waving will be Tenor Sax Man—Bernie Eckman, who will undoubtedly do all his waiving with his sax.

The opening engagement of the band will be on October 18 at New Hampshire Hall when the orchestra will play for the Sphinx Dance.

Second Childhood Strikes At Campus Glamour Girls

Last night in the distinctly juvenile atmosphere of a pink and blue nursery, the Bickford youngsters broke into campus society by entertaining their "Big Sisters," the glamour girls of U.N.H. A wild peanut hunt started the evening with a bang. When the exhausted hunters returned, they were soon taking part in Ring Around the Rosey, Drop the Handkerchief, In and Out the Windows, and Button, Button, Who's Got the Button.

During an intermission of the evening's fun, the glamour girls got their "jive" lesson on the way to raiding the kitchen for bread and butter and jam. After the kids smeared up their faces with jam and the "Big Sisters" lost some glamour, the children wound up the evening by singing nursery rhymes. The "Big Sisters" amazed by the abilities of their "little sisters" left, saying, "as Bickford goes, so goes the campus."

There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion on Sunday, October 12, at 8:30 A.M., in the Durham Community Church. The Reverend Junius J. Martin will be the celebrant.

will be invaluable to him, in that it further supplements his R.O.T.C. training in leadership. Besides the training received the boys get 40 cents an hour for their work and it helps them pay some of their expenses.

Chief Louis has shown his appreciation of the help the boys have given him in that he has promised to let the boys try out his new gun for sentimental reasons.

The boys direct traffic on Main Street from 8 to 9 in the morning. This shift has come to be known as the Sunrise Shift because the sun can sure hit one in the eyes. They work the noon hour also. However, their main work comes on days when there are football games or other special occasions such as Dad's Day. They also work Thursdays at drill, that is, those who aren't already drilling.

They are going to be given instruction by John Lockwood as there are

Bonnet Concert Given in Exeter

On Sunday, October 12, the town of Exeter will be host to Joseph Bonnet, the world famous organist from Paris. Recognized as one of the world's outstanding organists, Bonnet, at the age of fourteen, was appointed organist at the church of St. Michel and later studied under the great Guilmant. Besides his hundreds of European concerts, Bonnet has successfully toured America and Mexico, adding greatly to his laurels' and receiving Knighthood of the Legion of Honor from his own country, France. In addition to being recognized as the master in his field, Bonnet is well-known for his compositions; the most important being his six volumes of "Historical Organ Recitals."

Everyone is cordially invited to attend his performance at Phillips Exeter Academy next Sunday at 6:45 p.m.

37 Fewer Students Here This Year

Although a drop in the enrollment of the university was expected this year, the official registration figures that have just been released states that as compared with 1940's total enrollment of 1828 students there are 1865 students this year.

The College of Agriculture has a decrease of 17 students with an enrollment of 153; the College of Liberal Arts has an increase over last year of 30 students with an enrollment of 1287. The college of Technology with an enrollment of 425 students this year tops last year's figure of 391.

French Professors Write School Text

Volume Completed After Five Years Preparation

Accepted by Harper's Publishing Company to be edited sometime next spring is a book written by two of the university's French professors, Clifford Parker and Paul E. Grigaut, entitled "Initiation a La Culture Francaise."

They have been preparing this volume for five years during which time it was used in the classroom for students of intermediate French. Presenting the earliest history of France to the present day, it includes chapters on "geography, outstanding personalities, literature, art, architecture, and the sciences." It also includes the economic development of the nation, its social problems, music, schools, and colonies. One of the main features of the volume is the integration of history and geography.

Provides Background

As the co-authors have stated in the preface, this book is "to provide a background, a knowledge that will enable students to appreciate the historical, social or artistic significance of an author is the purpose of this volume."

"As the authors have observed that American students are deficient in their knowledge of French geography, one section of each of the chapters of the first part of the book describes one of the provinces of France. In the second part, emphasis is placed on either cities or provinces. The lion's share of attention has naturally been given to Paris.

Dinner Reception Tended Guest In President's Dining Hall

Masque and Dagger Host To Noted Actress at Large Gathering

At an informal reception dinner Wednesday evening Miss Landi was welcomed to the campus of the University of New Hampshire. She was received at the Commons in the President's dining room by the members of the Masque and Dagger Society. The dinner was attended by John Gow, Nathan Babcock, David Crockett, Dorothy Briggs, Donald Crafts, Elwyn Dearborn, Robert Stewart, Faith Williams, Catherine Sullivan, Robert Olsen, Penelope Richards, Tony Touart, Walter Webster, Thomas Englert, Betty Lucy, Mrs. Fred Englehardt, Mr. and Mrs. Schoolcraft, and Mr. William Hennessy.

Actress, writer and conversationalist, Elissa Landi proved to be a real trooper by her appearance. Charming and vital Miss Landi livened the table conversation with demonstrations of some of her more popular roles. During the visit the question of acoustics was raised and Miss Landi emphatically tested the dining room by shouting a quotation from Shakespeare.

The dinner was enjoyed by all the guests and Miss Landi expressed her pleasure by saying that she would never forget the hospitality of our university.

Prospective Enlistees To State Qualifications

Dr. Everett Sackett, chairman of the University Defense Committee, wants to familiarize all male college students who expect to be enlisted in the army with the following information. The American Council on Education, which functions in all colleges in our country, wishes that all men concerned would ask for a blank on which information regarding the student's college studies, extra-curricular activities, degrees, and special qualifications is listed.

This personal data will enable the U. S. Army officials to assign each person to the type of service in which he may be of greatest use. The blanks may be obtained at the Registrar's Office.

Repairing Blitzkrieg Reaches Walls of Ancient Ballard Hall

by Lilly Carlson

Ballard Hall has been taking on a new appearance these days with a new foundation and a fresh coat of paint. The work on Ballard was begun last year. First the old foundation walls were removed, while the building was supported, and then, the brick foundation was built around the outside. As many windows as possible were put in so that there might be plenty of light and air.

New Facilities Installed

The basement of Ballard has been allotted to the pottery department which formerly had its headquarters in the Shops. The photography department will move into the place vacated by the pottery makers. Counters and facilities have been installed in the basement of Ballard for display purposes and for work benches. The new basement necessitated a change in the heating and plumbing, and certain walls were taken down to give more room.

Author-Lecturer Gives Interesting Talk on "The Play's the Thing-Or Is It"

by Richard Dent

The contemporary actress and author, Elissa Landi, gave a whimsical lecture before an enormous audience Wednesday evening in New Hampshire Hall.

The first part of Miss Landi's lecture adhered strictly to the announced subject, "The Play's the Thing-Or Is It?" The ingratiating speaker was willing to admit that the "play might be the thing" but there were certainly many more aspects than the play to be considered. One especially trying obstacle was the playwright and his stage directions. Miss Landi suggested in this connection that probably Shakesperian acting was accepted as the best training for an actor or an actress because of the few stage directions written in Shakespeare's plays. Most modern stage indications, she said, were devoid of any value because they are not sufficiently explanatory of the author's intentions or because they mean nothing. The profuseness of italicized paragraphs in modern plays led Miss Landi to state that many playwrights wrote novels turned into dialogue to produce drama. This means vast alterations, and trials for the actors, writer, and director.

New Plays Imaginative

The newer plays are excessively imaginative and unless stages are renovated to provide the necessary machinery it is impossible to present the dramatic works properly, and although some playwrights still write the older type of play using a large amount of scenery, Miss Landi believes that they do not represent the progressive dramatic idiom.

Then the speaker explained how the movies differed from the stage from an actor's view-point. She prefaced her remarks on this item by saying, referring to the "legitimate stage" first, she saw no reason why the cinema should be bastardized with the appellation, "illegitimate." According to Miss Landi the cinema depends on magnification of detail with an increase of

The cutting down of the porch in front of Ballard has given the hall an entirely different appearance. Besides these very apparent changes, the shingles on the roof, and the gutters and rain spouts have been repaired. The whole outside was given a general overhauling to prepare it for the painters. Grading is in progress around building for a parking area for the occupants of Ballard Hall.

Bleachers Being Painted

But Ballard Hall is not alone in being renovated. Besides the remodeling on Pettee and Bickford Houses, the bleachers on Memorial Field are also undergoing a change—in outside appearance, at least. They are at present being prepared to be painted. There was some difficulty in deciding upon the color, but gray was finally chosen. The girls' equipment house beside the bleachers is receiving a new wall on the side near the stands, for this side had only a hastily constructed wall. This, too, will be painted gray.

DURHAM, N. H. OCT. 10, 1941

A Good Start

In an effort to better serve the student body and to create more interest in its functions, the Student Council this fall is putting on an extensive campaign. Evidence of this novel and commendable initiative on the part of the men's governing body may be seen in another column of this issue of The New Hampshire under Student Council News. Here the undergraduate population will have an opportunity to see what the Council is trying to accomplish and will be informed of impending business so that anyone who shows sufficient interest may attend any meeting of this group.

For years these meetings have been, according to the constitution, open to the public but recently no one has availed themselves of the opportunity of sitting in on them. This year the members of the Council feel that they really want to do something and thereby set a standard and example for many other campus organizations which have been in a more or less stagnant condition for varying periods of time.

Besides the regular functions which it has performed of late, the Council is making complete plans to revive some of its forgotten duties and to assert itself in new fields. Such worthy efforts as these on the part of the Student Council deserve reciprocation from the students in the form of genuine interest, cooperation, and suggestions for further improvement.

Student Council News Lens and Shutter Honors Linscott

Beginning with this issue of The New Hampshire, the Student Council will publish periodically the minutes of its meetings for the members of the student body. Whenever possible topics to be considered at weekly meetings will also appear in the hope that there are those among the students and faculty who will wish to attend the meetings which are open to the public.

Student elections of class officers will be held on October 30 and 31. Announcement will soon be made of the opening of nomination periods for these offices.

A new location for the recently renovated voting booth is under discussion. It is felt that the present location is not located centrally enough for the convenience of the majority of the student body.

The Council will meet with Dean Alexander at his home on Monday evening to review with him the newly proposed functions for the Council.

The special train to Portland was quite successful. The necessary quota was reached and the trip was enjoyed by all.

Various members of the Council are busy investigating present campus functions and organizations with the idea in mind of raising general standards.

Donald Linscott, a member of Phi Mu Delta fraternity, was elected president of Lens and Shutter, campus camera club, for the coming year at the annual election of officers on Wednesday evening. Roland Kimball, a member of the same fraternity and captain of the cross-country team was named vice-president.

Other new officers are Howard Steele, treasurer; Blair Watson, recording secretary; Ellen Stoddard, corresponding secretary, and Blair Watson, chairman of the program committee.

Club members voted to hold regular meetings on Wednesday evenings at 7:30 P.M. The program committee is at present planning events for the coming school year. New members are still being invited to join Lens and Shutter by the executive committee which held its first meeting yesterday afternoon.

Candidates for WHO'S WHO AMONG AMERICAN COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY STUDENTS will be selected in the near future.

The Council will sponsor a dance at Homecoming. Carl Carlson has been appointed general chairman of the committee.

With the Fraternities and Sororities

Alpha Xi Delta: Alice Cowgill, Ethel Steigman, and Pat Jordan will attempt at the Horse Show Monday afternoon to get a cow to stand still long enough to milk. . . . Eleanor Gould, '41, visited the house this weekend. . . . She is now working at the Perkins Institute in Watertown, Mass. . . . Dot Jasper visited Barb Adams, '41, in Fairlee, Vermont, this weekend. . . . Anne Stevens and Connie Fletcher weekendend in Manchester, as did Ginny Henderson in Marlboro. . . . Hope Leslie has been cast in Mask and Dagger's latest. . . . Carolyn Napier, Director of the Horse Show, has been keeping her fingers crossed for the last three weeks, and will continue to do so until 7:00 Monday night. . . . One of the most spectacular things to happen in the house this week was Tuesday night's shorning of Connie Fletcher's locks.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon: Web Coombs has been installed as Eminent Archon of the Chapter for the first semester. . . . Ten pledges were initiated Tuesday evening: Stuart Hancock, George Houle, Fred Hoyt, Anthony Peyou, Leo Dupont, Wayne Mullavey, Jack Hubbard, Don Balch, Robert Batchelder, and Harry Bedard becoming members. . . . Pledge Levnesky has received his call for physical inspection by Uncle Sam. . . . Extensive plans for Homecoming are under way.

Phi Delta Upsilon: The Burns' brothers, Big and Li'l Goon, have improved their Ford by at least two years by putting the starter on the dash. They maintain that the only difference between their buggy and one a couple years later vintage is the tin work . . . and that doesn't amount to much. The Tech sophomores are united by that common, physics, but flypaper is acting contrary to its adhesive qualities and is almost breaking up the Grist Mill. It is hoped that a settlement will be reached before the room is completely broken up. The brothers bemoaned the lack of a shotgun Wednesday when a pheasant was seen nochalantly wandering around the back yard for about half an hour.

Sigma Beta: Plowright and Murchie took over Westbrook Junior College last week-end. Many of the boys intend to return to Bates this week-end although there is no game. Jim Keenan was home for a few days—bad cold. There will be a house dance Friday night, and S. A. E. is invited. Mihalski, Bud Parker, Bob Dudley, Don Harris, and Ted Murchie all claim the house table tennis championship. Phi Alpha was beaten in softball by forfeit.

Phi Mu: Virginia Page visited Mrs. Robert Baron at her home in Salem, New Hampshire, last Sunday. Mrs. Baron is the former Eleanor Woodbury, president of Phi Mu in 1940. . . . Mrs. Harry Hurlbert and daughter, Marilyn, spent last weekend at the house. . . . Florence Strout, Madeline Batt, and Betty Stone took a trip to Seabrook Beach last Monday. . . . Phyllis and Doris Churchill were the guests of Barbara Larkin and her parents last Sunday. They reported a very interesting trip through ex-Governor Fuller's estate.

. . . Edith Wright returned to her home last weekend. Betty Stone and Lorna Wakefield were also away at that time. . . . Mrs. Armstrong, our Housemother, spent Wednesday in Portland, Maine.

Kappa Sigma: Several brothers attended the Bates game. No casualties reported as yet. A new vic has been purchased and will be initiated at the vic dance Friday evening. Brother Win MacDonald is back at school after an operation, and is continuing his proctorship at West hall. Pledge Ross Fenno was a guest at Kappa Sigma and Scott Hall. Carl Peterson from New Haven, Conn., was a guest this week-end of Brother Hal Monica. Brother Bill Downs, who is stationed on active duty in Portsmouth, N. H., was a week-end visitor. Pledges Steve Flis and Phil MacDonald played their usual "bang-up" game against Bates. Brother Johnson hunted Saturday morning; score: Birds—3, Brother Johnson—wet feet.

Theta Upsilon: We have just received the announcement of the marriage of Susan Malsch, '41, to Joseph E. Godfrey, Jr., Ensign, U. S. Naval Reserve, on September 21, in Reno, Nevada. Mr. Godfrey is a graduate of Cornell University, where he was a member of Sigma Nu fraternity. Natalie Chandler and Lois Draper were weekend visitors at the house. Lois is now teaching in West Newbury, Mass. Dorothy Sawyer, Helen Pearce, Louise Edson, Rachel Morrison, and Doris Dearborn were among those traveling to Portland for the game Saturday.

FEWER STUDENTS

This year there are 72 more co-eds on campus than last year. This increase is partially due to a larger quota of out-of-state students being admitted this year.

The enrollment of the combined classes of Applied Farming, Graduate, and Special courses, which was 2008 in 1940, decreased this year to 1993, the juniors keeping pace with an increase of students.

Alimi Coaches J. V. Football Team

George Alimi has been appointed to coach the jayvee football squad, that is if enough report. Right now there are about 25 boys and Alimi would like to see more boys out there. He has Steve Laskevich, Paul Nugent, Mac Lowe, Bob Mullen, Jerry Thayer, the Hager brothers, and many others who show promise.

Alimi is assisted by Dwight Richardson and both boys emphasize the fact that experience is not necessary.

Athletes Are Human!

Now that the colorful gridiron season is in full sway, every enthusiastic student on campus at one time or another will hear semi-loud utterings concerning the achievements and downfalls of Coach Sauer's football organization. On practically every campus in the country there is the pessimistic type of scholar who is continually growling at something. Before the season commenced, we knew that sometime or another the Wildcat pigskin fighters would encounter some sort of tough luck. All teams face Tough Luck once in a while and all teams possess Good Luck in some engagements. Football players are human! Yes, why can't they drop the ball as well as you?

Coach Efficient

Last Saturday the high-riding Sauer footballers unleashed terrific onslaughts against the opponent defenses in the last period that would have crushed all sorts of resistance at other times but Tough Luck emerged on the field and shattered our hopes. The Durham fighters outplayed their adversaries in all departments but just couldn't gallop over the last lime-covered marker. Defeats are caused by one of three things. Sometimes the coach isn't efficient. Many times the players are either incompetent or overconfident. Many times the coach is very good, the players perform brilliantly but the breaks spurt against you. This was our case.

Therefore, let's analyze these facts carefully and realize that we do support a good team, a team that will exhibit first-rate spectacles throughout the season. Give the Blue-and-White-clad athletes worthy encouragement and talk of the future clashes, not the past. They're decayed as far as we're concerned! The Maine tussle is tomorrow. We all know that the rampaging Wildcats will strive to produce the utmost efficiency in this hard struggle.

Paul Sweet's forces inaugurate their activity tomorrow morning against Maine at Orono. This able coach usually turns out good teams. Watch him through the year!

INTERVIEW

no textbooks written on the subject. They will meet regularly but as yet no definite time has been set. They have been promised a chance to work in a cruising car later. They will cruise around the Dover District and take part in small cases. This will be practical experience for them. Ed told me one interesting axiom that they follow; that as long as a driver keeps moving, no matter how slowly, he feels satisfied. This is what the boys try to do.

And so the interview came to a close. But it was very interesting to find out just what the cops have been doing and what reactions they have had after a week's work.

Sweet Forces to Battle with Maine

The University of New Hampshire's 1941 varsity cross-country runners will commence hostilities tomorrow morning at Orono, Maine, pitted against the University of Maine's philipoid sprinters. Handicapped somewhat by the absence of Kirk, Jones, and Russ Sanborn, the local aggregation, nevertheless, will be out for win number one.

In the past the Wildcats have found it exceedingly difficult to conquer the Pine-staters on their familiar home grounds. This isn't too discouraging, however, since the Maine athletes have found it as difficult to overwhelm the New Hampshire runners at Durham. Therefore, the Sweet-mentored coterie will be attempting to overcome a long-established tradition and return to Durham victorious over their friendly neighbors.

Repeat Victory Strived For

Last season at Lewis Field Coach Sweet's squad registered one of the most amazing upsets of the season by defeating Maine, aided immensely by the superb performances of Kirk, Jones and Sanborn. Tomorrow, without the services of these three first-raters, the Wildcats will strive to repeat last season's achievement. The Orono representatives present a very formidable foe since most of the athletes that participated in last year's match will run with one year's worth of experience chalked up to their credit.

Coach Paul Sweet hasn't selected his first team as yet. The following men are listed as showing good form up to date: Captain Roland Kimball, Wayne Lowry, Jim Sleeper, John Holmes, Joe Pushee, Maury Miville, Alson Brown, Truxton Perry-Smith, Dick Emery, Earl Handley, and Carl Hyldborg.

Freshman Runners Meet Concord High

Coach Paul Sweet's freshman cross-country squad made its 1941 debut this afternoon at Lewis Fields when they entertained a perennially well-balanced Concord High harrier team.

The genial track mentor early this week nominated ten runners to start the two and a half mile grind. They are Scammon (acting capt.), Birdsall, Brown, Carlson, Churchill, R. Dodge, Honkala, Jennison, Pallas, and Walker. Currier and Pelonsky are alternates.

Record To Be Set

This year the distance of the course has been changed to two and six-tenths of a mile, thus necessitating a new record to be established by the first harrier who crosses the finish line.

Allenmen Set to Surprise Determined Wildcats as Sauer Revises Offense

George Sauer and his gridders, embarked this morning for Orono, Maine, where they will clash with Eck Allen's Maine Bears tomorrow afternoon. Still smarting under the defeat handed to them by Bates the Wildcats were determined to slap on Maine's second defeat in three starts.

Coach Sauer plans to start the same team that answered the opening whistle last Saturday with a possible exception that Swede Hanson may start at right guard in place of Ed Lyszcas. The Wildcat mentor was loud in his songs of praise of Hanson and Ralph Pino. He was also very pleased with the play of Bob Neal.

When asked for a prediction, Sauer was rather reluctant about giving a definite forecast. "Maine is a team on the upswing—they definitely outplayed Northeastern last week-end and have four very fast backs in Ed Barrows, Al Hutchinson, Carl Goodchild and Emile King. We will certainly have to be on our toes, but I think the boys have the goods in them to turn the trick," was Coach Sauer's official comment.

Change Offense

This week was devoted to developing plays run off from Stacey Clark's right halfback position. In last week's game with Bates, Stace did not carry the ball once and it was decided to take full advantage of Clark's speed. Much time was spent on polishing up protecting the passer, a weakness which prominently showed up last week. The Freshmen ran off the Bears' plays which were successfully stopped by the varsity.

This game marks the thirty-third in the series which began in 1903. The Wildcats have won eleven, lost eighteen and tied three, while registering 267 points against 311 scored by Maine.

The probable lineup:

New Hampshire: Lamond, le; Sakoian, lt; Ackerman, lg; Neal, c; Lyszcas or Hanson, rg; Bove, rt; Mackel, re; Begin, qb; Hall, lhb; Clark, rhb; Gordon, fb.

Maine: Nickerson, le; Morrill, lt; F. Neal, lg; Geneva, c; Irvine, rg; Harding, rt; Presnell, re; Barrows, qb; Hutchinson, lhb; Goodchild, rhb; King, fb.

Last year the frosh hill and dalers didn't fare so well, winning but one meet while losing five. Their lone victory came at the expense of Dover High.

However, it appears as though the boys who have been working out at the stadium for the past three weeks have a little class among their ranks. There are more experienced runners this fall and the majority of the boys have just about reached tip-top condition.

Not Too Optimistic

Coach Sweet is not expressing too much optimism about the chances of his charges this fall but proclaims that they'll do much better than last year.

After today's encounter the frosh are to engage the harriers from Rhode Island, Harvard-Dartmouth, Manchester Central, Portsmouth, and then are to participate in the annual N.E.I.C.-A.A.A. meet to be held in Boston, November 10.

feeling, on the part of the actors, in ratio to the magnification. The audience participates with each thespian in individual shots, and when this was considered in the case of a love scene, Miss Landi humorously suggested a reason for the immense popularity of the movies.

Light Talk Given

Its safe to say most of the audience came expecting to hear a formal lecture, coldly organized and premeditated. They heard instead, a charming, clever exposition of the stage and movies. Any dormant formality was further crushed by the brief scenes Miss Landi enacted from plays she had starred in, and bits of conversation she remembered with people she had met. Of these intimate reproductions the best was that of Elissa Landi in conversation with a Russian woman who had brought her six withered carnations in descending for a visit. The difficulties of bridging the dialectic river of the Russian woman were subtly exploited by the speaker's talent.

On the stage of New Hampshire Hall Miss Landi was a perfect exponent of charm, grace, and talent in her craft. She was as clever with her speech as her person was pleasing. From the moment she stepped onto the boards to the moment she left, the audience felt the affinity, the thread of contact, between the actress and itself.

Thus though the talk was not all of breath-taking interest, the personality of Miss Landi served to hold her words and actions in synthesis so that

Soldiers Given Special Course in Engineering

Last week a new class was formed on campus to furnish a group of eighteen trainees, from New Hampshire, Massachusetts, and Maine, with instruction in engineering drawing. The course is based upon the Engineering Science Management Defense Training Program. The daily schedule includes three hours of machine shop practice, three hours of drafting, in addition to recitation periods in shop mathematics and shop mechanics.

Instructors are Mr. Daniel T. Deering, Mr. John C. Tonkin, and Mr. John C. Wettergfeen. The course is scheduled to run for fifteen weeks.

Library Will Show New Exhibition of Building

An exhibition of Regional Building of the United States will take the place of the Hoffman sculpture exhibit on October 13. The exhibit comes from the Museum of Modern Art in New York City and will remain in the Art Division of the Hamilton Smith Library through October 30. Work of H. H. Richardson, William Wilson Wurster, George Howe, Frank Lloyd Wright, and Richard J. Neutra as well as many younger architects will be presented.

The keynote of the exhibit will be an accent on design and the use of native materials in keeping with the site. This is a development corresponding to realism in art.

4-H Club

There will be a regular meeting of the 4-H Club on Monday evening, October 13, at 7:00, in the Trophy Room of the Commons. Dr. Walters of the Government department will speak on the subject, "The Present International Situation."

the spectators, or better participators, could not distract their attention from her or what she had to say.

Juniors

Any junior who has not been must report, ready to be photographed, either tonight before 10:30 or tomorrow morning between 8:00 and 11:00. No portraits will be taken after this date.

An announcement will appear in the "New Hampshire" when proofs will be ready and where they may be obtained.

Students Teaching In High Schools

In order to gain more training through practical experience, eight University of New Hampshire student teachers have become cadet instructors in various high schools and preparatory schools throughout the state.

These student teachers are working under the supervision of the state education department; and under the guidance of the regular high school staffs, they prepare the class work and instruct the pupils in their studies.

Five students from the College of Agriculture have gone into state high schools. They are Charles Anderson to Vilas High School, Alstead; Albert R. Greenwood to Walpole High School; Robert Kelley to Weare High School; Martin Mitchell to Pinkerton Academy, Derry; and Dwight G. Stiles to Raymond High School.

Philip DeGregory is teaching mathematics at Newmarket High School; Philip Richards is assisting in biology at Phillips Exeter Academy; and John Letendre, a graduate student, is instructing French classes at Manchester Central High School.

Chess Club

There will be a meeting of the Chess Club tonight at 7:30 in the Commons Trophy Room.

Debating Squad Announces Plans

Decision Made to Visit Dartmouth and Bates

The Debating Squad is scheduled to have its first debate of the year on Friday, October 31, with Bates College. This demonstration debate is to be held in Dover High School at 7:00 p.m. before the assembled Maine and New Hampshire debating groups. The topic is: "Resolved: that every able-bodied male citizen in the United States should be required to have one year of full time military training before reaching the present draft age."

Practice Tournament

The Debating Squad will also attend the Dartmouth Practice Tournament, tentatively scheduled for November 14 and 15 at Dartmouth College. The participants will be Dartmouth, Amherst, Middlebury, Williams, and New Hampshire. The speakers will be rated individually. Last year this tournament was won by James Moulton, a student at New Hampshire. The National Intercollegiate Debate Question is "Resolved: that the federal government should regulate by law all labor unions in the United States." This question will be debated by colleges and universities throughout the United States during the debating season, as well as by the Dartmouth Practice Tournament.

All upperclassmen and freshmen are invited to join the Debating Squad. Upperclassmen who are interested, whether they have had previous experience or not, are asked to meet in Thompson 306, Monday the 13th at 4 p.m. Freshmen who are interested should meet in Thompson 306 on Wednesday the 15th at 4 p.m. Upperclassmen and freshmen who desire to enroll for the second semester in English 6, (Debating) may secure academic credit. Enrollment is by permission of the instructor.

Frosh Footballers Gird for Tilton

Since the game with the Junior Varsity has been postponed because of the failure of more men to show up for J.V. football, Coach Harold Rood's frosh pigskin toters will go into the game with Tilton School on October 11 in Durham without a real game under their belts. Nevertheless, barring injuries, the freshmen evidenced by their willingness to get out there and work, are sure to give a good account of themselves.

So far, the only extra-squad practice has been against the varsity, against whom the Kittens have done about as well as can be expected. Since the squad, in general is inexperienced and since the first game is yet to be played, it is difficult to get much of an idea of the prospects for the season which, incidentally, opening with Tilton, finds the Frosh opposing Exeter at Exeter on October 25 and Bridgton in Durham in the concluding game of the season on October 31.

Kenyon, Strumski, and Parker are the best looking ends; Lane, Norman, Doherty are fighting it out for the tackle berths; Johnson, Benson, and Morehouse seem to have the edge as guards, and McDermott, McReil, and Phelps are leading centers.

The outstanding backs are Rainey, Bratt, Grant, Kemp, Campbell, Riccardone, Henderson, and Smith.
