Becky Fairbanks Given Interhouse Silver Tray

At the WAA Convocation yesterday, the Interhouse silver tray was presented to Miss Becky Fairbank, 1943-44 sports chairman of Congreve South. This trophy, donated by Miss Hoban in 1942, symbolizes the combined efforts of all women students in all the women's dorms and sororities who have competed in a variety of recreational activities in an attempt to win this coveted prize. That Congreve South should be the winner this year will not surprise Interhouse participants who will remember her basketball and badminton teams. That she won by the infinitesimal margin of only eleven points over her closest rival, Phi Mu, will probably cause more speculation. It is indeed fitting that Miss Fairbanks accept the trophy, for as sports chairman she is more responsible than any other one person for Congreve's success last year.

Art All The Rage Says Minna Citron

"Art, it seems, is all the rage," said Minna Citron at a lecture last night at Murkland Auditorium. Professor George R. Thomas introduced Miss Citron to the audience and explained her work, which have been widely exhibited throughout the country.

Miss Citron chose as the subject of her lecture "An Artist Looks at Art." Art is more important today than it has ever been before and the important problem is to sustain this interest. Democratic sponsorship has given a great impetus to this modern phenomena. Industry has purchased countless numbers of paintings and has exhibited them to wide audiences.

War has played a major part in this new rise of interest in art. Tire and gasoline rationing tend to keep people more at home and they in turn look to other channels for recreation. With disrupted homes and tension at a peak, art has provided the deep emotional need for expression and relief.

Miss Citron, while teaching art in New York, addressed a questionnaire to her class at college and found that the majority of students are interested in art for the recreational diversion and outlet to expression. Art, as creative work in colleges, falls far short of what might be, while much useless time is spent studying the history and technique of art. The most important result an individual should derive from art is complete personal enjoyment. College courses may or may not produce great artists, but if it does bring out the creative ability of a student, its purpose has been accomplished.

Miss Citron said that we are now living through an era of creation versus destruction, and because of the present struggle, many are learning of the joys of creation.

Large Majority of Staff Favors Dewey; 75% of Students Vote

The results of the student straw vote poll placed Governor Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential nominee, ahead with a 9 to 7 lead over President Franklin D. Roosevelt, while the university staff gave a 2 to 1 edge to Dewey. The poll was conducted by the staff of the New Hampshire, in conjunction with Men's Student Council.

The poll was conducted to stir interest among the students in regards to the coming presidential elections. The purpose was achieved for results indicate that 852 students cast a straw ballot. Of this total, 464 votes were cast for Governor Dewey, 367 for President Roosevelt, 10 for Norman Thomas and 11 voters were undecided.

In a separate poll, 96 members of the staff cast ballots. Of these, 62 favored Dewey, 30 went to Roosevelt, one for Thomas, and three were marked undecided.

The poll shows that the campus is alive to the controversial political issues for approximately 75% of the students indicated their choice. Dewey supporters were confident of the eventful result, although Democratic campus leaders professed that the percentage of Roosevelt votes cast was heartening.

Plans Underway for College Chest Drive

Plans for the College Chest Fund Drive for 1944 are well under way, and the committee for this drive is as follows:

Daniel Salvio and Pvt. Harvey Mallone, AST.

The American Way

We, of The New Hampshire, sincerely believe that democracy can function only through free and open discussion. During this presidential campaign, both candidates have made many serious statements which are worthy of the utmost attention.

The New Hampshire is deeply grateful for the co-operation of the student body in connection with the straw-voting conducted this week on campus. It is gratifying to note that a high percentage of students took time out to cast their ballots, and we hope that every eligible voter will likewise exercise his privilege to vote in the national election.

We will be glad to publish and print any letters or articles sent to The New Hampshire supporting any candidate. Although, we editorially support one candidate, we will give those opposing us ample opportunity to state their views on the matter.

We Support Our President

Seldom in American history has any election been as vital as that which will be held next month. It is our generation whose whole future depends on whether or not a speedy and effective victory can be won and whether a lasting and secure peace is procurable.

There is no easy answer to this crucial question. We, of The New Hampshire, have examined the records of both candidates, listened to the drum beatings of both sides, and weighed one against the other. We have remembered that the course this country follows the next few years is the factor determining the possibility of an intensified repetition of war's tragic intrusion in our lives.

As members of the younger generation, so bent under the burden of this present war, we feel that it is of paramount importance to prevent the destructive recurrence of another world war. With this in mind, we have made our decision—to support the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt. We do this for the following reasons:

It has been under the inspired leadership of our Commander-in-Chief that our country has been unified and mobilized to defeat our totalitarian enemies, and it is this leadership that has brought a victorious end into focus.

Admittedly President Roosevelt has made mistakes but he has generally been on the right track. It has been through his far-sighted statesmanship that the United Nations have been welded together into a democratic and powerful force. He has the undying personal loyalty, esteem and friendship of our valiant allies and their courageous leaders. If his election is denied his absence from the peace table will result in another war within our generation.

If, in his place, we substitute an amateur in foreign affairs, which Thomas E. Dewey has proven himself to be by such misstatements in recent campaign speeches as those regarding the Polish issue and the Rumanian armistice, we will have dissipated the chances of a world peace.

This is a time of crisis and during this most momentous era in America we need a man of keener vision than Mr. Dewey. Sumner Welles clarified the importance of this point in his recent book by saying: "By education and training, by long experience in government through personal knowledge of Europe and of the lands of the Western Hemisphere, and above all else by an almost intuitive understanding of the great forces which control human relations, Franklin Roosevelt brought to the conduct of American foreign relations more specialized qualifications than those possessed by any President since the days of John Quincy Adams."

We therefore, sincerely believe that the re-election of President Roosevelt is absolutely essential to the elimination of Fascism, the preservation of our democracy, and the establishment of a democratic and lasting peace based on truth, justice and equality.

To The Editor

Dear Editor:

In the last issue of the New Hampshire, a very inimicable column on the part of the Democratic interests was printed and directed to Republican efforts. I direct this article to you, Mr. DeHayes.

Can you explain Mr. Roosevelt sanctioning of Attorney General Biddle's and Thurman Arnold's "trust busting" careers? Do you fully understand the circumstances behind the crusades of these staunch New Dealers? For example—The S.E.U.A. case vs. The Supreme Court. It was the case in which Attorney General Biddle accused the Insurance Companies of violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law and the Clayton Act when seventy-five years ago the Supreme Court ruled that the Insurance Companies did not apply to these laws. Now, Mr. De Hayes, can you explain why the Supreme Court, with only seven of the nine members sitting, reversed its decision of seventy-five years ago, by a vote of four to three? Also Mr. De Hayes, can you explain why the recent Bailey-Walters bill introduced into Congress to combat the Supreme Court decision and to give back to the states jurisdiction over the Insurance Companies was introduced by a Democratic member of Congress, namely Mr. Bailey? Furthermore, do you know with whom Mr. Roosevelt had packed the Supreme Court? For example, the appointment of Felix Frankfurter, a very well known socialist and communist from Harvard Law School. Besides being a justice on the Supreme Court of the United States, he is one of Mr. Roosevelt's chief advisers.

Are you able to explain why there is a shift in the negro vote from Democrat to Republican? Is it not true that in the summer of '43, Attorney General Biddle recommended, after a race riot in Detroit, that the Southern Negroes be stopped from migrating to the city in order to prevent more racial troubles?

Can you explain why Mr. Roosevelt refused to send aid to a sit-down strike in the Ford Plant in Detroit? Is it not true that the C.I.O. gave Mr. Roosevelt thousands of dollars to effectively carry out his campaign? The explanation is, therefore, inevitable!

Through businesses' efforts and initiative the U. S. has been prosperous, a fact that Mr. Roosevelt seems to be oblivious of, for through-out his rampant administration he has strangled businesses' efforts through his bureaucracies.

During Mr. Roosevelt's administration he has had opportunities to make several appointments; which, incidentally, have fallen as fast as they have arisen. For example, the appointment of General Johnson to control N.R.A. As soon as General Johnson began to think for himself and attempt to give business an even break, h was removed from office. A similar case arose out of the appointment of Mr. Kennedy, a classmate and friend of Mr. Roosevelt's, as ambassador to England. As soon as the man began to think and develop and promote ideas of his own, he too was ousted by Mr. Roosevelt.

Is there any answer to why the Admiral of the Navy and the General of the Army at Pearl Harbor have not been brought to court? Their summons for court marshal have been in

Mrs. Durrance New East Hall Director

Mrs. America Durrance, formerly house director of ATO House at the University of Washington, and mother of an internationally known family of sports enthusiasts, has been appointed house mother at East Hall. This marks the first time that East has had a house mother since its erection.

Mrs. Durrance's eldest son, Dick, a graduate of Dartmouth College, was a member of the 1936 Olympic skiing team, which represented the United States in Berlin. A second son, Jack, is an experienced mountain climber and explorer. He has mounted K-2, the second highest mountain in the world, and has explored the wilds of India. James, the youngest son, is a lieutenant in the Army Air Forces, and is attached to the Troop Transport Command.

Her daughter, Elizabeth, has represented the United States in Canadian skiing meets, and in 1935, won the Dartmouth Carnival Women's Race. Her youngest daughter, Ada, is an aviatrix and is studying engineering at the University of Colorado.

For six years, Mrs. Durrance and her family lived at Garniskh-Partenkirkschen, Germany.

effect too long for the American public not to realize that Mr. Roosevelt as commander-in-chief is hindering this trial until after this election, because the basic facts that will evolve from this hearing will be shocking to the American public.

Can you Mr. De Hayes, clarify these actions of Mr. Roosevelt, and justly classify them as being a part of our Democratic Principles?

Wildcats Go Down to First Defeat At Hands of Maine Mudsters 13-6

WILDCATCHINGS
by Jack McGinn

From all points of view, professional and otherwise, last Saturday's football game or swimming contest (your choice) was anybody's game. Fumbles were numerous as the slippery pigskin squirted through the hands of all concerned. Maine seemed to have an edge in this respect as they were provided with mud cleats but the real solution to the problem would have been water wings.

Maine's stadium is slightly larger than that of the Wildcat's but the press box is much smaller and very well ventilated. Practically all the spectators were crowded in the press box and that should give you a vague impression about the size of the crowd.

An enthusiastic Maine band of about 3 pieces played during the entire game quartered at the end of the glass enclosed gym overlooking the field. They worked the Maine Stein song to a slow death.

Monster Rally

The Down Easters had a monster rally on the eve of the battle and a few of the A-12 boys from New Hampshire stationed at Maine rooted for the Wildcats and a near riot ensued (verbally).

The Wildcat squad was quartered in the Penobscot, Bangor's leading hotel, where the food and service was excellent. They muffed in one assignment, however, in neglecting to call Calvin Jones Sunday morning. If it hadn't been for the watchful eyes of Coach Snow, "Kelley" would still be in Bangor as he barely made the 7:25 train at 7:24 1/2.

Iron man stints were turned in by Jack Stewart, Dave Brown, and Bill Pizzano and at the game's finish they were really decorated with good old mother earth or should we say mud.

The game was not without its injuries as Twit Henry received a bad shoulder injury and Vic Szalucka was crippled by a twisted knee. It is not known whether they'll be in condition for the Middlebury game Saturday. The remainder of the team pulled through with the usual assortment of strains and bruises, nothing serious. Old Dame Luck must have been smiling on the Black Bears as they came through unscathed.

The journey itself was uneventful with everyone enjoying the trip. The purveyors of magazines, sandwiches etc. were kept busy as the Wildcats were hungry for food and reading material. Numerous card games were ambitiously started by "General" Beauregard but none survived.

When the team wearily tramped into the dressing room after the final whistle, Mr. Lundholm, clad in oilskins, performed meritorious service in assisting the boys with their drenched clothes. Lundy also acted as manager while Glenn Vickery spotted for the radio version of the game.

Well the game is now passe, but when the Bears come up on Armistice Day, we'll be waiting for them and with the aid of our beautiful New Hampshire weather we'll be all out to avenge the Maine victory in our first water-polo-football game.

WAA Plans Table Tennis Tournament

The Interhouse Table Tennis Tournament is now well underway. Schedules have been posted in all the dormitories, and it is hoped that each house will have its champion represented in the campus tournament, beginning November 11.

A house sports chairman is elected by each dormitory, and it is her duty to see that the tournaments are posted and played off on schedule, and to answer any questions which may arise concerning these activities. Sports chairmen for each house are as follows: Congreve South, Rebecca Fairbanks; Pettee, Janet Tinker; Alpha Chi Omega, R. Penny Abbot; Smith, Grace Emerson; Commons, Jinny Emerson; Chi Omega, Nancy Ferguson; Phi Mu Delta, Betty McKashall; Sigma Beta, Mary Perham; Scott, Barbara Berger; Alpha Xi Delta, Joan Stevens; Grant, Nancy Nickerson; North Congreve, Jane Deland; Theta Upsilon, Elsie Deming; Phi Mu, Jean Goodyear; Theta Chi, Sarah Peevey; Schofield, Nancy Morse; Pi Lambda Sigma, Barbara Vogt.

Numerous Fumbles and Breaks Let Maine Win Pizzano Scores for Cats

Playing in mud at least up to their knees, the University of New Hampshire Wildcats were submerged by a group of natural born mudsters, the University of Maine at Orono last Saturday. The final score read: Maine 13, New Hampshire 6.

The Maine lads had the breaks and really capitalized on them, setting up both touchdowns as the result of disastrous New Hampshire fumbles. The water-soaked pigskin simply could not be held, and fumbles were very numerous.

As the opening whistle blew, Vic Szaluka booted a low, curving ball that bounced off a Maine man's shins back into our own territory where it was immediately pounced on. This was a break for the Wildcats, and when Szaluka made a beautiful off-tackle run for 17 yards one play later, it looked bad for the Bears. However, their heavier line tightened up, and that ended all Wildcat threats for the first half.

Maine Scores

Maine's touchdown came as the result of the Mayo-Goff combination. Both boys ripped off yard after yard with Johnny Goff slicing through from the 4 for a TeeDee. The elusive Mayo, not to be outdone, churned around end for the extra point.

In the second quarter, the game settled down to a dogged battle with quick kicks on both sides being the order of the moment. After such an exchange, Maine found itself on the Wildcat's 43 yard line. On the next play, Eddie Boutilier took matters into his own hands by tiptoeing through the Wildcat line down the field for Maine's final six points. The try for the extra point was savagely blocked.

Wildcats Fight Back

It was a fighting Wildcat team that came out in the second half and, they literally tore the Bears to bits, roaring down the field. They lost the ball on downs, and the Bears with their backs to the wall attempted a quick kick, but Van Evangelou blocked it, and Ed Gublicky snagged it on the Maine 5. Two plays later, Bill Pizzano punctured the crumbling Maine line for a touchdown.

The Wildcats dominated the play for the rest of the game, but through Herculean efforts, held them to the final gun.

Brad's Candidates Can't be Outclassed

As November 7th approaches the press and the radio carry all sorts of proposals and denials. Both the pros and the cons are getting in their two cents worth. Of course we do not know how you will vote but we at THE COLLEGE SHOP will always vote for those smart gray chalk-striped suits; a double breasted model for Jack and a single for Jill. They are all 100% wool and will cost Jack $35.00, while Jill has only to pay $29.50 for hers. Pigskin gloves, football and Fall seem to go together. Although quality pigskins are scarce we at THE COLLEGE SHOP now have a good selection. Please don't wait until our sizes are broken. We advise selecting now. It may be dangerous to even mention it, but we just had a shipment of genuine Cooper Jockey Shorts come in and you know how scarce they have been. So Brad says give the matter a lot of thought and finally vote for quality. It is only a millionaire who can afford to buy cheap merchandise.—Advt.

Rally for Roosevelt Attracts Supporters

On Sunday, October 22, a rally was held in the Pine Room at Ballard Hall by the Student's Independent Committee for Roosevelt and Truman. Speakers of the evening were Dr. Herbert F. Rudd, chairman of the adult committee with which the student group is affiliated and internationally known for his famous peace plan and Sam Smith, treasurer of the committee.

Roger Bernard DeHayes presided at the meeting which was opened by the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner." Then campus leaders of the movement were introduced and messages conveyed from Registrar Everett B. Sackett and Captain W. A. Medesy, Dean of Men, who were unable to attend due to previous engagements.

Sam Smith who is a well-known manufacturer spoke both from the business man's point of view and as a person who spent much of his time in Europe preceeding the crisis of 1939. Dr. Rudd spoke from a truly non-partisan point of view, stating that, though he had not voted for Roosevelt in all the elections, he has a firm conviction that Roosevelt is truly the man for the job that lies before us. He said, "As a man sensitive to public opinion, the president truly represents the views of the majority of the American public. Roosevelt's tried and proved proficiency at the Conference table makes him the logical person to carry us through these trying years which will inevitably be the most crucial in history." Dr. Rudd further stated that though many people feared a dictatorship, Mr. Roosevelt is definitely not the type of person who is dictatorial. He is a man of the people and for the people, dispersing power to and through the people.

At the conclusion of Dr. Rudd's speech, Natalie Brooks, publicity chairman gave a brief report on the work already accomplished.

By Roger Bernard De Hayes

It is deplorable that while American labor has been winning the arduous battle of production, the American press should give wide and sensational publicity to the comparatively few and isolated strikes in war industries.

Actually, the percentage of work stoppages has been so negligible that it is fantastic. The American worker has more than justified the faith that our servicemen placed in him. His achievement is all the more notable considering the fact that several unscrupulous industrialists have taken advantage of the war emergency to further their own selfish ends.

In some instances, wage increases have been granted, although the Administration has kept very close reins on its price control program.

Unfortunately, such incurable reprobrates as John L. Lewis have provided the labor-baiters with much of their anti-labor venom. Fortunately, however, Lewis is far from representing the true spirit of the rank and file of the American labor organizations.

The American forces fighting know that the battle could not have been won on foreign soil if it had been lost at home. There is no reason for any sort of clash between American labor and returning servicemen.
