Batcheller Announces Tentative Cast for Forthcoming Play

Mask and Dagger Presents Gammer Gurton's Needle As One of Winter Plays

ler has announced a tentative cast for Mask and Dagger's forthcoming production of "Gammer Gurton's Needle." It is as follows: Diccon, Minott Coombs; Theofilos Aliapoulios; Tib, Joan Tilton; Gammer Gurton, Ann Daukas; Dame Chat, Barbara Rogers; Doctor Rat, Irving Cummings; and Master Baily, Warren Meyers. The role of Cock, that of a small boy, has not been cast. Any interested student, who is not over five feet tall, is urged to contact Mr. Batcheller. Rehearsals for this famous English comedy, adapted by Colin Campbell Clements will begin in earnest immediately after vacation.

The cast for the other one-act play, "Pullman Car Hiawatha," by Thornton Wilder, has not been announced as Mr. Batcheller plans to hold another try-out on Monday, February 12, after intersemester vacation. Male students are particularly urged to come to this tryout. The play, modernistic in character, takes the form of an interlude on a pullman train. Like many of Mr. Wilder's experimental dramas it boasts of no scenery and few properties. It affords an opportunity for a large and varied cast of small but substantial roles.

East and West Hall Canteen

Monday night, January 22, was the opening of the East and West Hall Canteen under the direction of Mrs. America Durrance for the benefit of the boys now studying for final exams.

This canteen open for the students at East and West Halls, is financed by them. The students have raised the necessary funds to buy the food themselves, and the profit, if any, will be used to remunerate those boys working in the canteen. The remainder will go into the treasury of East and West Halls.

Date Set for Dance At New Hampshire Hall

Bob Pooley and his NBC and Mutual Network orchestra has been chosen and signed to play for the New Hampshire Outing Club's 30th-annual Winter Carnival Ball to be held at New Hampshire Hall on Saturday evening, February 17, from 8:30 to midnight. Pooley is returning to the campus by popular request after having played a very successful engagement here last spring for the Alumni Fund dance. His band, well known in this region, has played at many college proms in New England. He is appearing at the Hotel Bradford in Boston and for the past seven months, he has played each Saturday night at the Hampton Beach Casino. There will be more news on Pooley in a later edition of The New Hampshire.

This year's carnival will be a threeday affair and promises to be the gayest Carnival since 1942. Because intercolegiate competition is impractical, athletic events are planned for the pleasure of the participant, rather than as tests of skill.

Stunt Night Students from each dormitory and sorority will prepare a skit to be presented at Stunt Night. The best ones will compete for a prize before the student body on the first night of the Carnival, Friday, February 16. Rivalry will be high and honors go to the most original, laugh provoking stunt. Ski movies and cartoons will be shown at a midnight show at the Franklin Theatre, also on Friday night.

Judging of the snow sculptures will take place on Saturday morning, with the ski events planned for the afternoon. In contrast to the university's famous ski meets of former years, there will be no intermission. These skits were presided downhill races, but jumping, dashes, cross country, and obstacle skiing will take their place. A basketball game on skis is also planned.

Queen Candidates

A highlight of the Carnival will be the Coronation of the Carnival Queen. Candidates for the honor are: Ann Parker, Fitchburg, Mass.; Elizabeth West, Woburn, Mass.; Joyce Granton, Stratham, N. H.; Diana Sherman, New Rochelle, N. Y.; Lila Sprague, Manchester, N. H.; Ruth Hodgkins, Etna, N. H.; Barbara Clapp, Nashua, N. H.; Ruth Abbott, Bethel, Vt.; Shirley Newcomer, Needham, Mass., and Jacqueline Percival, Hampton Beach, N. H. A queen den, Peg Tower, Bea Rice, and Mimi and two aides will be chosen by popular vote of the student body at the voting pooth under "T" Hall arch on Tuesday

> On Sunday, the girls' Figure Skating Club will present a short review before the general skating party.

> General Chairman of the committee for the weekend is Nancy Ferguson. She is assisted by the following: Decorations: Ruth Brown; Coronation, Betty Collins; Refreshments, Skating, Fran Mikol; Orchestra, Warren Robbins, George Hatch; Tickets, Marie Marden; Publicity, Sue Sickman, Laura Hamm, Warren Robbins; Heelers, Becky Fairbanks; Outdoors, Ginny Parker, Ray Adams; Friday Night, Dave Brown, Evie Cass; Chaperones, Jean Goodyear.

Compulsory Military Training

Murray Aisenberg

At a time when our armies are fighting on foreign soil to preserve our traditional liberties, it has been suggested that we adopt as permanent feature of our peace-time life a system of compulsory military training.

Those who support this movement argue that we are paying too dear a price in casualties to go without some form of peace-time training after the war. Under this program every man when he became of a certain age would be compelled to serve for a period of a year in this proposed standing army. Discipline and health would be stressed as well as proficiency in military skill.

However, some argue that compulsory military training is a camouflage scheme to turn the nation into an armed camp where the democratic ideals for which we have always fought will be tabooed and denounced. It would result in the formation of a strong ruling military group that would dominate our very existence.

With the coming of peace, this is a time when we must all think rationally and with little emotion. We must decide what measures must be taken to insure our nation's securities.

To the Editor:

Who knows what is going on around campus? The Student University Committee doesn't, and we don't think many other students do either, that is why we had a joint meeting with The New Hampshire news staff last Monday.

This committee like most of the students on campus came to the conclusion that one reason for the lull on campus was not entirely the lack of activities but more explicitly the lack of adequate advertisement.

We offer this as a solution to the student body: a weekly list of student activities in the form of a calendar. This weekly calendar will give the student an eye-view of the campus activities available to all.

The New Hampshire staff has agreed to cooperate, now we leave it up to you student organizations to make this calendar a success. If your dorm, club, or organization is sponsoring an activity open to the students, let's get at least a notice of it to the paper so that it will be listed in the calendar. Then we'll all know what is going on around campus.

Ski - Notes

This past weekend saw the re-inaugu ration of Intercollegiate skiing in New England, at Middlebury College during their carnival weekend. It brought the leading ski teams in the Northeast together for the first time since 1943. It was an eight-team match made up of Middlebury, New Hampshire, Dartmouth, West Point, Vermont, M.I.T., Williams and R.P.I. It was a three-event meet: downhill, slalom, and jumping.

Five Man Team

New Hampshire sent a five man team. composed of Richard McCrudden, Silas Dunklee, Leo Lajoie, Bruce Bulger, and Hershel Pesner, Pesner, however, was unable to compete as he suffered from a torn ligament that he incurred during one of his three trial runs.

In the downhill matches, New Hampshire placed third with 93.7 points to Vermont's 95.1, and Middlebury's 96.1. In the slalom races New Hampshire placed eight, while in the jumping they placed fifth with 35.2 points.

Therrian Paces Swaseymen Notching 22 Markers Patton Leads Sailors

Durham, Jan. 23-Completely outplaying an undermanned Portsmouth Naval Hospital five, a fast and aggressive University of New Hampshire Quintet won their second victory of the season here tonight at the Lewis Field House, 53-32.

The ballgame started off slowly with the sailors forging into a 3-point lead. The slim margin was short-lived, however, as Mooradian sunk two foul shots followed by a two-pointer by White and two baskets by Therrian. The Wildcats waltzed into the lead aided by the eagle eye of Rip Therrian who scored 23 points. The gobs tried desperately to even the score in the closing minutes of the first stanza as Patton connected twice but the 'Cats hung on and the first period score found New Hampshire out in front 22-16.

The Swaseymen put the fray on ice in the second frame as Szalucka, White and Therrian threw in successive baskets, The sailors put up a valiant stand for the remainder of the game but were no match for the Wildcat speedsters.

The Swaseymen were paced by Therrian and White who gathered in 37 points between them and Hollingsworth who played a great game at guard. High man for Portsmouth was Patton who notched 11 markers.

Back on the victory trail and to stay, we hope. The New Hampshire hoopsters really went to work on Foxy Flemure's Huskies Saturday P.M. more than making up their loss to the crack Portsmouth Defenses five. From the start of Saturdays fray it was apparent that the Swaseymen had improved since Tuesday's battle. Coach Swasey in a move that paid dividends shifted Vic Szalucka to forward and Vic notched 13 markers. Hollingsworth was moved to the guard slot and his height, especially under the basket, proved to be a valuable asset. This move also strengthened the Wildcat's defense which was woefully weak in the Portsmouth encounter. One thing the Swaseymen will have to improve on in the future is the rough stuff. Of course the boys do not do it intentionally but regardless several shots made good from the foul line could very easily swing the tide of a battle. For instance, Northeastern made 15 points via the foul route and Portsmouth gathered in 13. Hampshire. Both were undefeated sea-Of course we've made good a large number of shots but if the 'Cats run up against a gentlemen team, if such a team disastrous. # Wildcats Clip Huskies In Rugged Battle, 68-57

His addition to being head coach of varsity track. "Ed" is now on a leave of absence from the university.

Dartmouth, generally but erroneously conceded to be the outstanding skiing team in the nation, although it can boast records paralleling those of New Hampshire, must definitely take second place to the Wildcats by prewar standards. Their most successful year was in 1939 when they defeated the field, including New Hampshire, in the majority of the season's meets; but from that time on, New Hampshire emerged as the better of the two and the best of them all-up to the time that intercollegiate athletics were suspended at the university. The 1940-41 season was not an undefeated one for New Hampshire, but the excel lent record that we compiled was a foreshadowing of what was to come. At Lake Placid, the 20th Annual Meet was held and it was a victory for UNH. This wasn't any close win either, and to show its complete superiority over such schools as Dartmouth, Cornell, Middlebury, McGill, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and even Chile (thereby making N. H. champion of South America as well as of this continent), the Wildcats placed (continued on page 4)

Northeastern Hoopsters Fade in Final Stanza, Walsh High Man

Playing their first intercollegiate game in over a year a vastly improved Wildcat quintet crushed the Northeastern Huskies 68-57 at the Field House.

From start to finish, with one exception, the Wildcats dominated play controlling the backboards and practically scoring at will. Northeastern's one and only threat came in the latter part of the and it is about time that the undergrads first stanza when they were trailing by here at UNH learn something about some 11 points. The 11-point advantage was whittled down in short order, however, as Frannie Walsh, the outstanding star of the duel, started to swish them in from every conceivable angle and in the space of a few minutes the duel was tied up 33-33. The Swaseymen came to life though and with Vic Szalucka and George Wilmarth each flipping one in, the Wildcats went out in front as the horn blew, 37-33.

Wildcats Take Lead

The game opened up with Fred White flipping one in from the foul line and the score went to 5 tallies before Northeastern's Henry countered with a twopointer. New Hampshire hung on to their lead, constantly increasing it, until Walsh got hot and evened the count. Ahead by a small margin and without the services of Fred White who was bounced on fouls, it looked as though the game would settle into a real dogged battle but Vic Szalucka decided otherwise as he hit three times to put the Wildcats out in front for the remainder of the game. The Wildcats had complete control over Foxy Flemure's Huskies and as the game ended Hank Swasey was substituting freely.

Playing outstanding ball for New Hampshire was Rip Therrian who flipped in 22 points and Fred White who snagged 12. The Wildcats' defense, which has improved considerably since the Portsmouth game, was sparked by Andy Mooradian and John Hollingsworth. Northeastern's Frannie Walsh played a grand game of ball notching 27 points for a losing cause.

The grand finale came in the seasons of 1941-42 and 1942-43 when not a team in the country could match the forces from UNH. In practically every event and in every meet the Wildcat teams skied victoriously. In 1942 the mighty New Hampshire team, Captained by Robert Clark, won the Lake Placid classic. Dartmouth, Williams, Norwich, and Middlebury, to name a few of the competing teams, saw the Wildcats capture every event to take the big meet by a decided advantage. Then New Hampshire went on to win top place in all the other meets of the season. The 1942-43 season was practically a replica of the preceding year. Captain Billy Keough led the New Hampshire skiers to its second consecutive undefeated season, a remarkable feat for the boys, to say the

With the outbreak of the war, the stinger" was put on formal intercollegiate athletics at most colleges. And for the past two years UNH like the rest has had to resort to informal sports which are a far cry from the seasoned teams that have brought fame to so many schools. But when the guns of the present conflict are put down in the not too distant future, the colleges of the nation will again be represented by formal athletic teams. And again the skiers from New Hampshire will be carrying the banner of the Blue and White on the slopes of the Appalachians.
