Donations for Boys Lag in Second Week

Last Tuesday afternoon and this afternoon, students interested in war work met at New Hampshire Hall with the University Interfaith Religious Council to clean and pack all textbooks, non-fiction and fictitious literature donated to their current drive for books to send to members of the armed forces now in prison camps.

The World Student Service Federation will ship donated books overseas at the end of this week, when the drive is ended and all erasures and clippings have been made by students working on the drive. During the first week of the campaign, only a few books were donated to this urgent response for raising the morale of our imprisoned men. Fairchild, West, and East Halls made no donations. The student body does not realize that these boys of ours would gladly accept textbooks as an outlet for concentration and passing time industriously. Wouldn't you give a book to your brother if he were at Camp No. 87 in Germany?

New Student Staff Appointed for CAP

Official Appointment of the new staff of the UNH Detached Flight of the Civil Air Patrol, took place at the meeting held at the Field House on last Thursday evening. The staff is now composed entirely of students, somewhat of an innovation in the annals of Civil Air Patrol leadership.

W/O Warren Robbins, Executive Officer, who assumed acting Command of the Unit when Lt. E. H. Stolworthy was placed on inactive status by reason of his own request, has made the following appointments to the staff:

M/Sgt. Ervin Doyle, Training Officer; Sherman Clevenson, Personnel Officer with the rank of 1st Sgt.; Robert Stearns, Intelligence Officer with the rank of Sergeant; Julie Anne Klimas, Supply Officer with the rank of Sergeant; Leona Fox, Acting Adjutant with the Cadet Rank of Sergeant; John Baker, Communications Officer with the rank of Technician 5th Grade; and George Cooper, Operations Officer with the rank of Technician 5th Grade. Most of these officers have been acting in their present capacity for several weeks.

Non-member faculty advisors of the Flight are: Mr. Carl Lundholm, Dr. I. N. Thut, and Mrs. Dorothy Bancroft Marshall.

In addition to the above appointments, the following appointments of section leaders and assistant section leaders were confirmed:

Sergeants: Robert Stearns, Kay Cressy, and Marilyn Maher; Corporals: George Cooper, Geraldine Covell, and Natalie Fairchild.

Thirty-five new members have begun provisional training as a result of the recruiting that took place during the past two weeks. This swells the active membership of the Flight up to approximately eighty members. These new members are expected to complete their basic requirements and be sworn in as regular members before school closes.

At last week's meeting, a special Patriot's Day Ceremony was held in memory of the late Commander and Chief of the Armed Forces of which Civil Air Patrol is a part. Such ceremonies are being conducted by American Service Units, all over the world. The program consisted of an inspection, a review of the colors, a review of the unit, a brief Eulogy and taps. The color guard was composed of Sgt. Stearns, and Privates Perry and James. Corporal John Baker played taps.

Folio Hears Eminent Poet-Professor

Amiable John Holmes, poet-professor at Tufts College and author of several books of poetry, occupied the seat of honor last Monday night at Folio Club as the guest of Dr. Carroll S. Towle in their six-year-old custom of exchanging lectures. More than thirty-five members enjoyed the poignant, witty, readings of the poet's work.

Dr. Holmes, who has attended UNH Writers' conferences and now edits the Tuftonian magazine, a unique publication for all interested in his alma mater, has written Address to the Living, touching on tragedy ignited by war and the heartfelt aspirations of his poet-soul; Map of My Country, the title poem charting his life with deep understanding of his friends, family, and college days, and Fair Warning, a collection of his original matter-of-fact humorous poems which have been published in The New Yorker, Harper's, American Mercury, The Yale Review, and the Saturday Review of Literature.

The poet, who spoke in Dr. Towle's classes Monday and Tuesday mornings and held conferences with poetry composition students, autographed copies of his work and spoke also of Along the Row, a pamphlet of poems on Tufts written primarily for Tuftonians in the service, and The Poet's Work, an anthology of literary criticism. Dr. Holmes was formerly editor of the book review section of the Boston Evening Transcript.

A Bostonian himself, he is in a position to write mild satire on the typical characteristics of Bostonians and New Englanders.

Dr. Towle will give an exchange lecture at Tufts next month.

Appropriations Committee Inspects UNH Campus

The Appropriations Committee of the New Hampshire House of Representatives visited the University of New Hampshire Tuesday for a luncheon and an inspection tour of the campus.

Those attending were chairman Ansel N. Sanborn, Wakefield; George W. Boynton, Hillsborough; Oren V. Henderson, Durham; Henry M. Hale, Rindge; Paul W. Hobbs, North Hampton; Lewis A. Nelson, Hopkinton; Malcolm W. Conant, Franklin; Frank W. Hamlin, Charlestown; W. Douglas Scammon, Stratham; Chester W. Jenks, Manchester; George B. Currier, Stewartston; Harry D. Sawyer, Woodstock; Maurice H. Cummings, Newport; Leonard J. Sweeney, Nashua; and Roscoe J. Oakes, Landaff.

The representatives had luncheon in the Commons with President Harold W. Stoke and other university administrative officers. President Stoke addressed the group briefly. A tour of the campus to East and West Halls, Hood House, Nesmith Hall, and the Field House followed the luncheon. The afternoon was conducted with a gathering in the alumni room of New Hampshire Hall.

Campus O. T. Club Shows Film on Rehabilitation

A film on rehabilitation in England will be shown at a meeting of the Occupational Therapy Club Thursday at 7:00 at Murkland room 14. All members are urged to attend. Faculty and students are invited to attend the movie.

Following the program there will be a business meeting, and officers will be installed. They are President, Barbara Ferguson; Vice President, Geraldine Little; Secretary, Judith Hill; Treasurer, Barbara MacKay; Program Chairman, Ora Mathes; and Membership Chairman, Faith Derbyshire.

Refreshments will be served after the business meeting.

Campus Poll Shames Student War Effort

This campus has failed in doing its part. It makes no difference who the guilty are. But are you one of them? What has happened to SWAC? What happened to our war stamp sales which rose steadily while the ASTP were on campus but have since failed to exist? Were the book drive, the clothing drive, the bond drives satisfactory enough to brag about them to your big brother over in Germany or in Okinawa?

We asked a cross-section of students on this campus a question, "What do you think of the war effort at the University of New Hampshire?" Why did they make answers like the following?

Twit Henry — "There isn't anything to talk about."

Jinx Creeden — "I think it stinks!"

Phyllis Holden — "The vets on campus are the only ones who think about it. They should start something but there's no cooperation here."

Joe Thomas — "I don't like the attitude of kids on campus. They're either too young, don't care, or don't realize what war is. A few - the thinkers - are doing all the work."

Warren Robbins — "Not too sharp but CAP is trying."

Hope Treffon — "There's no need for us to roll bandages when there are plenty of bored housewives with nothing to do."

Irving Cummings — "What war effort?"

Anna Karanikas — "The clothing drive was quite a big success. Mortar Board is going to try a bandage rolling schedule for the girls' dorms."

Dave Brown — "Not enough."

Barbara Sharrock — "There isn't enough time now to do the work given us by profs without something extra to do."

Barbara Strachan — "Nobody knows anything about the war. There is a need for a current events class."

What would YOU have answered to this question?

"Don't Miss" Pictures At Franklin Revival

Traditional "Revival Week" is here again, and Mr. Art Stewart of the Franklin Theatre has selected seven prize-winning favorites of past seasons to feature from April 27 to May 3. Starting off the week with a bang is BALL OF FIRE with Gary Cooper and Barbara Stanwyck, which will be shown on Friday. Don't miss the fun when seven profs, and what profs, meet up with the "ball of fire." And as an added attraction for you hep-cats, there's Gene Krupa and orchestra to cheer you up. On Saturday, THE NAVY COMES THROUGH, will be the feature and its cast includes Pat O'Brien and George Murphy.

Remember when you fans stood in lines for hours to buy your tickets for Jeanette MacDonald-Nelson Eddy pictures? Well, one of their most popular ones, NAUGHTY MARIETTA, will be shown at the Franklin on Sunday, April 29. You'll thrill again to the music of Victor Herbert as it's sung by these two favorites. Then, on Monday, DOUBLE INDEMNITY, co-starring Fred MacMurray, Barbara Stanwyck, and Edward G. Robinson will be the special attraction. If any of you missed this murder thriller, I'm sure you'll take advantage of this opportunity to see it.

The show for Tuesday evening is YOU'LL NEVER GET RICH, starring the dance team, Fred Astaire and Rita Hayworth. You will be able to see for yourselves why some critics believe that Rita Hayworth is the greatest dancing partner to ever perform with Fred Astaire.

Make sure you encircle the date, Wednesday, May 2, on your calendar, for on that day you will have the privilege of seeing an inspiring picture of a great sportsman. It's PRIDE OF THE YANKEES, the story of Lou Gehrig and what he did for baseball history, (continued on page 4)

War Loan Commemorates Memory of Pres. Roosevelt

The Seventh War Loan Drive in memory of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt will be held from May 14 to June 30. The Student War Activities Committee is conducting the campus drive which will be run on a subscription basis.

Beginning this week, representatives in dormitories and sorority houses will take subscriptions. The goal set for students is seventy five cents per person for the entire three weeks. The student quota has been raised one half over the last drive because a corresponding fifty per cent increase has been made over the entire country.

The committee for the drive is as follows: president, Erle Huse; vice-president, Jane Barton; secretary-treasurer, Lucille Larrabee; social chairman, "Spike" Smith; war conservation, Natalie Barron; assistant war conservation, Betty Woodward; war effort, Brad Chase; and assistant war effort, Arlean Taylor.

April Prom Features Ken Reeves' Band

With the strains of Ken Reeves' orchestra furnishing the background, a large number of University students and imports enjoyed the April prom last Saturday. The dance, jointly sponsored by Student Council and Student Government, was held at New Hampshire Hall from 8 until 12.

Spring-like decorations suited the light-hearted dancers with the theme of April showers matching the rainy weather outside. A wishing well, fashioned from a colorful, inverted umbrella hung from the center of the ceiling with bright streamers stretching to the four corners of the gym. The stage was attractively decorated on each side with lattice work entwined by flowers. Colored musical notes were pinned on the backdrop.

Shortly before intermission, the Grand March was led by Mr. and Mrs. Claude Henry. Cup cakes and punch were served during intermission and photographs were taken by Ellsworth Kerr. Chaperones for the evening were Lt. Col. Joseph Daly, Dean and Mrs. William A. Medesy, Dean Ruth J. Woodruff, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Henry, and Miss Mary O'Neil with her escort, Mr. Richard Cruden.

Making up the dance committee were chairman, Bill Holleman; decorations, Casidine Demopoulos and Honey Thompson; publicity, Anna Karanikas; refreshments, Ruth Hodgkins; week-end activities, Joe Cote and Al Cherin. Student Council and Student Government extend thanks to Mary Doon, Mary McLaughlin, Olive Brady, Penny Carr, and Pat Nourse for helping to make the dance a success.

'Frisco Conference Issues Topic of Panel Discussion

A panel discussion by three University of New Hampshire professors and a member of the Phillips Exeter Academy history department which should prove both interesting and provocative will be sponsored Wednesday May 2 at 7:30 in the Community House by the Durham branch of Americans United for World Organization. The subject for discussion will be "Issues Facing the San Francisco Conference." Dr. Norman Alexander is chairman and the other members of the panel are Dr. H. B. Phillips of Exeter, and Professors Donald C. Babcock and Herbert F. Rudd of the UNH philosophy department.

Conducted along the lively lines of the Town Meeting of the Air, each speaker will make a brief statement pertaining to selected major issues. The rest of the time will be devoted to questions presented to members of the panel. A proposed outline of questions for the evening follows—

General Purpose

What are the present conditions which are likely to affect the work of the Conference in realizing these purposes?

How do these conditions compare with those faced by other conferences with similar purposes?

Objectives

What types of questions should come under the jurisdiction of the proposed international organization?

What executive and legislative powers shall be exercised by the proposed organization and in what agencies should such powers be vested?

When and under what circumstances is force to be used?

AWS Officers Installed In Annual Ceremony

Joye Churchill handed the gavel symbolizing her duties as president of Association of Women Students to Peg Tower, her successor, at the annual installation of officers held yesterday afternoon.

The following girls were installed with Peg: vice-president, Connie Ledward; secretary, Rae Burbank; treasurer, Nancy Tupper; senior members, Ruth Hodgkins and Evelyn Cass; junior members, Penny Abbot and Dottie Hansen; commuter's representative, Lois Foster.

The installation was carried on according to tradition with the new council taking the oath and the old council turning over their robes to the girls who have been elected to carry on their duties for the ensuing year.

A.W.S. joins with the house councils and the administration in the supervision of women students as well as working with the New England and national councils of A.W.S. The members have successfully combined their efforts with those of the Men's Student Council in the past year to bring about the Point System, Student Lounge, and the Spring Prom.

Article 7 Section 3

a. Elections shall be made by preferential ballot, using the voting booth.

b. A plurality vote of the association shall be necessary for each office provided that not more than two girls be elected from each sorority.

Women's Student Government was introduced to the campus in 1911 when a girls' council was organized to supervise the enforcement of women's rules. These rules which our grandmothers had to abide by could hardly be termed lenient. Women students were allowed to receive callers only on Friday and Saturday evenings until 10 o'clock in the dorm parlors. All other activities at which men were present such as "driving in a carriage or boating," had to be chaperoned.

Today, when women students live under rules which are much less strict, A.W.S. works to keep an efficient and well-managed student government for and by the women students.

Univ. of New Hampshire Steals Greenwich Village

New York, April 26, 1945: FLASH: The city of New York is in an uproar. Greenwich Village has been abducted and removed to Durham, New Hampshire, where it will be on display to the students and friends of UNH on May 12, 1945, at New Hampshire Hall.

All kidding aside, the spectacle that the juniors are putting on, to raise money for their Junior Prom, is really going to be something. Nothing like it ever hit the campus before. Girls, who formerly were able to drool at the handsome men through the medium of the screen are going to meet them in the flesh. The boys are going to be given a break too. They're going to be confronted with chorus girls. Not co-eds, fellows, real 'live chorus girls that walk and talk and (oh well, you know). You're going to hear such stars as Deanna Durbin, the Rockettes, straight from the Roxy Theatre in New York, Miss "Ellexa" Templeton, and other faces and FIGURES. You may not have the train fare to New York, but you certainly can walk to New Hampshire Hall on May 12, to see and get in on the fun. We'll be seeing you.

San Francisco-What It Means

With the San Francisco conference beginning yesterday, it was felt only right to have Dr. Herbert Rudd of the Philosophy Department write the editorial this week. Dr. Rudd is well known for his plan of proportional representation as a basis for world organization.

Editor

On Wednesday of this week several thousand men and women from nearly fifty nations are meeting in San Francisco. They meet for study, for discussion, and for action. This is no ordinary peace conference. The delegates do not come together to disband armies or to fix the boundaries of nations.

This is something new in the relations between the states. Twenty-six years ago, the League of Nations was set up largely as the brain-child of Woodrow Wilson. But the world situation today is far different. We have learned much in 26 years. The experiences at Geneva and other meeting places have been most profitable. The terrific waste and destruction of these two wars in three decades bring challenge ever presented to thoughtful men. Hundreds of new organizations have been formed to seek a better pattern in world affairs.

This new conference is the culmination of a great series of preparatory efforts. There were many meetings of Churchill and Roosevelt, and basic discussions at Moscow, Cairo, Teheran and Yalta, preceding more thoroughgoing plans made at Dumbarton Oaks. Of equal importance have been the meetings to deal with special phases of post war action, such as the food conference at Little Rock, the monetary conference at Bretton Woods, and the aviation conference at Chicago.

In San Francisco no one man will dominate, no one nation will shape the pattern, and even the "Big Three" cannot set limits to the discussion. Furthermore, in America, we are led to believe that this is no question of party politics. Many Republicans are as outspoken as Democrats for a strong world organization and for considering the interests of all nations.

Let us expect great things from San Francisco; but not too great. It will not bring in the millenium. It will not solve all the problems. It can only be a beginning and it may be a great disappointment. During the first month we will hear mainly of the difficulties, the disagreements, and the outright conflicts in the demands of different nations and of different points of view. In the end it is likely that some hopeful plan will be accepted. But many future meetings will probably be required before we can have an adequate world federation to meet the needs of this new one world.

Plans Announced for I.O.C.A. College Week

The Intercollegiate Outing Club Association, of which UNHOC is a member, announces that College Week, held at Lake Colden in the Adirondacks near Lake Placid, will be September 12-19, 1945. Any college outing clubber and alumnus may attend during a part of, or for the entire week. The only cost is for transportation and each person brings his own food.

Here is what to expect: a very rugged week spent in lean-tos in the Adirondacks; you pack in sleeping bags and the food for your own group; and you stay as long as possible. Activities include mountain climbing, square dancing, exploring, much singing, and haphazard meals cooked by lively imaginations over a crowded fire. There will be torn dungarees, smoke in your eyes, and probably rain, but adventure is guaranteed with an enthusiastic gang of college clubbers.

A married couple, I.O.C.A. alumni, will be chaperones, and there will be a doctor in the crowd. About forty colleges have been invited. This will be a perfect end for an outing clubber's summer vacation.

A complete dope sheet on maps, equipment, transportation, etc. will be mailed during the summer. Those planning to attend College Week should notify Jane Whitney, I.O.C.A. chairman on this campus, at Theta Upsilon, 174, before May 12. If anyone decides at a later date to attend, he should notify the chairman as soon as possible, and indicate the dates he plans to attend.

Let's see UNHOC in the Adirondacks next fall!

To the Editor:

To Mr. Robbins:

In answer to your letter, in last week's edition may I be so bold as to endeavor to clarify your misconceptions in regard to the ignorance, which you maintain is possessed by some of the faculty and the student body in their display of "disrespect" for our departed President, Mr. Roosevelt.

There is no doubt that the untimely death of our National Leader grieved and stunned every person on this campus, be he brilliant or be he ignorant.

The reactions of people, as to speech, at a time of tragedy may be attributed largely to emotionalism. Had you been able to observe these "disrespectful, ignorant" individuals in their solitude, I'm quite certain you would think it unbelievable to see them shed tears in recognition of their fallen leader.

Undoubtedly, Mr. Roosevelt will go down in the annals of History as one of our greatest leaders; but we must not falter or give ground because our leader has fallen. We must continue to forge ahead and establish the policies and principles for which he so gallantly gave his life. This can be accomplished by exercising our grit, which we so fortunately inherited from our forefathers. Unfortunately, some of us display our grit in the form of emotional speech, never-the-less the inheritance is possessed within the soul.

In closing, Mr. Robbins, may I suggest, that words uttered on the spur of the moment are not always grounds for conclusive accusation; grief can only be found in the soul.

Poise Contest Underway

The annual posture-poise contest is now underway in all women's houses on campus. In each dormitory and sorority, five girls' names will be submitted to the officers and housemother of the house. After careful deliberation for one week, they will choose one of the five to be representative at a tea to be held on May 7.

These candidates will be judged at that time on voice, posture, attire, manners, courtesy, and poise.

Around the Campus

by Bill Heller

They told me that I wasn't doing anything, so I dropped my fifteen text books and dashed over to the "New Hampshire" office. "Write a dirt column," they said, "but make sure that it'll be clean dirt!" This had been the chance I was waiting for, it had finally come! I wrote to Neal O'Hara of the "Boston Traveler" the other day, and he has kindly consented to let us borrow his second best secretary, Abigail, this young woman is now on campus in the capacity of a second "Sadie." Naturally, she can not come up to half of what "Sadie" is, but then again, what would Neal O'Hara be without "Sadie."

So, Abigail, let's get down to brass tacks, not there, please, that's where the tacks are! Our first and foremost duty is to get some belated congratulations off our chest. . . Cupid was at work over the Carnival week-end, and "Brick" Berry "took unto him a wife" namely, Adele Gammons, formerly of Pettee House now living with her husband in Rochester. Good luck to both of you on a happy and wonderful married life. Our next belated congratulations go to Lester Rosenblum and Thelma Hershman who were wed over the mid-semester vacation; good luck to you too, and ditto as above. Gosh, Abbie, I may call you Abbie, mayn't I? . . . Thanks — Anyway, I can't write all that mushy stuff. My mother says I'm too young. . . Now, Abbie! ! . . .

Say, Abbie, have you seen Pat Lincoln trying to ride a horse, I have, and I've never seen a happier looking horse in all my life; they tell me that Pat was also down at baseball practice, what say Pat, going out for the team? . . . Talking about baseball, Coach Swasey tells us that there might be a practice game Saturday, if it really is going to be played, lots of luck to a darned good team, and I know they're good 'cause I've seen them play. . . Hope you win, fellows!

Abbie, you weren't here to get mid-semester warnings, were you? Well, I was. It seems that I heard from my draft board and Dean Medesy at the same time. I pride myself at being pretty consistent, both of them classed me as "4F". . . How did you like the coffee down at Commons this morning . . . Huh? Don't be silly, how could it be worse than the other day's, they swear that it's the same coffee! . . . It's too bad that the school didn't tell us about not having classes Saturday until Friday night, gee, I could have gone down to the "old homestead" instead of studying all week-end. . . All right, never mind, one little lie never hurt anyone. . .

Hey, Abbie! Look over here, someone's left a note for Louie, it says: "Your sixth lesson of the Sherlock Holmes' Correspondence Course has been found, and I'll return it to you after I re-capture Measles, who escaped two weeks ago last Sunday." It's signed, well, never mind, that's not important anyway. I just hope he doesn't come snooping around my room. . . We want to send our regrets to the Portsmouth Navy Yard for not informing them that we had vacation the other week. . . Boy, were those sailors disappointed, you'd think that Scully Square had burned down

Another thing we're sorry about is that Doc Roberts has too much work to do. . . We heard that Fred Hubbard is up at Hood House with a case of pneumonia. . . Get well quick, Fred, we're all rooting for you. . . You better take care of that cold yourself, Abbie, or you'll end up at Hood House too, and then what would I do, I'd be lost.

I think I can do the rest of the column myself, Abbie, so you can run along home. . . Thanks a lot, and I'll see you next week. You'd better get a lot of sleep between now and then because next week I expect to have a lot more things to write about. You see, I want to ask all the students to give me all the "info" they know when they see me on the campus. . . How are they going to know me? . . . Why, I signed my name on the top. See, there's nothing "fraidy-cat" about me. . . No, Abbie, I won't

A. Smith of Kappa Delta Visits Campus

Ailene Smith, record secretary from Kappa Delta's central office in Springfield, Missouri, will visit the Alpha Sigma Chapter on campus for four days, and will arrive this Friday. A special meeting will be held on Monday for the benefit of Miss Smith, who plans to have individual conferences with each member of the sorority.

Ailene Smith is a native of Oklahoma A and M College, from which she transferred at the end of her freshman year to Tulsa University. There she joined the Kappa Delta Sorority and was among the 16 students receiving highest honors. She was a major in psychology and a minor in Spanish.

Sorority athletics and journalistic activities held Miss Smith's active interest. She was a member of Pi Delta Epsilon, the national honorary journalism fraternity; Pi Gamma Mu, the national social science; and Phi Gamma Kappa, the honorary scholastic.

YACHT CLUB

The Yachting season will officially open for members of the Yacht Club when UNH enters into the contest for the Boston Dinghy Club Challenge Cup to be held at M.I.T. next Sunday, April 22. The affair is being sponsored by the Inter-Collegiate Yacht Racing Association and is open to all regular provisional, and associate members of the ICYRA.

The New Hampshire Yacht Club is entering two crews which will sail in Dinghies provided by Tech. Many members who are not racing are planning to be there to support their crews in the Regatta.

The club plans to have their own boats in the water soon, and hope to get in a lot of sailing on Little Bay before the close of school for the summer vacation.

"Time" Recognizes Work Of Lt. Robert Eadie

A University of New Hampshire Alumnus was recently recognized in Time Magazine for his research work on that smallest of all animals, the shrew. He is Robert Eadie, UNH '32, now on leave of absence with the United States Navy from Cornell's zoology department. Eadie also received his master's degree from the university and taught in the zoology department here until 1942 when he left for Cornell.

It was in Ithaca that the zoologist set up his experiment to discover the eating habits of the shrew. This little creature looks like a field mouse and has been thought of as an insect-eater. Lt. Eadie discovered differently, for in 56 per cent of the nests, there was direct evidence that the shrew had been feeding on field mice.

sign the middle one, that's going a little too far. . . See you next Tuesday — Good night!

Now, that Abbie's gone I have just one thing left to say, please, I wasn't kidding. Whenever you see me on campus and you've something that you think is important for the column just tell it to me, I promise, no one will ever know who told; and I'd be mighty grateful. . . I guess that covers everything this week, so — See you next Thursday!

Ah yes, the athletic situation is improving day by day and the Major Domo of University sports capped the climax by announcing that an informal track team will be sponsored. Of course, the Major Domo is the Senate Athletic Committee, and how! Ah yes, the situation is indeed bright at least for the present.

According to Bob Kennedy, Sports Editor of the Portsmouth Herald, the University baseball nine will engage the Naval Prison Marines and the Portsmouth Harbor Defenses in the forthcoming campaign. No official verification has been received from the Athletic Department concerning this but no doubt Mr. Kennedy is right and the two teams will, in all probability, appear in the schedule when it is released by Mr. Lundholm. The Wildcats engaged both teams last year and copped one verdict out of three. However, the Marines have lost their heaviest hitter, Timber Dalberg, who was a miniature Babe Ruth as far as long distance pokes go. In losing Timber, the Leathernecks have lost practically all their long range hitting power, but nevertheless still have a powerful team.

Leaving baseball for the time being we find that the Wildcats' informal football squad has caused many repercussions the world over. In glancing over Bill Sterns' column in the Foster's Daily Democrat we noticed that Bill has been on the receiving end of several letters from ex-UNH football players. Among these was a letter from Pete Janetos who played on Chick Justice's undefeated 1942 squad. Pete, stationed in the South Pacific, called the '44 informals a bunch of bums and immediately was taken to task by Mr. Sterns who reminded him that one Bill Black heaved a pass over his (Pete's) head to win the Dover-Nashua game a few years back and this same Bill Black played for the New Hampshire informals. The controversy has been raging but neither side has conceded defeat although Bill admitted that the worst New Hampshire team could soundly trounce last fall's edition. We will inform you of any further developments in this battle and also wish to state that we prefer to remain neutral. (We don't dare to do otherwise.)

Service Gleanings

It was announced recently that Lt. Herb Johnson had been released from a German prison camp by the Russians. Herb who hails from Putnam, Conn. graduated in 1940 and played two years of varsity baseball under Coach Swasev holding down the first base post. He was also one of the more active members of his class being a member of Blue Key, Sphinx, Casque and Casket, Scabbard and Blade and Sigma Beta. He is now in this country enjoying a well deserved rest.

A recent visitor on campus was Lt. Bob Morcom with his wife and young son. About the first thing Boo did upon reaching Durham was to don a track suit and take a whack at the high jump at Lewis Field. Boo, apparently has lost none of the form that made him the most famous track star in New England, as well as of the whole country. Back in 1943 Boo won firsts in The Canadian National Relief vault and high jump at Halifax. He also won the same two events in the New England AAU setting records in both events, and gathered in two firsts in the IC4A. All in all, Boo cleaned up practically every vault, broad jump and high jump event held in the country to set his name down in the annals of college track as being one of its greatest performers.

University to Sponsor Informal Track Team

Baseball Squad Begins To Take Definite Shape

Taking every advantage of the almost too good weather that has prevailed in this neck of woods for the past few weeks, Coach Henry Swasey's diamond squad is slowly rounding into shape and should be in peak form for their opening game against Maine a week from Saturday, at Durham.

Coach Swasey has not picked any definite first team as yet and the starting lineup will probably be in doubt for some time to come. The infield situation is still shaping up in a fair manner but the outfield seems to present a difficult problem. Mentor Swasey, while sticking to practically the same infield combination, has shifted the outfield constantly and thus far the three garden spots are still open and the three starting choices are far from chosen. Bud Tibbetts, who has been walloping the pill fairly consistently seems to have the first base position sewed up while the second base post is still a tossup. Glenn Vicery's hitting has been far below par and his fielding only mediocre while Bob McDuffee, the other keystone candidate shows up only slightly better. Andy Mooradian appears to be a shade ahead of Eddie Noyes at the shortstop position although his hitting has not been particularly alarming. Joe Swekla and Ed Gulibicky are still working out at the hot corner and Swekla has given some classy performances in a few practice games and is a certainty to start at third.

Twirlers Set

The pitching field has narrowed down to Twit Henry and Fred White. White, the squad's most experienced twirler has been playing fine ball and should be on the firing line in the majority of the games. Twit, with his submarine ball under control, will also see plenty of action.

Jack Stuart and Steve Aliopolous are still battling out for the backstop position. Steve has been hampered by a sore finger and Jack has been sharing the catching chores with Bill Fortier, a late candidate. The post is still wide open but Stuart appears to be on the inside track.

For a final recapitulation the squad has loosened up in great style and although the hitting has been weak the fielding has been fairly good and the Maine Bears will find themselves competing against a tough opponent a week from Saturday.

personality, some understanding of motives, some cognizance of human greatness. These are the men whom we are supposed to respect and look to for intellectual guidance. From the views of these men we are supposed to mold our ideas, and encouraged by their wisdom, strengthen our own philosophies. Yet, when half the world mourns the loss of — we'll call him just a man who happened to be elected to the Presidency of one of the greatest nations on the earth, four times; how can we as students respect individuals who can see in this great world liberal nothing more than an ordinary politician.

Fifty or a hundred years from now when these individuals and even those of greater position who opposed him are buried in their mediocrity, Franklin Roosevelt's name will shine out on the pages of our country's history along with the names of Washington and Jefferson and Lincoln — men who belonged not only to their age but to the ages.

Very truly yours,

Team Will Compete in Six Events; Only Two Vets Form Nucleus of Squad

The Senate Committee on Athletics gave added impetus to New Hampshire sports last week with the announcement that the university will sponsor an informal track team for the coming season.

With Paul Sweet, one of the country's ace track coaches at the helm the Wildcats started working out on Lewis Field last Thursday. Approximately twenty boys answered Coach Sweet's call with one letterman and a member of last year's team included. Bob Baker, the sole remainder of the last Wildcat formal track team won his letter in the discus but as the event is not to be included in the squads events he will confine his talents to running. John Baker who participated in the half-mile is the other veteran and John is out for the mile this year. The rest of the candidates have had no college experience and very little high school track training and as a result the team will be represented in only six events, the 100 yd. dash, quarter mile, high jump, low hurdles, mile and shot put. In explaining this decision Coach Sweet said that it takes many months of practice as well as years of experience to become even fairly skilled in such events as the javelin, pole vault, hammer, etc., and he has chosen six events that a fair degree of skill may be attained in the space of a few weeks.

Meets? ?

No meets have been definitely arranged as yet but contacts have been made with B. C. and Northeastern and no doubt meets will be held with these schools. It is also expected that several men will be sent to compete in the New Englands. These, however, are still moot questions and only time holds the answer.

Sgt. A. Lipnick Receives Distinguished Unit Badge

Sergeant Albert J. Lipnick won the Distinguished Unit Badge during a vital raid on the Prufening Aircraft Factory, Regensburg, Germany.

On the 25th of February, his unit, the 15 AAAF B-24 Liberator Bomber Group, fought through scores of aggressive Luftwaffe fighters and heavy flak, to deliver a highly successful blow in the campaign to cut German aircraft production.

Photo reconnaissance revealed that the group's bombing achieved almost total destruction of a main workshop, assembly shops, and hangars.

A graduate of the University of New Hampshire, Sgt. Lipnick enlisted in April of 1943. He is now an engineer and supply sergeant.
