"Letters to Lucerne" Excellently Cast

by Nancy Tupper

Letters to Lucerne, presented last Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights by English 5, Arts 35, and Mask and Dagger, gave Durham a taste of professional acting. Ann Miller Morin, cast as Erna, a German caught in the emotional meshes of war nerves at an American boarding school in Switzerland, carried a slightly dragging script through to a successful climax. Her performance, given with excellent enunciation, was natural and mature. The involved plot, in which the girls attempt to continue the custom of reading letters from home aloud in spite of entangled nationalities, gave Barbara Mackay, the Polish girl, Olga, in love with the German fier-brother of Erna, every opportunity to display the impulsive naïveté which so favorably takes the sympathies of her audience. The poignancy of the first scene lacked intensity although the performances of Steven Morang, well cast as the young German, Lee Albee and Lucy Hauslein, realistic and pleasing as the old Swiss servants, were creditable.

School Mistress

Phyllis Carroll, as mistress of the school, presented a fine piece of work with excellent diction and confidence. Her easy transition from the role as an insane woman in Pullman Car Hiawatha is evidence of her adaptability. A veteran supporter, Jane Phipps, appearing as the German assistant in running the school, offered a sincere presentation. It is a pleasure for her audience to watch her assuring execution of a role.

Perhaps guilty of some over-acting, but nevertheless carrying the mood of the play over to the spectators, were the four other school girls. Ruth Flanders, playing the vivacious and sometimes tactless American student, was typical as the orphan whose vigor overshadows her own troubles and champions the underdog. Cast as the beautiful but dumb French girl who almost breaks up the school by uncontrollable intolerance, Doris Lusignan acted her part with ease. She should be congratulated for her fluency in French. The audience was bewildered. Lila Sprague, in the role of the flighty little Southern gal sometimes forgot her "little-old accent," but nevertheless her performance was carried to a spirited conclusion, much to the delight of her appreciative audience. Shirley Humphries was warm and pleasing as the English girl. Her natural acting should be an asset in forth-coming productions.

Supporting Actors

Supporting actors, Gerald Gordon as the postman, and Lawrence Ulin as the policeman, gave excellent portrayals and should be commended for the humor they added to the play. Especially noted by the audience was the colorful settings, quickly and quietly changed between scenes by an efficient production staff. The settings were well-organized as to proportion and style. Letters to Lucerne was a treat for all those who attended, but it also provided a moral. The play was well-chosen. A plea for tolerance comes in handy nowadays — even at New Hampshire.

Editor's Note: The following letter was received during the week. It is my sincere regret that this letter was not received sooner this year. Let it be a reminder to you to carry its meaning over, through the summer to next fall.

Somewhere in the Pacific
May 23, 1945

To the Editor:

I have been out here in the Pacific for nearly two years and have continuously received the "New Hampshire" during this time. It is with the deepest regret, that I have to express my opinion in such a manner toward the attitude of some students, who live in their own little world on our campus (yes, ours, who have paid for it with sweat, blood, and tears during these last four years). It's disgusting to read articles about the students not supporting War Drives 100% for our men in uniform, who have given their all on foreign soil. We in the service look to the students on college campuses, as the future citizens of tomorrow, who will maintain the rights we are now fighting for. But from what we can gather their attitude is far from such things. They appear to be disgustingly selfish and self-centered. Their outside world and the battlefronts of this war are in their textbooks and newspapers only — (and how many actually read them?) I leave this question up to you. . . . We have come out to fight a disastrous and fanatical enemy, so we can make this world a safe and better place to live in — and our fellow students on campus are failing us in return; for some small deed, which to a GI Joe in a prison camp or overseas would look to it as a miracle. . . . Many of you will never know what war is and many of you don't want to know what it is, by wishing it will end so you won't have to carry a gun instead of books. Have you seen men dying from ghastly wounds in silence, gritting their teeth to show that they are men to death? Others just calling silently to Mom assuring her that everything will be all right, as though Mom was actually kneeling beside him there as he dies. Have you ever tendered to the wounded, or consoled the dying, or wept over your dead buddies? Did I say men? No, they're not men, but mere boys of nineteen or twenty doing a man's job and would not accept any other term but men. Youngsters who should be enjoying life on a college campus like ours. Instead they're dying on foreign atolls out here in the Pacific and everywhere; in their prime of life, when one really wants to live and live. Yes, they're dying for you and you and And what are you doing about it? To you back on campus are the instruments in the making of a better world — are you going to fail us by your selfishness? Many of us will probably return from this tour of hell someday, in one piece or another — but many will be left behind out here forever under Pacific skies of colorful blues. We wonder if many of you will be able to look one of these returning veterans in the eye without squirming or feeling uncomfortable? They knew what they were fighting for — and they'll return home with greater determination and initiative, more than many of you will ever show. . . . My only hope and purpose of this article is that you have awakened — that you have listened to these silent voices who sleep forever out here in the vast Pacific. . . . I am tired as hell, so damn tired, so here — "Take up the torch and hold it high". . . .

Union "Kick-off" Meeting Broadcast

The "kick-off" meeting for the Student Memorial Union drive was held Monday evening in New Hampshire Hall. The preliminary meeting before the broadcast was presided over by Joe Bennett, the incoming president of the Student Council, who first introduced the cheer leaders and Pep Cats to lead the audience in songs and New Hampshire cheers.

S.V.O. Gift

Mr. Samuel Hoitt, chairman of the publicity committee for the Student Memorial Union drive, gave a brief history of the memorial union fund which was officially started in 1943 and already has $50,000 of the minimum goal of $250,000 to its credit. Jerry Singleton, president of S.V.O., interrupted the program to present "Smiles" Leavitt, secretary of the Alumni Association, a $500 war bond to be credited to the Student Memorial Union. This was quickly followed by Dave Brown, as president of the senior class, giving the senior class gift of $200 to the Union Building and also promised the proceeds from the Commencement Ball of June 2 to the fund.

Brad McIntire, president of the Alumni Association, was the master of ceremonies for the radio broadcast which started at 8 o'clock with a selection by the university string orchestra and was broadcast over three New Hampshire radio stations. The president of the board of trustees, Mr. Frank Randall, stated that the board was very much in favor of the proposed Student Memorial Union and outlined a few of the many benefits that can be derived from such a building. Mr. William Call, who first made the suggestion that the alumni fund be used for a union building, announced that he had with him at that moment $7,000 to be added to the fund. "Smiles" Leavitt read excerpts of letters from alumni which showed that they are all in favor of this new project.

Representatives

Peg Tower, representing the women students of the university, and Claude Henry, as the representative of the men students, both spoke about the great desire and equally great need for a union building on this campus. President Harold W. Stoke clearly said that a union building was needed to complete the unconsciously absorbed part of a college education. During the program the prize winning song of Congreve South, "Remember New Hampshire" was sung by a chorus from that dormitory.

The program went off the air with the whole audience singing the Alma Mater.

Ted Reynold's Band To Play Saturday For Commencement Ball

Queen to be Chosen Night of the Ball

The Commencement Ball, sponsored by the junior and senior classes, to be held tomorrow evening in New Hampshire Hall from 8 to 12 will have Ted Reynolds and his orchestra as one of the main features. Another attraction is to be the coronation ceremony of the queen, who is to be chosen at the ball. She will have six pages, who are chosen before the dance, six attendants, to be chosen at the dance, and a crown bearer, who is the child of a faculty member to assist her. The queen must be a member of the junior or senior class of the university but there are no requirements other than looks for the queen's attendants.

Ted Reynolds, a clarinet specialist, and most of his orchestra have attended the American Conservatory of Music, from which Ted is graduating the semester. Among the many features of the band is the lovely Lenora Lee, who formerly did the vocalizing for Tommy Reynolds' orchestra, and the band within a band which is known as the Ted Reynolds Quintet.

All the proceeds from this dance will go to the Student Memorial Union Building Fund. Admission will be $2.40 per couple and the faculty are cordially invited to attend.

The Commencement Ball committees are headed by Evelyn Cass and Dave Brown as the co-chairmen. The other committees are: orchestra, Al Cherin; decorations, Natalie Small and Anne Arnold; Coronation, Phyllis Holden, Honey Thompson, Shirley Newcomer, and Lou Brown; publicity, co-chairmen, Nancy Ferguson and Arlene Ekman, Rudolph Honkola, and Kitty Phillips; refreshments, Kitty Phillips, Evelyn Cass; lighting, Don Clough, B. J. Brown, and Elsie Deming; tickets, Don Kingsbury and George Hatch; chaperones, Vera Jackson, and Mary Robinson; faculty invitations, co-chairmen Peg Coburn and Joe Bennet, Elinor Abbott and Priscilla Hallam.

The chaperones at the ball are to be President and Mrs. Harold W. Stoke, Mr. and Mrs. William Kichline, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Skelton, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Brett, and Mr. and Mrs. Albion Hodgdon.

Mask and Dagger Choses Fourteen Members

Opening night of "Letters to Lucerne" was climaxed at a party for the casts and crews of all productions this year in room 13 of New Hampshire Hall by the presentation of membership cards to 14 new members of Mask and Dagger by Mrs. Ann Miller Morin, the new president. The new members are: Barbara Mackay, Elinor Abbott, Evelyn Cass, Theofilos Aliapoulos, Minott Coombs, Nancy Ferguson, Anne Arnold, Donald Clough, Ruth Flanders, Gerald Gordon, Marian Gorman, Geraldine Little, Oraetta Mathes, and Jane Phipps.

Each one was chosen, not for acting alone, but on the basis of interest shown in dramatics by the amount and quality of work done, and the desire to assist and continue in dramatics as a member of a cast in a play or of a technical crew. The tact and cooperation of each individual was also taken into consideration.

NOTICE

Good-bye and Thanks

This is the last issue of the paper this year; this is the last week of school, and for some of us the last week that we will ever spend in college. When we come to endings like these we know both satisfaction and regret — satisfaction that a job has been accomplished, and regret that we no longer have a chance to improve upon it.

We know that the paper could have been better; we know that we have made many mistakes. Many nights when the girls' twelve o'clock permissions had all been used and still space had to be filled, we've frantically taken any material available in order to get the paper out on time and still obey the rules. Sometimes assignments haven't been carried out and we've had to cover and write a story from the office with only minutes to spare. Sometimes the editing has been hasty and haphazard — we admit it and apologize. And yet our mistakes haven't all been in vain. We've learned a lot from the experiences of this year, and we now look forward to the profit that those experiences will bring in the future.

We have been privileged this year — privileged to renew this publication, to carry on the tradition of The New Hampshire that the war so rudely interrupted. We have been privileged to record many events of great meaning to the University and state — the inauguration of our new president, Dr. Stoke, the coming of more and more veterans to the campus, the celebration of V-E day here, the drive for the memorial union building, and the graduation of people educated here for many kinds of service to their fellows. We are proud to be a part of all this, to be your school paper, and we thank you for your help in making the paper possible.

Editorial Point: Mr. Arthur Stewart, manager of the Franklin Theater, in cooperation with the Treasury Department and all the theaters in the country is offering a free movie to anyone who buys a War Bond in Durham on Wednesday, June 6. The feature is "Roughly Speaking," a comedy starring Rosalind Russell.

Although it is not the average student who is able to buy a bond outright but after four weeks of stamp buying here on campus many have a book that is nearly filled. Why not fill the book and buy that bond on June 6?

Around the Campus

by Bill Heller

Gee, Abbie, this looks like the last column 'til next semester. Time sure does pass fast. . . . I haven't realized how many people I'd slighted in such a short time. No doubt they'll catch up to me soon. . . . Since I've slighted so many so far let's do a little more to make it a well-rounded year. I guess it's just my sadistic nature! . . . We're happy to announce that we have congratulations for Louise Larrow who was just elected Editor of next year's Granite, and Ray Sigel who was tapped for the Mortar Board. We're sure that Lou will make a swell editor, and that Ray really deserved the honor that was bestowed upon her.

It seems that Scott Hall is about to make the headlines once more. . . . It's been reported around the campus that the house mother was seen with some sailors the other night. . . . We wouldn't take it too seriously though, we don't think it will demand an investigation. . . . Maybe she was just holding them on a line until Barb Mason got through with the other one. They really shouldn't put more than one sailor on leave at a time, it really becomes complicated.

Coming back from "Letters to Lucerne" the other night, we met Warren Robbins who was going for a ride with a few of the fellows. . . . We went out to his car and there we found two little wayfarers who had mistaken it for a refuge from the nasty winds of winter (even though it was warm). . . . We didn't get a good look to find out who they were, they were running too fast. . . . Warren has just finished a sign which he had printed that reads "Room for rent," this of course includes the use of radio and hot and cold running. . . . We don't know what they were, but they're running all over the car.

We've been told that "Andy" Anderson has finally received that long awaited letter from "Bud". . . . All we can say is, don't blame him too much for neglecting to write, it takes V-Mail a long time to get here. . . . It seems that she isn't the only one that's happy, the whole dorm is happy, they wish "Bud" would write more often, then maybe a little more studying could be done at Theta Chi. . . . From three or four sources we hear that Nancy Nuzzo does a terrific version of the "Man I Love" (helped out by the rest of the South Octet). . . . They also tell us that they are going up to the Portsmouth Naval Hospital to put a show on for the service men in collaboration with the Inter-faith group. . . . Good luck to all of you.

We want to utter our deepest sympathy to those of the girls who are to be dieticians in the near future. . . . They not only have to eat at Commons, they have to work there. . . . They cut the grass the other day, so we can be expecting spinach any day now, you just wait and see! . . . Nuff said (says the editor)!

There was a revolution in Fairchild Hall; somebody threw a shoe through John Grady's transom (it was closed). . . . Wonder who it was? . . . Al Lahar, esteemed proctor of the ground floor of Fairchild will be leaving us next year to transfer to UVM. . . . Think of it, a New Hampshire man deliberately going to UVM. . . . Guess the dirt piled too high in his room and he couldn't get another, so he had to transfer. . . . And him a proctor, too.

Well, it seems that we've just got room and time) for a few song titles; we'll whip off a few and wait 'til next semester for ASCAP to release some more songs, and for the students to get some more ideas (and stuff). . . . I'll Take You Home Again, Kathlene — Spike Smith
I'll Be Around — Theme of the summer students
Kitchen Mechanic — Dedicated to all those working in Commons

That's all there is for this semester. Abbie, there just "ain't no more". . . . You've done a swell job helping me out this year, and I really want to thank you. . . . For all you wolves who will remain in Durham this summer let me say that "Abbie" will be at 1250 Mill Road all summer long. . . . A word to the wise is sufficient. . . . See you next semester, and have a swell vacation, those of you that are taking one.

Entertainment Unit Goes to Portsmouth Naval Hospital

An entertainment unit, sponsored by the Interfaith Council, went over to the Portsmouth Naval Hospital last night and gave a miniature variety show in the solarium and wards of the hospital.

The mistress of ceremonies was Barbara Rogers who also did a number of impersonations and her well-known Carmen Miranda skit. Another well-known performer of the campus, Mary Jane MacCleave did her reading of "Barbara Fritchier."

The Congreve South chorus, with Ellie Getter as the leader, sang "Stardust" and was the background for Nancy Nuzzo and Norma O'Dowd's solos of "The Man I Love." Ellie also played a melody of songs on the piano.

A sample jam session was given by Dick Mascott and his drums, Al Cherin with his trumpet, Larry Ulin and the trombone, and Lou Brown at the piano.

GREEK WORLD

Chi O's entertained soldiers from Portsmouth Friday night. . . . Evelyn Cass tapped for Mortar Board Thursday. . . . Eve and Nancy Ferguson also chosen for "Mask and Dagger". . . . Recent dinner guests include Prof. and Mrs. H. H. Scudder last Monday, and Prof. and Mrs. G. H. Daggett Wednesday evening. . . . Natalie Chick's mother at the house over the weekend.

$1150 Sold During Seventh War Loan Drive

The Seventh War Loan Drive at the University of New Hampshire passed its goal of $750 by more than $450. This total of $1150 was made partially possible by the $500 war bond purchased by a girl of Scott Hall, the $100 war bond that the sorority Chi Omega bought, a $50 war bond credited to Schofield House and a few $25 war bonds purchased by girls in Congreve South.

The officers of next year's Student War Activities Committee are: president, Anne Parker; vice-president, Lucille Larrabee; secretary-treasurer, Betty Woodward; and the members of the committee are Bradford Chase, Natalie Barron, and Rupert Smith.

To replace the three seniors that are graduating three members will be elected next fall.

New Curricula for Agriculture College

The agricultural college faculty has accepted the report of the Postwar Agricultural Curricula Committee, and changes in the curricula will become effective next fall.

One of the most important deviations from previous years is the prescribed freshman curricula in which all beginning students will follow the same general outline of fundamental work. Courses required of the freshmen will be chemistry, math, botany, zoology, orientation, an elective, and possibly a pending course in English Composition. Additional minimum requirements in biological sciences, chemistry, economics, English, physics, and social sciences must be met before graduation. Formerly a prescribed four-year curricula had been in operation. The new set up will add flexibility to the course of study to the advantage of the student. Qualified students will be allowed to bypass certain elementary requirements.

Another innovation will place all entering students under an advisory committee of the assistant dean of agriculture, a representative of the plant sciences, and of the animal sciences, for no major field will be selected until the second semester. The student will then be referred to the advisor in his major field for guidance in his course of study.

Before graduation the candidate must take a comprehensive examination of four years' work and be recommended by his major department to receive his degree.

W.R.A. PICNIC AND AWARDS

Last Friday, May 25, the annual W.R.A. picnic was held at the old reservoir. About 30 girls were present, also Mrs. Dorothea Marshall and Mrs. Rettig. Everyone had a wonderful time with hot dogs, pepsi, marshmallows, songs, and fun. Awards were presented to the following girls by the W.R.A. executive board members including Nancy Tupper, Elinor Abbott, Nancy Ferguson, and Jane Whitney.

Letters were awarded to Rachel Adams, Joye Churchill, and Jane Barton. These girls had earned 1000 points in Interclass sports.

Girls receiving pins included Nancy Ferguson, Ruth Hodgkins, Virginia Parker, Marie Marden, Grace Johnson, Barbara Berger, B. J. Brown, Elsie Deming, and Natalie Kemp. Six hundred points are necessary to receive a pin.

Numerals were awarded to Jean Goodyear, Frannie Mikol, Eloise Braun, Connie Ledward, Lois Harney, Marv O'Neil, Charlotte Silva, Jean Hennessey, Roberta Horne, Jean Pratt, Joan Stevens, Ronnie Warner, Claire McQuillan, Jane Whitney, Jean Deland, Norma Cheever, Mary Day, Edna Glines, Bertha Pepin, Sarah Peavey, and Sharon Stepanian. At least 200 points are needed for numerals.

Well this it is — by the I mean the last column of Wildcat things for the current school year and boy am I glad. It has been a lot of work but by the same token it has been a lot of fun. Certain feelings have been offended but no offense was meant in the strict sense of the word. Of course we will admit that certain facts have been misconstrued by yours truly but they have not passed by unnoticed, in fact, we have been taken to task more than once (and how). Well, as we twirl off our last Wildcat things for the season we do it in a spirit of letting bygones be bygones and with the intention of starting next year's sports page on a clean slate.

As this column goes to press there still remain two games to be played by the Wildcat diamond pastimers. One with Portland Naval Station and another with the Portsmouth Marines. The former game has already been written into the records but the latter game will hold forth this coming Saturday at Brackett Field. The Marines are currently in second place in the Portsmouth Sunset League being headed by Camp Langdon and from all reports have a strong well-balanced club. As mentioned last week the baseball season has not been a success but a win over the Marines would bring a drab season to a happy close. Remember the football and basketball seasons ended with wins and baseball need be no exception.

The track season (two meets) has come to a close and although the 'Cats lost both meets they made a very good showing considering the experience the boys out for the squad had had in track. It was, I believe, none. Bates had a neat team and well they should with a V-12 unit stationed at the school. Today's guest rumor, if things go well next year with enrollment and other essentials necessary to a well-rounded athletic program, Coach Sweet may start working with potential trackmen in the fall grooming them for a strong spring team. This, however, is only a passing rumor but sometimes passing rumors materialize.

Dis and Data

Next Saturday will find an ambitious number of schoolboys in town for the annual Interscholastic Track Meet, and from all sources the meet should be very successful with some high-powered competition in the offing. Portsmouth High School, on the basis of its recent showings is the favorite and Concord High is a close second. We'll pick the boys from the Port City.

Fred (Red) Crory, the Eastern League's ace pitcher was in town recently to see his folks (?) and reported that all was fine and dandy out in Utica. Red returned to Hartford the following day and lost a close decision to Hartford with the Braves farm team scoring the winning run on an error. Red also reported that Rip Therrian is holding down the center field post for Hartford and doing very well.

Phi Kappa Phi Honors 12 Top-Ranking Seniors

The students were elected to the organization because of the high scholastic averages they earned during their academic careers at the university.

The list includes Robert S. Baker, Marlboro; Beverly B. Bourn, Norfolk, Va.; June E. Chase, Hillsboro; Edward P. Connolly, Dover; William G. Duprey, Jr., North Conway; Henry F. Conklin of the university faculty were also elected.

Bates Outruns Wildcat Tracksters, 33-12

Having speed to spare a V-12 studded Bates College track squad clipped Coach Paul Sweet's tracksters 33-12, Saturday at Lewis Field.

The Bobcats scored first in every event with the exception of the shot-put which found the 'Cats taking a clean sweep of that event with Big Bill Holleman taking first and Eric Tarbell placing third. Other point hustlers for the Sweetmen were John Hawke with a third in the hundred and a second in the four-fourty, John Baker with a third in the mile and George Wulping with a third in the high jump.

The Bobcat's chief go-getter was the dusky Parker with a first in the hundred yard dash and a win in the high jump.

With the exception of the century dash which was won in the slow time of 10.9, every event was ahead of those of last week's meet.

The summary:

100 yd. dash won by Parker (Bates); 2. Doehert (Bates); 3. Hawke (N. H.); time 10.9 secs.

440 yard run won by Sawyer (Bates); 2. Hawke (N. H.); 3. Riley (Bates); time 54.2 secs.

One mile run won by Bauman (Bates); 2. Malin (Bates); 3. J. Baker (N. H.); time 4:41.6

High jump won by Parker (Bates); 2. Gripha (Bates); 3. Wulping (N. H.); height 5' 6"

Shot Put won by Holleman (N. H.); 2. Yetman (Bates); 3. Tarbell (N. H.); distance 37 ft.

Mary Phillips Wins Whips Advanced Class

Mary Phillips, chairman of the first University of New Hampshire Gymkhana and a member of the Whips, won the advanced horsemanship class on Grey Dawn last Saturday afternoon, thus becoming the best horsewoman on campus. Jean Pendleton, Treasurer of the club, riding Omaha, placed second; Ruth Brown, Master, on Blaze, placed third; and Jane Ann Nicholls, on Tam, placed fourth in the most hotly contested event.

The Gymkhana, unique in the history of the university, provided an afternoon of colorful and varied entertainment. Mr. Eralsey C. Ferguson, well known show judge and director of the horse show for the coming Plymouth Fair, judged the horsemanship classes. Mrs. Harold Scudder and Dean Ruth Woodruff, both honorary members of the Whips, judged the races with the assistance of Miss Eloise Braun.

Another important event was the intermediate horsemanship class. Out of ten entries, Miss Catherine Leavitt, riding Diamond, owned by Don Nadeau, placed first. Jean Gartner, on Tam, placed second; Elizabeth McClelland, on Omaha, third; and Betty Bonardi, on Grey Dawn, fourth.

The pair class, judged on the ability of the riders to control their horses as a unit, was won by Betty Ann Mac-Askill and Jean Gartner. Second were Gerry Fox and Betty Bonardi; third, Frannie Mikol and Jean Pendleton; and fourth, Tina Knight and Marjorie Fletcher.

The winners of the novelty races, in ranking order, are as follows: Musical Chairs—Nicky Nicholls, Jean Carlisle, Gerry Fox, and Marjorie Fletcher; Potato Race—Betty Bonardi, Jean Carlisle, Elizabeth McClelland, and Ruth Brown; Costume Race—Gerry Fox, Helen Lutts (riding Royal H, her own horse), Elizabeth McClelland, and Catherine Leavitt.

The Gymkhana concluded with an exhibition of jumping which illustrated teaching progression of a jumping class. Riders taking part in the event were Mary Phillips, riding Grey Dawn, who is owned by Miss Georgia Goss; "Nicky" Nicholls, riding Blueberry, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Dick Ellis; and Miss Evelyn Browne, faculty adviser of the Whips, riding her own horse, Jenico. Honorable mention should be made of Miss Nicholls

Grenier Field Soldiers Capitalize on UNH Miscues To Salt One Run Decision

With relief pitcher Gilmore taking over in the ninth inning to quell a last ditch rally by striking out the only two men to face him, Grenier eked out an undeserved win over the Wildcats 4-3 Saturday at Brackett Field.

The flyers from Manchester sewed the duel up in the first canto when they combined three hits and two infield errors to push across three big markers. Kirk, the first batter to oppose Fred White, opened up the inning with a scratch single over second and his base knock was followed up by a one-bagger by Hawk. With a man on first and third Perron rifled one to left to score Kirk with the first Grenier tally. That was the only earned run that the soldiers scored as two Wildcat misplays a few moments later allowed Perron and Rogers to cross the platter.

After being retired in order in the first frame the 'Cats came back in the second to notch a lone tally. Bud Tibbetts rocked a hard grounder to third and Gage threw wide of first giving Bud a life and also allowing him to continue on to second. A grounder off the bat of Steve Haynes advanced him to third and Tibbetts caught Pagierani napping to dash home with the first Wildcat run.

Grenier scored the game clinching run in the seventh canto as Kirk reached on the Wildcat's third error of the afternoon, and scored on Perron's double to right field.

Pagierani retired the Swaseymen without too much trouble from the second on, but he lost everything in the ninth frame. He got Mooradian, the first batter, to wiff but fell apart after the strikeout. Whitey drew a free ticket to first and Bud Tibbetts sent him home with a resounding double to left field and Tibbetts followed him across the plate as Steve Haynes poked another double over the left fielders head. Haynes double spelled finis for Pagierani, who had allowed the Wildcats only three scattered hits prior to the ninth, and set the stage for Fireman Gilmore. In true Frank Merriwell fashion, Gilmore struck out Steve Aliapoulos and Dick Meade to retire the side and chalk up a win for the soldiers.

The riders in the Gymkhana, which was sponsored by the Department of Physical Education for Women, were all students of the University of New Hampshire. The majority were members of the Whips or students taking riding for their physical education. Of the sixteen horses entered, twelve were owned by Mr. and Mrs. Dick Ellis. Riders in the drill which highlighted the afternoon's entertainment, were members of the Whips.

CIVIL AIR PATROL NEWS

By 2nd Lieut. Warren Robbins CAP

Lieut. Col. John F. Brown, Commander of the New Hampshire Wing CAP, Lieut. Col. Joseph F. Daly, Commanding Officer of the UNH Unit of the ROTC, Major Arthur J. Cheney, Wing Executive Officer, and Lieut. E. H. Stolworthy were the reviewing officers at a special review and inspection of the UNH Detached Flight held on Saturday afternoon at Memorial Field. After the ceremonies, Col. Brown addressed the Flight, congratulating it on its good record this year, and expressing the hope that it will be bigger and stronger next year when it once again resumes its formal activities.

During the summer months approximately twenty five members of the Flight including cadet residents of Durham will carry on with some type of program of training. It is hoped that greater emphasis will be able to be placed on flying and that the section will be able to participate in the various Wing functions that will be conducted during the summer. Additional members will be taken in during this time also and will be given their preliminary training.

With last Thursday's session in Aircraft Recognition, conducted by Sgt. George Cooper, all formal classes were completed for the semester. The courses that have been offered by CAP this year were, in addition to the military training, Theory of Flight, Navigation, AAF Code, First Aid, and Aircraft Recognition. These classes will be continued next year, and will also be supplemented by additional subject material.

At last night's meeting, the last meeting of the term, two AAF Training Films were shown by Steve Haynes: "Beyond the Line of Duty," and "Straight and Level Flight." These films are regular air force training command films, distributed through Wing Headquarters.

Sgts. Robert Stearns, Julie Klimas, and Kay Cressy were promoted to the rank of Acting Warrant Officer, pending confirmation in that rank by Wing Headquarters.

Cadet members of the Flight will have the opportunity, this summer, to attend a two-week encampment at Westover Field and receive regular air force indoctrination training. They will carry on the regular army daily routine, will receive pre-flight training, some time in the link trainer, and will also be able to go on flights in army aircraft stationed at the field. Plans relative to this will be handled by the summer staff.

An eight-foot propellor is the latest item of aircraft parts that the Flight has received from the army airforce. These instruments and parts have been arriving steadily, and from all indications it would appear that they may someday make up a complete airplane — for instructional purposes only however.

In this, the last issue of The New Hampshire for this semester, and the last CAP column, I would like to take the opportunity to express my gratitude and appreciation to all those who by their cooperation and interest have helped to make this Flight possible. Also, I should like to wish the best of luck to next year's staff and members with the hope that the Flight will become one of the best in the state, and a real credit to the university.

On The Off Beat

Tommy Dorsey left New England a few days ago on a theatre tour of the west coast. Behind him he left a heap of jitterbug and swing fans, still talking about his great band. It is said that T. D. drew almost as many dancers in the New England ballrooms as Glenn Miller did on his last tour.

Tommy has a great crew of musicians featuring such stars as Vito Musso on tenor sax, Jess Stacy on piano, Charlie Shavers on trumpet, and Buddy Rich on drums. The band is centered around the brass and sax sections, while the backgrounds are played by a surprisingly good string section, which is put to good use.

When the band played in the Bedford Grove in Manchester, it drew a great crowd, despite the weather. The jitterbugs had a heyday, as three-fourths of the band's repertoire that night was "jump" music. Charlie Savers, T. D.'s trumpet sensation, and Buddy Rich had the house shaking with a twenty-minute duet. Then came Shavers' brilliant rendition of "Summertime" showing off completely his great technical ability. Following this, Buddy Rich played a drum solo lasting at least twenty minutes. Rich is probably the fastest drummer in the world at the present time. Following these specialties, the band played many of its favorites, such as "Marie," "Song of India," "Boogie Woogie," and "Opus Number One."

The band has six vocalists — one male soloist, Stuart Wayne; one girl soloist, Bonnie Lou Williams; and a girl quartet. All told, Tommy has a thirty-four piece band, which is enough to give any band leader a headache, but Tommy seems to use this large number of musicians to the best advantage and is surely one of the top ranking bands in the country.

Disc-ussion

The most popular ballad downtown at the present time is "I Should Care" by Tommy Dorsey, and "I Know Why." It seems to have jumped up to the first slot with "Every Time We Say Goodbye," since Sunday night. The fast tunes which seem to be in popular demand are T. D.'s "Opus Number One" and Tony Pastor's "Bell Bottom Trousers."

There seem to be a number of song pluggers on campus and they are introducing a new song. It is titled "D - - - Boogie" and it has great potentialities. Have you heard it yet?

An exhibit of photographs showing interiors and exteriors of representative Student Union buildings is on display in the art gallery of the Hamilton Smith Library through Sunday, June 3.
